THEY FELL 40 FEET.

William Bant of Oshawa and John Webb of Toronto Badly Hurt at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Ont., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—This afternoon at the new elevator here, William Bant of Oshawa and John Webb of Toronto, employes of the Pedlar Roofing Company of Oshawa, were working upon a scaffold covering the outside of the building with plates of galvanized iron, when a staple, which held the scaffold into the building, pulled out and allowed the scaffold to swing out and throw them to the ground, 40 feet below. Both suffered greatly from their fall. One of Bant's legs was broken in two places above the ankle. His back was injured and he was otherwise badly hurt, while Webb received an injured back and a very severe shaking up all over. Both men were attended to at once and are now doing nicely. No blame is attached to anyone for the accident.

Boundary Falls Mining Claim.

The following from the Vancouver World, of the 14th instant, will be of special interest to a number of our citizens. This claim is owned largely by a Peterborough syndicate, who, knowing that they have a fine property, are saying little but quietly going on with development work. We trust their expectations may be fully realized. A sample of the ore is on view in the window of Mr. H. S. Macdonald, druggist: "C. E. Shaw, P.L.S., is surveying the Boundary Falls claim for the Boundary Falls Mining Co. It is situated on Boundary creek near the town of that name, and is proving, upon development, to be an exceptionally good property, as the shaft, which is now down some sixty-five feet, discloses ore for its full breadth, and still several feet of ore is left between the shaft and the foot wall. Through this ore a crosscut is now being driven to the foot wall, and no doubt a few days work will show the width of the vein. As to quality the ore is certainly a shipping one, as it runs over $100 to the ton, the concentrates, it is said, going as high as $600. The character of the ore is a quartz carrying iron pyrites and a very little galena. This claim was among the first located in the Boundary creek district, and has quite a history, as at one time a three stamp mill was run on ore taken from the surface of the vein, where it was thoroughly oxydized, and therefore readily yielded its value to this treatment.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

An Encouraging Success Developed

IN SPITE OF ADVERSE WEATHER.

A Large Attendance of Visitors—A Fine Programme of Attractions—The Live Stock Pens a Centre of Attraction—The Speeding Events—The Baby Show—The Evening Programme.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

As hinted at yesterday in spite of the unfavourable weather, there was a large attendance of visitors. During the afternoon at least five thousand persons were on the ground, and if it had not rained there is no doubt that the number would have been increased by two or three thousand. The attendance the opening day last year was about seven thousand.

It is worth repeating that the exhibition of 1897 is a great success, especially in the matter of live stock, of which there is a superb exhibit, far in excess of any year in the history of the Society. This superiority in both number and quality extends to every department of this exhibit, horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

There are some new features in the cattle exhibit and one feature promises well for the future prosperity of the exhibition and that is the presence of a prominent stock breeder from the most western limits of Ontario, Messrs. Stewart & Sons, Lucasville, Lambton county, who have a splendid herd of Polled Angus cattle. The firm is represented by Mr. W. R. Stewart, who has visited all the chief exhibitions of the country. Seen by a representative of the EXAMINER he expressed a very high opinion of the Exhibition by itself, which is an evidence of a prosperous and fertile district. He warmly appreciates the kindness of one of the Directors who took him for a drive into the country. Mr. Stewart was greatly impressed with the fine appearance of the country and the beautiful thrifty farms. He, however, was not accustomed to the rough, rocky and broken character of some sections of the country, but even this had its redeeming quality—the country of this character is especially adapted to the breeding of that splendid beefing breed of cattle, the Polled Angus, which is an extremely hardy breed accustomed to cold and rough conditions. Mr. Stewart's high opinion of our exhibition is one to be valued, for he has visited the best and was surprised and delighted with Peterborough's. This is evidence that Peterborough as an exhibition centre is bound to come to the front; and, with proper enterprise shown and a hearty co-operation of the enterprising business men of the town and the enterprising farmers of the county, it can be made the best exhibition in the province outside those of a provincial character. We have the town, we have the country and the products, both animal, vegetable and cereal, to furnish a much greater and more successful exhibition than the excellent one we now have, which is, however, its best friends admit, susceptible of improvement in some directions.

The baby show was, of course, one of the principal features of the afternoon, Gough Bros. offering a prize of a ten-dollar suit for the father, a ten-dollar cashmere dress for the mother and a five-dollar gold piece for the baby.

Eight competitors were entered and all of them were beautiful babies, indeed, and the judges had quite a time in selecting the winner. Mrs. W. Green's fine baby was finally picked as the winner. In the evening the attendance was even larger than last year. Mr. R. M. Roy showed his fine limelight views of the Jameson Raid and also the pictures of the Queen, Prince of Wales, Lord Aberdeen, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Charles Tupper, Peter Hamilton, J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., Jas. Kendry, M. P., Jas. Stevenson, Mayor Yelland and Jno. Burnham.

The trotting and running races proved of great interest. In the three-minute trotting event for a purse of $60, the entries were William Henry, Miss Strider, The Duke and Fred S. The Duke had it all his own way and trotted a grand race, never being headed, although William Henry pressed him close. The result was as follows:

The Duke, P J Clunan	1 1 1
William Henry, Wm Rudkins	2 2 2
Fred S, Martin Conners	3 4 3
Miss Strider, P J Clunan	4 3 4

Time, 2.02, 2.07, 2.10.

The race excited a good deal of interest, as it was expected that Miss Strider, who has been converted into a pacer, would do great things, but the Duke and William Henry were too fast for her.

In the running race, for a purse of $30, the entries were Master Fred, Nettie Wood, Princess May and Minnie L. The race was a hot one between the first three named, but that game little mare, Nettie Wood, was never headed, and came in a winner in both heats with Princess May a close second. The result was as follows:

Nettie Wood	1 1
Princess May	2 2
Master Fred	4 3

Time, 2.24, 2.13.

The boys' bicycle race brought out Arthur Graham, Pete Thompson, Jas. Sutherland and Charles Waller. The last named man had it all his own way, being heavier than the other lads. The result was as appended:

Charles Waller	1
Jas Sutherland	2
Pete Thompson	3
Arthur Graham	4

Time, 2.01½.

Dr. Beatty acted as judge, H. C. Winch as starter and R. A. Morrow as timekeeper.

The feats of the clowns and contortionists were of a nature to enchain the attention of all spectators, and their various feats were watched with interest. The living statuary was something out of the common, and Miss Wood received a great deal of applause for her fine work. Mr. Henry Labelle acted as announcer. Walter Gilding kept the audience amused for half an hour, and worked in some good advertising for Grafton & Co. at the same time. The presence of the Sons of England band greatly enlivened both the afternoon and evening performances.

THIRD DAY—THURSDAY.

The favourable weather produced a good attendance. This morning there was a fair attendance, but when the gates opened in the afternoon the crowd began to pour in till there were between three and four thousand visitors on the grounds enjoying the especially fine exhibit of live stock in all departments. Great interest was taken in the judging of the horses. The speeding events, drawing contests and special attractions also had their special admirers.

The Directors are well pleased with having pulled a fair success out of an apparent failure due to the weather. Anything further in the way of remarks would be anticipatory and a fuller report will appear to-morrow, together with a liberal instalment of the prize list.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

GEO. FITZGERALD & CO.'S CARRIAGE EXHIBIT.

A display of every-day goods does not, as a rule, attract much attention, but the attention which the exhibit of Geo. Fitzgerald & Co. received is evidence of the excellence of their rigs. When you examine the carriages made by this firm you are looking at the result of years of practical experience and careful study of the requirements of the public. This display was made in a mammoth tent, erected on the grounds just west of the main building. Eight modern high-grade buggies were shown in different styles. A new doctor's phæton was critically examined and pronounced a most useful as well as a graceful carriage. Wood and iron work, trimmings and upholstering, gear and top, were all excellently designed and finished. A novelty about the fine-shaped top was the automatic spring roller curtain at back, a great convenience over the old button and roll curtain.

A small piano box buggy was shown, which was a superior piece of workmanship, with a picturesque appearance, handsomely trimmed and highly finished in all the parts. A fine type of buggy was shown with a bellows back to the seat, which added very much to the comfort of the rider. The buggies are all highly finished in carmine or black, and with silver-plated trimmings. Mr. Fitzgerald also showed two pleasure sleighs, trimmed in two colours of plush. The bodies were in the rough, as the firm were too busy to finish them in time for the fair. The information was given that trade had been so brisk that it was only by hard work and over-time that the display was got ready. The reply to the query as to the business outlook was that they have already felt the impetus of the better times and looked forward to a demand that would compel the use of all their capacity.

GRAFTON'S GRANDEST.

The verdict was unanimous that Grafton & Co's exhibit at this Fair had scored the highest success of any that they had ever made. A chorus of praise could be heard from constant crowds of visitors who stood around admiring this artistic display. Competent judges did not hesitate to pronounce it the finest they had ever seen. The reputation of our local branch has been enhanced by this meritorious exhibition of their enterprise, and such pains-taking will go a long way to establish their thoroughness. The style and finish of Grafton & Co's hand-cut and tailor-made clothing has its distinctive features. The fabric, fashion, trimmings and finish have all the special merit of their own, while the skilled artists who are employed at headquarters in Dundas are constantly improving on the styles. The success which has attended their branch stores—especially the branch in this town—has no doubt been largely dependent upon the confidence which the buying public has reposed in the reliable character of the clothing which is placed on sale here.

No one who saw the large exhibit at our fair could be otherwise than favourably impressed with the rapid growth of Messrs. Grafton & Co's business in Peterborough. All the leading styles for autumn and winter were fully represented. In men's wear there were overcoats and ulsters in black, brown, meltons, beavers, friese and domestic tweeds, all showing good linings and first class trimmings. The overcoats were of fashionable length, which is three-quarters this season. The prevailing material is black, blue and blue-back beavers, and favourite shades of friezes. The new fall suits were shown in cutaway and sack styles, as well as business suits and Prince Alberts. Scotch tweed suits are mostly in the plain effects so popular with good dressers—stripes and checks being very little shown this year. In the juvenile class the display was excellent. Mr. Conway, the manager, was particular in impressing the fact that in children's and boys' suits their company was making special efforts this year to produce designs more closely in accordance with the increased demands for improved juvenile garments. One very natty Eaton suit worthy of special mention was much admired, the coat and pants being made up in a fine, plain rich drab pattern of Scotch tweed, and a vest of corduroy. It may be said of the whole collection of garments shown that special pains had been taken to make such a judicious exposition of the new autumn styles as would serve as a general idea of the extent and character of the very large stock regularly carried in stock in their commodious store, No. 383 George street.

No attempt was made to show any of the many lines of furnishings carried by Grafton & Co., and which now forms a very important department, such as shirts, underwear, gloves, neckwear, handkerchiefs, suspenders, caps and umbrellas. A unique feature of the exhibit, and one which made it show up most effectively, was the serpentine or undulatory form of its construction. The device was something entirely new and striking, and the original and striking decorations introduced were a credit to the wide-awake designer, Mr. J. M. Smith, one of Grafton & Co's head salesmen and window dressers. The ceiling of the design was in white. The floor was carpeted with a canary coloured ruffled bunting, and the pillars and rails decorated in white and blue. Handsome foliage plants were interspersed through their exhibit, and the rich chromatic show cards, star-shaped tickets, and several art pictures, added to the artistic effect. Grafton & Co. were presented by the Agricultural Society with twelve first prize cards and a diploma of merit for the excellence of their clothing. Out of respect to the excellence of this display, the directors of the Fair very thoughtfully placed a large electric light lamp in the centre of the exhibit, which in the evening brilliantly illuminated Grafton's grandest representation.

C. F. KUTZBACH'S EXHIBITION.

Right at the main entrance to the building, our enterprising townsman and fancy goods dealer, Mr. C. F. Kutzbach, made a highly creditable display of wall papers, banquet lamps and other novelties. Mr. Kutzbach occupies the position of being the pioneer in making an exhibition of this character at our fair, and from the general interest which it attracted, it must have been productive of good results from a business point of view. A description of this beautiful exhibit can scarcely be done justice to in our limited space. The original and tasteful display of his goods shows that he is a designer who thoroughly understands the art. The high standard of excellence in quality and design shown in wall papers elicited favourable criticisms. Specimens were shown in Louis XVI patterns, as well as in less conventional and stronger designs. The examples were the newest patterns for 1898, a sample book of which will be sent to any banquet lamps, America's latest novelties in this line. These were designed in various coloured stands and globes of striking beauty, decorated with floral effects, in which daisies, chrysanthemums, carnations and other flowers were depicted. There was also a very pretty selection of miniature night lamps, with wild rose and basket patterns in canary, pink and white. A lovely Japanese five o'clock tea set was shown which found a purchaser during the afternoon, an enthusiastic lady admirer capturing the prize. A handsome jardiniere and stand was also shown, a line of which Mr. Kutzbach makes a specialty. The exhibit was enlivened with numerous artistic devices, luxurious palms and fanciful creations. Mr. Kutzbach purchased the fancy goods business of Mr. C. B. Routley at the beginning of the year and has been gradually but surely bringing this well-known bazaar more conspicuously before the attention of the public than ever.

KINGSCOTE'S TENTS.

Mr. Alf. Kingscote, the Tent, Sail and Awning Maker, Water street, was as busy as a beaver during the Fair. About a dozen of his tents were occupied on the grounds and were admired for their style and the durable quality of the white and coloured duck used in their construction. Mr. Kingscote's tents are selected for refreshment booths and exhibition purposes on account of their showy and convenient appearance. Mr. Kingscote also makes waterproof horse and waggon covers, black oiled canvas, waterproof covers, lap covers, warranted strictly waterproof. He makes a specialty of sail making, flags and bunting for decoration of halls, etc., at 344 Water street, opposite the market. Mr. Kingscote has had a very busy summer, having in addition to his other business filled several very heavy orders for distant places. The Directors of the Fair have patronized Mr. Kingscote liberally for tents and decorations, showing the confidence they have in his skill and handiwork.

THE GOLIATHS IN CLOTHING.

Just as buyers flock to the great emporiums like Eaton, of Toronto, Carsley of Montreal, Mabley of Detroit and Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, so do they crowd to Gough Bros., of Peterborough. Why? Because they are the Goliaths of the market—they touch the button and manufacturers pour out their wealth of bargains to them.

The splendid exhibition of clothing which Gough Bros. have made at our Central Fair, and which have brought yearly increasing throngs to their section, culminated in another unrivalled display this Jubilee year. The transformation of the south-eastern main corner of the building into a towering mountain of clothing was a general subject of surprise, and the compliments of visitors were unsparing. Efforts such as this told of the business acumen and purchasing strength enjoyed by the "tireless, sleepless, wide-awake clothiers"—as Gough Bros. are frequently designated. This firm's constituency is by no means limited. In addition to hundreds of families within easy reach who are patrons of the firm, they cover the country with the long arm of the railways and the country public roads. In their mammoth newly remodelled store on George street they carry carloads of clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps, and gentlemen's furnishings.

The field of their trade is widening continually. Instead of confining themselves to clothing, they have, for the fall of 1897, brought together under one roof such things for men's wear as they have shown themselves to want.

Peterborough couldn't use it all; and so the adult and rising generation for miles around are equally interested in their inexhaustable depot of supplies. If they do not charge as much for their goods as others, it may be because they buy better and sell quicker. Their mammoth display of clothing at the Fair would certainly justify the statement made by one of the Exhibition Directors that the exhibition buildings were not of a sufficient size to meet their demands. Year after year Gough Bros. broaden their borders and new life and spirit rise out of their great business just when one might fairly assume that it had reached the zenith of magnitude. No use saying that this year's exhibit is the high watermark of their ambition. As it has been in the past, so doubtless it will be in the future—a gradual expansion of the limit of which can only be surmised. The strong connections maintained with the syndicate of clothing houses in Belleville, Orillia and

LECTURE IN ST. JOHN'S.

Maurice J. Goodheart Speaks on Judaism and the Jew to a Small Audience.

Mr. M. S. Goodheart, a Russian Jew, who aroused considerable interest in Peterborough by his lecture here last fall, repeated his former address with some additions in St. John's school house Tuesday night.

The attendance was not as large as it should have been. In opening, Mr. Goodheart stated that his object was to enlighten his audience concerning Judaism and the Jew. The two subjects are so closely interwoven together that one has to discuss the two together. The Christian of to-day cannot afford to be ignorant of the Jewish question. The speakers had been asked why the Jews did not believe in the New Testament. For thousands of years in the middle ages the Jews had been persecuted by all or nearly all the nations of the world. These nations, who were supposed to be civilized and Christianized, tried to exterminate the poor Jew and it was no wonder that the Jew would not believe in the New Testament, when his enemies treated the Jews so cruelly.

The Jews are never allowed to see or read a New Testament. It is considered a sin to look at one by them. They are brought up to hate it. There is an idea prevalent that all Jews are pedlars. This idea is absurd. They have trades as well as other people, but you will never find a Jew family. Since their land was taken from them they have never formed. Among Jewish-Christian writers will be found: Thamlock, Cramacher, Hangstenberg, Jahn, Dr. Sophia, Dr. Ginsberg Dr. Edersheim, Neander, Dr. Valt, etc. Musical composers: Mendelssohn, Mosheles, Holvein. Rossini, Myerbeer, Rubinstein, Myerbeer, Rubenstein Joachim, Julius, Benedict, Strocken, Braham, etc.

The European press is almost entirely in the hands of the Jews.

The speaker said the Jews did not eat pork. They believed in the Old Testament which distinctly says in Leviticus xi, 17: "Thou shalt not eat swine." The speaker was once asked by a lady why he did not eat pork. On referring to the text quoted above, the lady said, "If you show me that in the Bible I will never eat pork again." About a week later, while at dinner with her, he saw her enjoying the pork.

Another reason why the Jew dislikes pork is that the pig is unclean—it will eat snakes and in fact almost anything.

The average man in this country dies when 34 years of age; the Jew when he reaches his fifty-third year. The Gentile population is made up of every kind of people who practice every vice—thieving, gambling, etc., but you never saw a Jew do these things. In 1895 out of 15,000 Jews in Russia, one was arrested for crime. A Jew though is very tricky, and will take advantage of another person in business.

In Russia every man, woman and child has to have a passport in order to leave the country. If they had no passport they were held as prisoners. His passport tells all about the person carrying it, and the town in which they live. A passport costs $3 and lasts for a Russian year. Without this passport they could not get along for one year; they could not go to a hotel and stop over night, for the host will not admit you without it. The Russian law is very strict on this point. Supposing the speaker were to be found in Peterborough without his pass. If he said he was born in some Russian town, and he had no passport with him they would arrest him and make him go to the place that he was a native of, under police supervision. There is a prison in Russia every 21 English miles. Each person without a passport, no matter if they were 1500 miles away from that place, would have to walk every foot of the way. Then when they arrived at their destination they had to be identified. The speaker thought Canadians ought to be very thankful for the many privileges they enjoy, but he found them continually grumbling. He would like to know what Canadians lack? They ought to thank God for Canadian laws. They had the election of the Government in their own hand; still they grumbled. It was not meant for men to be satisfied; one must be converted before he can be satisfied. The speaker then described his escape from Russia, which was thrilling.

In conclusion he made an earnest appeal to Christian people to pray for the Jews. Mr. Davidson thanked Mr. Goodheart on behalf of the audience for his address. Mr. Goodheart replied that he would be amply repaid if the congregation would pray for the Jews.

PRESBYTERY OF PETERBOROUGH

The Quarterly Session Held in Port Hope on Tuesday Last.

At the regular quarterly session of the Peterborough Presbytery in Port Hope Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of Warkworth, was elected Moderator for the session.

Most encouraging reports were received from the mission stations at Harvey, Cardiff and Apsley. The usual grants were given to the augmented stations for the year.

December 12th was named as Missionary Day for the Presbytery. A rally soon after the close of the church year will replace the annual convention of the Christian Endeavour. It will probably be held in Millbrook about the middle of January. Rev. J. G. Potter will arrange the details.

Rev. D. A. Thompson, convenor of committee of Superintendence of Students, reported that exercises had been received from T. J. Glover, Peterborough; Jas. Turnbull, Campbellford, and J. F. Hall, Apsley, and recommended that they be certified to their colleges.

Arrangements are being made throughout the Presbytery for the visit of Rev. Norman H. Russell, of India, from the 10th to 31st of October. Mr. Russell will be in Peterborough, on Sunday, October 24th, and will be in Omemee in the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on December 14th, commencing at 9 o'clock.

Mr. F. W. Gladman Last Night.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. Wm. Fowler, Rubidge street, when his niece, Miss Maggie Fowler was united in marriage to Mr. F. W. Gladman.

The bride was assisted by Miss Vida Gladman and her cousin, Miss Lillico, whilst the groomsman was Mr. George Gladman, of Toronto.

Only the immediate relatives were invited to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gladman have been long connected with the church work in St. Andrew's, and the bride was presented with a handsome set of coffee spoons on the occasion of her marriage. The groom is one of Peterborough's rising members of the bar, being a member of the legal firm of Kerr, Gladman & Kerr, and THE EXAMINER desires to extend hearty congratulations.

WEDDING BELLS.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. Stewart Crossen, of Havelock, on Tuesday, the 21st inst., at 11.30 a.m., being the marriage of his daughter Florence, to Mr. R. S. Shannon, merchant, of Campbellford.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. McQuade in the presence of a few friends of the parties.

The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a dress of chocolate brown box cloth trimmed with braid, and carried a boquet of white roses.

Miss M. Werdon assisted the bride and wore a costume of brown glass cloth.

The groom was assisted by his nephew Mr. Wm. T. Shannon, of Campbellford.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold chain set in pearls, and he presented a gold bracelet to the bride's maid. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by the east bound C.P.R. train en route for Ottawa, Montreal and other eastern points, amid the best wishes of a large circle of friends, and on return will take up residence in Campbellford.

EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—As father of the boy rescued through the courage of Percy Graham and Harold Lovekin, I wish to express my regret that owing to the delay of the street cars from heavy traffic I did not arrive in time for the presentation of the certificates of honour yesterday at the fair grounds. The unselfish courage displayed by these lads is worthy of the highest praise.

Yours truly,
R. P. BOUCHER.

OUR GOLD MINES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

In a recent issue of your paper appeared an article in reference to "The Home Security and Investment Co.," in which the different members of its board of management feel you have made too liberal a use of the question mark and in so doing stamped the thing as a huge joke. Inasmuch as this impression is in a large measure due to your arrangement of an honest effort to benefit this town and back country you cannot under the circumstances do otherwise than publish the following statement: "That the ground in question has been gone over and that sufficient surface work with tools, inadequate to the task, have given indication that warrant further research, and it is the intention of the Company to push it to an issue. While no prominent capitalists' names are connected with the organization, it can honestly be said that no effort will be made that is not square, and any monies that are deposited with the proper officials will be honestly and squarely expended in a further research with improved appliances. As a matter of course, as in all mining ventures, it is a matter of speculation, but when it is understood that the projectors and investors rest on an equal basis, win or lose, no one should feel it otherwise than a fair proposition for the benefit of all concerned.

Yours, etc.,
A DIRECTOR.

A meeting of those interested will be held in the Snowden House to-morrow night.

The death of Miss Emma Morrow, youngest daughter of Mr. Henry Morrow, Dalhousie street, took place last night after seven months' illness.

The deceased undergone two operations during her illness, but her system was undermined to such an exent as to prevent hope of recovery. Though only a resident in town for two years, Miss Morrow was an active worker in the George street Sunday school where she was beloved by all who knew her. She was a sister of Dr. R. F. Morrow, of town.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, No. 176 Dalhousie street, to-morrow morning at 11.15 a. m. and proceed to the Grand Trunk station and thence to Lindsay.

LAST OBSEQUIES.

Funeral of the Late F. J. Rogers This Morning—Floral Tributes.

The funeral of the late F. J. Rogers, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, took place at half-past nine this morning from his late residence, George street.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. R. M. Denistoun, G. A. Smith, A. S. Wallace, A. E. Finnemore, Hampden Burnham and W. D Parker.

The funeral service at the grave was conducted by Rev. J. C. Davidson. Amongst the many beautiful floral remembrances received were wreaths from the Victoria Bicycle Club and the Peterborough Cricket Club, of both of which the deceased was an active member, and a very handsome pillow from the customers of the bank.

THE FIRST RECEPTION.

The Opening of the Fall Work in the Physical, Educational and Social Departments.

On Tuesday evening next, Sept. 28th, the young men of the town will be entertained to a reception in the new building, commencing at 8 o'clock. This will be the practical opening of the fall work in the physical, educational and social departments.

An invitation is extended to every young man in town to call at the building that evening and learn of the plans of the Association for his benefit.

The gathering will also partake of the nature of a welcome to Mr. H. H. Buxton, the new physical director, who will arrive on Tuesday afternoon.

It is to be hoped he will be greeted by a large number of young men who are particularly interested in the department of which he will have charge.

A unique feature of the reception is that the entire arrangements are in the hands of the young men of the Reception Committee and of the Association members.

They will secure and serve refreshments of which there will undoubtedly be an abundance.

An informal musical programme will be provided and the whole gathering will be of a "free and easy" style. In other words the young men will be made feel at home.

The Reception Committee, of which Mr. Geo. Hartman is chairman, met last evening and considered plans for the reception.

Another meeting will be held on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock. Young men will please make a note of Tuesday, Sept. 28th, as "Y.M.C.A. evening."

MARKHAM, Sept. 21st, 1897.

DEAR MR. TERRILL,—I have been visited this evening by every member of our team since the train arrived, and they are so loud in their praises of the uniform kind treatment they have received to-day at the hands of yourself, your team and your citizens, that I cannot refrain from sending you a line to thank you on their behalf, one and all, for it, and to assure you that if we are capable of doing the thing decidedly on your visit here next Tuesday, it will be reciprocated. My boys did quite as well as I expected, and I have not failed to say so to them and am very proud of the score.

Anticipating the pleasure of meeting you personally on Tuesday next, I remain,

FORESTRY COMMISSION.

They have Just Examined the Algoma Country—Young Forests Springing Up.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams has just returned from a trip west with the Forestry Commissioners.

Two days were spent on the north shore of Lake Superior, and two more in Port Arthur. From here the Commission went by Kaministiquia River and then proceeded to Rat Portage through the Lake of the Woods to Rat Portage, and Rainy Lake and the Woods, Rainy River, returning to up the Seine River, afterwards the Missinabie River.

There was very little timber to be seen, but a fine young forest is springing up of spruce, Jack pine, poplar Norway and white pine.

Two days were then spent in the Rat Portage timber limits. On the Seine River there were a number of valuable limits, where white pine, spruce and poplar flourish.

The difficulty preventing the advance in growth of this section of the country is attributed to the fires started by prospectors and Indians. The difficulty of getting the Indians to chat in their tents to outsiders was very noticeable, but they were persuaded to pay attention to notices regarding the danger of forest fires.

The well equipped steamer Canona conveyed the party from Rat Portage to Port Francis.

Valuable mining claims are being staked out daily in the Michipocoten country, and a prospector quite recently refused $40,000 for half a claim,

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. DID CONVAY KILL FROST?

The Old Man Says the Boy Attacked Him With a Plank and the Plank Struck and Discharged the Pistol.

Woodstock, Sept. 21.—Ephraim Convay was placed on trial this morning before Judge Meredith, for the murder of George Frost at Princeton last March. The Crown pressed the first story of the prisoner that he had hit the boy with a shovel, because he teased him, and the subsequent discovery of pistol wounds in the heart, the finding of the pistol, the same one purchased by Convay in Woodstock.

The defence endeavored to prove that the prisoner had reason for carrying a deadly weapon, owing to assaults and general ugliness on the part of the man who worked the farm on shares. Constable Watson deposed that the prisoner said to him he bought the pistol for "that cuss of a Grover" this partner, but Frost had taken up the quarrel, and he (the prisoner) was after him.

The defence admitted the purchase of the pistol by Convay in Woodstock.

Convay was living with the man Henry Grover, with whom he worked the farm on shares. In the course of his daily duties on the farm he was thrown into constant association with the dead boy George Frost. The latter is said to have possessed a mischievous spirit and to have teased the old man until the latter's life became almost unbearable. That, as a consequence, Convay's mind was worked up to a very high nervous pitch, and that in this frame of mind he bought the pistol as a means of protection against any possible assault.

The principal feature of the case this afternoon was the evidence of the prisoner Convay, who went into the box as the last witness for the defence. Convay says that when he was in the turnip pit the boy Frost spat upon him and teased him. He refused to leave when asked, and then witness hit him on the head with a shovel. Frost swung a plank around to strike Convay and the old man drew the pistol, which he had carried several days, fearing an attack. The plank struck the hand holding the pistol, and it went off. Frost staggered and fell. Prisoner did not say anything about the shooting, because he did not know that it was the bullet that killed the boy.

Counsel will address the jury to-morrow.

CAME BACK TO LIFE.

A Consumptive Who Thinks He Passed Over the Dark River and Was Called Back to Trouble.

Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 21.—William Graham, a consumptive, and his wife lived in a cottage here. On Saturday night Graham apparently died. An undertaker was called in and prepared the body for burial. The frenzied young wife was finally allowed to go into the room, and in a paroxysm of grief she threw herself upon the body, straining it to her breast and calling to her loved one to come back. It was some minutes before she could be led away, and then it was noticed that a slight shudder ran through the man's body. Restoratives and massage were applied, and within an hour Graham was able to speak.

Graham says that he went out of this life and journeyed into another country. He describes a beautiful road lined with stately trees, strains of music were in the air, and he says that along a pathway his father came to meet him. He tells of their greeting and conversation, and then of his being torn away, called back to his worn and aching body by the insistent calls of his wife. Graham is still alive, but he cannot last more than a few days.

SURGEON'S KNIVES.

Failed to Remove the Disease From Hezekiah Vaughan's System—Dodd's Kidney Pills Which Have Never yet Failed, Cured Him in Short Order.

Sandwich, Sept. 13—Hezekiah Vaughan, of the township of Gosfield, has lately gone through a severe surgical operation at Harper's hospital, Detroit, for what different doctors diagnosed as liver complaint, kidney trouble and bladder complaint. Four surgeons cut away at him for 4½ hours, but when they got through, none of them could tell what was wrong and the patient was left as bad as ever. The benefits derived by a neighbour from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, induced Mr. Vaughan to try them. From the first he began to improve. His bowels soon became regular and the pains that afflicted him disappeared. Six boxes restored to his former vigor a man who had abandoned all hope of regaining sound health.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Prince Krapotkine on a Visit to Manitoba—Mrs. Taylor on Trial—Land Sales Booming.

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Prince Krapotkine, a Russian, who escaped from Siberia, and a prominent writer, is visiting this province.

The trial of Mrs. Taylor, accused of shooting with intent to murder James McCracken, was before the magistrate to-day. Evidence showed that she had lived with McCracken ten years. He denied intimacy with the daughters. The trial was not concluded.

An accident on the Dauphin Railway resulted in the derailment of a freight train. No one was injured.

Land sales are becoming numerous, much unoccupied land being bought up by adjacent settlers. Farm lands are in splendid demand.

BASEBALL RECORD.

BEATEN AT MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—Montreal defeated Toronto to-day in a snappy game of ball. McDougall pitched a good game for Toronto, but was poorly supported at critical times. McFarland was invincible, and kept the hits well scattered, while his support was particularly good. Attendance 1000. Score:

Montreal	3 0 1 1 0 0 2 0 1—8
Toronto	0 1 2 0 0 1 0 0 1—5

THE SYRACUSE FARMERS.

Syracuse, Sept. 21. Farmer Brown pitched for Buffalo to-day. A few moments before the game was called the Syracuse players marched upon the field attired as farmers, with blue jean pants and jumpers, large straw hats, and each man wearing a beard of some kind. The Buffalos were nonplussed and were unable to appreciate the laughter of the crowd. Only one of Buffalos' errors, that of Brown, was costly. Score:

Batteries—Mallarky and Ryan; Brown and Urquhart.

At Providence—In the first game of the closing series Providence defeated Scranton by timely hitting in the latter part of the contest. It looked like a pitchers' battle at the start, and up to the fifth innings Egan's home run was the only tally. A neat streak of hitting in the fifth put Providence ahead, at Scranton tied in the same innings. After that Providence had the best of the batting, and piled up a lead of five runs. Score:

Providence	0 0 0 0 3 0 1 3 1	9	12 2
Scranton	0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0	3	11 2

Batteries—Egan and Coogan; Yerkes and Boyd.

At Springfield—Springfield had an easy victory over Wilkes-Barre in the opening game of the last series of the year. The visitors could have been shut out if the Ponies have been anxious. In the fifth innings, with the bases full and two out, Dan Brouthers put the ball over the centre field fence. It was the longest hit ever made here. Score:

Batteries—Korwan and Nichols; Odwell and Diggins.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Boston, Sept. 21.—By a strange mixture of hitting and poor fielding Brooklyn piled up 12 runs against Boston in the first innings of the first game to-day. The Brooklyns had a great streak of batting and made seven safe hits in succession and it was not until 16 men had gone to the bat that they were retired. The second game, which was called on account of darkness at the end of the seventh innings, abounded in sharp fielding, excellent pitching and fine hitting, being a decided contrast to the first game. Lewis proved an enigma and Tenney, Long and Duffy, Collins and Hamilton were notably effective. Scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1 2 0 0 5 3 0 0 2 0	22	21 3
Boston	0 2 0 0 0 0 2 0 1 —	5	10 3

Batteries—Dunn and Burrill; Nichols, Hickman and Gastel.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	0 0 0 0 0 1 0 —	1	3 2

Batteries—Lewis and Yeager; Fisher and Burrill.

At Cleveland—Cleveland won a hard-earned victory. The only feature was the sensational play of Ryan of Chicago, who tied the score by stealing home in the ninth. The weather was chilly and the crowd small. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0 0 2 1 1 1 2 0 1 —	8	11 2
Chicago	0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 5 —	7	11 3

Batteries—Wilson and Criger; Thornton and Donohue.

At Pittsburg—The Reds' good hitting and poor fielding of the Pirates gave the game to the visitors. Two games will be played Wednesday. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 —	3	9 5
Cincinnati	1 1 1 2 2 0 4 0 0 —	11	14 2

Batteries—Hawley and Merritt; Breitenstein and Peltz.

At New York—The New Yorks were easy prey for the Orioles this afternoon, who won almost as they pleased. They bunched their hits off Meekin, and with one exception fielded with perfection. The batting of Tiernan and the playing of Steuel were the features. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	3 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 4 —	10	15 1

Batteries—Meekin and Warner; Nops and Robinson.

At Philadelphia—Mercer's effective pitching defeated the Phillies to-day. Errors were rather plentiful on both sides. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	0 1 2 0 1 0 0 1 0 —	5	9 6
Philadelphia	2 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 —	4	5 4

Batteries—Mercer and McGuire; Becker and Boyle.

THE POLICE KILLED HIM

That is the Belief in Mexican Government Circles Regarding the Death of Arroyo.

City of Mexico, Sept. 21.—Public interest in the alleged lynching of Arroyo continues to increase, stimulated by the rumors and disclosures in the press, for, as light begins to be thrown on the matter, it is seen there is strong probability that Arroyo was not killed by a mob of people, but by some members of the police itself. The Government is acting with the utmost firmness and energy in pushing the investigation, and has caused the arrest of Inspector Vincehelo, of the second district, suspected of being implicated in the plot. Vincehelo is now in prison in solitary confinement, and all supposed lynchers, mostly street peddlers, loafers, etc., have been released, as there is no longer the slightest ground to hold them.

Another Blaze at Quebec.

Quebec, Sept. 22.—Fire broke out at about 12.15 o'clock this morning in the moulding shop of Messrs. Terreau, Macine & Co., founders, St. Paul and St. Andrew-streets, Lower Town, completely gutting this part of the establishment. Loss estimated at between $8000 and $10,000, fully covered by insurance. The fire puts about 25 men out of employment.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kiddeys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

Uncle Sam Cannot Allow the Conflict to Continue Longer and Will Warn Spain to That Effect.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The Inter-Ocean of to-day has the following special from its Washington correspondent:

The Cuban policy of the McKinley Administration when fully known, as it promises to be soon, will be entirely satisfactory to the American people.

General Woodford has instructions to make it very clear to the Spanish Foreign Minister that the United States will not allow this Cuban war to continue as it has for the last two years.

President McKinley has always been a patient waiter, and he has been patient with this Cuban question, because he wanted to find the way to end the war and restore peace to the island in the most effectual and lasting manner.

General Woodford went to Madrid better equipped for his mission, with a more accurate and positive knowledge of the situation in Cuba, than any former Minister who ever took up such a delicate case for settlement. He has a better knowledge of the situation in Cuba than have the Spanish authorities.

General Woodford is a diplomat and he will not precipitate matters and provoke hostility by presenting an ultimatum until he has given the Duke of Tetuan fair warning and allowed him to prepare for the decision that must be given.

The President is something of a diplomat himself, and it has been his policy to show every consideration possible to Spain, but at the same time be firm in his demand that the Cuban war must come to an end.

It is part of Minister Woodford's mission to show that Spain has lost control of Cuba, and that even with the most barbarous warfare she has been unable to prevent the spread of the power of the insurgents.

It will also be his mission to show the Spanish Ministers that the close proximity of Cuba to the United States makes it impossible for this Government to be indifferent.

Unless Spain can at a very early date restore peace to the island under Spanish rule the United States will take steps to give peace to Cuba in the only way it is considered that peace can come to a people struggling for freedom and independence.

The Evil Eye.

Savage people have a superstition that an evil eye may be cast upon a person to bring all sorts of trouble and misfortune. That seems like a pretty foolish notion; but it isn't much worse than some of the notions which civilized people indulge in. One worn out superstition is the belief that if a man inherits weak lungs from his parents he is pretty sure to die of consumption. The actual fact is that if such a man will only take proper care of himself he will really be safer from consumption than a careless person who has no inherited weakness. Carelessness is the real evil eye. Carelessness will develop a tendency to consumption in any body.

The lungs are composed of very delicate, sensitive tissue, even in the healthiest person; that is why they yield so quickly to the attack of tainted blood. If the blood is allowed to get impure and impoverished, and bile-poisoned, the seeds of consumption will spring up in the best kind of a constitution. The real consumption-taint is in the blood.

Hundreds of cases of so-called "hereditary" consumption have been completely and permanently rooted out of the system by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, simply because it gives the blood-making glands power to pour a fresh abundant supply of rich, red, healthy, blood into the circulation. This drives out all poisonous and unhealthy germs. It stops the waste of tissue and the formation of morbid deposits; builds up fresh, normal, healthy lung tissue and solid, muscular strength.

In all the weakened debilitated conditions which are the forerunners of consumption, Dr. Pierce's Discovery is the most perfect nutritive and strength-builder. It is assimilated by the weakest stomachs.

FASHION TURNS BACK

UP-TO-DATE YOUNG MEN RESEMBLE THEIR GREAT-GRANDFATHERS.

This Effect Is Produced by the New Neckband They Are Wearing in Paris —The New Cravat Named in Honor of Duelist Prince Henri of Orleans.

The young man of fashion wil resemble his great-grandfather in one respect this coming season. He will wear a cravat—not one of the wonderful creations of silk and lace which set off the aristocratic features of the old-time beau, but a modern affair, severely plain and made of heavy silk or satin ribbon. It is, in fact, a combination stock and cravat, and if generally worn, will do away with the linen band now universally considered the proper thing. Of course it was in Paris the idea originated, and the "Prince Henri cravat," as the new article of neckwear is called, is the fad of the hour in the French capital.

A number of New York chappies have ventured to wear the cravat afternoons at seaside resorts, but as yet none have been seen in Toronto, except in the showcase of a swell haberdasher, who received a few with his fall stock of imported novelties. The "Prince Henri" may be briefly described as a strip of heavy silk or satin ribbon, four inches wide and one and three-quarter yards long. The middle part of the strip, or what takes the place of the collar, is interlined with a medium stiff canvas, with an outer covering of white silk to protect the neck.

It can be obtained in various sizes to fit the shirtband and the size corresponds with the number of the collar usually worn. That is, if a person wears a No. 16 collar, the proper size cravat would also be 16.

The method of arranging the new neckwear, as described by the haberdasher, sounds like a complicated and difficult undertaking and liable to militate against their popularity. However, it is really very simple, not as much trouble as buttoning on a linen collar and tying a four-in-hand or string tie. Directly in the center of the cravat at the lower edge, is a tiny eyelet which slips over a collar button, which must be set with a sparkling jewel. After this is done, the next thing is to take both ends of the cravat, draw them together to meet at the back of the neck, take the right end in the fingers of the left hand and vice versa, cross the folds and bring around the neck to the front. The ends are left hanging loosely while the back is fastened down by means of buttonholes in each lower edge which fits over the collar button in the back. When this is secured the ends are drawn tightly together and crossed, the meeting point coming directly under and close up to the jewelled button. The ends are held in place by a small stick pin through the shirt at the meeting point.

For afternoon wear the new Neapolitan striped silk in gorgeous coloring is said to be the correct thing, but for evening nothing could be prettier than the one of ivory white satin of exquisite quality, sprigged with moss rosebuds in their natural colors, which the dealer showed with much pride.

MAKING CELLULOID.

Chemical Constitution a Matter of Doubt, But the Process Simple.

Though the chemical constitution of celluloid is a matter of doubt, the art of manufacturing this peculiar modern product is explained in a few words—an article made by the combined action of pressure and heat, or with the aid of solvents, in that case in the cold, says The Trade Journals' Review. The camphor is dissolved in alcohol, as little as possible, and the solution sprayed through a rose on to the pyroxyline, the latter perfectly dry, a second layer of pyroxiline being then added, moistened again with camphor solution, and so on; the gelatinous lump is worked between iron rollers, to which it adheres, and the layer is slit longitudinally and rolled again.

The cakes, 0.4-inch thick, are cut into plates, about two feet by one foot, and pass for twenty-four hours into hydraulic presses, which are doubly steam jacketed. The mass is now sawed into plates, which are dried at about 95 degrees Fahrenheit for a week or two, and finally cut into smaller pieces, from which the articles are stamped. Further, according to a writer in The Gummi Zeitung, the method pursued is believed to consist in pouring 100 parts of ether on 50 of collodion wool and 25 of camphor, the covered mass being then stirred in earthenware vessels with rubber sticks until a homogeneous gelatinous mass is obtained, and then rolled. Apart from dyestuff and other additions, the average celluloid consists of two-thirds pyroxyline and one-third camphor.

Dog Had a Vendetta.

With the death of a large and homely dog, which was slaughtered at Homesdale, Pa., says The New York Herald, by a posse of citizens, there perished from the earth an animal with a vendetta. This dog was the mother of pups. All but one of them were taken from her, and that one was run over by a bicyclist. Wherefore, according to popular belief, she declared vengeance upon all who rode the engine of destruction.

She appeared in one of the main streets on the day of her death and declared war on a crowd of bicyclists. Up and down the street she ran, yelping and howling, and dashing viciously at the wheelmen and wheelwomen. Never was such scorching seen in Homesdale. The bicyclists scattered as fast as pedals could fly.

Failing of her vengeance, the dog ran to Tracyville, whither she was pursued by a mob. She took refuge in a shed, and there she was killed by Edward Bishop with a shovel.

Now that she is dead, every one talks of her rare intelligence. Her vendetta was against bicyclists, they say, and remind each other that the dog chased bicyclists only.

Sugar Good for Athletes.

Alpine climbers, who seldom eat candy at home, are said to appreciate it highly when on their excursions. Guides are fond of it, as a great source of muscular force. Experiments have recently been made in Germany to demonstrate the value of sugar to those who perform hard labor. The Prussian Ministry of War is satisfied that muscular work done when natural sugar (cane or beet sugar) was used, was superior to that when saccharin formed a part of the diet. The blood is poor in sugar after muscular exertion, but a small quantity eaten gives back the lost energy.

A Pointer for Bicyclists

To remove grease from saddle and bags make a solution of India rubber, by adding bisulphide of carbon to unvulcanized rubber, and letting the mixture stand about 24 hours. A quantity of the paste, when spread over grease spots on saddle leather, etc., and allowed to dry for two or three hours, can easily be stripped off, leaving the leather free from grease. The bisulphide of carbon does not injuriously affect the color of the leather.

Hair in Brushes

The brush trade is full of deception. An experienced hand will by touch tell if a broom or a brush be all hair or mixture. But if ever in doubt pull or cut off a suspicious hair and apply a match. However well doctored, the deception will be shown at once. Hairs will burn, rolling up ball-like, with the well-known smell of burned hair, while a vegetable substance will consume, leaving the charred portion like a burned match.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 56, St. Henri, Que.

COOPER WAS THE WINNER.

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 21.—Tom Cooper carried off the honors in the mile match race for $1000, with Eddie Bald and Arthur Gardiner, held under the auspices of the Albany County Wheelmen, here this city today. It took three heats to decide the race, Bald winning the first heat by an open length in handy style, in 2.31.

Cooper had the pacemakers' wheel in the second heat, and when the latter dropped out at the last quarter, Cooper made a sudden jump and led into the stretch by 10 yards. Gardiner and Bald came after him with a rush, but were a length back when the tape was crossed, Gardiner getting second place by a wheel. The time for this heat was 2.26.

In the third heat, Cooper, Bald and Gardiner tacked on to the pacemakers in the order named, and took a slow sail around to the last quarter. Gardiner made a great jump for a steal, but Cooper was ready for him, and followed close after him to the stretch, leaving Bald hopelessly behind.

Fifty yards from the finish Cooper passed Gardiner with a great burst of speed and won by a length. Bald rode the last 25 yards sitting up. This heat was ridden in 2.36 1-5.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract.

other places, point to a phenomenal growth of "Canada's Greatest Clothing Hustlers," and would seem to justify their claim to possessing superior advantages in buying and selling clothing.

The display of overcoats "lined up grandly." Light, heavy and medium for boys, youth's and men's freize overcoats in brown, grey, Oxford and black fabrics. Every overcoat and suit was labelled with price in plain figures. Tweed suits with the figures, $3.50, $4 50, $5 50, $6 25, $6.75, $7 25, which any ordinary judge would have considered good value at one-third more money.

The whole display was well worked out and the effectiveness of the dressing was an object lesson in artistic arrangement. The principal credit of this part of the display is due to Mr. William Merrill, one of the window dressing artists of the firm. Their clothing exhibit was not the only feature they put up at the fair. The baby show inaugurated by the great house of Gough's, was one of the best features of the exhibition. The competition for their liberal prize for the best baby was keen. The judges had a difficult and delicate task —and—

Ev'rybody was delighted—least they all were sayin so.
As they look'd around in wonder when they saw the baby show.
Not a thing I'm sure had happen'd, to make trouble anywhere.
An' there seem'd the best o' feelin'—that I'm willin' to declare—
But the moment they decid'd there was anger and surprise
From the mothers of the babies that didn't get Gough's prize.

CATTLE PUMPS, STEEL WINDMILLS, WASHING MACHINES ETC.

Mr. G. Walter Green, Peterborough's enterprising pump and windmill man, made a very full and a very attractive exhibit of his goods on the show grounds. He was located at the south end of the grounds, where he had a whole show of his own. Here he had erected one of his steel windmills, which was in full operation as if doing the actual work on the farm, and in this way giving a practical illustration of their usefulness. The "Ideal" pumping steel windmill and steel towers is a graceful looking structure with reciprocating motion, built with a framework of galvanized steel. It is the only power mill having bearings on both sides of every gear wheel. This divides the strain on the bearings, and prevents the prying motion which soon wears out the ordinary single rabbit metal bearing. The wheels and vanes are also galvanized after being put together, which adds greatly to the permanence and to the value of the outfit. These powerful machines are fitted with interchangeable brass or patent roller and ball-bearings, enclosed and fully protected from the weather. The band brake of this mill will positively hold the wheel still when turned out of the wind. Those who have had a wheel constantly in movement, when it should not run, will particularly appreciate this feature, because if it continues to run it will keep just little enough water in the pump to allow it to freeze in cold weather. The "Ideal" is safe in a storm and will stop itself. There is no possibility of it running wild in a big blow. It is being rapidly appreciated by wide-awake farmers, and many of them may now be seen on the farms of this and adjoining counties. Mr. Thos. R. Mann, Bridgenorth; Huton Bros., Springville; George Campbell, ex-M.P., Cavan, Geo. Russell, Douro; W. M. Reid, Otonabee; Levi S. Bowles, Springville; W. Leahy, Otonabee; Geo. Webber, North Monaghan, are among the leading farmers who have one of these labour-saving windmills Its 12-foot wheel give 2 to 3 b. p. in a fifteen to twenty mile wind, and the 17-wheel, 4 to 5 h. p. It will run a cutting box, our grain grinder, root pulper, saw, lathe, etc., and pumps oceans of water.

Mr. Green is also an experienced pump manufacturer and gave the best and fullest exhibition of force, lift and automatic cattle pumps ever shown in the Dominion by one man. They were all in working order, in shallow wells, where practical tests of their completeness was constantly being made. Those entered were "Eureka," a the gusher for watering stock, and scores a pailful every two strokes. The "Yukon," a graceful new design of pump with an iron cone head and improved ful crum power attachments for increasing the stroke and flow of water. The "Ideal" combined force and lift pump, which can be changed from a lift to a powerful force in a minutes's time. The "Superior," a powerful pump for deep or shallow wells; and the old reliable common stock pump that first succeeded the old oaken bucket.

But the greatest sensation in the pump line, and the one that produced the keenest interest among the crowds of farmers who congregated around Mr. Green's exhibition, was the new Automatic Cattle Pump, for which Mr. Green has secured the control for a large track of territory. It's as simple as A.B.C., but as valuable as a gold mine on a farm. The cattle simply walk over a teetering platform to their drinking trough and pump their own water. It is the greatest invention in labour-saving machinery for the farmer of the nineteenth century. It astonished the same thing here. At a labor-saving machine for the pasture it has no equal, and can be made just as safe and certain for watering the stock in winter as in summer by means of a patent frost-proof attachment. Farmers would do well to consult Mr. Green and inspect his first-class pump specialties.

Mr. Green also showed two washing machines, the well-known "North American", doing good laundry service in many households in the district, and the new "Jubilee" washer, which has some important advantages over any other known machine of the kind. A very handy novelty was also shown in the form of a folding washing sink, which was very cute and compact, and which can be moved round and made to occupy very little space in a room.

A HOME INDUSTRY IN WIRE FENCES.

Comparatively few of the readers of the EXAMINER are aware that Peterborough has a wire fence industry of its own. Mr. S. N. Walker made an exhibit in a central portion of the grounds of his improved steel wire fencing, which was a special attraction among the farmers. Coiled hard steel spring galvanized fence wire is used. A fence built of this wire regulates itself in all kinds of weather without sagging or breaking. Adequate provision is made in the construction of this fence for contraction by cold and expansion by heat. Being a self regulator in this respect, it sticks up for 30 degrees below as readily as it takes a new grip for 90 degrees in the shade. It does not break in winter or sag in summer. It does not injure stock. It is just the fence for farmers, railways, land owners, gardeners, cemeteries, lanes, lawns, yards, etc. For 85c per rod you can have a fence five feet high that will keep out any kind of stock. All you have to do is to put in your posts; Mr. Walker puts up the fence for you without extra charge. This wire fencing is five feet high, and unlike rails, boards or pickets, does not obstruct the view. This extra height discourages animals from jumping, reaching over to nibble crops, etc. But better than all, if a horse runs into it, or a hurricane comes on, the animal is thrown back, and the wind has no effect on it. Light and easily built it costs less than boards, or any other fence that can be put up. The price is a very important feature of this wire fencing being only 50c. and 65c. a foot. Full instructions for building these fences around farms, gardens, lawns, dwellings, railroads, can be obtained from Mr. Walker at Owen's Ontario Foundry on McDonel street (the Whyte's Foundry) where these fences are being manufactured.

With the farmer the fence problem has always been a troublesome one. It is a greater problem to-day than it ever has been, because timber is becoming scarce, and under the present system of rotating crops, smaller fields are required; and this being an age of sharp competition, the farmer sees the necessity under the present prices of farm products, to cut down the expenses of the farm. When we consider the cost of material and the time required to build the fences and to keep them in repair, the question of reducing the cost of fencing the farm is always in order. It is generally admitted that the coming farm fence will be made of plain galvanized wire.

Nature's Superiority Over Art.

The superiority of the work of nature over that of art is shown by the comparisons made in the cut accompanying from The Popular Science News. Those who are not acquainted with the microscope should not imagine that all this can be seen at a glance. With a high-power lens only a portion of a surface, even a hair, can be seen at a time; then, as the lens is lowered by the "fine adjustment" other portions come into focus, each by itself: and the microscopist has to remember and ideally construct the entire object, observed by piecemeal. For the correctness of the figures here given no authority is quoted. They are said to be "magnified one thousand times;" but anyone can easily prove that medium-sized pins would be of about the dimmeter of the pin as here figured if magnified only 60 to 80 times.

GRAY HAIRS SAVED HER.

A Burglar Was Driven Off by an Aged Woman, Who Asked, "My God, Haven't You a Mother?"

New York, Sept. 22.—It was 2 o'clock last Sunday morning when Mrs. Pardon Hazeltine, gray-haired and lonely, was awakened by a creaking noise and startled by the sight of a dimly outlined figure in the door of her bedroom. She lives in a cottage on the outskirts of Mount Vernon and of neighbors has but few. In a few moments the figure had advanced to the bedside and a gruff voice said: "I want you to get up and give up everything you've got and do it quick." With a quick leap the aged woman was on the floor, and in an instant the man grabbed for her arm. Like a flash he was cowed. Mrs. Hazeltine's voice shook the courage from the man as she cried: "Don't you lay a hand on me."

The man stepped back, and the old woman, after a moment's thought, said: "Now you show me how you got in this house, for you never came in the door."

With lamp in hand she led the way to the floor below. Then she stopped and the man made another grab for her arm. Raising the lamp so that the light was fairly in his eyes, she cried: "My God, haven't you a mother? Is she old and has she gray hair? What would you say if my son attacked her alone at night?"

The burglar stepped back in a corner of the room.

"Answer me," cried Mrs. Hazeltine, "did you ever have a mother?"

"Yes, but she is dead," was the reply.

The battle ended there. The burglar, who was not more than 30 years old, meekly turned to the parlor, where Mrs. Hazeltine told him to leave as he entered, and went out of a window.

"Your gray hairs saved you to-night," were his parting words.

CUT IN FREIGHT RATES.

A Buffalo Man Has Launched a Bitter War Among the Great Carriers.

Buffalo, Sept. 22.—Freight rates by rail and lake from Buffalo to St. Paul are demoralized. Following the announcement that the Wisconsin Central Road and the Great Lakes Steamship Company had reduced the rates from Buffalo to St. Paul, 60 per cent., comes the news that the Northern Steamship Company has made the same rate.

The Anchor Line, Union Transit Company, Western Transit Company and the Soo Line managers will hold a meeting to-morrow afternoon to consider the cuts and steamship men in Buffalo say it is not unlikely that the lines will meet the reduction.

The cut in freight is the talk of the shipping men. A Buffalo man is responsible for the freight war, which is by all odds one of the bitterest ever engaged in on the great chain of lakes.

Nottawasaga Pioneer Dead.

Collingwood, Sept. 22.—Angus Bell, Clerk of Nottawasaga Township, died the early part of this week, and was buried yesterday. Mr. Bell was one of the first settlers in the township, and has held the position of Township Clerk for over 50 years. He was a Highland Scotchman by birth, and was past 83 years of age when he died.

BASEBALL RECORD.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—The home team took another fall out of the Stelnert Cup candidates from Toronto to-day. Yeurick pitched a magnificent game for Montreal and the Toronto batters could do nothing with him. Casey took Wagner's place at short, and had more than he could attend to. His errors were all costly. Gaston pitched a good game, but Montreal managed to hit him when hits meant runs, and the hits were sandwiched in with the errors every time. Score:

THE OTHER GAMES.

At Springfield—The home team won the game by batting Keenan hard, while Korwan, who pitched the day before, was again invincible at critical moments. Wilkes-Barre's two errors were extremely costly. Score:

Springfield	1 0 4 1 1 3 0 0 *—10	19	1
Wilkes-Barre	0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—3	8	2

Batteries—Korwan and Nichols; Keenan and Gonding.

At Syracuse—Buffalo won the last game of the championship series from the Stars to-day. The home team was in a badly-crippled condition, after the second innings, two pitchers playing in the outfield. Earl was hit by a pitched ball and forced to retire. Score:

Batteries—Horton and Ryan; Gray and Urquhart.

At Providence—Timely hitting enabled Providence to win against Scranton. The visitors had great luck in placing hits, and when they scored five earned runs in the fifth innings it looked as though they would win. A feature of the game was a two-base hit by Walter that fell in the middle of the diamond untouched, with each of the infielders and the pitcher waiting for another to take it, because of a confusion of coaching cries. The weather was cold and cloudy. Two games will be played to-day. Score:

Providence	1 0 2 0 0 3 0 3 0—9	12	3
Scranton	0 1 0 0 5 1 0 0 0—7	14	1

Batteries—Hodson and Coogan; Johnson and Boyd.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At New York—New York made nearly enough runs in the first and second innings off Amole, Baltimore's young southpaw, to win the game, as he was a trifle wild and also easy. Robinson put Hoffer in. Hoffer pitched a beautiful game and was very effective. Seymour was unsteady at times, but in tight places managed to pull out in good form. Score:

Baltimore	0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 1—4	9	2

Batteries—Seymour and Warner; Amole, Hoffer and Robinson.

At Pittsburg—The Pirates and Reds split even to-day on two games. In the first game Killen was hit very hard, while Dwyer kept his hits scattered. The feature was Killen's long hit over right field fence. Peitz was put in to pitch the second game because Rhines, who was scheduled, failed to report at the grounds. Peitz's support was very poor. Darkness ended the game in the seventh inning. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	1 0 1 0 1 2 3 3 2—13	21	1

Batteries—Killen and Sugden; Dwyer and Schriver.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	2 0 1 0 2 3 *—8	9	3
Cincinnati	1 0 0 1 0 1 1—4	6	4

Batteries—Hastings and Merritt; Peitz and Schriver.

At Cleveland—The Colts put up the most horrible fielding game seen here this year. Friend being the worst of the lot, while the Indians slugged the ball hard all the time. Score:

Cleveland	2 0 6 1 3 2 3 1 *—18	18	1
Chicago	0 0 1 1 0 5 0 0 0—7	8	9

Batteries—Young and Zimmer; Friend and Kittridge.

At Philadelphia—Philadelphia defeated Washington in the last game of the season here. The Phillies could do very little with Swaim's pitching and the Senators had the game well in hand in the eighth innings, when a base on balls and Shugart's home run tied the score. In the ninth Foley's hit and Lajoie's two-bagger gave the victory to the Phillies. Score:

Washington	2 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0—4	10	2
Philadelphia	1 1 0 0 0 0 0 3 1—5	8	5

Batteries—Swaim and McGuire; Bunkie and Boyle.

At Boston—It was a cold, bleak day to sit through a ball game, and when Lynch called the game at the end of the seventh on account of darkness few were sorry. This was the last home game of the season. Score:

Batteries—Sullivan, Stivetts and Lake; Payne and A. Smith.

Listen to The Question:

"Are you the man that's got the advertisement on the first page of the EXAMINER?" Yes. "Well you've got the greatest budget in your ad that ever I read." Putting his finger to his thumb he runs over the following: "People's Grocery," "I like that name nothing stuck up about it," "323 George Street, why that's one of the best stands in town, near the market, on the way to the C. P.R. and G.T.R. Stations; you've made a good choice of Groceries, Fruit and Provisions, lots of good things to eat; I'll call on you, I will. Good bye." Another says: "Are you the man that sells the good 25c Japan Tea?" "yes I am" "Well do me up 33 lbs" And I did it up, and he paid me the money like a gentleman. We are right in the fruit season and have a large lot of Redpath's No. 1 Granulated Sugar, pure, 20 lbs for a dollar. A customer told us some of the others had raised their prices; we aim to keep them down so, and are glad to say that our efforts are being appreciated. We have had to repeat our orders for Canned Goods again and again and have bought and expect another large delivery in October. The people want Vegetables and Fruit sound, fresh and good, and they buy from us as they see our delivery wagon bringing loads from our own gardens. We are getting ready a large quantity of home-made Hams and Bacon; also Pickles 10c per bottle. Upwards of 20 doz pints and quarts of home-made Preserves, pound of Fruit to pound of best Granulated Sugar. Full lines of all kinds Groceries and Provisions at lowest prices. A BRITISH VICTORY.

Indian Tribesmen Attacked and Completely Routed.

MADE A STUBBORN RESISTANCE

But After a Sharp Fight Were Driven Back at Every Point—General Elles Now Holds the Heights Occupied by Them—General News by Cable.

Simla, Sept. 23.—The expected attack by General Elles with the brigades from Camp Nawagai on Belmanai Pass, held by the Haddah Mullah, with a large force of Momunds and Shinwaris, took place yesterday. The tribesmen made a strong resistance, but, after sharp fighting, they were finally driven out of every position. The British now hold the heights commanding the pass, and Belmanai village, on the other side.

The mountain guns first bombarded the enemy, whose positions were then stormed in capital style by the 20th Punjaub Infantry, supported by a Maxim gun detachment. It is a significant fact that the 20th Punjaub is partly composed of Afridis.

The British continue to advance. It is expected that they will capture Jarobi, Haddah Mullah's village, to-morrow (Friday). The defeat of the Mullah, it is hoped, will have a great effect upon all the surrounding tribesmen, as he is the leading spirit of mischief in the Momund country.

LONDON BANKERS MOVING.

Bimetallists are Afraid They Will Induce the Government to Recede.

London, Sept. 23.—The protest which the London bankers drew up at their meeting in the clearing house yesterday against the policy of the Governor of the Bank of England in announcing its willingness to maintain one-fifth of its bullion reserve in silver, was presented to the bank to-day. The resolution is accompanied by a formal letter and the resolution itself is in the name of the Clearing House Association, as a majority of the membership was represented and unanimously adopted the resolution, which is as follows:

"That this meeting entirely disapproves of the Bank of England agreeing to exercise the option, permitted by the act of 1844, in holding one-fifth or any other proportion whatever of silver, as a reserve against the circulation of Bank of England notes.

"That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Bank of England, the Prime Minister, the First Lord of the Treasury and the Chancellor of the Exchequer."

An organized movement has begun to induce other commercial bodies to protest against the announcement of the Governor of the Bank of England.

A high official, who was a participant in the negotiations between the United States bimetallic commissioners and the British Cabinet, said to-day to a representative of the Associated Press:

"I fear the bankers will frighten the Government into receding from their stand for bimetallism. They have forgotten that Parliament unanimously resolved measures to secure a staple par of exchange between gold and silver, and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, pledged himself to do all in his power to carry the resolution into effect.

"The English public have forgotten also that ten of the fourteen members of the Agricultural Commission signed a report recommending bimetallism as a palliative for the agricultural depression in England. The public and the newspapers seem to think the Government is influenced merely by desire to secure the good will of the United States, when it is attempting to carry out the declared policy of Parliament."

Lord Farrer on the Subject.

London, Sept. 24.—Lord Farrer has a three-column letter [illegible] morning on bimetallism and the [illegible] mints. He says:

"In my own opinion the ultimate solution of the question will be found in the adoption of the gold standard in India."

Lord Farrer then proceeds to discuss the proposals of the American commissioners and the French Government, in which connection he says:

"There has been no official statement of Senator Wolcott's proposals, but we may form a shrewd guess from an article which appeared in The National Review for August, entitled: 'Episodes of the Month,' and written by someone who appears to be in the councils of the American negotiators. From this we gather that India is invited to open her mints at a ratio of 15 1-2 to 1, which in all probability is the only ratio that would satisfy France and the United States.

"This ratio would mean that the present gold value of silver would have to be increased by 125 per cent."

AS MR. GLADSTONE SEES IT.

Turkey Stronger Than at Any Time Since the Crimean War.

London, Sept. 23.—The Chronicle publishes an extract from a letter written by Mr. Gladstone under date of yesterday. In it Mr. Gladstone says:

"The pain, shame and mischief of the last two years in the eastern policy transcend entirely the powers of any language I could use concerning them. The sum is this:

"Firstly, A hundred thousand Armenians have been slaughtered, with no security against a repetition, and with greater profit to the assassins.

"Secondly, Turkey is stronger than at any time since the Crimean War.

"Thirdly, Greece is weaker than at any time since she became kingdom.

"Fourthly, All this is due to the European concert, that is, the mutual hatred and distrust of the powers."

CROATIANS REBEL.

An Outbreak Which Will Cause Trouble to Hungarian Government.

London, Sept. 24.—Special despatches from Vienna describe serious outbreaks among the Croatian peasantry at Sjernoak, near Agram, the capital of Croatia and Slavonia. Four thousand rebels, armed with pitchforks and other farming implements, have taken up a fortified position. In a collision with the gendarmes Wednesday, two Hungarian officers were killed, together with a peasant woman, and seven peasants were wounded. Troops have been summoned to quell the disturbance.

The rising is attributed to the fact that the Hungarian authorities have been showing an inclination to deprive the Croatians of their ancient privileges.

LORD WOLSELEY ON THE ARMY.

The Commander-in-Chief Says the Navy is All Right, But a Good Army is Needed.

London, Sept. 23.—Lord Wolseley, in thanking the corporation of Glasgow for the honor of the freedom of the city, conferred upon him to-day, said: The British army machinery was "strained and out of gear," and advocated a sufficient increase to meet all emergencies.

Continuing, the Commander-in-Chief remarked: "The navy has been restored to its ancient and proud pre-eminence, but it is arrant folly to declare that only the navy is required for our protection. Great Britain requires a moderate-sized army of perfect quality, to protect these islands and to hold her coal stations beyond the seas."

RUMPUS IN THE UNTERHAUS.

Cheers for the Emperor—Opposition Leader Cried "Hoch for the People!"

Vienna, Sept. 23.—Premier Badeni, upon the reassembling of the Reichrath to-day, opened the Unterhaus amid a hostile demonstration of the members of the Scholner Group, which is a section of the German Opposition. The Premier then called for cheers for the Emperor, and Herr Scholner shouted: "Hoch for the German people."

The cheers asked for by Herr Scholner were vociferously given by the German Left.

A member asked if it was true that there were sixteen policemen, disguised as attendants, in the Unterhaus. The question caused a great uproar.

Dr. Kathrein of the Opposition was elected president of the Unterhaus without a vote being taken, and amid incessant tumult and violent altercations between the Bohemian Germans and the Young Czechs.

Dr. Kathrein, while endeavoring to make a speech, had his voice drowned by passionate interjections. Finally he called for cheers for Emperor Francis Joseph, and they were given with enthusiasm. Dr. Pergelt protested against the election of Dr. Kathrein as President of the Unterhaus, and moved the adjournment of the House. The motion was lost by a vote of 197 to 103.

A series of motions was offered, aiming at the impeachment of the Ministers. The German popular party demands the impeachment of Count Badoni, because of the conduct of the representatives of the Government at public meetings. The German Radicals and the Scholner Group want him impeached for prohibiting a meeting of German Bohemians at Eger, Bohemia, and they call for the impeachment of Count Gleispach, Minister of Justice, Dr. Bilinski, Minister of Finance, and Baron Glanz d'Elcha, Minister of Commerce, for an alleged violation of their Ministerial powers by the issuance of a decree authorizing the official use of the Czech language in Bohemia.

WILL VISIT THE COLONIES.

Duke of York Has Been Appointed a Commodore and Will Have a Cruise.

London, Sept. 24.—His Royal Highness the Duke of York has been appointed commodore of three cruisers, and will take command of the first-class cruiser Terrible next April.

According to The Times, which makes the announcement, he will go with two fast second-class cruisers for a 12 months' cruise, during which he will visit the principal colonies of the Empire.

Alarm at the Vatican.

Rome, Sept. 23.—The uncompromising attitude toward the Spanish Government of the Bishop of Majorca, who excommunicated the Spanish Minister of Finance, Senor Reverter, for seizing the treasury of a church in his diocese, and the evident approval which the Bishop's action is meeting with upon the part of his Spanish confreres, has so alarmed the Pope has again instructed the Papal Nuncio at Madrid to insist upon the clergy opposing Carlism, and to urge the clergy to earnestly support the present Spanish Ministry and present Spanish dynasty.

California Fruit in London.

London, Sept. 23.—Within nine hours after the docking at Southampton yesterday of the American Liner St. Paul 4403 packages of California fruit were delivered at Covent Garden market here in splendid condition, and they were all sold this morning.

French Paper Seized.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The Libertaire has been seized by the police for publishing an article advocating the assassination of President Faure, King Humbert and the Queen Regent of Spain.

Heavy Loss by the Cyclone in Italy.

Brindisi, Sept. 23.—The damage done by the cyclone in the Province of Lecde on Tuesday evening last will amount, according to the official estimate, to over 25,000,000 lire. In the district of Taranto alone the damage is estimated at several million lire.

Kruger is Not Sick.

London, Sept. 23.—A special despatch from Pretoria, Transvaal Republic, contains a denial of the statement that the health of President Kruger is causing anxiety to his friends.

King of Benin to be Transported.

Lagos, West Coast of Africa, Sept. 23.—Drunami, the King of Benin, who has been on trial at Benin City since Aug. 15 last, with a number of his leading chiefs, charged with being concerned in the massacre of an unarmed expedition under British Consul Phillips, has been condemned to be transported to Calabar, a slave settlement of British West Africa.

POISONED THE MILK.

Went Into a Dairyman's Barn and Put Paris Green in the Cans Customers Where Warned in Time.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 23.—Isaac Leppley, a farm worker of Shamokin township, was arrested last night on the charge of having entered the barn of Dairyman M. L. Sober at Elysburg and placing a quantity of paris green in the milk cans. Mr. Sober this morning sent his man to this city with the milk, not knowing that it had been poisoned. Two hours later the farm girls found traces of poison in the milk cans and George Sober jumped on his bicycle and started for Shamokin, six miles distant, to warn the two hundred families on his father's milk route not to use the fluid. On reaching Shamokin he notified the authorities and several men were hurried over the route with the warning. So far as known they were successful in preventing the use of the milk. Leppley was discharged by Sober some time ago.

PEARY AT BOSTON.

The Arctic Explorer Thinks His Most Important Work Was Finding the Greely Relics.

Boston, Sept. 23.—Lieut. Peary, the noted Arctic explorer, was in Boston last night. With him is his wife and little daughter, also Mr. C. L. Baldwin and Mr. Arthur Moore, who accompanied him on the trip. Lieut. Peary said that he experienced a most unusual and stormy season. He said: "After we left North Sydney, we sailed to Turnavik Island, on the coast of Labrador. From there we went to Baffin's Land, on Resolution Island.

"What I consider the most important discovery was my finding of the relics of Greely's expedition on Cape Sabin. I would prefer not to mention them.

"We touched Meteoric Island on Aug. 30 and got the big meteorite, which we discovered before. It was just small enough to go into the hold of the Hope, measuring 12x8 feet, and weighing 100 tons. It is a beautiful specimen; in fact, the best I ever saw.

"I have tested it and find that the composition is almost similar to that used in plate armor on United States warships. It looks like nickeled steel."

THE TRUTH OF IT.

United States Railroads Needed the Bonding Privilege More Than the Canadian Roads Did.

New York, Sept. 23.—A Boston despatch to The Sun to-day says:

Attorney-General McKenna's decision regarding the meaning of section 22 of the tariff bill means a great deal to roads like the Boston & Maine, which handles thousands of tons of foreign merchandise brought through Canada by the Canadian Pacific road. The New England railroads, local railroad men say, would have been sure in the end to suffer more than the Canadian roads themselves, because the latter would have been helped by the retaliatory measures which the Canadian Government might have put in effect against the United States had the section been sustained by the Attorney-General.

The immediate result of the decision will be to release an immense quantity of merchandise now waiting on the rails at Montreal and other Canadian centres until the matter was settled. In one case there is a shipment of $125,000 worth of kangaroo skins from Australia, waiting to be sent across the border. They are consigned to Boston concerns and are badly wanted by them.

A SAILOR WHO HAD RICHES.

The Allegation is That He Stole Money and Diamonds From a South Africa Mine Owner.

New York, Sept. 23.—A special to The Herald from Brunswick, Ga., says: Sailors on board the North American schooner Ella M. Wyllie, which has just arrived in this port from Cape Town, South Africa, make sensational charges against Charles Bedell, a member of the crew, now en route to New York on a Mallory Line steamer. They allege that Bedell, in company with "Liverpool" Jack, robbed a wealthy diamond mine owner in South Africa, divided the proceeds and proceeded to this country. The sailors said Bedell had $5000 in English gold in a belt around his body, and "Liverpool" Jack had a similar amount when he started for America via Australia.

On the strength of these stories Deputy United States Marshal Taylor arrested Bedell after he landed here. When the sailor was arrested nearly $5000 in gold was found in his belt. There were also many diamonds and jewelry in the belt, which made the total amount of his possessions reach a large sum.

Bedell said the money and jewelry was his own property. His ownership had been confirmed by the Cape Town Government after he and thirty-three others had been confined in prison for having the property in their possession.

These men with himself, he said, were Government conductors on a railway in the diamond mines and were suspected of stealing. They were arrested, lodged in jail and efforts made to convict them. After many days Bedell says he and three others were released and given a Government discharge. This discharge Bedell exhibited to Deputy Marshal Taylor. Then Taylor concluded to release the prisoner, and Bedell left on the New York steamer.

Freshet Caused Damage of a Million Dollars—Chinese Still Beating Foreign Travelers to Death.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 23.—China advices per steamer Empress of China, which arrived at Victoria, B. C., Tuesday night, reports that this year's freshet was lower by more than a foot than those of preceding years, but, in spite of this, 100,000 people have been rendered destitute and the damage to property is estimated at about $1,000,000.

A Chouping missionary correspondent writes: "The rumors about foreigners and Christians kidnapping children are still being circulated.

"Last week three travelers passing through a village were set upon and beaten to death and buried by the excited mob. Another man, living just outside the city, was accused of kidnapping, and was so frightened by the threats that he lost his reason. Several Christians have been beaten and attacks have been made upon some of our country chapels."

A Wrecked Crew Rescued.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 23.—The American schooner Progress arrived this morning, 32 days from Yokohama, having on board nine members of the crew of the American whaler barque Cape Horn Pigeon, which was wrecked on a rocky coast, 18 miles from Hakodate, on the night of July 13. Her officers and crew escaped in small boats and saved nothing.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL

Alleged Tampering With Witnesses by the Police.

AN ORDER ASKED FOR BY COUNSEL

Judge Tuthill Shut Off the Lawyers Curtly—One Witness Swore That He Saw Mrs. Luetgert Two Days After the Tragedy is Said to Have Occurred.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Ex-Judge Vincent soon after court opened in the Luetgert trial asked that the jury be excluded while he made a statement. After the jury had retired, ex-Judge Vincent said:

"If the court please, there is strong reason to believe that the police are interfering with witnesses for the defence and trying to intimidate them. I do not say absolutely that this is true, but the indications point almost directly to that conclusion. I desire an order of court prohibiting such action on the part of the police or the prosecution."

"Why not make the injunction cover both sides?" suggested State Attorney Deneen.

"The court does not require instructions from any of the attorneys engaged," sharply responded Judge Tuthill.

"I will make the charge that witnesses for the defence have been interfered with and harrassed by the police," said Attorney Phalen of the defence.

"If that is true, there should be an investigation, remarked State Attorney Deneen.

"If any witness for the defence has been intimidated, it has been done without knowledge of the state, and we do not approve of it," continued Attorney Deneen.

"I will say now for the benefit of the police," said Judge Tuthill, with severity in his tone, "that if I hear of any interference with any of the witnesses on either side of the case I will deal with the offender, and my dealing will not be gentle. This defendant has rights here and they will be protected."

"Why not order an investigation?" queried State Attorney Deneen.

"Mr. Deneen, this court will make the order it deems proper. That will do."

When the jury was re-called, Rosa Gleich was placed on the witness stand for cross-examination.

This witness was called yesterday to impeach the evidence of Emma Schimpke, given on the direct examination, by the prosecution. She stated that she was with Emma Schimpke on the night of May 1 until 11 o'clock and remained with the Schimpke girl until the latter entered her home. She denied emphatically that either of them had seen Luetgert and his wife leave the latter's residence and go to the sausage factory, as described. She denied also that Gottlieba Schimpke, who testified that she also saw Luetgert and his wife was with Emma and herself that night. Furthermore, the witness said that Emma Schimpke since she had testified in the case had admitted to the witness in the presence of others that she had lied. According to the witness, Emma Schimpke said she lied because Gottlieba, her weak-minded sister, had got her into the Luetgert case and she would not testify on Luetgert's side. The witness also stated that Emma Schimpke tried to get her to tell the same story Emma had told to save the latter's reputation.

State Attorney Deneen went at this witness with one of the most remarkable cross-examinations ever heard in the criminal court. His questions were fired at her with the rapidity of a repeating rifle, worked to the limits of its speed. The witness was quick-witted and replied promptly for a while, but she was not as resourceful as the lawyer, and after half an hour she became confused and her face blazed with excitement. Then she began to contradict herself as to important particulars and made corrections, which weakened her evidence.

The crowd at the court house to-day was larger than usual and the struggle to secure admission to the court room partook of the nature of a riot. Hundreds were turned away and the officers on duty at the door had several encounters with unruly visitors.

Harry Fiedler corroborated Rosa Gleich's story and asserted that the mother of the Schimpke girl compelled the latter to tell the story she did.

George Sholey, a bartender at the Maple House in Kenosha, Wis., testified that he saw Mrs. Luetgert on the night of May 3. He said she came into his saloon weary, and with bedraggled skirts, as if she had walked far. She enquired the direction to the house of a farmer named Muller. The following day Sholey said he saw the woman again at Springhluff, a suburb of Kenosha. Sholey was not acquainted with Mrs. Luetgert, but from the description of her he was positive the woman he saw was she.

THE LABOR FEDERATION

Denounced the Latrobe Shooting in Strong Terms—Call to Be Sent to the President.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The fourth day's session of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor convened this morning at 9 o'clock, all members being present. Regarding the shooting at Latrimer, Pa., on Sept. 10, resolutions were adopted, declaring the attack of Sheriff Martin and his deputies, "a brutal, unprovoked massacre, inspired by the coal operators of that section, to defeat the demands of the men for better conditions."

It was further resolved, "That the ever-ready use in late years of court injunctions, armed force and the state militia in times of labor troubles is only part of the insidious program to entirely subjugate the workers of America to the most debasing degradation."

It was determined that measures in the interest of labor should be formulated and presented to President McKinley with the view of his incorporating them in his next message to Congress.

NEW NIAGARA ARCH BRIDGE OPEN

Canada's Two Leading Bands Joined Two From Western New York in Patriotic Airs at the Centre of the Structure Amusements and a Grand Illumination.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 23.—At exactly 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, to the inspiring strains of the most noted military bands of the United States and Canada, massed together in the centre of the new steel arch bridge, the grand celebration of the achievement of one of the most marvelous works of mechanical and engineering skill was formally opened. As the 150 musicians struck up the popular national air, "The Star-spangled Banner," Mayor Arthur C. Hastings of this city and Mayor C. C. Cole of Niagara Falls, Ont., walked upon the bridge and advanced toward each other from their respective countries. They met in the centre and each grasped the hand of the other in a warm, cordial grip, which will forever cement the friendship of the two neighboring cities.

It was a sight long to be remembered and the thousands of people who looked on applauded long and loud.

There, in the centre of a massive structure, which linked in bands of steel the two greatest nations of the earth, stood the highest executive officers of two neighboring cities, uniting in homage to the greatest engineering feat of the age. The bonds of friendship which they then united between the people who control the destinies of these two great countries will outlast the great steel structure upon which they stood.

Suddenly the sound of the music died away, and in a moment there burst forth again from 150 instruments the strains of "God Save the Queen." This brought a tumultuous shout from the thousands assembled on the Canadian side of the river. After the band ceased playing and Mayors Hastings and Cole parted, a salute of 21 guns was fired from the centre of the bridge and the three days' carnival was on.

The four bands which opened the celebration were the 74th Regiment Band of Buffalo, the 42nd Separate Company Band of this city, the famous 13th Regiment Band of the city of Hamilton, Ont., and the band of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto.

From 1 o'clock until 3 o'clock there was a continual concert, and harmonious strains were wafted down the gorge until they were lost amid the roar of the rapids.

The inspiring strains of the bands and the loud booming of the aerial guns at the opening had the effect of working the thousands of spectators to a high state of enthusiasm and they gave round after round of applause to every performance provided for their entertainment. The bridge is free and the people surged back and forward across it in dense crowds, but the main bodies are assembled at the scene of amusements, athletic games, dancing, etc., on both sides of the river.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon Prof. Leo Stevens, the noted aeronaut, made a balloon ascension and parachute leap. It was a thrilling feat and the crowds were greatly pleased. From 5 to 6 o'clock there was dancing on both sides of the river.

At 8.30 o'clock the feature of the day's doings took place at the Falls, where both the Horseshoe Falls and American Falls and river and rapids were illuminated with magnesium lights and variegated colored electric lights under the directions of Prof. Paine, and presented a grand spectacular sight, perhaps never before seen.

The little steamer Maid of the Mist steamed up the river, gaily decorated and brilliantly illuminated, and dropped hundreds of lighted floats in the river, all presenting an extremely grand sight, which was witnessed by thousands from both parks. After illuminations, the 13th Band gave an open-air concert at the American end of the bridge, which was greatly admired by the thousands of Americans, while the 74th Regiment Band of Buffalo did likewise on the Canadian end of the bridge.

The balance of the evening was taken up with the vaudeville performances on either end of the bridge. Mr. Frank P. Dwyer, general eastern agent G. T. R., New York, with his able assistant, Ben Stern, have charge of the management of the carnival.

To-morrow there will be a grand athletic tournament on both sides of the bridge, and during the evening the finest display of fireworks that has been seen since the World's Fair will take place on the bridge and lower river; also band concerts. It will be repeated on Saturday. Whirlpool-street, on the American side of the river, leading to the bridge, is a veritable Midway Plaisance, with its hundreds of sideshows and merry-go-rounds. There were fully 15,000 people witnessed the opening to-day. The Grand Trunk brought in about 3000 people, the American roads bringing in the balance. The greatest crowds are expected to-morrow and Saturday.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were 30 car loads of live stock on the market to-day, composed of 590 cattle, 567 sheep and lambs, 15 calves, and 500 hogs. The export trade was very dull, and in fact we did not see or hear of any heavy transactions in this class of cattle.

Buyers held off and seemingly are determined not to buy, unless at lower rates. Sellers are waiting to see what Friday's market may develop. The outlook to-day seems to point to the fact that the farmers will have to take less money for their cattle.

The prices for good choice butchers' cattle are unchanged, but for the lower grades of this class of cattle prices seem to be lower.

William Levack was buying a few small lots at prices ranging from $2.75 to $3.75 per cwt.

There were quite a number of bulls on the market, one weighing 2400 lbs. sold for $108; he was the finest we have seen for some time. Quite a number of stockers and light feeders were on hand, but not many sales seemed to be taking place.

J. L. Blowntree bought 21 Buffalo stockers, weighing 650 lbs. each, at $2.90 per cwt.

There were 14 milk cows, which sold at $25 to $45 each.

Sheep are reported as being easier on account of the English markets being lower by about $1 per head. Lambs remain about the same as our last quotations.

The hog market remains firm at quotations.

William Levack shipped 60 export cattle to Liverpool, and J. & J. W. Dunn are shipping 5 double decked cars of export sheep to-morrow.

KIPLING'S JUBILEE POEM.

Sir Walter Besant Says It Is the Finest Utterance of the Occasion.

This is what Sir Walter Besant says of Rudyard Kipling's Jubilee poem, called "Recessional":

"To my mind they are the finest utterance, the noblest and the fittest which has been called forth by the Jubilee. They stand out in bold relief; they are real; they are inspired; they are at once a prayer and a thanksgiving. They contain the very spirit of the Puritans, a spirit which must never die out among us. We have amongst us once more a poet who can make our hearts glow within us and can uplift our souls from the earth. Too long have we waited; singers there are with us in plenty; but the poet—where was he? Is this the only one? Nay, this one goes before; he leads the way; he is Chief and King; but poets create other poets; noble souls gather round other noble souls For the mandolin we shall have the trumpet; for the feignings we shall have the sham, lovesick shepherd we shall have the soldier and the pilgrim. There are, among our singers, too long contented with the twanging of the mandolin, two or three who will surely feel the force and splendor of Kipling's muse insomuch that they, too, will open their eyes, and will see the world as it is and mankind as it may be. The words ring in the brain; they will be heard; they follow us into the shades of night; they will not let one sleep; they must be repeated over and over and over again."

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart,
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far called, our navies melt away,
On dune and headland sinks the fire;
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Mistakes About Mountains.

Ninety-nine people out of a hundred appear to be under the impression that Mount Blanc is in Switzerland, whereas it is wholly within the French frontier Province of Haute Savoie. Next, Mount St. Elias is not the highest mountain in North America, but the peak, which is 1511 feet higher, named after Sir William "Logan," founder of the Canadian Geological Survey. And what is more, although so patriotically scouted by some, the assertion that both mountains are in British territory has been confirmed since 1887 by the Canadian-Alaska boundary survey. And of another mountain—Ararat: The usual statement that this was the place on which Noah's Ark rested has no foundation in the Hebrew text, which reads: "On the mountains of Ararat." Ararat was the ancient name of a district in Eastern Armenia, and has been used for all Armenia.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

THE "CENTRAL" EXHIBITION.

The Last Day of a Successful Show.

THE REAL OBJECTS SPLENDIDLY MET.

The Attendance the Only Drawback and That Due to Bad Weather—The Continuation of the Report of Events—Summary of the Results—The Speeding Events and the Great Drawing Contest—A Few Notes—Some of the Prize List.

The Central Exhibition that closed on Thursday night was without doubt, so far as the primary objects of such an exhibition are concerned, an undoubted success. It cannot be too much urged that the exhibition of live stock in all departments was far away beyond the exhibit of any other year in the history of the society, and the farmer who visited the exhibition and intelligently studied the object lessons presented by the visible and collected results of the most approved methods of winning success in stock-breeding, and did not derive great benefit from what he saw, has mistaken his calling. This applies especially to the exhibits of cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, and these exhibits were diligently visited during the afternoon and many were the expressions of delight and approval at what was to be seen.

The inside exhibits were in some respects not up to the mark of the live stock exhibits. The meagre display of apples was of course accounted for by the comparative failure of this year, especially in contrast with last year when almost every farmer with an orchard had "apples to burn." But the display in these departments was about all that the accommodation of the building would meet. It is evident that if the society is to advance that the buildings must be enlarged, and more elaborate preparations made for housing exhibits. By a knowledge that there was ample room and conveniences for the display of articles, many persons would be stimulated to become exhibitors who now take no part, except, perhaps, the unprofitable part of depreciaton, would become contributors to the display in the main building. The fine arts department looked up pretty well this year, there being an unusual number of exhibitors and exhibits, with the added merit of many of the exhibits being of superior artistic quality, embracing the work of some entirely new local exhibitors.

JUDGING THE HORSES.

The popular love for horseflesh, especially that of high character, was exemplified by the great interest taken in the judging of the horses that took place during the afternoon, conjoined with the trials of speed, and it was amusing to hear the popular comment upon the opinions of the judges, as the red, blue or white ticket was attached to the popular or unpopular choice of the judges, as the case might be. However, good justice was generally done—it is not in the power of man to please everybody, for in horseflesh, as in crows, every owner generally thinks his horse the best and worthy of the red red card.

IN THE HORSE RING.

Yesterday those in attendance at the grounds massed themselves around the horse ring in the afternoon to witness the two events, which were billed to take place there. The 2.30 trot or pace, for a purse of $60, brought out P. J. Clunan's Duke, Lady Alexander, L. G. Bennett, Port Hope, and Wm. Rudkins' William Henry.

Lady Alexander drew the pole and held it for two laps, when the Duke pulled up along side, and gave her an argument which proved very exciting, the horses making a complete circle of the track neck and neck. The pace which the Duke set was, however, too fast for the little mare, and she dropped back. William Henry then came up with a rush and beat Lady Alexander in for the place. The next two heats were not as exciting, the Duke having it all his own way, leaving William Henry and Lady Alexander to fight it out for the place. The result was as follows:

William Henry, Wm Rudkins	3	2	3
Lady Alexander, L G Bennett Port Hope	2	3	2

Time. 3.01, 3.03, 3.01½.

The running race for a purse of $60 brought out Master Fred, Jessie B and Watercress. Of course Master Fred was able to romp away from the others, and Jessie B had an easy thing in running next to him. After the first two heats had been run Fred Jones thought that the race was over and took Master Fred and Jessie B to the stable. Watercress was then brought out and run over the track alone three times and given first money. Such a misunderstanding is unfortunate. Mr. Jones points out that a running race is so seldom run off in three heats that he thought it was an error in the book which made it read in that manner. Master Fred hurt his foot in the last heat but it was nothing serious. The result was as follows:

Watercress, C Lane	3	3	1	1
Master Fred, F Jones	1	1	dr	dr
Jessie B, R Croft	2	2	dr	dr

The officers were:
Starter—H. J. Winch.
Judges—Wm. Croft and Dr. Beatty.
Timekeepar—R. A. Morrow.

Mr. James Mannel, of Toronto, probably one of the best known horse judges in America to-day, is very much pleased with the system of judging which is followed in Peterborough, and states that it is decidedly the best he has yet come across. The horses are brought into the ring on the first day and viewed by the judges. On the third day they are again viewed and the awards made. By viewing the horses twice all the good points can be brought out, as a horse might easily be off colour the first day and show up well the day after.

THE DRAWING CONTEST.

It is doubtful if any other single event attracted so strongly the attention of the farmers as the double drawing contest between sets of heavy and light teams. The contest was brought off in front of the grand stand and the special constables had the greatest difficulty in keeping the large crowd back. A "stone boat" heaped with two tons and a quarter of pig iron was the object of attack, and the way the whiffle trees and chains and bolts cracked, was a fine illustration of the great strength and pull of the equine giants contesting; and the feverish energy with which the drivers, owners and friends of the contesting teams attempted to repair the damages showed what importance was attached to winning the prizes—for the time consumed in repairing breakages counted in consuming the number of minutes (five) allowed for the test.

For the heavy weight event there were six entries and the contest was a veritable struggle of the giants, but it was to be noted that the largest, heaviest and strongest looking teams were not the best drawers. There were six entries and the distances drawn are shown in the appended summary of results:

R Bailey, Emily, 10 ft, 7 1-2 inches.
R Bailey, Emily, (second team) 6 ft, 5 1-2 inches.
P Moffat, Auburn, 6 ft, 2 inches.
J Caldwell, Perrytown, 3 ft, 8 1-2 inches.
J McClelland, town, 3 ft, ½ inch.
John McManus, Cavan, 1 ft, 5 1-2 inches.

Therefore the first and second prizes $15 and $10 respectively, fell to Mr. R. Bally, and the third, $5, to Mr. P. Moffat.

OAK HALL'S SPECIAL PULL.

A second drawing contest with, of course, a lighter load, for teams under 2500 lbs., was for prizes offered by Oak Hall clothing store. It was pulled under the same rules, and under the same excited interest, with the following result:

Jas McManus, Ashburnham, (weight of team 2,675 lbs) 34 ft, 8½ inches.
W H Down, Lakefield, 2,480 lbs, 30 ft, 2½ inches.
E Mann, Peterborough, 2,365 lbs, 18 ft, 1 inch.
W Graham, Smith, 2,440 lbs, 16 ft, 9 inches.
D Sullivan, Ennismore, 2,440, 16 ft, 9 inches.

The following were the prize winners in this list: 1st, $15 suit, J. McManus; second, $10 suit, W. H. Down; third, $5 in gold, E. Mann.

The winners of Grafton & Co's special prize will be found in the prize list under the heading of Agricultural Horses.

This closed the Central Exhibition for 1897, and the busy scene of closing the grounds ensued. Many of the principal stock exhibits went on to the Lindsay Exhibition that opens there to-day.

NOTES TO THE FAIR.

Everyone was pleased to see Mr. Dickson Hall's fine driver wearing the red ticket.

Brown Bros. had a pair of thoroughbred Berkshires, which were monsters. They looked as if they could easily be fed to 500 lbs. each.

The three clothing firms of the town made the ground lively and brilliant by their profuse display of varied advertising devices.

The Directors are to be congratulated, as well as the fair officials, for the excellent manner in which the details of the fair were managed.

In oils and water colours Miss Lillian Cassidy had a fine exhibit. They were very much admired and were well worthy of such admiration.

The Sons of England Band, who furnished the music for the exhibition, gave excellent satisfaction to the Directors and the general public.

The secretary struck a pretty good sized snag in the matter of "passes." His soul was sorely vexed and his patience underwent a severe course of discipline.

The Directors are all to be complimented on the fine success they made out of the Central this year in spite of the adverse circumstances they had to contend with.

In the description which was given yesterday of Mr. Walker's wire fence exhibit, a mistake was made in the price, which should be 65c and 50c per rod, not per foot.

Mr. T. H. G. Denne has purchased a very handsome little Shetland pony for his children and being attached to a very neat little trap it was greatly admired on the grounds yesterday.

The judges did their work well—there is little or no kicking against their decisions and the reporters compliment them on the satisfactory manner in which they wrote up their books.

Miss Annie Simons, who has allowed her fine work to be admired at several exhibitions, scored her usual success this year, having secured nine prizes for her very creditable artistic work.

Mr. George Prattley had no "picnic" in judging the mammoth exhibit of poultry. It took him the larger part of two days. He pronounces it the best and largest exhibit of poultry ever held on the grounds.

Rev. J. E. Moore of Ashburnham, does not confine his interest in the noblest of all occupations, to mere sentiment. He was a successful exhibitor of Jerseys (red ticket) and had several exhibits in the poultry department.

Mr. Maurice LaBelle, of town, gave a very fine exhibition of slack wire walking on the platfrom yesterday afternoon. He has few equals in America in this special line, and the performance was greatly enjoyed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Dennis Sullivan, of Ennismore, wishes to emphatically deny the statement made by malicious parties that his team which won the light weight drawing contest last year were not the same animals as were weighed on the market scales.

Miss Stella Sanderson of North Monaghan, was a new aspirant in the ladies' work department. Her fancy work was much admired, but as they were entered in the wrong class, the judges could not award them the prizes they seemed to deserve.

Mr. James Head's fine grade cows were again prize winners for the third consecutive time. His cow in milk was up against fully twenty competitors. It could have been sold many times yesterday. His brother's Jersey bull was one of the most admired animals on the ground.

The hardest worked man, after the secretary, was Mr. T. M. Hunter, who so efficiently performed the duties of superintendent. The great flood of stock soon absorbed all the available space and he was driven to his wits' end almost to find supplementary accommodation.

Mr. Jos. Redmond, the veteran short horn breeder, who used to make it lively with his stock in the show ring for competitors, pronounced the show of live stock in all departments, especially cattle, the best he had ever seen, not excepting many of the larger shows.

Mr. Wm. Graham, of Smith with a fine Polled Angus heifer, was the only competitor in this class, against Stewart & Sons of Lucasville, near Sarnia, and he has reason to feel proud of having wrested a prize from the professional breeders with the only animal he showed.

Mr. James Head, in charge of the Nicholls Hospital "farm," was a most liberal exhibitor of its products, and the frequent recurrence of his name in the prize list—over a score of times—shows how successful he was. It is enthusiasts like Mr. Head that are needed to make agricultural exhibitions a success.

In the fine arts department the local exhibitors—some of them new—were much in evidence. Miss Watt, of the Post Office department, made a very creditable exhibit in oils and was successful in capturing several prizes—first in landscape, first in "any subject," and a third in landscape.

Harry Winch was the proud possessor of a phenomenal happy family in the pig department. A flat-ribbed thoroughbred Tamworth brood sow was surrounded by a litter of eleven beautiful combined pigs of Tamworth and Duroc Jersey parentage. From a pig point of view, the sight of the dozen porkers sleeping the sleep of the full, was a very pretty one.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

RELIABLE OAK HALL.

In the very centre of the main building Oak Hall made a model exhibit of their modal clothing. It was a square exhibit—built upon the square, after the manner of their reliable garments.

Oak Hall excelled in the neatness of its exhibit, and the samples shown of their high-class garments made a display creditable alike to the manager, Mr. W. J. over some of their prejudices as to wearing ready-made clothing, were treated to an exhibition of what progress is being made by the Sandford Co. in furnishing their garments up to the newest styles of the advanced tailors. The latest patterns of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds are shown in suits, equal in trimmings and finish to the every day orders for made-to-measure garments. Their handsome scorn-stamped price tickets revealed how remarkably cheap such first-class goods can be turned out by this wealthy firm of clothing manufacturers. Prices such as $3.25, $5, $6, $7.50 and up to $13 for the full suit was the regular run of the tickets, in which the finest Scotch Tweed was used. Their overcoat display gave an equally satisfactory impression of their work. A new black chinchilla, in the Chesterfield design with fly front and superior trimmings, finished in modern style, was a splendid looking top coat for only $11.50. Another handsomer type of finer dress overcoat was in the popular fawn-coloured shade of cloth and was much admired. Fall and winter weights of beavers and frieze coats were also well represented, all designs and fitted up-to-date. Amid the numerous claims of boys' clothiers, Oak Hall makes a strong bid. Boys' clothing must be just to catch the mother' fancy, and strongly made to stand much ceaseless wear. A romping boy has no liking for restraint, yet at the same time there is a growing demand for elegance as well as strength in boys' clothing. Oak Hall accepts the responsibility of combining both. "Equal to custom work and considerably cheaper" is what they are aiming at.

HENRY OWENS' MODEL PUMPS.

The name of Henry Owens has been associated with the pump business in the Midland District for a quarter of a century. His ever-popular lift and force pumps for domestic purposes as well as for cheese factories, cattle and stock breeders are known in every concession line of Peterborough and the adjoining counties. Scores of instances could be pointed to where Owens' reliable pumps are still doing good service after twelve and fifteen years' constant use, and hundreds of testimonials testify to their general superiority.

Mr. Owens has recently added some very important improvements to his model pump, although many farmers remarked that they were good enough as they were, and that improvements were unnecessary. Mr. Owens exhibited these improved pumps at the fair this year, and many of his old customers came to see them. His new improved model lift pump is supplied with a cone-shaped iron head, attached to which is an iron bracket from which a new leverage power is obtained, increasing the length of stroke for a stronger discharge of water. The new iron head adds increasing durability to these pumps, all checking and loosening being positively prevented. All the important working parts are of steel and consequently not liable to wear out. Another valuable improvement is the increased water space between the spout and head, which allows more freedom for the surplus water lifted, thus greatly reducing the liability of freezing in winter.

Owen's model force and lift pump is claimed to be the best combined pump in the world. The great advantage to the purchaser is that he possesses a first class Lift Pump and a good Force Pump in one, as well as an excellent protection in case of fire, for the same price often asked for an ordinary pump.

Mr. Owens also showed samples of brass and enamelled iron cylinder. The brass cylinder is specially for deep wells, and the iron cylinder for wells of any depth. Mr. Owens reports quite a number of sales during the fair week.

Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than accorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. We have never deceived the public, and this with its superlative medicinal merit, is why the people have abiding confidence in it, and buy

ASPHODEL WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Helen Humphries and Mr. Wm. Richardson.

A pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. H. Humphries, Asphodel, when his eldest daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Richardson, of Asphodel last week.

Her sister, Miss Mabel, acted the part of bridesmaid, while the groom's brother, Thomas Richardson, was the groomsman.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, in the presence of a large number of guests, after which an ample repast was partaken of, and followed by a very pleasant evening's enjoyment.

The bride and groom left next morning en route for Toronto, carrying with them the good wishes of everybody and a plentiful shower of rice.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Lambs Worried by Vagrant Dogs.

On Sunday night about eight o'clock Mr. Jos. Forster, of North Monaghan, had fifteen valuable lambs so badly worried by dogs that five of them are dead. Mr. Foster can fix the time by the fact that this flock of lambs were all right about seven o'clock. He went to another part of the farm to look after the safety of another flock of sheep. On his return about an hour later, he found the dogs worrying his lambs. Fifteen were so badly torn that three of three were dead and two had to be killed. It is a pity that dogs that are not worth poison enough to kill them should put farmers to such great loss, and in addition so much trouble in looking after their flocks. Mr. Forster, it is true, will get damages paid from the township dog-tax fund, but that is not what farmers raise sheep for.

Accident to Children.

Children in their play are apt to get sprains, bruises or cuts, and the pain these little ones suffer before relief is brought to them should convince mothers that it is necessary to be always prepared for accidents. "Quickcure" is a healer that acts quickly and removes pain at once.

An Entrance Into a Lower Flat Dwelling.

Last evening Mrs. R. Clark, Stewart street, on coming into the front of the house found the hall door standing wide open at about ten o'clock.

Naturally she was very much surprised, having been sure that the door was closed. The wind could not have caused it to blow open as the door fits very tightly into the frame and it is surmised that some sneak thief was probably just about to enter the house when he heard footsteps approaching and becoming alarmed hastily took his departure.

The fact of this being Exhibition week has doubtless brought a number of crooks to the town, who are on the watch for any opportunity to exercise their calling, and Mrs. Clark was fortunate in escaping the loss of any valuables.

FINED TEN DOLLARS.

For Selling Cigarettes to a Minor—The Clerk Didn't Know the Law.

A tobacconist was fined ten dollars this morning for selling cigarettes to a minor.

The defendant explained to the court that this same lad had applied to him again and again for cigarettes and had always been refused. On this occasion he had purchased them from a new clerk who had not been posted on the law regulating such matters.

A SCORCHER

Almost Throws a Little Girl Under the Wheels of a Street Car.

Bicyclists will have to certainly exercise more care when riding on the streets of the town, unless they wish to have a number of provisions passed by the council providing for the carrying of bells, lanterns, etc., and also for the regulating of speed.

An incident in point such as will cause such regulations to be passed occurred last night on George street, opposite Mr. W. H. Wrighton's store, when a lady and child, who were waiting for a car and as it approached giving it their entire attention, so that a scorching bicyclist was never noticed until the handle bar of the wheel struck the child in the face as he sped past. At the time the car was only a few feet away and the child narrowly escaped being flung beneath it.

A word to the wise is sufficient. The repetition of a few such incidents will bring trouble to the wheelmen.

The New Presbyterian Book of Praise.

At Belleville yesterday the death occurred of Edward Geo. Ponton, late Adjutant of the Midland Battalion, of the Northwest Rebellion, which was joined by many volunteers from Peterborough.

Coming of military stock (his grandfather having been Surgeon of the Cameron Highlanders) he was a born soldier, and as Adjutant of the 49th Battalion prepared the standing orders and history of the regiment, which were published by him in 1882. He was gazetted Captain in the 49th in 1879 and Adjutant in January 1883. He was in possession of a first class A certificate of qualification and, even in those earlier days, advocated many of the changes which have since been adopted throughout the force, notably the section system and the modern mode of mobilizing troops, which were his special study.

He was know best, of course, to all the militia of Canada, as Adjutant of the celebrated Midland Battalion in the North-West Rebellion, in suppressing which he was, with the late Col. Williams, one of the most valued officers. From the beginning of the campaign to the end he literally worked day and night, and it is to the exposure and hardship then suffered that his subsequent long continued illness is to mainly attributed. By his constant attention to the wants of the men, and by his kind instruction to the non-commissioned officers of the battalion, he endeared himself to all, and while maintaining the strictest discipline, he continually devised means to keep up the spirits of the men in the long march, in the three nights' bivouac before Batoche and in the trip on the Saskatchewan, securing comforts and composing songs, one of which especially, "Charging on the Rifle Pits," often lustily sung by the whole brigade, will be remembered by all. His splendidly trained horse and dog, which followed him throughout the campaign, were the pets of the regiment.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Mrs. Patrick Barry, Sr., at Hastings, Last Week.

On the evening of the 17th inst. at her home in Hastings, another of the old landmarks passed over to the great majority in the person of Mary Egan, beloved wife of Patrick Barry, sr. She was a native of Ireland, born at Ballingarry, county of Tipperary, in the month of June, 1822.

She emigrated to this country in 1850 and took up her abode in the township of Otonabee, where a sister and a brother had preceded her in the early days of the settlement of that township. In September, 1863, she was united in marriage to her now sorrowing husband, and for many years resided on their farm in Percy, a mile south of Hastings. Some eight years ago Mr. Barry retired from the farm and moved into the village and up to November last Mrs. Barry was in seeming good health. An attack of paralysis called a halt to the strong frame, since which time she has been more or less confined to the house. At times she was able to be out of bed, and at other times life was despaired of. On Friday evening the messenger came, which no doubt found her ready.

On Sabbath her remains were taken to St. Mary's church, where it received the rites of the church, and from thence to the Douro Cemetery, and placed beside her only two sisters who died some years ago. Her brother James Egan, of Rochester, still survives her. She was a woman of a very kind disposition, a good neighbor, and ever ready to comfort and help those in trouble. Her long life has been one of usefulness, and will be long remembered by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A husband, one step-son and two step-daughters mourn her loss.

LACROSSE.

A guarrantee list is being circulated and an endeavour made to secure the names of enough lacrosse enthusiasts to make the excursion to Markham a success. The management of the team is anxious to have as many go up as possible in order to encourage the lads, and it is probable that the party will be composed of about a hundred all told. The rate has been reduced to a dollar for the round trip.

Every member of the local team is expected to be out for practice to-night and to-morrow afternoon, if possible.

Markham has asked the Peterboroughs to wear their white sweaters in Tuesday's game there, as a special favour. The Peterborough's therefore will see that all are provided with the extra shirt.

FOOTBALL.

The Association football team from Gore's Landing comes up to-morrow to play the deciding game with the Electrics. Gore's Landing won at Jubilee Point by four goals to none, and were defeated at Inverlea Park by 2 to 0, so that the result of to morrow's game will decide which club is the stronger. The attendance will be large, it is expected, as there was a big crowd present at the game last Saturday. The match is called for 2 30 o'clock, and the Electric team will be composed as follows: Goal, Hooey; backs, Burnham and Simpson; halves, Wilgar, Jackson and Bird; forwards, Munro, Wilson, Crowley, Foley and Brooksbank.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Mr. P. Kelly, of town, formerly of St. St. Michael's College, Toronto, but now attending Ottawa University, will, the Toronto World says, figure on the senior football team of that institution. Capt. Gleason has him in training and it is said he will make a fast player.

A special practice of all Rugby players is called for to-morrow afternoon at 3.30 on East Nicholls Park ground.

Manager Smith has received a communication from Osgoode II, wanting to play here on Saturday, 2nd Oct.

THE TURF.

A HITCH AT ORONO.

Some of our local and other bicycle sports journeyed to Orono the other day to compete in a bicycle race at the fair, but returned home without doing any fast work, or capturing any of the prizes, for which they longed. It seems that a C. W. A. sanction had been obtained for a mile open amateur race, but the directors of the fair allowed a professional named Houghton from Lindsay to enter and compete, so all amateurs who had any regard for their standing stayed out. This action of the directors will make it difficult for . sm to get a C. W. A. sanction again, should hey wish to do so. Mr. W. U. Rupt. a C. W. A. official, was present, and notified the directors that Houghton was a professional and also warned the other starters against riding with him.

Thirty Hints.

"What do you think of the theory advanced by some savant that man is tending to evolve into a hairless animal?" was asked of a hairdresser, whose specialty is diseases of the scalp, says The New York Sun.

"There is about as much probability of his walking on all fours," was the positive reply. "They know next to nothing about the hair and the scalp or they would never have such a thought. The hair never falls out unless there is something wrong about the scalp, caused by the general health, the habits of the individuals, or the way the scalp is treated. Blondes, of course, as a rule, have the thickest hair, as they average 790 hairs to the square inch, while there are 608 chestnut or brown hairs, 572 black hairs, and only 403 red hairs. I believe, as a rule, red-haired persons keep their hair the longest, while it turns gray sooner than any other. The hair is a good barometer of the health, for if a person is weak or ill, with an imperfect circulation, the hair invariably becomes thin, uneven and lacking in natural gloss. It is wonderful, with the constant falling out of the hair, that this hair should not be more common, or that there is not more cases of total baldness. The average life of a hair is from two to six years.

"About the best way to keep the scalp healthy is to preserve its elasticity. To do this massage is necessary, and if there should not be enough oil the hair feeling dry and brittle, a preparation containing lanoline, softened by the addition of either vaseline or glycerine, should be worked in with the fingers. If there is a tendency to baldness, this should be done daily. In such cases the application of water and too frequent shampooing should be avoided. The best hairdressers will all tell you that the hair should not be washed too frequently. The average person doesn't need to wash his hair oftener than once a month, but where the hair is excessively oily, which is really a good fault, it may be washed once every three weeks.

"As age comes on, the small vessels, the capillaries which feed the roots of the hair, become smaller, the hair roots are not properly nourished and the hair falls out. This also happens in fevers and disease. As a usual thing, after illness, these vessels soon regain their normal condition and the lost hair is quickly restored, but with age, restoring the hair is much more difficult. And if the hair follicles are entirely destroyed there is no remedy. The best agents for restoring the hair, especially where the person has been bald some time, is by massage or electricity. The first can be given by almost any barber, and I have known ladies who massaged their own heads successfully, but the second should only be given by or upon the direction of a physician. I have restored what at first appeared to be hopeless cases of almost total baldness of long standing by daily massage and the free use of lanoline and vaseline on the scalp. The tincture of cantharides, diluted to suit the condition of the individual scalp, is very useful when the loss of hair is due to inactivity of the circulation and the wasting of the glands and hair follicles.

"Now, dandruff is caused by the opposite condition of the scalp, or the over secretion by the glands. It is to the scalp what pimples are to the face. In these cases the hair follicles are clogged with too much grease, the simplest and most effective remedy being a thorough shampooing once a week and a daily massage of the scalp to aid the circulation. Washes containing alcohol, ammonia, borax and carbonate of potassium are good, but I have never had a case that would not yield to shampooing and massage.

"Some ladies have great faith in the old-fashioned idea of giving the hair one hundred strokes with the brush night and morning. I do not hesitate to tell them it is a fake. Many of them think my dislike of the brush a prejudice and pay little attention to my advice, but my dislike of the brush comes from more than twenty years' experience. The brush drags out the hair much more than the comb, and should be used as little as possible. A good healthy head of hair can be kept glossy as well without the brush as with it. All that is necessary is to keep it clean and well combed. Another fact about keeping the scalp and hair in perfect condition which many ladies disregard is that the hair should be allowed to fall loose over the shoulders whenever circumstances permit, and should never be confined at night or during the hours of repose."

AFFLICTED FROM INFANCY.

A Lad Who Had been Dropsical From His Childhood Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Remedy That Never Failed.

McIntyre, Ont., Sept. 20.—The young son of Hugh Lamont, of this place, has been afflicted with dropsy since infancy. He was bloated and swollen all over. His parents were at their wits' end to find some cure for him when they read of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Lamont got six boxes of the pills and the boy began taking them. Before the sixth box was finished he was cured. SIR EVELYN WOOD.

The New Adjutant-General of the British Army.

Sir Evelyn Wood, the new Adjutant-General of the British army, has had a long and honorable career as a soldier. At the age of 17 he took a commission in the army and went to India, where he served through the Sepoy mutiny, winning the Victoria Cross. In the Ashantee war, under Sir Garnet Wolseley, he organized "Wood's Regiment of Natives." He served in the Old Colony war in South Africa in 1879, and throughout the Zulu war he commanded a flying column in General Newdigate's division. In the Transvaal war of 1880 Sir Evelyn commanded all the British troops. He was in command of a brigade of the Egyptian expedition in 1882, and served in the Nile expedition of 1884-5. From 1886 to 1888 he commanded the Eastern District in England and from 1889 to 1893 the Aldershot Division. He was made general in 1895. General Wood is succeeded in the post of quartermaster-general by General Sir George Stewart White, who has commanded the forces in India since 1892. White is likewise a veteran of the Sepoy rebellion.

A Neglected Science.

"The science of road making should be considered among the lost arts, since they built roads over two thousand years ago that are in fine condition at the present time, while thousands of roads now being built may not last thirty days. God made the road material, but man must make the road. The knowledge of how to do this should constitute the basis of a new professorship. Professor of road building should be an honored title and one esteemed by the whole people. Such a teacher would certainly be of much more worth than a professor of languages that are so dead they should have been buried long before Washington crossed the Delaware.

"All classes and ages are interested in the character of the streets and highways, while but very few persons care much about fossiliferous remnants of extinct fish, and yet there are extinct fish professors in every college. It's all very well to support a lot of professors whose life work is to find out whether or no our early ancestors were jelly fish, but at the same time we should have others who can do something to prove that the people of to-day are not clams.

"The science of road building is worth any bright young man's attention. Road builders who know how are needed in every corner of the land. Politicians with a pull do not necessarily make the very best superintendents of city streets, and good fellows who can tell the best stories have proved that they do not always make the most intelligent country road masters. The joke period of American road making is nearly at an end. The people want good roads, and men who can build them will, ere long, be in demand."—Ex-President Sterling Elliott, in L.A.W. Bulletin.

SURGEON'S KNIVES.

Failed to Remove the Disease From Hezekiah Vaughan's System—Dodd's Kidney Pills Which Have Never yet Failed, Cured Him in Short Order.

Sandwich, Sept. 13—Hezekiah Vaughan, of the township of Gosfield, has lately gone through a severe surgical operation at Harper's hospital, Detroit, for what different doctors diagnosed as liver complaint, kidney trouble and bladder complaint. Four surgeons cut away at him for 4½ hours, but when they got through, none of them could tell what was wrong and the patient was left as bad as ever. The benefits derived by a neighbour from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, induced Mr. Vaughan to try them. From the first he began to improve. His bowels soon became regular and the pains that afflicted him disappeared. Six boxes restored to his former vigor a man who had abandoned all hope of regaining sound health.

Judge Vincent Springs a Surprise—Proposes to Prove That Mrs. Luetgert Is Not Dead.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Judge Vincent sprang a surprise on the prosecution in the Luetgert murder trial in his opening statement to-day, by reference to a man named Robert Davey, who, he said, was the original medium through whom all of Luetgert's trouble arose, and whose action resulted in Luetgert being arraigned before the bar of justice to-day, charged with murder. The lawyer claimed that Davey swindled Luetgert out of $25,000, deluding him with vain hopes of swallowing the Armours and Cudahys, that the loss of this money drove Mrs. Luetgert insane and she wandered away from home, while demented.

Attorney Vincent startled the prosecution by the magnitude of his claims in the last few minutes of the morning session. That Mrs. Luetgert is alive, he said, he would prove by witnesses who have seen her since May 1, and he would also prove that the bones found in the vat were not human, but were put there by the police authorities. As for the rags, claimed to be Mrs. Luetgert's, the attorney said he would show that they were not hers, and that she had never seen them.

The attorney's speech made an impression on those in the court room and there was a more cheerful smile on Luetgert's face as he limped back to jail.

During the afternoon four witnesses were heard. The first witness called was ex-Judge A. A. Goodrich. The witness said that on May 3 Luetgert came to his office, and with tears in his eyes informed him that Mrs. Luetgert had disappeared. Luetgert told the witness that his wife was angry because Luetgert had lost his money, and had left him.

Ralph R. Bradley, another law partner of Attorney Vincent, testified in a similar strain to the evidence of ex-Judge Goodrich.

Adolph Elandt, a drayman, testified that on May 1 he took three barrels of grease and tallow to Luetgert's sausage factory. He understood the stuff was to be used in making soap. One day toward the close of April the witness said he was at the Luetgert factory and saw Mrs. Luetgert, who seemed to be depressed. She remarked that nearly everything was gone, and she thought she would go pretty soon too and work on a farm, where no one knew her.

Rosa Gleich was called to the witness stand to impeach the evidence of Emma Schimpke, who testified for the prosecution, and said she saw Luetgert and his wife going from the Luetgert residence to the sausage factory about 10 o'clock on the night of May . Gottlieba Schimpke, a younger sister of Emma, also testified to this fact, but as the child afterwards admitted that she did not know what state or county she was living in, her evidence was of little value. Rosa Gleich said that she was with the Schimpke girls on the night of May 1. They had all been to a dance. She declared positively that neither of the Schimpke girls had seen either Luetgert or his wife that night, and that since she testified Emma Schimpke had admitted to the witness that she had sworn falsely and tried to get her to do the same, telling her she must be "Luetgert's side."

New Cases at Edwards.

Edwards, Miss., Sept. 22.—Eight new cases of yellow fever are reported here. Total to date 80, total deaths 3. The disease is rapidly spreading, and while it is regarded as a mild type indications are that nothing but killing frost can give permanent relief.

Texas Has It Now.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 22.—Yellow fever has appeared in Texas. Governor Culberson received a telegram from State Health Officer Swearingen to-day, announcing that a genuine case of yellow fever was in existence at Beaumont. The case, which was that of a small boy, was genuine yellow fever, and the boy had died at an early hour this morning.

IT MEANS SOMETHING.

An Important and Far-Reaching Railroad Alliance Which Will Give the Wabash More Range.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Mail and Express to-day says: The election of Mr. O. D. Ashley, President of the Wabash, as a director of the New York, Ontario and Western, at the annual meeting of the latter company in this city next Wednesday, will mark the consummation of an important and far-reaching alliance between these two companies, which, it is understood, will eventuate in the absorption of the Ontario and Western by the Wabash. The new alliance means nothing less than a direct entrance of the Gould lines into New York, and this fact leads to the inevitable conclusion that a new figure in the traffic with a virtual initial line of its own has appeared, which, to a very appreciable extent, will make its presence felt more powerfully than ever before. The action of the Wabash some time ago in leasing the Grand Trunk tracks from Detroit to Niagara Falls and its subsequent arrangements with the Erie for the use of its Buffalo terminals were the first steps in the plans of extension of that company. Now that the Ontario and Western and its track privileges are to be used from Niagara Falls to this city the Wabash will have a 5000-mile line system running between Greater New York and Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha, which, with the Gould connecting lines at those points, will make it a most dangerous competitor in western and southwestern business. If the relations with the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg should become strained, the Ontario and Western will build a line from Central Square, on its main line, to Suspension Bridge, a distance of about 150 miles, across a comparatively flat country, with easy grades and easily penetrated.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kiddeys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

Placer Deposits Reported to Have Been Discovered West of Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—R. J. Walker, a pioneer prospector, has just reached town with a story of the discovery of another new gold area. It lies south of Tache station, 135 miles west of Port Arthur, and is said to contain rich quartz and placer deposits.

The leads occur in a series of mountainous ridges, which intersect the country, and the alluvial gold is found in the gullies between the hills. The quartz veins vary in width from 20 to 70 feet, and it is from these that the gravel in the gulches containing the precious dust has been washed down.

Mr. Walker says that he tested the gravel in one of the valleys over a distance of a mile and a half, and that every time, without fail, he got color in his pan. He considers that the stuff will average 5 cents per pan, which, at the rate of 50 pans per diem, means a daily wage of $2.50.

The district has been named the New Klondike, and some West Superior investors have just gone in there. Tache is a station on the C. P. R. midway between Bonheur and Waldigoon, and the new mineral region, therefore, lies between the Saw Bill and Manitou districts.

Love is the keystone of a woman's life. Her fondest hopes rest upon this tender emotion; her highest pride is in her capacity to awaken the love which makes a happy wife; her noblest ambition is to become a loved and loving mother.

Any weakness or disease which incapacitates her to fulfill the exalted function of motherhood is the saddest blight which can come upon a woman's life.

But there is no reason in nature why any hindrances or derangements of this kind should continue to exist. Ninety-nine times in a hundred they are completely overcome in a perfectly natural and scientific way by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which gives healthy power and capacity to the special organs; reinforces the nerve-centres and makes natural, healthy motherhood possible, safe and comparatively easy.

It makes the coming of baby almost free from pain; gives strength and cheerfulness to the mother, and constitutional vigor to the child. It is the only medicine in the world devised for this one purpose by an educated physician, a skilled and experienced specialist in this particular field of practice.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as it has done me a world of good, and has, undoubtedly saved my life," writes Mrs. Florence Hunter, of Corley, Logan Co., Ark. "I miscarried four times; could get no medicine to do me any good. I concluded to try the 'Favorite Prescription' and after taking several bottles of it I made my husband a present of a fine girl. I think it is the best medicine in the world."

THE CISKOS.

Sketch of the Garb and Habits of Europe's Greatest Horsemen.

Bold and curiously garbed Ciskos from the interior of Hungary, are the hereditary cattle herders or cowboys of Hungary. These Hungarian cowboys originally descended from the powerful tribe of the Huns, and are renowned for their skillful horsemanship, while they have a national reputation as fighters. In 1605, for marvelous services as flying cavalrymen, they were decreed by law to enjoy all the privileges which were conferred upon the nobility except exemption from taxes. Ciskos, as a word, is a curious looking combination of letters, but is pronounced Cheekowsh. The Ciskos are natives of the prairie lying between the Rivers Duna and Tisza, in Hungary. Their dress is picturesque, much like the Gaucho of South America, with baggy trousers, a little sleeveless jacket, a blue or green shirt, sleeves wide at the wrist, and a small hat, from which hangs a flowing bunch of yellow prairie grass like a blonde wig. Their complexion is brown and sunburnt. They when on the plains, when they camp out, live in small wood or mud huts, except They see little or nothing of civilization; they are wild, but not quarrelsome. Very few of them ever use a saddle. They have all the instincts of wild men, and prefer to live on the great open plains of their native country. They never get into the towns, and visit only the small "czardas" or inns which are dotted here and there about the plains.

CISKOS, EUROPE'S GREATEST HORSEMEN.

A New Coupler For Intestines.

Frank's coupler may succeed to the renowned Murphy's button as a means of joining together severed intestines. It is the invention of Dr. Jacob Frank, surgeon to the St. Elizabeth and German hospitals, in Chicago, and has been tried there with great success.

The delicate operation of joining together the ends of an intestine, where it has divided accidentally, or surgically, was long rendered doubly dangerous by the process of sewing the flesh together. Dr. Murphy invented his metallic button by which the ends were held together, and which passed out after the wound had healed. This proved of great value.

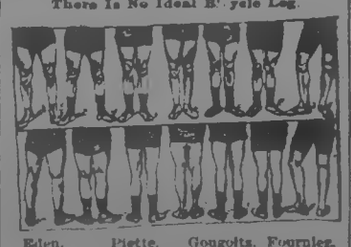
Dr. Frank's coupler consists of two decalcified bone collars, with six needle holes at the apex or shoulder of each, and one piece of ordinary gum tubing, seven-eighths of an inch in length and five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter.

It is prepared for use in the following manner: A collar is slipped over a piece of tubing until the apex is brought to a level with the end of the rubber tubing, when an ordinary medium-sized curved needle, threaded with No. 6 braided silk, is carried through each opening and is tied; this fastens the collar to the tube. The other collar is next fitted snugly to the one already fastened, and is then in like manner sewed to the other end of the tube and placed in absolute alcohol until needed for further use. The rubber tubing to which the collars have been sewed serves subsequently for the passage of the intestinal contents.

The bases of the collars, which are formed into a broadened rim, are held firmly in apposition throughout their whole circumference. In coupling a severed intestine the ends are brought over each collar and crowded within the line of junction of the two. This forces the two collars apart, and the rubber tubing to which the collars have been attached draws them together again with sufficient pressure to cause in medical parlance "a necrosis of interposed intestine." Four days after this connection has been made the two ends of the intestine have been grown together as naturally and as thoroughly as a piece of rubber tubing could be melted together. At the same time the collar has dissolved, and with the tubing has passed away.

The preparations of the bone collars before they can be used for welding the intestines is interesting. In the first place the collars are carved out of sound, very compact bone, which is obtained from the lower hind legs of four-year-old oxen. In their primary state they are almost as hard as metal, and would not dissolve much quicker.

There Is No Ideal Bicycle Leg.



Eden. Piette. Gougolts. Fournier, Fischer. Lamberjack. Huret.

BICYCLE LEGS.

The above photographs of the legs of the famous cyclers of Europe were taken to establish whether they showed any analogous development. One glance at the cut will convince the reader that such is not the case. Beside the fine anatomy of Jaap Eden, Lamberjack, for instance, shows no very remarkable build. Many non-cyclists have as good thighs as Fournier, Gougoltz and Fischer. As for Huret, a stayer, strayed into the number of these sprinters, it is not his legs that distinguish him from the rest. One characteristic common to all is the abnormal development of the crural biceps and triceps, noticeable particularly in Jaap Eden. In him it becomes almost a professional deformity.

It is a pity that this reproduction in black and white cannot give fully the tint of the limbs. They are all spotted and scarred. On Lamberjack we notice a plaster at the knee. These are trophies from occasional collisions, such as occur on all racing tracks.

There seems to be no precise indication from which we can judge what is the ideal cyclist's leg. Medical men express no opinion upon the question. Chappy Warburton, the famous trainer of Linton, Michael and Champion, alone has the confidence to make any assertion with regard to that question.

The professional cyclist, he says, must be an athlete. Any man who has had success in any branch of sports which requires endurance will also have triumphs on the track. Thus Eden was formerly a great skater. As for his bodily conformation, the cyclist should be built somewhat like a dog; a wide chest, in which the lungs can work freely; the lower limbs should present long, powerful levers, as in a greyhound. Zimmerman, the great American champion, had remarkably long thighs. The picture is from L'Illustration.

The Governor-General of India.

Lord Elgin, Governor-General of India, will have his hands full, now that the uprising in that country has reached such dangerous proportions. The post of viceroy is one of immense responsibility, but it is believed that the British nobleman now at the head of the Government will prove equal to the task. He is a man of high courage and ability combined, and is just the kind of a man to meet the crisis that now confronts him. Elgin was educated at Eton and Oxford, and on leaving the university spent several years in travel. 1886 he was appointed treasurer of the Queen's household and first commissioner of works. He held many minor official posts with much credit, and when in 1892 he was made Viceroy of India the appointment was received with general approbation. Since he took up the reins of government he has had many difficulties to con-

London Underground Railway.

The omnibus and cabs are the chief means of transportation to be observed in London, but the most important factor in the intramural traffic is the underground railway, with lines running through tunnels under the buildings and streets of the city, radiating from its important suburbs. The immense traffic which flows through the conveniently located stations below the street level is for the most part concealed from view. The figures tell the story, however, for the number of passengers carried in a year amounts to a little less than 100,000,000 and their fares average less than five cents each. To enter one of the dimly lighted underground stations, and then be whirled along in the darkened subways through a continuous cloud of smoke, is an experience which requires frequent repetition before one's patience and forebearance, not to say physical condition, are able to submit to the ordeal with grace.

In America, outside of St. Louis, proportion to length, can be held re there are few railroad tunnels which, responsible for so much of ill humor and physical discomfort. Still, the underground lines of London have much of facility, and an economic importance sufficient withal to offset their disadvantages.—The Chautauquan.

20 YEARS OF BONDAGE

Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills Loose the Shackles of Constipation and Stomach Disorders.

In summing up the causes of human misery it will be found that by far the greatest sources of disease originate in derangement of the Stomach and Bowels. People will abuse their stomachs and neglect the calls of nature till they bring on themselves her vengeance To get back to nature's paths, to have the Stomach and Bowels once more fulfilling their function properly, to clear the system of all the results and consequences of poisons accumulating and circulating in the Blood is the work of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Thos. Miller, Lucknow, Ont., says that he was afflicted with Stomach Trouble and Constipation for about 20 years, during which time he tried almost everything he heard of, but to no purpose. Mr. H. Day, the popular druggist, sent him a sample of Dr. Chase's K.-L. Pills. The first dose he took did him good, and they have proved so effectual in his case that he recommends them to all those afflicted as he was.

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

sive and meritorious display of his work. The exhibit attracted crowds of admirers, who devoted much of their time in examining the fine effects in photography and the artistic grouping of the different collections. Mr. Whiten is not only a painstaking and practical artist, but he is an enthusiast in his profession. His work has taken first prizes at Toronto, Barrie and Orillia, and on this the first occasion of exhibiting at the Peterborough Central, he was awarded a special first prize ticket for his excellent display. Mr. Whiten reports business very satisfactory at his studio on Hunter street.

PETER HAMILTON'S HIGH-CLASS HARVEST HELPS.

On the exhibition grounds the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Company had their usual display of agricultural machinery—not exactly their usual display, for it was a better class—combined more important improvements than previous displays. Progress to perfection is the motto of this establishment, and if they have not reached perfection, they have made great progress in that direction, as an inspection of their machines showed. The exhibit, which was in charge of A. R. Nicholls and T. E. Fitzgerald, concluded the Hamilton light steel binder, with roller bearings, noted for its light draft and perfect working. A machine of this kind, that can be drawn by one good horse, as has been done, and that combines first-class results in working, is what the farmers want and what they are after. The new Hamilton No. 5 front cut mower is the most perfect, up to the present, machine of its kind made. It has roller bearings and is light but strong. A feature is the foot lift for elevating the five foot, extra-strong, steel-ribbed cutter bar, which is done by the foot alone, leaving the hands of the driver perfectly free. This foot lever makes a floating bar, and can be arranged to make it specially suitable for pea harvesting. The Rival rear cut mower, with roller bearings and other points of advantage, was also shown, as was also the improved Tiger rake. But perhaps the most perfect machine of the collection was the "New Leader Pressure Drill and Broad Cast Seeder." Features of this perfect drill are that both wheels drive the distributing machinery. It is very easily operated and acts equally well with grain or grass, sowing with unerring evenness. There are only two levers—one for zig-zagging, and the other lever which alone suffices for raising the feet, or applying pressure when required on hard ground. This machine is extremely popular with the farmers. Two hundred of these "New Leaders" were made and sold this year, and farmers who have used it are high in its praise, saying that it is the best seeder that they have ever used, the lightest draft and does the best work. The other exhibits consisted of a superior elastic spring tooth cultivator, a collection of ploughs, gang ploughs and scufflers, combined and single root pulpers with roller bearings. Ensilage cutters with 15 in. and 18 in. mouth and roller bearings, roller-bearing straw cutters, etc., etc. No farmer in the district need go any further than the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company for the best farm machinery made—from the breaking of the soil to the reaping of the harvest. Patronize home industry, especially when home industry provides the best that is made.

BIRDSALL & SON'S HIGH-BRED STOCK.

For many years Bellevue Stock Farm, Asphodel, has been the centre from which have radiated the best of practical influences upon the improvement of the stock of the surrounding country. Birdsall & Son's exhibit at the Central was up to their usual high mark. At the head of their St. Lambert Jersey breeding herd is the celebrated bull bought from Mrs. Jones, of Brockville—"Royal St. Lambert"—and their fine exhibit of Jerseys against the strongest competition figured conspicuously in three places on the prize list, their two year old bull carrying away the red ticket. Their thoroughbred Durham herd is headed by the grand bull "Warden," bred by J. & W. Russell, Richmond Hill, who swept the award list at the World's Fair. Bellevue Stock Farm is also the home of some of the finest Shrops and Oxford downs in the province. Both father and son of the firm are enthusiastic and intelligent students of the art of stock raising, and any farmer who wishes to improve the quality of his flocks and herds in the lines mentioned cannot do better in any event, and seldom as well, as by applying to Messrs. Birdsall & Son, Bellevue Stock Farm, Birdsall post office. For years they have been prominent at all leading local exhibitions, and few individuals have done as much for improving our stock as they have done, and no convenient firm is as well equipped as they are now for repeating the process.

Dear Sir,—Constipation for years has been my chief ailment; it seemed to come oftener in spite of all I could do. However, some time ago I was told to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I have done, with the result of what appears now to be a perfect cure.—Truly yours,

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and man prices; Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250 00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality. There is no better value in the market.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

This is to certify that I, James Ross, Toligate Keeper, of the Town of Woodstock, Ont., have been a sufferer from Indigestion and a very weak stomach for a number of years, and have tried a great many medicines of different kinds, but could only obtain temporary relief for a short time, but after using one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic I could perceive a great difference. My indigestion was better and my stomach was much stronger than before, and I found I had gained several pounds in flesh, where I was weak and thin in flesh before. I think I used nine or ten bottles in all, and I am now a healthy man, but still I do not want to be without the medicine in the house, and I procure one or two bottles every year, and I can truthfully recommend Sloan's Indian Tonic to others suffering from the same complaint.

Price $1 or 6 for $5.00. All Dealers or Address

Listen to The Question:

"Are you the man that's got the advertisement on the first page of the EXAMINER?" Yes. "Well you've got the greatest budget in your ad that ever I read." Putting his finger to his thumb he runs over the following: "People's Grocery," "I like that name nothing stuck up about it," "323 George Street, why that's one of the best stands in town, near the market, on the way to the C. P.R. and G.T.R. Stations; you've made a good choice of Groceries, Fruit and Provisions, lots of good things to eat; I'll call on you, I will. Good bye." Another says: "Are you the man that sells the good 25c Japan Tea?" "yes I am" "Well do me up 35 lbs" And I did it up, and he paid me the money like a gentleman. We are right in the fruit season and have a large lot of Redpath's No. 1 Granulated Sugar, pure, 20 lbs for a dollar. A customer told us some of the others had raised their prices; we aim to keep them down, and are glad to say that our efforts are being appreciated. We have had to repeat our orders for Canned Goods again and again and have bought and expect another large delivery in October. The people want Vegetables and Fruit sound, fresh and good, and they buy from us as they see our delivery wagon bringing loads from our own gardens. AFRIDIS ARE STRONG

General Lockhart Decides on a Postponement.

REBELS IN A FORTIFIED POSITION

They Hold a Rugged Plateau From Which It Will be Difficult to Dislodge Them—General Jeffreys' Division Operating Successfully Against the Mohmands.

Simla, Sept. 24.—Owing to the protracted campaign against the Mohmands, General Sir William Lockhart, commander of the Punjab frontier force, and in supreme control of the punitive operations, has decided to postpone the general advance against the Afridis and Tirahs, their summer headquarters, until Oct. 9. The Afridis are encamped in a strong position on a rugged plateau, which it will be most difficult to scale, and they are assembled there in great force.

According to intelligence received from Samana, an advance body of over 2000 of the enemy has arrived in the Khanki Valley, and is watching the movements of the British troops. The Afridis are spreading a report that the Ameer of Afghanistan has demanded hostages from them, and will help them if hostages are given.

The news from the Mohmand expedition is very satisfactory, General Jeffreys, who is meeting with little opposition is destroying the enemy's fortifications and villages. The tribesmen appear cowed, and overtures of surrender are expected very shortly.

It appears that they lost over 70 killed and a large number wounded during the night attack on Sir Bindon Blood's column, their heavy defeat destroying their faith in the Mullahs, who had promised to close the muzzles of the British guns by Divine means.

British Pushing On.

London, Sept. 24.—According to special despatches from Simla, the British, who, on Wednesday captured Badmanai Pass, held by the Haddah Mullah, with a large force of Mohmands and Shinwaris, have pushed on from the pass, and without opposition, have occupied Jarobi, the village and headquarters of Haddah Mullah, who has fled.

It is believed that the capture of the village and the flight of the priest will break the back of the occupation of the tribesmen to the further advance of the British.

CAPITAL IS ON TOP.

Employers' Federation in England Has Broken the Power of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers.

London, Sept. 24.—The great strike of the men employed in the engineering trades is nearing its end. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers, the oldest and hitherto the most powerful trade union in the country, is absolutely broken, and the strikers are anxious to return to work on the terms prevailing before the strike began. The leaders are seeking the services of Mr. C. T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, to obtain any concession from the employers that will enable the engineers to say that they have effected a compromise, but the Employers' Federation have decided to free themselves absolutely and forever from the interference of the union managers.

The Shipping Federation and the South London Gas Company, both of which are noted union smashers, have been advising the Employers' Federation during the strike. It has now been learned that the Colliery Owners' Association and certain railroad companies have offered large assistance to the Employers' Federation, which, however, is not required.

DISASTER IN INDIA.

Railroad Bridge Washed Away and Many Lives Lost.

Madras, Sept. 24.—Owing to the floods having washed away a bridge of the Bangalore-Mysore Railroad, near Maddur, an engine and five cars filled with passengers have been precipitated into the river. There has been great loss of life.

ANOTHER TUMULT.

Austrian Parliament Closed by the President of the Chamber.

Vienna, Sept. 24.—The motion of the President of the Unterhaus to proceed to-morrow to the election of Austrian representatives on the delegations was adopted by a vote of 206 to 110, after a long tumult, in which Herr Schoenerer's party, the Pan-German wing of about the postponement of the matter until the proportions of the commonexpenditure of Austria and Hungary are fixed.

The tumult being renewed, the President closed the sitting, declaring it impossible for the House to transact business, and adding that he would communicate in writing the order of the day for the next sitting.

BIG GUNS FOR CANADA.

Mr. Chamberlain's Organ Says We are to Buy Some Heavy Batteries.

Birmingham, Eng., Sept. 24.—The Birmingham Post, the organ of Joseph Chamberlain, says the Government of Canada, early in 1898, will make large purchases of heavy field batteries and a number of defence guns, the latter being for a new scheme for the defence of Montreal and the river below that city.

Special instructions to this effect, The Post adds, were issued immediately after the return to Canada of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier of the Dominion.

A PLEA FOR IRELAND.

Irish Members of Parliament Asking for an Early Session to Relieve Famine.

London, Sept. 24.—Mr. John Dillon, M.P., and other Irish members of the House of Commons have sent a memorial to Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, requesting that Parliament be summoned to meet immediately for the purpose of voting funds for the relief of large districts in Ireland, which, the Memorialists allege, are threatened with famine and ruin owing to the failure of the potato crop, weather-spoiled grain and general agricultural depression.

The memorial asserts that a great majority of the tenants in Ireland will be ruined if they are compelled to pay full rents during the coming winter, and that this will lead to agitation and disturbances.

An Unpleasant Rumor.

London, Sept. 24.—The Standard records the "unpleasant rumor" that Mr. Hugh Smith, the Governor of the Bank of England, was induced to write or sign his recent letter to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, relative to the holding of one-fifth of the bank's notes reserve in silver, by a promise that the Government would guarantee the bank against loss on the silver bullion it bought or sold.

The Plague Breaks Out Again.

Bombay, Sept. 24.—The latest health statistics show that the bubonic plague is again active, having crept unobserved from hamlet to hamlet until a wide area is affected. The newspapers assert that the withdrawal of the medical officers for service with the troops on the frontier will entail consequences infinitely more disastrous than anything happening on the frontier.

Typhoid Outbreak in England.

London, Sept. 24.—There is an alarming outbreak of typhoid fever at Maidstone, Kent, due to the drainage from a hop-pickers' encampment polluting the water. The temporary hospitals there already contain 620 cases and the local authorities have telegraphed for additional doctors and nurses.

Typhoid Among the Turks.

Constantinople, Sept. 24.—Typhoid fever is causing ravages among the Turkish troops in Thessaly. Six thousand men have already been invalided home and 4000 others are awaiting transportation back to Turkey.

A YELLOW FEVER RIOT.

Efforts to Provide an Isolation Hospital Foiled by the Torch.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—Efficient work by the fire department in the face of the attacks of the mob enabled the department this morning to save the main portion of the Beauregard School building. The alarm was sounded at 12.30 a.m. After the mass meeting of citizens held last night a riotous crowd gathered around the building and openly threatened that at their first opportunity they would fire it.

Throughout yesterday evening Sister Agnes and a number of sisters of charity, together with help from the hospital, had been putting the building in order for the reception of yellow fever patients.

At nightfall Surgeon Bloom of the hospital, the sisters and others had been warned that they had better leave the building. They did so, headed by Sister Agnes, and threaded their way through a dense crowd of panic stricken citizens. Then a small force of police were ordered to the scene. But the mob, bent on incendiarism, were sharper than the guards, and while the police were busily engaged in attempting to quell the riotous crowd in front of the building, two incendiaries with a five gallon can of oil proceeded to the rear and quickly had the building in flames. The first neighboring engine had scarcely arrived when its hose was cut. When other engines arrived, their hose also was destroyed by the mob. Chief Gaster and Captain Journe finally arrived in a patrol wagon with a big squad of officers, which beat the mob back. Then the firemen succeeded in preventing the destruction of the building. It is fair to say that the action of the mob is roundly denounced on all sides this morning. Unless a company of soldiers protects the building it may be that a second attempt will be made to destroy it to-night.

Fever Spreading at Edwards.

Edwards, Miss., Sept. 24.—New cases of yellow fever since 8 p.m. yesterday 12, total to date 112. No cases are reported discharged to-day. Cases under treatment have increased to 76, with but four physicians. Their energies are sorely taxed. We need more doctors. Our people as a rule are averse to appealing to the outside world for assistance, except for nurses and doctors, but the disease is spreading so rapidly there is no denying that we will, in the near future, have to accept the help that has so generously been offered from various points.

Priest Taken Off.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 24.—Rev. Father D. Murray, the fifth victim of the yellow fever here, died this morning at 7 o'clock. He was a native of County Cork, Ireland, and has been in this country four years.

The Cases at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—Thus far there have been a few less than 100 cases of yellow fever here and 15 deaths. There were eight new cases and three deaths to-day. Mayor Flower to-day ordered a force of policemen to guard the Beauregard School, which a mob made an attempt to burn last night. Only a portion of the building was burned, and it is still possible to use the structure as a hospital for the treatment of yellow fever patients.

THE BRIDGE CARNIVAL

Wonderful Illumination of the New Structure.

GRAND DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS.

The Great Arch and the Gorge Transformed Into a Scene Like In Dante's Inferno—Thousands of People Gazed With Amazement at the Splendid Spectacle.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 24. — The second day of the bridge carnival was largely attended during the afternoon, the large crowds of yesterday being augmented by several thousand visitors arriving to-day, packing every available hotel and private house on both sides of the river. General Manager Charles M. Hays of the G. T. R., and several other prominent railway officials of the Grand Trunk, New York Central and other railways running into the Niagara frontier arrived to-day and took part in the festivities. The program of the afternoon, consisting of athletic sports, vaudeville shows, balloon ascension and band concerts was fully carried out, much to the amusement of the thousands of spectators that visited the grounds at both ends of the bridge.

The feature of to-day was the illumination of the new steel arch bridge, and fireworks display, which took place at 9 o'clock this evening, and was witnessed by at least 6000 people. Niagara's famous gorge was turned into a regular Dante's Inferno this evening. The first part of the program was the illumination of the entire steel arch by large magnasium lights, which brought out every symmetrical line of the architectural proportions of the great bridge against the inky sky for a background. At the same time below in the gorge along the shores at the water's edge burned red fires for a quarter, presenting a weird sight on the rapids below the bridge, turning the gorge into a seething caldron of red and changeable hues, after which the shells and rockets burst forth from all parts of the bridge and the shores, scattering their silvery and many-hued stars in all directions in the gorge and covering the entire heavens in a canopy of shooting stars of every hue and color.

Several set pieces were set off, the principal one being a representation of Niagara's cataract, the entire length of the bridge, pouring down its golden showers into the rapids. Thousands of fiery floats were flung into the rapids, which seemed to be inextinguishable. The rapids would suck them under and they would soon shoot up from under the waves and spurt forth again in all their fury. Balloons were sent up, which spurted out hundreds of fiery floats, flags and chains, emblazoned with hues of all descriptions. In all, perhaps the display was the grandest ever seen on this continent, and was admirably arranged and managed in every particular. The highest encomiums was paid by the loud applause which re-echoed through the gorge. The thousands of spectators who had come miles to see the display, were fully satisfied. It will be repeated to-morrow, Saturday evening.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Defence Trying to Prove That Mrs. Luetgert Was Seen in Wisconsin After May 1.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The defence in the Luetgert trial this morning devoted itself to strengthening the story that Mrs. Louis Luetgert, who, according to the theory of the prosecution, was murdered May 1, had been seen in and around Kenosha, Wis., on May 3, 4 and 5. Two witnesses, one of whom had known Mrs. Luetgert for seven years, positively identified a photograph of Mrs. Luetgert as the picture of the woman they saw at Kenosha on the dates mentioned. Mrs. Hattie Scherer, Miss Maud Scherer and Miss Gertrude Miller testified this morning that Emma Schimpke, since she had testified for the prosecution, had said in their hearing that her evidence was entirely false. She said the only reason she testified falsely was to support the evidence of her sister Gottlieb, who had at first lied. Frank Schlobe, a farmer who lives near Kenosha, Wis., who had known Mrs. Luetgert for seven years, testified that he met her on a country road near that town on May 4. He said he did not recognize the woman, but was attracted by her worn and generally exhausted appearance.

Policeman William Smith of Kenosha told of seeing a strange woman at the Northwestern Depot in Kenosha at 2 o'clock on the morning of May 5. He positively identified the photograph of Mrs. Luetgert as the woman he saw at the depot. The policeman described the woman and her attire.

Some time ago Judge Tuthill ruled that no evidence tending to show threats to leave her home by Mrs. Luetgert prior to a week previous to her disappearance would be admitted.

When the defence began putting on witnesses to-day who testified to hearing the woman make threats to leave during last February and March, this evidence was objected to by the State and the objection was sustained. The defence had no other evidence and the court adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

A Little Girl of Five Years Played Around the Fire and Her Clothes Caught.

Caledon, Ont., Sept. 24.—Pearl, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Speer, was burned to death through her clothing catching fire while playing around the kitchen stove. Her parents, who were in the garden, hearing her screams, rushed into the house to find their child a mass of flames and burned beyond all hope of recovery.

CHARLIE LONG'S CLOSE CALL.

Almost Asphyxiated by Gas at a Montreal Hotel Now in Hospital.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Mr. Charles Long of Toronto, lately of The Empire, was found unconscious in his bedroom at the Turkish Baths Hotel this morning from the effects of gas. The watchman had drawn his attention to its escape earlier in the morning, and Mr. Long, he believed, had closed the jet. The patient was taken to the Home Hospital, where he is doing well.

Sturdy as an Oak.

An Oak lives long after the man that planted it dies. Just so insurance; it lives after you die, and those that follow you get the benefit of its protection. When you plant an oak be sure you plant a good one. When you plant insurance be sure you plant good insurance in a good place. The Canadian Order of Foresters gives good insurance at a low price. There are 10 reasons why you should place your insurance with them. Here they are:

THE C. O. F. IS

1. Purely CANADIAN.
2. National in its character.
3. 25,000 strong.
4. Fixed Premium. No death Assessments.
5. Gives $500, $1,000, $1,500 or $2,000 insurance.
6. Over $1,500,000.00 paid to members and their depen ents since organization, in 1879.
7. Careful medical selection. Death rate for the 17th year of its history only 4.94 per 1,000.
8. Has a larger Surplus on hand for each $1,000 risk than any other Society of the kind in Canada.
9. SECURITY OF INVESTMENTS. Not a dollar of our Surplus invested outside of Canada.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Prize List of a Successful Exhibition.

A POSSIBLE FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Mr. Joseph Staples' Splendid Exhibit of Jerseys—The Remainder of the Prize List.

The Peterborough Central Exhibition of 1897 is over, and has passed into history as one of the most successful exhibitions ever held under the auspices of the Society, especially, as cannot be too often noted, in the matter of live stock, which after all is the most important feature of any agricultural exhibion, especially in a district where dairying is so important a branch of farming industry.

As to the financial outcome, one cannot speak so confidently. If it had not been for the rainy weather there would have been no doubt that the financial balance would have been on the right side, but the sanguine and hard-working president, Mr. G. E. Elliott, and several of the directors who so energetically co-operate with him, have hopes of coming out even in the financial department.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

MR. JOSEPH STAPLES' HIGH BRED JERSEYS.

One of the most conspicuous features of the live stock exhibits was the exhibit of pure St. Lambert Jerseys, exhibited by Mr. Joseph Staples, "Ingleheim," Cavan, son of Mr. Samuel Staples, who has long been associated with successful cattle breeding. Mr. Staples' herd are of the St. Lambert and Stoke Pogis strains. Mr. Staples has been breeding Jerseys for some time and made his purchases from Mr. J. C. Snell, of Brantford. He makes a specialty of the business and his splendid herd, fairly slaughtered the prize list in this class. He showed eight head and took eight prizes, five firsts, two seconds and a diploma, a record which is the highest testimony to the very superior quality of his stock and the admiration they elicited was not confined to mere admiration but was practically illustrated, two of his herd having been sold on the grounds. Mr. Staple's stock bull "Pogis of Snelgrove," has never been defeated in the show ring. He is young—only one year rising two, and he has three red tickets at as many exhibitions to his credit. Mr. Staples has a fine farm of 250 acres and his facilities for breeding and caring for superior stock are unsurpassed. Space here will not permit detailed reference to the beauty and superiority of Mr. Staples' Jerseys. A strong feature of his cows and heifers is the strongly developed milking points possessed by all. For breeding purposes Mr. Staples herd cannot be beaten, and to those who wish to improve and breed up their dairy herds, the best specimens of the best breed of milking animals in the world are available at reasonable rates through Mr. Staples' "Ingleheim" herd of Jerseys. All his animals are invariably prize winners, and a reference to the prize list below will bear out this statement. Care in selection, care in breeding and raising, have made his herd the best specimens of that Klondyke in cows, the butter producing Jersey. This herd is easily accessible to the farmers of this district, and will well repay a visit. Full information respecting terms of service and prices of stock may be had by writing to Mr. Joseph Staples, "Ingleheim Stock Farm," Ida, P.O.

Below will be found the completion of the prize list:

AFFLICTED FROM INFANCY.

A Lad Who Had been Dropsical From His Childhood Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Remedy That Never Failed.

McIntyre, Ont., Sept. 20.—The young son of Hugh Lamont, of this place, has been afflicted with dropsy since infancy. He was bloated and swollen all over. His parents were at their wits' end to find some cure for him when they read of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Lamont got six boxes of the pills and the boy began taking them. Before the sixth box was finished he was cured. It doesn't matter whether the patient is young or old, the pills will effect a cure of any kidney disease, or of any disease arising from disordered kidneys.

Undoubtedly the Best.

Gentlemen.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

JOHN UNDERHILL, Licensed Commissioner, Strathcolair, Ont.

Mrs. T S. Hawkins, Chattanooga Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitaliser 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 389 George Street.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will send, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and will to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I feel desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 98, St. Henri, Que.

DEATH IN THE PASS

Disastrous Landslide Which Killed 18 Men.

THE VICTIMS WERE DYEA PACKERS

And Lost Their Lives in the Chilcoot Pass Last Sunday—Only One Body Recovered and it Was That of a Cousin of Joe Choynski, the Prize Fighter.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 24.—The tug Pioneer, which left Puget Sound on Sept. 12 with the barque Shirley in tow for Skaguay, returned at 1 o'clock this morning, having made the run down in 96 hours. The Pioneer brings a report of a landslide, which occurred near Sheep Camp on the Chilcoot Pass last Sunday morning, in which 18 men are said to have lost their lives. Only one body is said to have been recovered, that of a man named Choynski, a cousin of Joe Choynski, the prize fighter. The men supposed to have been lost were packers on the Dyea trail.

The officers of the Pioneer say that the story was brought to Skaguay on Sunday evening by three men, who told it in such a way as to leave no doubt as to its truthfulness. They described the avalanche as consisting of rocks, ice and dirt, which had been loosened by the hard rain which has been falling continuously for the past month. All the bridges on the Skaguay River have been washed out and the river is a raging torrent.

W. W. Sprague of Tacoma, who started eight weeks ago, with a three years' outfit, returned from Skaguay on a schooner.

The steamer Alki, a week overdue, from Alaska, arrived this morning at 4 o'clock. She carried a large list of men returning from Skaguay, who were unable to cross the pass. The snow is six inches deep at Lake Bennett, and three inches fell on the summit of the Chilcoot Pass.

The Humboldt Sets Sail.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 24.—Soldiers and civilians mingled together in a busy crowd on the dock where preparations were being made for the sailing of the steamer Humboldt for St. Michael, Alaska. Lieut.-Col. Randall, with his 25 men from Port Russell, looked fit to cope with the rigors and the hardships of the winter confronting them in the Yukon. The company had 150 tons of stores and provisions. Besides the baggage of the soldiers, the Humboldt carried 400 tons of steamboat machinery.

A part of the detachment will be stationed at St. Michael and the rest will go up the river, being stationed near the Alaskan-British Columbia boundary.

STEVENS SHOT HIS SON.

The Young Man Wanted to Marry and Bring a Bride Into the House, But it Wouldn't Work.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 24.—Josiah G. Stevens, aged 64 years, of 708 West Cross-street, shot and dangerously wounded his son, Robert J. Stevens, aged 23, in a quarrel yesterday over the latter's intended marriage, which was to have taken place last night. The father and sister of the young man were objecting strenuously to his bringing his bride to his father's home when the youth struck his sister in the face. This enraged the rather, who drew a revolver from his pocket and fired a shot into his son's back. He fell to the floor unconscious. The elder Stevens then turned the weapon on himself, but it was wrested from him by his two daughters. Young Stevens is now at the Maryland University Hospital in a critical condition. As soon as the prospective bride, Miss Emma J. Milbourne, heard of the condition of her fiance she hastened to his bedside, where in the presence of her father and sister she was made the wife of the wounded man. The elder Stevens was committed to jail.

A Joy That Endures.

Cures Made By Paine's Celery Compound are Permanent.

Recent Testimony of a Lady Cured Years Ago.

Some years ago Mrs. D. O'Connor, of Guelph, Ont., suffered from the tortures of indigestion, neuralgia, heart trouble, noise in the head, sleeplessness, despondency and weakness. Her case was an exceptionally serious one, as her troubles had been dragging her down for over twenty-five years. At the time her case quite baffled the skill of the best doctors.

Getting wearied with medical treatment that gave no promising results, she was fortunately directed to that life saver, Paine's Celery Compound, and like thousands before her, she found a new life. Mrs. O'Connor was recently asked the question, "What is your present opinion of Paine's Celery Compound?" She answered as follows:

"In reply to your communication regarding Paine's Celery Compound, would say that I cheerfully recommend it to any one afflicted as I was. It did for me all that was required. My advice to every one I come in contact with is, "Always keep a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound in the house." Several people have used it on my recommendation and have been benefitted. You can use these lines in any way you desire."

Providence Thanked

It is with pleasure that I recommend B.B.B. for the cure of indigestion and impure blood. I had tried many medicines but received no benefit until, I thank Providence, I was advised to use B.B.B, and it was with perfect success.

Belle of Jersey Will be a Princess Before the Year is Out.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—The announcement that Mrs. Lily Langtry will marry Prince Esterhazy is confirmed. Attorney Henry C. McPike of this city says: "I have recently received from my client, Mrs. Langtry, notice of her intention to return to California by the end of November. Prince Esterhazy will accompany her, and immediately upon their arrival here they will be married in Lake County, I presume, for her home is there. They are advised by their solicitors in London that the decree granted at Lake Port has freed Mrs. Langtry absolutely from Edward Langtry, so that she might marry in any part of the world if she chose."

CRUEL SCIATICA.

Incessant Pain—Tormented—Racked—Life Despaired of.

John Marshall, Varney, P.O., Co. of Grey, writes these strong words: "For two years I was completely laid up with sciatica. I doctored without any permanent relief. I had given up hope. A friend saw the notice of a cure of what seemed a parallel case to mine, by South American Rheumatic Cure, and knowing my little faith in the efficacy of any remedy, he procured a bottle himself and brought it to me. I took it, and to make a long story short, it saved my life. In a day or so I was out of bed, and in three days I was able to walk to Durham, a distance of four miles, to purchase another bottle. I am now entirely cured," Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Orders from South Africa.

J. J. Turner & Sons, the well-known tent, awning and waterproof goods manufacturers, received an order this morning for ten waterproof covers, 14x20, to be made of the best duck, and to be shipped as soon as ready to Toronto, where there is a car load of machinery waiting, and which the covers are to be packed with. The load goes from Toronto to Victoria, British Columbia, and from thence by steamship to Johannesburg, South Africa. This is very creditable to the firm of J. J. Turner & Sons, and also to the town of Peterborough, as it certainly is a good advertisement for both.

Monsieur Bernhard Walther, Belgian Solo Violinist, of Toronto, is about to open classes for violin instruction at Peterborough.

The Western Chronicle of his playing says: "Monsieur B. Walther as a violinist has taken Halifax by storm. His playing is full of soul and power."

The Daily Post, Liverpool, England, said: "Monsieur Walther played his solo in such masterly style that he was recalled four times. In response to the last encore he played cleverly Paganini's duet on one violin."

Monsieur Walther will play at Mrs. Dumble's social on Thursday night next. Miss Grant, Miss Valz and Mr. Nellis will also assist.

Concealed in the Woods in the Vicinity — The Inland Revenue Officials on the Trail.

The Inland Revenue officials of the district for Toronto, having received information of the probable existence of illicit stills in this vicinity, came down to Peterborough and, accompanied by Mr. George Cochrane, High County Constable, went upon a "still" hunt in a double sense. The result of their investigation was the discovery of a still near Bridgenorth, very cunningly concealed in the woods by the lake shore. Evidence that the still was not a mere ornamental appendage to the sylvan scenery, was afforded by the finding of a quantity of whiskey that had evidently been produced through the medium of the still. It is also reported that some ingredients, apparently used in the distillation of spirits, were concealed elsewhere. The detective, who has reported the circumstance to his headquarters, is said to be in possession of information implicating two parties, and further developments may be expected very shortly.

Information has been given leading to the suspicion that another still exists in Harvey township, off the Buckhorn Road, and investigation is being made with a view of discovering its location.

GAME LAWS INFRINGEMENT.

High County Constable Cochrane After Americans who are Suspected of Shooting Without a License.

High County Constable Cochrane has been on the lookout for some days for a party of Americans who have been in the back country and whom he suspected of shooting deer without a license and in close season. He received reports from time to time about the movements of the members of the party and expected to see one of them in town yesterday morning, but the American gentleman succeeded in making the train before Mr. Cochrane got his eye on him, although five minutes after the train left for Port Hope it was known that he had boarded it.

The constable at once telegraphed to Chief Douglas, of Port Hope, to arrest his man, who might be expected to board the North King for Rochester.

The arrest was successfully accomplished in Port Hope, as shown by the following paragraph in the Port Hope Times:—

"The Chief received a telegram to-day from County Constable Cochrane of Peterborough, to arrest a gentleman named Brewster, who would take the North King to Rochester this afternoon. The chief followed instructions and learned that his prisoner was one of the wealthy Brewsters, of Rochester. Mr. Brewster was naturally very much surprised, and wondered greatly why he should be placed under arrest. The chief telephoned to Peterborough, and was told that an information had been sworn out by Deputy Game Warden Smith, and the charge was that of shooting without a license at Buckhorn. Mr. Brewster stated that he went out to the north country for the purpose of shooting ducks, but that he never saw a duck while there, and the weather was so cold he decided that it wouldn't be worth while taking out a license. In consequence he decided to return home. As he was very anxious to return home, the matter was compromised by Mr. Brewster leaving a depoit of $40 as a guarantee that he would return to stand his trial when called upon to do so. Mr. Brewster naturally feels very indignant."

High County Constable Cochrane thinks he has a sure case against Brewster, and the warrant names Sept. 18th as the day the offence was committed. Just how Mr. Brewster succeeded in getting down from Buckhorn and on the train so quietly is a puzzle.

Friday morning Mr. H. P. Kennedy had 126 head of fine feeding steers, averaging about 1100 lbs., shipped in per C. P. R., and about 60 head more in at night, altogether making about nine car loads. These cattle are going to be held on his farm for a short time and as they are for sale it should afford any persons wishing to buy an excellent opportunity, for they are a very choice lot, the best he has had together for years. Mr. Kennedy intends loading four double deck cars of lambs for Buffalo. Prices range from $2.50 to $3.00 for choice lambs.

Fun on the C.P.R.

An amusing incident occurred on the C. P.R. at Myrtle the other evening. A big crowd was on the train returning from Toronto. When Myrtle was called an elderly lady made a dash for the door. At first she thought the train had stopped, and when it moved again she jumped from the car, as she feared she would be carried on to the next station. When she jumped she struck a corpulent old gentleman who was standing in front of a pile of milk cans. The woman threw her arms around the man's neck, and the shock was so sudden that he fell over on the milk cans, and there was a big spill. The lady was angry and excited, the man felt like swearing and laughing at the same time, while the passengers enjoyed the fun immensely.

Miss Delaney's Millinery Opening.

Our millinery reception was an unprecedented success. Hundreds of ladies have inspected our stock with critical eyes and have pronounced it unqualifiedly beautiful and up to date in every respect. They have seen and admired the latest dictates of fashion—the prettiest shapes in hats and bonnets which we are showing, bright with everything that gives to them a touch of loveliness and beauty. Of course a great number have been picked out from our immense stock but our competent trimmers are constantly filling up the gaps with other artistic designs. And the flowers—a bee might mistake them for real ones. Ours is a milliner's, not a florist's display. Nothing is present to detract from the beauty of the artistic creations of millinery skill. The flowers and foliage are rich—as rich as the resources of any conservatory. And the plumes and the birds—who can describe them? Every taste, every fancy; simple, ornate or extravagant will find response in this beautiful display. MISS DELANEY.

Douro Contributes Another Indian Relic.

This morning Mr. John McManus, of Douro, called at THE EXAMINER office to exhibit an Indian relic found on his farm, lot 16, third concession of Douro. His son Mr. M. J. McManus, was "pulling" peas, using a scythe for the purpose. His scythe caught the point of a dark metallic object unearthing it. The lad naturally took the object up to examine it and in order to determine its character twisted off about one inch of the end. It proved to be presumably a copper spear head of Indian origin, nearly an inch in breadth at the widest part and tapering to a point. It is now five inches in length and must have been over six inches in length before the base was unfortunately broken off by the finder. On one side the weapon is quite flat. The middle three inches of the other side of the weapon is somewhat convex, sloping towards the middle line, something like the back of a cricket bat, till a thickness of a quarter of an inch is reached. The upper part becomes sharply narrower and thinner to form a point. About one inch and a half of the other end is considerably thinner, but not so pointed as the other end. A file has been used a little, showing that the weapon is pure copper, the surface of the object being covered with scales of oxydization. The article was found in a field that has been under cultivation at least half a century. Douro seems to have been the site of some sanguinary battle between the noble red men at some time, as a perfect copper arrow head was discovered on the farm next to that of Mr. McManus, that of Mr. M. (Stonehouse) Sullivan a short time ago. Mr. McManus has kindly, on request, donated the copper spear head found by his son, to the Victoria Museum, where it will be placed on exhibition properly labelled with the donor's name, date and locality of its finding. It is fortunate, now that public interest is being aroused in the discovery of relics of aboriginal occupation and other objects of archæological interest, that the Victoria Museum has been opened, so that the public may enjoy the inspection of such objects. The EXAMINER will gladly give space to any contributor who may desire to give his idea of the identification of the above find, together with some statement or conjecture of the origin of the pure copper of which it is composed.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Museum Committe Met Last Evening and Decided to Furnish the Apartments at Once.

The Victorian Museum Committee of the Historical Society met last evening in the town council for the consideration of business.

The Mayor took the chair.

The committee is composed of Messrs. Richard Hall and Chas. McGill, Nicholls Nicholls Park trustees; Warden Anderson, John Burnham, Q.C., and W. H. Casement, of the County Council; Mayor Yelland J. B. McWilliams and W. H. Meldrum, of the Town Council; Dr. Burnham, H. T. Strickland and T. A. S. Hay, of the Historical Society.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams was chosen as permanent chairman of the committee, and Mr. T. A. S. Hay as secretary-treasurer.

The accounts for the furnishing of the Museum were ordered to be paid when certified, and the secretary was instructed to apply to the County Council for its promised grant.

The town council has promised a grant of $200 to the Society if it can raise another hundred amongst the citizens, so a subscription list has been opened, and over half the sum required has already been subscribed by the members.

A committee composed of Messrs. J. B. McWilliams, T. A. S. Hay and H. T. Strickland were authorized to attend to the suitable furnishing of the Museum, and the members of the general committee will at once look over the Museum to ascertain the amount of property owned by the Society.

During the winter months the building will not be heated, although the furnishing of the apartments will be carried out. The society will hold its meetings, therefore, for the next few months in rooms down town.

An Engine Runs Down a Car Which Had Been Left on the Main Line whilst Repairs were Going on.

The C. P. R. Company is replacing some of the stretches of light rails on this division with heavier steel, and while the gang of workmen were busily engaged yesterday, just below the bridge, the engine which had left the cars there earlier in the day, came along, and striking one of them which had been left on the main line, derailed it.

The line was only blocked for about twenty minutes, as the auxiliary was run out from Peterborough immediately and the car replaced on the rails. No damage of any account was done to the rolling stock, and no one was injured.

and $300 Stolen—A Loaded Revolver Taken From the Cash Drawer—No Clue as yet.

(Special to the Examiner.)

COLBORNE, Sept. 25.

Some time during Friday night the Brunswick Hotel, Colborne, was broken into. The safe was robbed of between $200 and $300. Over $18 was taken from the cash register; also a loaded revolver which was lying in the bar. The burglars gained entrance by prying a window open. The occupants of the hotel were not awakened and nothing was known until this morning.

IS THIS WESLEY?

He Left Orillia Very Mysteriously a Few Days Ago.

(The Evening News.)

"Walter Wesley, a salesman in Grafton & Co.'s clothing store, Orillia, left his employment suddenly last Saturday morning and took the morning train for the south without leaving any word as to his destination. He did not appear at the store at the usual hour on Saturday morning and a messenger dispatched to his boarding place was informed that he had paid his bill, packed his trunk and departed. He bears a character for respectability and had no financial difficulties so far as is known.

"There is a possibility that a clue may be found in Toronto as to the whereabouts of the missing man. As previously reported an eccentric individual evidently not responsible for his actions, has visited the principal hotels here, signing the name of "John Russell, Orillia," and seeking accommodation for a party of friends who, he imagined, were travelling with him, and whose names he entered in each hotel register, in some cases more than once. Is there not a possibility that John Russell and Walter Wesley are identical persons?"

Walter Wesley is well known in Peterborough, having been a former resident of the town and son of Mr. E. G. Wesley Park street. His character during his residence here was irreproachable.

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Plenty of Produce was Brought in and the Prices Realized Were Good.

The market to-day bore a strong resemblance to a fall fair. There was a great profusion of every kind of fruit and vegetables in abundance. The buyers were out in numbers and the square was crowded until noon, good prices being realized. Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than accorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. We have never deceived the public, and this with its superlative medicinal merit, is why the people have abiding confidence in it, and buy

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

But in the Interest of our Girls in Peril—Meeting Thursday Afternoon.

A public meeting is called at the instance of the Young Women's Christian Association for the discussion of the social problem, and with a view to the establishment of a shelter for women and girls.

The work of the Children's Aid Society has revealed the necessity of enlarging the sphere of women's work amongst women and girls. This work can be done properly and thoroughly only by women.

The movement is not organised in connection with the Y.W.C.A., though called by it.

It is to be hoped that the meeting (which is for women only) will result in the organisation of renewed and improved work amongst those who, as it has been found, are growing up without a knowledge of a pure and better life.

This meeting will be held in the town council chamber on Thursday afternoon at 3.30. All women interested in this most necessary and desirable work are urged to be present.

Mrs. John Harvie of Toronto, president of the Young Women's Guild, who has done such extensive and efficient work in connection with this Society, the Children's Aid and other benevolent institutions of the kind, will be present and tell something of her experience and plane of working.

They'll have nae curlin' rands there yet, I'll wager and it'll be a perfect curler's paradise as far as ice is concerned."

—The other night burglars broke into the residence of Stephen Tufts, of Tuftsville, and were in the act of "going through" the place when the family were awakened. One of the burglars was slow in getting away and was caught. Information was sent to the police at Belleville abd they were asked to come out and get the man. The parties concerned were told to send for High County Constable Huff at Madoc and this was the last heard of the affair.

At the Central Exhibition Miss Stella Schneider made a fine exhibit of oil paintings, but from being entered in the wrong class and improperly ticketed the judges could not consider them. A LAKEFIELD BOY

Wedded to a Hawkesbury Young Lady on the First of this Month.

The Ottawa Evening Journal, of Sept. th, referring to the marriage of Mr. W. Montgomery, son of Mr. S. Montgomery, of Lakefield, says:

A very interesting double wedding took place here on 1st inst. The principal parties were Miss Louisa McGibbon and Mr. W. R. Montgomery, proprietor of Victoria drug store, and Miss Lillian M. McGibbon and Mr. John W. Ross, of the firm of Ross & Son, grocers, of this place. The weddings were very private, only relatives and very intimate friends being present. Mr. E. W. Burbridge, of the Public Works Department at Ottawa, acted as groomsman for Mr. Ross, while Mr. J. W. McCullough, Principal of the Public School, Hawkesbury, acted for Mr. Montgomery. The bridesmaids were the Misses Cora E. and Edith McGibbon.

The brides were given away by Mr. Jno. McGibbon, father, and Mr. J. A. Houston, M. A., Principal of High School, Smith's Falls, brother-in-law to the brides. The newly-wedded parties were welcomed at the station by a very large crowd. The railway boys showed their good feeling in a very unique arch erected on the station platform and loaded with old boots, overalls, brooms, fans and dust pans. Rice flew in all directions as the happy couples left by the 3.15 train for Toronto and other western points.

A MANVERS WEDDING.

The Bride and Groom Will Take up Their Residence in Kincardine.

The house of Mr. Robert Benson, Manvers, was the scene of a very interesting event on Tuesday, the occasion being the marriage of his eldest daughter, Maggie, to Mr. Wesley H. Hutton, of Bruce county.

The knot was tied by Rev. D. P. Oswald. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present.

Precisely at 2 p.m., to the strains of that well-known wedding march (Mendelssohn's) the bride entered the drawing room leaning on her father's arm. She was neatly attired in a travelling costume of Scotch tweed, trimmed with with broc silk and chiffon, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and smilax, and was attended by Miss Lilly Fallis, of Millbrook. The groom was supported by Mr. Gillesby.

After the ceremony the usual congratulations followed. The wedding breakfast was served and the happy couple were driven to the station, where they took the 4.45 C.P.R. train for Kincardine, their future home, followed by showers of rice and the best wishes of their many friends.

The wedding gifts were handsome, including a gold watch and chain, the gift of the groom.

A FEW WORDS OF ADVICE BEFORE YOU DYE.

When you dye at home your chief view is economy. Home dyeing economy means the very best results from a minimum of expense, time and trouble.

Your objects and desires are realized only when the Diamond Dyes are used for your work. If you are one of the careless unfortunates who simply take a package of dye of the colour required from your dealer, you will in nine cases out of ten suffer loss and great disappointment, as many merchants will hand you some common dye ruinous to your goods, dangerous to handle, and worthless as far as colouring matter is concerned, and on which a very large profit is made. If you secure the Diamond Dyes your success is sure and certain.

Diamond Dyes have a long record of triumphs in home dyeing work; they have been used and tested in every land, and have become friends and family necessities. Happy women everywhere dye with Diamond Dyes.

formerly of the "Examiner" Staff.

On Monday evening last a large number of friends assembled at the residence of Mrs. Young, Newcastle street, Minden, to witness the marriage ceremony of her grand-daughter, Miss M. Winifred Turnbull, to Mr. Robert S. Munro, of the Echo staff, Minden. The guests being assembled in the parlour, and the groom being in waiting, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Chas. C. Munro, of Peterborough, as groomsman, the bride was escorted in by her uncle, Mr. E. C. Young, registrar of the county, while Miss Graham of Kinmount played a wedding march.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie E. Turnbull, as bridesmaid, both of whom were attired in becoming costumes and carrying handsome bouquets of flowers.

Rev. W. A. Bunner, of Myrtle, tied the nuptial knot, and the young couple received the hearty congratulations of their friends; a telegram of congratulation was then handed to the groom from his mother, sisters and brothers in Peterborough with loving wishes for the future welfare of the happy couple. The company then adjourned to the dining room where a magnificent supper of the choicest viands awaited them and to which ample justice was done. The interesting ceremony of cutting the bride's cake, which was a large and exceedingly handsome production, was skilfully performed by the groomsman amid numerous sallies of wit from several of the guests, but he got through the business very nicely and was no way stingy in dispensing the luscious delicacy to the guests. Numerous valuable wedding presents were displayed in the dining room which were much admired, not only for their beauty and value, but also for their usefulness and appropriateness. After supper the company returned to the parlour, where beautiful music and interesting games were the order of the evening, which was most pleasantly spent by the guests, and at 11 o'clock the newly married couple were escorted to "Cliff Cottage," the former residence of Mr. Delamere, where the young people have at present made their home. Their departure was made lively by the expressions of good wishes from their friends and amid showers of rice and other symbols of good luck.

Mr. Munro is an old Peterborough boy, being a son of the late George Munro, of town. He was formerly connected with THE EXAMINER'S typographical staff, and hearty congratulations and good wishes are extended to the young couple.

MONEY TO SQUANDER

Is squandered most deliberately by people who buy at the old-fashioned high-profit credit store. It's poor economy, of the worst kind, to keep on paying from 10 to 20 per cent. more for your Groceries and Provisions than you have any need to.

YOU CAN SAVE $45 OR $50

Just count up what it costs you a year for Groceries and Provisions, and if you're an average consumer, we will guarantee to save you $45 to $50 a year.

"HOME, SWEET HOME."

First Sung in Public Over the Grave of an Indian.

When the boundary line between Tennessee and Georgia was established, it passed half a mile south of the spring Tuck-a-lee-chee-chee, among the foothills of the Unakas, and, as it crossed one of the principal Indian trails, it became a place of much importance. There had already grown up a strong rivalry between the Tennessee tribes, headed by Chief Ross, and the Georgia tribes, headed by Major Ridge, both half-breeds and men of extraordinary ability as leaders. The establishment of a new boundary line fixed the limits of their respective territories, and, to try to harmonize so far as possible the contending factions, the Government established a trading post there. John Howard Payne appeared upon the scene and was accused of inciting the Indians to insubordination. He was placed under arrest as an incendiary and carried to the council house.

While Payne was held there, one of the first bands arrived, and among the Indians was the chief, Oo-chee, or Rattling Guard, a broken-hearted man. He was moody and abstracted and refused all invitations to the council house, and would partake of no festive enjoyments whatever, but spent the most of his time at the graves of his wife and child farther up the valley. One morning he was missed. Weltering in his own blood, the body was found between the little mounds that covered his squaw and papoose. In some way he had secreted a bayonet, fell upon the point of it and died on the spot where he had often expressed a desire to be laid out for his last long sleep.

A grave was dug on the spot where he lay, and the chief was buried by the soldiers, one of the Moravian missionaries officiating. After the services were over, John Howard Payne, who had been a silent witness of the pathetic scene, began singing softly to himself the song which has since been echoed through every land on the earth. Gen. Bishop, who had kept a close scrutiny on his actions, heard the song and called Payne to him.

"Young man," said the stern old Indian fighter, "Where did you learn that song?"

"I wrote that song myself," replied Payne.

"And where did you learn that tune?"

"I composed that also."

"Would you let me have a copy of it?"

"Certainly I will."

"Well, a man who can sing and write like that is no incendiary. Appearances may be against you, but I am going to set you free. I shall write you out your discharge immediately, and pass you anywhere you choose through the nation."

Payne had been housed at the home of a family living near by, and on his return there he exhibited the pass and related the circumstances. That was the first time that "Home, Sweet Home" had ever been sung in public.—Atlanta Constitution.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Woman's Power to Love.

Mademoiselle Paola Lombroso, daughter of the celebrated Italian criminalist, has written a pamphlet in which she upholds the doctrine that the fate of women in the world is inexpressibly happier than the fate of men. Why? Because, to Miss Lombroso, the true happiness on earth is to love—and women alone have the power of loving. The mere love of a mother for her children appears to this young girl as so supreme a happiness that all man's delights, vanity, ambition and success pale before it. Beauty she holds cheap, and even of intelligence she makes little. The heart, tenderness, love—the highest love, devotion; in these she believes lies the true happiness of this world.

CONVAY GETS FIVE YEARS.

The Aged Slaughterer of Young Frost Was Sentenced by Judge Meredith Yesterday at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Sept. 23.—Convay was sentenced by Mr. Justice Meredith this afternoon to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for the manslaughter of young Frost.

When Convay was arraigned for sentence, Mr. A. S. Hall read a letter from the prisoner, addressed to the judge, containing a touching plea for mercy. The unfortunate man also spoke at some length in support of his version of the tragedy. He broke down two or three times during his speech, which moved to tears many of his auditors. It was a most pitiful scene.

The judge, in passing sentence, said that he was compelled to pass a sentence in accord with the gravity of the offence. He advised the prisoner to apply to the Governor-in-Council for his release in case his health should fail, which seems very probable. Sentence was passed at 3.37 p.m.

GERMAN POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

A Brief Sketch of the New Appointee, General Von Padbielski.

General Von Padbielski's appointment by the Emperor William to the position of Postmaster-General, or, as it is called in Germany, the Minister of Posts, has raised a storm of indignation in the German press without regard to party. Von Padbielski succeeds Heinrich Stephen, the late able minister who, during his long term as Postmaster-General, brought the German postal service to its present high degree of efficiency. Stephen earned for himself the title of

GEN. VON PADBIELSKI.

"the father of the postal service." The press and the public believe that there were hundreds of trained men in the service who should have been made the head of the department. Instead of selecting his portfolio officer from among these the Emperor deliberately passed by them and put over them a soldier who does not know a postcard from a registered letter. The General is 53 years old and became an officer in the German army when he was 22. He was advanced very rapidly, and in 1865 was appointed colonel of a cavalry regiment. In 1891 he was made a major-general and retired from the service. Four years ago the General was elected to the Reichstag as a Conservative. Last year Von Padbielski was made a lieutenant-general. His first move as Minister of Posts was to appoint military men to the principal positions in the departments and to announce that only military men will be considered for future appointments.

The Make Up of the Gutenberg Bible.

The workmanship of the printer in his own proper field is wonderful when we regard the circumstances under which it was done, but it would not satisfy the requirements of a modern publisher or bookbuyer. It is of its own time, with the faults of that time in manner and matter. The promise of legability which seem warranted by the bold and black types is delusive. The ordinary Latin scholar cannot read the book, nor refer to any passage in it with satisfaction. It is without title and paging figures. The blank spaces which indicate changes of subject and give relief to the eyes were seized by the illuminator. Verse follows verse, and chapter follows chapter, and one line chases another with grudging of white space and of tone relief which is not atoned for by the dabs of red in the rubrics, nor by the profuse wealth of ornamentation in the centre column and margins.

The composition is noticeably irregular, the lines are not always of uniform length. When a word was divided the hyphen was allowed to project and give to the right side of the column a ragged appearance. When there were too many letters for the line, words were abbreviated. The measure was narrow, and it was only through the liberal use of abbreviations that the spacing of words was regulated. The period, colon, and hyphen were the only points of punctuation.—Publishers' Weekly.

KIDNEY WAR,

How Insidiously it Wages, but how Quick the Surrender, and how the Flag of Truce is Hurriedly Hoisted when that Great General, South American Kidney Cure, Turns his Guns on the Disease.

This is what James Sullivan, of Chatham, Ont., writes: "For years I was a great sufferer from Kidney trouble. The disease became so acute that I was confined to the house, and was greatly afflicted with insomnia. I was persuaded after using many other remedies without relief to procure a bottle of South American Kidney Cure. I had relief almost from the first dose. I have persisted in its use, and after using six bottles I am well and strong again. I can work fourteen hours out of twenty-four and feel very little, if any, fatigue. It is the best medicine that I have ever used." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

Japanese Passengers for Honolulu Who Moved Very Symmetrically.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—If the stories told by the passengers and crew of the steamship City of Peking, which arrived here from Hong Kong, via Honolulu, on Tuesday evening, be true, a state of affairs exists in Hawaii which demands the attention of the State Department. When the City of Peking arrived at Honolulu the attentions of the other passengers on board that steamer was attracted by the remarkably symmetrical movements of 174 Japanese steerage passengers, who were disembarking. Although classed as laborers their well-drilled and military appearance was too palpable to escape observation. The Japanese were apparently under the command of a veteran sergeant and divided into squads of 20 under non-commissioned officers. It was generally believed that they were sent to the islands for the purpose of forcibly resisting annexation if necessary.

JAPAN-CHINA ALLIANCE.

Military Men are Talking of the Possibility of Such a Thing.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—According to advices brought by the steamer Empress of China, the possibility of an alliance between China and Japan is being talked of by military men. Captain Kurooka of the Japanese warship Naniwa stated recently that the Japanese orders procured by American shipbuilders are merely sentimental. He further said, on the opinions of experts, that the hulls alone of the two cruisers being built in San Francisco at the Union Iron Works and at Cramp's shipyards on the Delaware will cost as much as the hulls and armament combined would have cost in England.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

This is to certify that I, James Ross, Tollgate Keeper, of the Town of Woodstock, Ont., have been a sufferer from Indigestion and a very weak stomach for a number of years, and have tried a great many medicines of different kinds, but could only obtain temporary relief for a short time, but after using one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic I could perceive a great difference. My indigestion was better and my stomach was much stronger than before, and I found I had gained several pounds in flesh, where I was weak and thin in flesh before. I think I used nine or ten bottles in all, and I am now a healthy man, but still I do not want to be without the medicine in the house, and I procure one or two bottles every year, and I can truthfully recommend Sloan's Indian Tonic to others suffering from the same complaint.

Father Time has to halt when he meets a woman who knows how to take care of her health. Time can't make her seem old.

She may be the mother of a family; that makes no difference. She is bound to be young because her heart is young and there is rich, young blood circulating in her veins. She doesn't need cosmetics and face-powders and skin-preservers. Pure blood is the only true skin-preserver.

But when a woman's blood is full of bilious impurities, she can neither look young nor feel young. Her whole constitution is poisoned with bad blood. It permeates every part. It paralyzes the nerve-centres; weakens the stomach; irritates the heart, preys upon the lungs and bronchial tubes.

It reduces a woman to a state of weakness, nervousness, irritability, dejection and melancholy. Such a woman can't possibly be youthful, no matter what her age may be. She needs the youthfulness of highly vitalized blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will give it to her. It will help any woman to get back her youth and freshness again.

It gives the digestive and blood-making organs and the liver power to produce good, pure, healthy blood. It gives color to the cheeks, and sparkle to the eyes; drives away pimples and blotches; wipes away wrinkles; rounds out emaciated forms, and creates firm, natural, healthy flesh.

Mrs. Rebecca F. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes: "When I was married I weighed 125 pounds. I was taken sick and reduced in health and broke out with a disease which my doctor said was eczema. He treated my disease but failed to do me any good, and I fell away to 90 pounds. I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and thank God and you, I began to improve. Now I weigh 140 pounds and have only taken two bottles. I cannot say too much about the medicine. My husband says I look younger than I did the first time he saw me, 18 years ago."

SWEDEN'S FINANCE MINISTER.

The New Incumbent Is One of the Ablest Financiers of the Country.

Count Hans Hansson Wachmeister, whom King Oscar has just appointed Minister of Finance for Sweden, has occupied for the past two administrations a subordinate position in the Treasury Department of that State, and is one of the ablest financiers in his country. His only weak point is a lack of Parliamentary ability. He is now 46 years old, and is a son of Count Hans Wachmeister, one of Sweden's most prominent men and the head of the noble house of Wachmeister. As early as 1878 he entered the Treasury Department and his ability as a financier soon distinguished him. Political causes have operated to prevent him from recognition of his knowledge and of his service. The appointment is a popular one, for, although the Count has occupied a subordinate place until now, it is well known that he has been virtually the head of his department, the minister being simply a political figurehead. The Minister has two relations known to Canadians, for Count Wachmeister is a member of the same family as the late Count Wachmeister, whose widow, Countess Constance, and her son, are prominent in the Theosophical Society. The latter young man is a fine musician.

Speed in Walking

"There is no end of people," said a man who walks a great deal himself, "who think they could walk four miles an hour, and very likely they could, but they would have to move along very briskly to do it. As a matter of fact, very few people indeed do walk four miles an hour. Three miles is a very fair gait, and when one exceeds that he is beginning to walk very fast. If my recollection serves, the one 'common time' in the army carried a man two and five-eighths miles an hour, and 'quick time' two and seven-eighths miles an hour. The distances which the soldier covers in an hour have now been increased somewhat by slightly increasing the length of his steps, but my impression is that the 'common' time remains under three miles an hour. Certainly three miles would be good, fair walking, and fully up to men's average speed."

Boils, pimples, and eruptions, scrofula, salt rheum and all other manifestations of impure blood, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

TO UNLOAD RAPIDLY

WERE THE PNEUMATIC ELEVATORS OF TWO GERMAN PORTS BUILT.

And They Were entirely Successful, Because One of Them Can Empty a Steamer of Grain in Bulk in Less Than a Day.

The brisk competition and the low freight rates of the past few years have made it necessary for the large ocean freighters to be constantly going back and forth in order to be a profitable investment to their owners. The moment one of these trans-Atlantic freighters reaches its wharf the work of unloading begins.

Considerable time is required to unload steamers which carry grain in bulk, because in that case the steam cranes are useless, and human hands must take their place.

Science was appealed to, and pneumatic grain elevators are the latest improvement of large seaports. These pneumatic grain elevators reduce the time of unloading to the minimum.

PNEUMATIC ELEVATOR AT BREMERHAVEN.

In German ports there are only two pneumatic elevators up to the present time. There are none in this country. The Hamburg harbor and the port at Bremerhaven have been recently provided with this convenience. The Bremerhaven elevator is here illustrated. It is built on the wharf at Geestemunde. At the first glance is a somewhat fantastic structure, with its towers and tubes on a regular ship's hull. This hull is 400 feet long, and the towers go skyward at least 50 feet. The 400 horse power engine has six cylinders, one each for high and low pressure, the remainder for suction purposes. Each tower has an automatic scale, which tips the beam at a ton and empties the grain into the hull of the elevator. From there conveyors, resembling the paternoster-baggers, shoot it into smaller vessels bound for more distant points, or the warehouses along the wharf.

The elevator here described unloads in one hour 120 tons. In a day the entire cargo of grain of a big ocean freighter is unloaded, leaving the steamer ready for reloading in the shortest possible space of time.

HEALTHY STOMACH!

Happy Man!—Nothing Experimental About Using the Great South American Nervine—What it has Done for Thousands it can do for You.

Here are Strong Words from a Reliable Business Man—Read Them.

I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried many remedies, but obtained very little relief. I saw South American Nervine advertised, and concluded to give it a trial, and I must say I consider it the very best medicine I have ever used. I obtained great relief from the first few doses. I have only used two bottles, and am happy to say it has made a new man of me. I strongly recommend it to fellow sufferers." C. PEARCE, Dry Goods Merchant, Forest, Ont. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Another Flight.

If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die to-night,
And you should come in deepest grief and woe,
And say, "Here's that $10 that I owe,"
I might arise, in my white cravat,
And say, "What's that?"

If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel—
I say, if I should die to-night,
And you should come to me, and then and there
Just hint 'bout payin' me that ten,
I might arise the while—
But I'd drop dead gain.

Richelieu's Tomb.

Litigation of an historically interesting sort is about to take place between the city of Paris and the descendents of the relatives of Cardinal de Richelieu. The city wants to take over the Sorbonne Chapel, wherein is Richelieu's head, inclosed in a theatrical-looking tomb. The direct descendents of the famous statesman's family oppose this, on the ground that Richelieu built the Sorbonne out of his own money, on the condition that he, his relatives and theirs to come should be buried in the chapel. The city maintains that the Cardinal's will is out of date and of no account owing to the lapse of time. The living representatives of his family, however, intend to fight the matter out in order to prevent the chapel from being transformed into a lay department of the new Sorbonne.

SURGEON'S KNIVES.

Failed to Remove the Disease From Hezekiah Vaughan's System—Dodd's Kidney Pills Which Have Never yet Failed, Cured Him in Short Order.

Sandwich, Sept. 13—Hezekiah Vaughan, of the township of Gosfield, has lately gone through a severe surgical operation at Harper's hospital, Detroit, for what different doctors diagnosed as liver complaint, kidney trouble and bladder complaint. Four surgeons cut away at him for 4½ hours, but when they got through, none of them could tell what was wrong and the patient was left as bad as ever. The benefits derived by a neighbour from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, induced Mr. Vaughan to try them. From the first he began to improve. His bowels soon became regular and the pains that afflicted him disappeared. Six boxes restored to his former vigor a man who had abandoned all hope of regaining sound health.

Severe Headache Cured.

The Mississippi River.

According to calculations of John Birkenbine of Philadelphia, the drainage area of the Mississippi River is one and one-fourth millions of square miles, including nearly all of the country from the Alleghenies to the Rockies and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. In his communication to the Engineers' Club, Mr. Birkenbine estimates that one inch of rain falling evenly over this area would equal 21,780,000,000,000 gallons of water. The average yearly fall in the Mississippi watershed averages from 20 to 43 inches according to locality. The river has an average flow of 664,000 cubic feet per second.

Wild With Eczema

Hands and Limbs Covered with Blisters, and Great Red Blotches.

Scratched Until Almost Wild. Burned Like Fire. Sleep Impossible.

Cuticura Brings Speedy Relief, and a Permanent Cure at a Cost of $2.

I was a sufferer for eight years from that most distressing of all diseases, Eczema, but can now say truthfully that I am entirely cured. I tried some of the best physicians in the country, but they did me little good. The palms of my hands were covered, and would become inflamed; little white blisters at first would appear, then they would peel off, leaving a red, smooth surface which would burn like fire and itch; well, there is no name for it. On the inside of the upper part of both my limbs, great red blotches, not unlike hives, would appear, and as soon as I became warm, the burning and itching would begin. Night after night I would lie awake all night and scratch and almost go wild. I heard of CUTICURA remedies, got a box of CUTICURA (ointment), a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier), and gave them a thorough trial, and after a few applications I noticed the redness and inflammation disappear; before I had used one box there was not a sign of Eczema left. I can truthfully assert that $200 worth of CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me. Any one I meet who has Eczema, I do not hesitate a moment in recommending your remedies.

RECEPTION DAY.

A Few of the Callers Who Were Received by the Relief Officer Yesterday.

Town Relief Officer Miller has some odd experiences when engaged in the discharge of his duty. Friday was his weekly reception day and quite a number called on him in the course of the morning.

One old woman who showed up was so much the worse for liquor that she could not explain her wants. She made a disgraceful exhibition of herself in front of the town buildings when waiting for the relief officer, and had to be almost ejected from the premises before she would leave. Even then she came back and threatened to inform the police, but as Mr. Miller was just about to call an officer himself and told her he would save her the trouble she departed in haste.

An old man approached the Relief Officer in quite a different manner. He was sure "the Lord would provide" and didn't feel like working. Mr. Miller inquired why the applicant didn't wait at home for aid if he felt this way, instead of coming to ask for it. The old man explained that the Lord had told Him that he would put it in the Relief Officer's heart to aid him. As Mr. Miller had received no such intimation and as work is plentiful in the town he told the applicant to go and seek to earn his bread like an honest man.

THE LOCAL APPLE CROP.

The Outlook for Profitably Disposing of the Crop, which is about 40 per cent. of a Full Yield.

In an interview with Mr. John Kincaid, who is one of the most extensive buyers of apples in this district, it is learned that, as far as quality is concerned, the crop was never better. There is about forty per cent. of a full crop.

The best apple-producing townships are Smith, South Monaghan, Cavan, Otonabee, and a portion of Douro.

The great bulk of the exportable crop of apples this year is composed of the excellent Northern Spy.

Snow apple is the principal fall apple, but the total yield will fall considerably short of last year.

The prevailing prices for apples on the tree are $1.00 to $1.25 per barrel.

Wind-fall apples are bringing in the local market about 60c. per bag. Picked apples are not being offered.

Mr. Kincaid says he is making daily shipments, and that he has already purchased this fall about 750 barrels and expects to increase this number to about 2,000 barrels.

There are seven or eight buyers in the district and the farmers are, therefore, through the competition thus created, likely to realize the best prices going.

MINISTERS, TAKE NOTE.

Clause of the Marriage Act Which Bears on Their Duty to the State.

The Registrar-General calls the attention of the clergy of the province to the following clause, an amendment to the Marriage Act of 1896:

1. Every clergyman, minister or other person authorized to solemnize marriages, where a marriage register is not already possessed of any church or congregation over which he is placed or in charge, shall make application for a register (which shall be the property of said church or congregation) to the clerk of the city, town, incorporated village or township municipality within which the said church or congation is situated; the clerk shall thereupon supply such register at the cost of the municipality, and the clergyman, minister or other person in whose keeping the register is, shall on or before the 8th day of July and January, in each and every year, make to the said clerk a complete copy of every marriage recorded therein during the previous half year.

2. One additional register may be supplied to every clergyman, minister or other person authorized to solemnize marriages, and a register shall, also, on application, be supplied to any clergyman or minister in the municipality who is not in charge of a church or congregation, but in that case he must similarly make a return at the periods aforesaid of all the marriages solemnized by him.

3. Every clergyman or minister in charge of a church or congregation in any unorganized township shall upon a written application to be made by him to the Registrar-General receive a marriage register, to be supplied by the Registrar-General out of the moneys set apart by the Legislature for the purpose.

Kidney Trouble Cured.

A WELL-KNOWN HOTEL-KEEPER RELATES HIS EXPERIENCE.

He Suffered Greatly From Kidney Trouble and Indigestion—He Doctored For a Long Time Without Getting any Relief.

From the Standard, Cornwall.

The march of the world's progress is forced, protracted and continuous, the competition for supremacy is keen. The man of business must keep rank if he would secure any covetable measure of success. The watchfulness, vigilance and thought involved in modern superintendency produce a severe strain on the physical and mental powers of modern business men, and exposes them to the attacks of certain diseases. Considering that much depends on health in this struggle, it behooves those who would be victorious, to guard against the first approach of the disease. Neglect of early adjustment of digestive and kidney disorders is often fraught with dire results, added to this is the unpardonable trifling with health by experimenting with all manner of worthless decoctions. It is simply invaluable to make the acquaintance of a safe and effective remedy such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. James Macpherson, hotelkeeper in the village of Lancaster, Glengarry county, has done business for a number of years in Lancaster, and having successfully catered for the patronage of the travelling public, therefore, is favourably known not only at home but also abroad. In conversation with a newspaper reporter he enumerated some of his ailments and how he was cured. About two years ago he said, "my whole digestive apparatus seemed to become disordered. Some days I could move around, then again I would be obliged to go to bed. I tried several things but with indifferent success. Occasionally I felt relieved, but in a day or two the old symptoms would return with a more depressing effect. This kind of thing went on until I became troubled with my kidneys, which was a very annoying addition to my sufferings. I was restless, with a sensation of sickness at the stomach, with intermittent pain in the small of my back. I was miserable enough when I consulted the doctor, who probably did me some good, because I felt relieved. The doctor's medicine was taken and his directions obeyed, but I did not improve. I had heard of the fame of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife believed in them and urged me to try them. I am glad I did so for after taking one box I felt better, and I continued taking the pills until I was completely cured. This summer I had an attack of the same complaint and I found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as effective as before. I had this advantage, my knowledge and belief in the pills saved me from costly and tedious experimenting such as I had undergone previously. I may further add that both myself and Mrs. Macpherson have derived much benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I can cordially recommend them to those who are suffering similarly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Boston Beat Baltimore in the First of the Final Series That Decides the Championship.

Baltimore, Sept. 24. Nearly 13,000 persons saw Boston's famous baseball players beat the champions to-day and take the lead in the exciting race for this season's championship. One hundred and thirty five of these people were Bostonians who came over to root for their fellow-citizens. Bedecked with red badges and armed with tin horns they made noise enough for ten times their number, and to-night they are in an excessively cheerful frame of mind. Not so with the rest of the crowd, for they have no excuse to make for the beaten champions. The game was fairly won by superior playing, timelier batting, better base running and sharper, cleaner fielding, in which Long and Tenney played probably the most conspicuous parts, two of Long's and one of Tenney's catches being of the most sensational order. Score:

Boston .....0 0 0 1 2 0 2 1 0—6	9	0

Batteries—Pond, Corbett and Robinson; Nichols and Bergen.

At New York—In a double-header the Giants and Senators broke even. The first game was won by the visitors, because they were able to land on Sullivan, and the Giants could not fathom McJames. In the second Seymour always had the Washingtons in trouble. Mercer appeared to be in the sulks, and was hit in every inning but the first. The first game was slow and featureless. In the second Seymour's all-around work and a one-handed catch by Leahy were the features. The scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
New York .....0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0—2	6	3
Washington .....0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 4—7	15	2

Batteries—Sullivan and Zarfoss; McJames and McGuire.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
New York .....0 0 1 1 1 1 2 2—8	12	3
Washington .....0 0 0 0 2 1 1 0—4	8	4

Batteries—Seymour and Warner; Mercer and McGuire. Game called on account of darkness.

At Brooklyn—About the most exciting incident connected with the Brooklyn-Philadelphia game at Eastern Park this afternoon was the behavior of Pitcher Taylor toward the umpire. He was finally quieted with a $25 fine. The game was interesting throughout. Score:

Brooklyn .....1 0 0 0 1 1 3 4 *—10	15	3
Philadelphia ...2 1 0 0 0 1 3 2—9	14	2

Batteries—Dunn and Grim and Burrell; Taylor and Clements.

NO GAME AT SYRACUSE.

Syracuse, Sept. 24.—Owing to the rain the Syracuse-Toronto game for the Stewart Cup, to be played here to-day, has been postponed until Monday, when it will be played here, as this is an open date.

DUNNVILLE BEAT ST. THOMAS.

St. Thomas, Sept. 24.—The second game of a series between St. Thomas and Dunnville was played at Atlantic Park to-day, resulting in the home team being defeated. The playing was of the big league order, and probably the best exhibition of baseball witnessed here this season. Baker, the ex-Toronto catcher, was behind the bat for Dunnville, and caught a very good game. His batting was a feature. Bernhardt, lately of Palmyra, played a beautiful game at first for the visitors. He also did some clever stick work. Joe Knight of Providence and Dad Lyons both drove the ball for homers. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Thomas .....2 0 0 1 0 2 0 0 0—5	10	4
Dunnville .....2 0 2 0 2 0 0 0 *—6	6	3

Batteries—Hardy and Lyons; Kickabush and Baker. Umpire—Reid of London. Attendance—1000.

AND ALL LIVER TROUBLES

As a laxative, one pill acts perfectly, and if a stronger action is desired a cathartic effect is produced by two pills. In obstinate cases, where a purgative is necessary, three pills will be found sufficient. These pills leave no unpleasant after effect. One pill taken each night during thirty days will cure constipation.

Listen to The Question:

"Are you the man that's got the advertisement on the first page of the EXAMINER?" Yes. "Well you've got the greatest budget in your ad that ever I read." Putting his finger to his thumb he runs over the following: "People's Grocery," "I like that name nothing stuck up about it," "323 George Street, why that's one of the best stands in town, near the market, on the way to the C. P.R. and G.T.R. Stations; you've made a good choice of Groceries, Fruit and Provisions, lots of good things to eat; I'll call on you, I will. Good bye." Another says: "Are you the man that sells the good 25c Japan Tea?" "Yes I am" "Well do me up 3 lbs." And I did it, and he paid me the money like a gentleman. We are right in the fruit season and have a large lot of Redpath's No. 1 Granulated Sugar, pure, 20 lbs for a dollar. A customer told us some of the others had raised their prices; we aim to keep them down, and are glad to say that our efforts are being appreciated. We have had to repeat our orders for Canned Goods again and again and have bought and expect another large delivery in October. The people want Vegetables and Fruit sound, fresh and good, and they buy from us as they see our delivery wagon bringing loads from our own gardens. We are getting ready a large quantity of home-made Hams and Bacon; also Pickles 10c per bottle. BRITAIN DRAWS OUT

Will Not Take Part In the Seal Conference.

OBJECTS TO JAPAN AND RUSSIA

Having Any Say in Connection With the Controversy—Events in India—Haddah Mullah's Village Destroyed—Afridis and Orakzais Still Show Fight—Cable News.

London, Sept. 25.—A decided sensation has been caused in diplomatic circles here by Great Britain's notification to the United States that she cannot participate in the sealing conference at Washington if Russia and Japan take part in it.

The officials of the British Foreign Office decline to give the reasons for this change of policy, but they admitted that the Marquis of Salisbury has notified the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, of his decision in this matter, though the Premier's decision is not absolute.

The action of the Marquis of Salisbury is all the more surprising in view of the fact that he accepted for Great Britain the invitation to take part in the conference, with the full knowledge that Russia and Japan were included in the invitation.

It is known that the Canadian Government requests the withdrawal of Great Britain from the sealing conference, and the Government unwillingly acceded to this request, in accordance with its policy of cultivating the friendship of the Colonies, even at the risk of offending other powers concerned.

It is thought in diplomatic circles that Canada's action in the premises was influenced by the fear that Great Britain would be outvoted by the United States, Russia and Japan, whose views regarding the protection of seals coincide.

Britain Has Not Actually Withdrawn.

London, Sept. 25.—An official at the British Foreign Office, in an interview this afternoon with a representative of the Associated Press, upon the sealing question, said:

Great Britain has not withdrawn, but the discussion of the situation will go on with the United States Ambassador here. The probable result will be that Great Britain will ask that the experts' reports be submitted to her, and she will then decide whether or not the necessity exists of joining in the conference. If the reports point out some easily remedied situation, a result can be arrived at by agreement between Great Britain and the United States without the necessity of a conference, which was only accepted ad referendum. In any event, it is probable the United States will obtain as much as if a conference was held.

RUSSIAN OFFICIALS SURPRISED

At Britain Declining Interference of Outside Powers in the Controversy.

London, Sept. 25.—Great Britain has not notified Russia or Japan of her intention not to take part in the conference, and her notice to the United States was sent too late for the other three governments to change their arrangements.

Enquiries made at the Russian Embassy show the officials were greatly surprised at Great Britain's withdrawal, and were disposed not to believe the news. They said the British Foreign Office in the discussion of the arrangement for the conference had never even intimated that dissatisfaction was experienced at Russia's participation in the conference.

Apparently, the Russian officials add, Great Britain realized the impossibility of Russia and Japan withdrawing from the conference, and leaving a clear field for Great Britain and the United [illegible] vote, the British Ambassador to the United States, and one of Great Britain's representatives at the Sealing Conference, has been postponed until Oct. 26, which would make him arrive in the United States too late to take part in the sealing deliberations.

Summing the matter up, it seems evident that Great Britain has decided to withdraw from further discussion of the sealing question. She has not replied to Secretary Sherman's despatch on the subject, and it is not expected that she will make an answer to it.

The note of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, to the Marquis of Salisbury, giving the British contentions, has not been communicated to the United States, as it was merely a domestic public document, intended to present the British arguments to the public without continuing the debate with the United States.

It was only on Wednesday last that the Marquis of Salisbury notified the United States Ambassador that Great Britain could not take part in the sealing conference if Russia and Japan participated in it.

THE INDIAN CAMPAIGN.

Haddah Mullah's Village Demolished—Afridis and Orakzais Decide on Further Resistance.

Simla, Sept. 25.—Renewed activity is reported among the tribesmen in the Khyber region. The Orakzais have been persuaded to return and hold the pass, while the Afridis are re-concentrating in the Chimas and Bazar Valleys.

Syed Akbar, with representatives of the various tribes, has gone to try to persuade the Ameer's commander-in-chief, who is an Orakzai, to help his co-religionists.

General Elles' attack upon Bedmanni Pass so completely disorganized the enemy that both the Haddah Mullah and the Safe Mullah fled precipitately. The former fell off his horse and had to be carried in a litter. He was the recipient of a chorus of curses from the tribal women for bringing disaster upon their country.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Is Being Made by the British Expedition on the Indian Frontier

New York, Sept. 25.—The London correspondent of The Tribune says: The British-Indian military operations are making satisfactory progress; two brigades, uniting in the Mohmund country, have driven back the tribesmen and have used Maxim guns with great effect. The Goorkhas, the Bombay Pioneers and the Punjaub Infantry have done the bulk of the fighting, with help from contingents of the Somerset and Devon Regiments. The tribesmen made a brave stand, but were demoralized by the fire from the Maxims. The campaign in that quarter is virtually ended, but it is hardly probable that the column can be recalled to co-operate with the main expedition against the Afridis in the Tirah country, which will not be ready to start for a fortnight. The British forces, under cautious leadership, will inevitably punish the hostile tribes and restore the normal condition of peace on the frontier, but when they retire the costly work will have to be repeated before many years."

The Mullah's Village Blown Up

Simla, Sept. 26.—The operations against the Mohmunds are proceeding satisfactorily. General Westmacott has completely demolished the headquarters of the Huddah Mullah, in the village of Jadobi, blowing up all the fortifications.

While this was being done a body of Sepoys was caught in ambush in a defile and sharp fighting ensued. The Sepoys, however, succeeded in retiring with but slight loss.

Gen. Jeffreys reports that he has arranged a armistice of two days to enable the tribesmen to submit, which they appear anxious to do after the repeated beatings they have received.

Spies report that the Afridis and Orakzais of the Tirah country, at a council held at Bagh, have decided to resist the British advance. They have sent a message to Ghulam Hyder Khan, the Ameer's frontier general, asking him to help them.

Advices from Samana district are favorable. The severe defeats suffered by the enemy in their attacks upon Fort Gulistan and Fort Lockhart have disheartened the Alikhels and other Orakzais in the Khanki Valley. They have sent a message to the commander at Fort Gulistan, offering to make terms of submission, and promising to surrender all the loot and the Government rifles. It is believed they will surrender on any terms.

According to a telegram from Peshawur, a small body of Afridis was seen Friday night near the mouth of Khyber Pass. Three hussar officers, who were driving from Peshawur to Jamrud, were fired at by men hiding in the rocks less than a mile from camp. They had a narrow escape and their coachman was killed.

More Fighting in Crete.

Canea, Island of Crete, Sept. 25.—The insurgents have attacked Scalani, near Candia. After two hours' fighting they retired.

SHOT BY HIS OWN RIFLE.

Mr. W. W. Griscom of Philadelphia Accidentally Killed on His Summer Island in Muskoka.

Penetanguishene, Ont., Sept. 25.—Whilst out rifle shooting on Governors Island yesterday forenoon, Mr. W. W. Griscom of Philadelphia, who has been spending the summer with his family at his new summer residence, on Muniscoganashene Island, about twelve miles from Penetanguishene, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his rifle. His steam yacht, the Skylark, at once came to town to report the death, and Coroner Spohn, accompanied by a dozen citizens, returned on the yacht to the scene of the fatality.

After viewing the body and taking the evidence of a couple of Mr. Griscom's employes, the jury impaneled by the coroner returned a verdict that deceased came to his death through the accidental discharge of his rifle.

The body was brought over to Penetanguishene on the Skylark, and was there embalmed by the undertaker, placed in a metal-lined casket, and sent on the 3.20 train this afternoon to Haverford, Penn., a suburb of Philadelphia, for interment.

Mrs. Griscom and family and friends left for their homes by the same train. The unfortunate accident is much lamented by the citizens of Penetanguishene, all [illegible]

WHELAN'S MONEY

Went to Pay Election Expenses for the Tories.

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF MR. TARTE

The Minister of Public Work Refutes the Assertions of His Calumniators in the Court House at Montreal—The Case for the Prosecution Completed.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—The hearing of the Tarte-Grenier libel case was resumed today before Judge Wurtele. The judge announced that the court would sit until 5 o'clock as he was anxious to get through with the case, he having to go to Quebec on the 30th inst. to sit in the Court of Appeals.

Hon. J. I. Tarte was cross-examined by Mr. C. A. Cornellier, Q.C., counsel for the defence. He stated that in 1896 in a conversation with J. P. Whelan, the latter had asked him if he had received the $5000 and fed him, the witness, to believe that the money came from him (Whelan). Had he known it came from Whelan, he would not have accepted it. He thought it came from Pacaud and Prefontaine, who had purchased Whelan's claim at a ridiculously low figure. Whelan declared that he was delighted that the witness had received the money.

"Can you tell us what became of that money?"

Mr. Tarte said: "I employed the money for the political purpose of the party to which I then belonged from the first to the last cent. If ordered to give names I will do so, but I take full responsibility for the transaction. I am in the hands of the court. I swear that not one cent of that money remained with me. The political men of the time know that I helped them."

The judge declared that it was not relevant to the case to know to whom the money was paid. There was no need of dragging the case.

Mr. Cornellier thought there were greater interests at stake, and if Mr. Tarte said he had paid money to Messrs. Taillon, Leblanc and Nantel, these people would deny it.

Mr. Tarte added that the money had been used to pay for the revision of lists and for other legal expenses.

Mr. Cornellier: "Is it not true that Mr. Charlebois was the treasurer of the party and that he had money to pay for the lists?"

Mr. Tarte could not remember that.

Mr. Cornellier: "Is it not true that at that time you offered your cheque for $50 to Mr. Casgrain and that he refused it?"

This was objected to, and the judge sustained the objection.

Mr. Tarte, in answer to another question, said that he had not been charged by the Conservative party with collecting $5000, and he had not solicited it, nor had his political friends helped him in getting the amount. Witness was then the chief organizer of the Conservative party.

Witness knew George Demers, broker, Quebec, from whom he was charged with having received $3000 illegally. In 1891, when engaged at Ottawa in the Langevin McGreevy case, being short of funds, he asked Charles Langelier, then Provincial Secretary, to give him an order for printing to the amount of $3000. This request, he added, was granted. This order was annexed to his own personal note and, being endorsed by Mr. Demers for a commission, was discounted at the bank. When the Quebec crisis came on, witness was notified by Mr. De Boucherville not to [illegible] the printing and it was not done. The [illegible] did not pay a cent. Witness not [illegible] to pay the note was put into [illegible] by Mr. Demers.

Mr. Tarte then introduced the matter of the Quebec aqueduct, which affair occasioned some considerable discussion at the time, about 15 years ago, when it was alleged that many members of the City Council of Quebec had been bribed to give the contract to Mr. H. J. Beemer.

In reply to questions, Mr. Tarte admitted that he had been paid money by a Mr. Trudel, who was supposed to have been a go-between, between Mr. Beemer and the Quebec City Council in the matter. Trudel had requested Mr. Tarte in the latter's capacity as a journalist, and the editor of Le Cadaulen, to do what he could to secure the awarding of the contract to Beemer. Witness had assured himself that Beemer's tender was really the lowest, and had done what he could to secure the contract for him. He could not remember just what sum he had received from Trudel for his services in this connection.

Mr. Cornellier then showed witness a memo of moneys alleged to have been paid to Mr. Tarte by Mr. McGreevy. Mr. Tarte, after looking at the slip, declared that it was not as it purported to be, in the handwriting of Mr. McGreevy. He had not, moreover, received any such sums as were mentioned.

"Mr. McGreevy is dead and cannot deny your statement," said Mr. Cornellier.

"Mr. McGreevy was alive during the Parliamentary inquiry at Ottawa in 1891," was Mr. Tarte's reply, "and if he had been able to say that my dealings with him had ever been crooked he would have said it."

Mr. Cornellier, having no further questions to ask Mr. Tarte, the latter stepped down, and his place in the witness box was taken by Edmond Leblanc of Montreal, who had printed La Libre Parole for the accused Grenier. Witness told of remarks which Grenier had made to him to the effect that he had tried to get money from the Minister of Public Works in order that he might make La Libre Parole his personal organ, but when Mr. Tarte had refused to give him the money he was going to avenge himself by attacking the Minister.

At the afternoon sitting the case for the prosecution was closed, and the defence will begin Monday.

THE SLAUGHTER WAS HEAVY.

One Hundred and Fifty Were Killed in That Indian Railroad Wreck.

Bombay, Sept. 25.—Recent advices from the scene of the wreck of the bridge of the Bangalore Misore Railroad, near Maddur, indicate that 150 persons were killed and 14 injured. Seventy persons succeeded in making their escape. Most of those killed and injured were natives. The train, which was crossing the bridge at a considerable rate of speed, has been entirely submerged by the waters of the river.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is reported that the Quebec Legislature will be called into session in November. The ministers are ready, and it is the wish of the Premier to have the session sufficiently early for prorogation to take place before the new year.

Mack in Saturday Night, apropos of the Hardy Government's timber policy, which he approves of, and which, he thinks, will greatly strengthen the Government, remarks that "Premier Hardy seems to have decided to ride into power on a saw log." That would be too tame a way for Mr. Whitney, who has decided to ride into power on a hog.

The Ottawa Free Press remarks: The Czar is evidently a wise man. He knows what is good and what is wholesome and nutritious. It is a feather in the cap of a Canadian business firm, the McKay Milling Co. for them to be favoured with an order for the Imperial use. At the same time it is a compliment to Canada and is also a splendid advertisement. Things seem coming our way from every direction. Who says that the Liberal government is not a mascot?

The Toronto Saturday Night has the following respecting the new timber regulations of the Ontario Government:—"City newspaper men must not run away with the idea that the action taken by the Ontario Government is unimportant. It will have a great effect upon the lumber trade of Ontario, and I am told that already, in anticipation of the Government's action, farmers' sons going into the woods for the winter are being offered $20 or $22 a month and board, where last year they only secured $12 and board. Wages in the camps will apparently be higher than for eight or ten years past, and far more Canadians employed. These facts mean much to large portions of Ontario.'

It is said on authority of a Quebec member that Sir Charles Tupper is sick of his job, that he is going to resign the leadership of the Conservative party and is en-route for Winnipeg to ask Hugh John Macdonald to take the position. Hugh John may have his father's nose, but it is well recognised that his father's brains are not behind it. Hugh John, if he takes the job and steps into Sir Charles Tupper's discredited shoes, will have to re-create a Conservative party badly disorganized, if not disintegrated through the squabbles of the erstwhile leading spirits in the party. How will Mr. Foster like the leader named? Will he submit tamely or will he pretend to submit and then organize another "nest of traitors." It is no surprise that a certain class of Conservative papers are trying to show that there are dissensions in the Liberal party—they know how it is themselves, and "misery loves company."

IMPORTANT TO CHEESE FACTORY PATRONS.

Emphatic Condemnation of Goods from Stock That Impair the Flavour of Milk.

Mr. A. F. McLaren, M.P., Stratford, in his address to the Western Dairymen's Association, as president, made the following remarks respecting the necessity of care in the feeding of stock, which are well worthy the attention of every patron of a cheese factory:—

"I do not wish to worry you, nor take up too much time by going into detail, but I do want to draw your attention to some important features of the past season's work, in which I think a great many improvements may be made, and which I hope will be fully discussed here. I cannot for my life understand why patrons who are supplying milk to cheese and butter factories will persist in feeding improper food to milch cows, knowing at the time they are doing so that the flavour of the butter or cheese will be impaired, and that with such food as turnips, rye, rape, apples, etc., the cheese will depreciate in value all the way from one-half cent to two and a half cents per pound according to the extent of injury to flavor. If they must grow food such as turnips, rye, apples, or anything which will injure the flavor in milk, butter or cheese, why not feed it to the other stock on the farm and not to the milch cows. I think I am within the limit when I state that I know at least forty factories where cheese have been rejected and resold at a reduced price of all the way from one-half cent to two and a half cents per pound because the patrons of those factories would persist in sending to the factory milk from cows which had been fed some of the above-named foods. All patrons of cheese factories are manufacturers, inasmuch as our factories are co-operative, and it should be to their interest to stop such practices which injure our good reputation for fine cheese and reduce or lessen their profits.

LUCKY CANADIANS.

Safeguards thrown Around Insurance will Assure Payments—Interesting to some Peterborough People.

Boston, September 24.—Canadian policy holders in the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association probably will be paid in full, and this payment will impair seriously the assets of the company to be divided among policy holders elsewhere.

The Canadians laws on insurance call for a deposit from every foreign company doing business in the Dominion. This deposit has to be made with the Canadian treasury at Ottawa, must be in investments approved by the Canadian treasury and held for the protection of the Canadian policy holders. The Massachusetts Benefit Life Association bought out from time to time several Canadian assessment companies, and this, together with a large amount of new business, built up a strong Canadian business. The amount of deposit varies according to the amount of the company's operations, and so the Massachusetts Benefit Association made a deposit of $100,000. This deposit was in the form of Dominion bonds and has a market value of $113,500. Now the Department of Justice of Canada has decided that this sum, being for the benfit of the Canadian policy holders, cannot be removed to the United States, but will be held by Canada for the purpose for which it was professedly intended. The Canadian courts have appointed liquidators for the association, and it is supposed that eventually the Canadian beneficaries of deceased Canadian members will get their claims paid in full from this money, and the balance will be divided among the Canadian living members.

The receivers of the association will file in a day or two with the courts an inventory of the assets and liabilities of the defunct corporation. The assets will show a material reduction over the sum popularly supposed to be the property of the company, and they will not amount to much more than $400,000. The death claims in Canada do not amount to more than $60,000.

DEATH OF LIEUT.-COL. DAWSON.

The Late Commandant of the Royal Grenadiers Taken Off With Startling Suddenness.

Toronto, Sept. 27.

A sudden gasp, a fall, and the soul of Lieut.-Col. George Dudley Dawson had taken as sudden a departure as had ever that of warrior on the field of battle.

It was at about 7.45 last evening, while entertaining a couple of old friends, Major Bruce, R. G., and Mr. George Torrance, that this widely-known Canadian soldier-citizen answered the last call. He who had often faced death before was overcome by the all-conquering enemy at last. Heart-disease had taken another victim.

Deceased had apparently enjoyed the best of health. He had taken a pleasant walk with a number of friends yesterday afternoon, and had never been in more jovial spirits. Major Bruce and Mr. Torrance had returned with him to his home, 236 College-street, to dine. Their host was about showing them to the table when he fell to the floor. Dr. Sprague was immediately summoned, but in a few minutes the ex-commander of the Royal Grenadiers was dead.

A widow and four children mourn a kindly husband and father's loss. Of the latter, Miss Dawson and Miss Birdie Dawson live at home. Richard, the eldest son, lives in Montreal, and Dudley is in a branch of the Dominion Bank at Uxbridge.

Of late years deceased had been conducting a large wine business under the firm name of G. D. Dawson & Co. at 16 King-street west. The news of his sudden death was a great shock to his many friends, and his military companions were about to make preparations for a military funeral, but the family desired that it should be private.

The arrangements for the funeral, which will take place to-morrow, are being carried out by Mr. Millard.

Lieut.-Col. Dawson retired from the command of the Royal Grenadiers, retaining rank, on Dec. 1, 1893, when he was succeeded by the present commander, Lieut.-Col. Mason. He was born on Jan. 7, 1839, in the County of Carlow, Ireland. He was the second son of Rev. George B. Dawson, who was for more than 30 years rector of the parish of Agade in that county. His mother was a sister of Lieut.-Gen. Sir Dudley Hill, K.C.B. From this side of the house he derived both martial instincts and a name. Gen. Hill died in command of a division in India in 1852. Young Dawson received his education by private tuition at Kilkenny College, and entered the army when 16 years of age, on March 16, 1855. He was ordered to the Crimea in October of the same year, but when the ship arrived at Malta, news of the armistice was received, and no more troops were sent on. He remained at Malta for a year, and returned to England in the autumn of 1856. He served in various parts of England and Ireland from 1856 to 1861. He took a first-class certificate at the School of Musketry, Hythe, in 1859, and acted as assistant instructor of musketry to a depot battalion at Cork and also at Athlone, Ireland, for two years.

He came to Canada with the 47th Regiment in 1861, and he held the appointment of out-post officer for four years at Kingston, Hamilton and Toronto. He also acted as brigade major to the field force under Col. Lowry during the Fenian raid at Fort Erie in 1866. In 1867 he sold out at Halifax. He married on Jan. 7, 1869, Elizabeth, eldest daughter of the late R. P. Crooks, barrister of this city, and niece of Hon. Adam Crooks, late Minister of Education for Ontario. He went into business as a wine merchant in 1870 at Toronto, in partnership with Mr. E. H. Foster, but the latter retired from the partnership in 1875. He founded in 1871 the Bodega Wine Company of Canada, with branches at Montreal and Ottawa. On the reorganization of the old 10th Royals, under the name of the Royal Grenadiers, in 1880, under Lieut.-Col. Grasett, he became senior major of the regiment and assisted largely in its development. While bearing this rank, Major Dawson served all through the Northwest Rebellion and was wounded in the leg while charging with the Grenadiers at Ba

That his services were appreciated would appear from the following, which appeared in the militia general orders June 1, 1898: "To be lieutenant-colonel, Major George Dudley Dawson (late 47th Foot), vice Henry J. Grasett, retired, retaining rank."

It was then that he assumed command of the regiment in which he had served with such distinction. On Nov. 13 of the same year the time-worn colors of the old 10th Royals were replaced by the ladies of Toronto with new ones, embroidered with the word "Batoche." It was in the presence of such men as General Sir Fred Middleton, the then Lieut.-Col. Otter, Lieut.-Col. Grasett, Lieut.-Col. G. T. Denison, G. G. B. G.; Lieut.-Col. Allen, Major Delamere, Hon. G. W. Allan and Hon. G. W. Ross, who witnessed the presentation, that Major Clarke congratulated the regiment and its colonel on behalf of their fellow-citizens, "for the noble name the regiment has earned."

Lieut.-Col. Dawson was permitted in general orders to retire from the command, retaining rank, on Dec. 1, 1893. In his valedictory address to the regiment, on his retirement, he said: "Lieut.-Col. Dawson, in taking leave of the Royal Grenadiers, in which he has served for 13 years, and has had the honor to command for the past six, desires to tender his thanks to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the regiment for their support and operation during his period of command. He takes pride in the fact that during his command two companies were added to the strength of the regiment, the colors were re-decorated by the ladies of Toronto, while the word 'Batoche' was emblazoned on their folds, and that the enthusiasm and esprit de corps of all ranks were never greater than at the present time. Lieut.-Col. Dawson now says farewell to the Grenadiers, with the assurance that the corps will always keep and maintain in the future the distinguished position and prestige it has earned in the past, both on the field and in their native city, and that they will hold fast to their motto, 'Ready, Aye Ready.'"

AMATEUR ATHLETES.

Some Record Smashing at Toronto on Saturday.

NEW YORKERS MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Wefers Made a New Mark for the 220 Yards —J. Flanagan Excelled in Throwing the Hammer and Long in Jumping Orton's Two Mile Race.

Toronto, Sept. 27.

The 11th annual and most successful championship meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association was held on Saturday afternoon on the Rosedale grounds under the most favorable circumstances, but owing to the many counter attractions the crowd was much smaller than on previous years. All the events were keenly contested, the best athletes being present from all over the continent. Most of the prizes went to the New York Athletic Club.

Breaking records seemed to be the order of the day, for Wefers established a new world's record mark for the 220 yards race, while J. Flanagan beat the Canadian record for throwing the 16-pound hammer by a good margin. Long established a new figure for the 440 yards event, beating the old one by 1 second. Bloss now heads the Canadian record for the running broad jump.

It was just 2.35 when the first event was started, it being the three-mile walk, with four starters, Fetterman taking the lead from the start and won by over a lap. Smith, the fourth man, dropped out.

The hundred yard dash was run off in heats, the first having five starters and was won by Wefers in good style. The second heat had only two in it, and was won by MacKenzie.

Putting the 16-pound shot had five competitors, Joe Gray getting the prize with Gill a close second.

The final of the hundred yards went to Wefers, the time being equal to the Canadian record.

The mile race had six starters. Grant took the lead and led it to the back stretch on the last lap, where he was done, and Cregan, going to the front, won handily. In this race Brodie was well to the front, but in the fourth lap he and lost so much that he did not show.

Throwing the 56-pound weight had six competitors and went to Flanagan, the Irishman, by over five feet ahead of O'Rourke.

The 220 yards was run off in heats. The first had three starters and was won by Long of New York. The second had four starters and was won by Wefers of New York in the easiest manner.

The pole high leap had only three entries and they finished Knox, Sinclair, Pearle.

Then came the best race of the day, the final in the 220 yards, and was won by Wefers with a new record. Wefers is one of the prettiest runners ever seen in Canada, and proved a great favorite with the crowd.

The 880 yards race was a good one, but the time was rather slow. It had five starters, and went to Mannell of New Jersey, with Stephens a good second.

The broad jump had six competitors. On the second trial Bloss made a new record, and none of the others came near it.

The two-mile bicycle championship was ridden off and was won by Fred Robinson, T.A.C., who won his novice at Chatham, and surprised a lot of wheelmen by beating Thompson and McEachern Saturday.

The high jump was a hard contest, having five competitors, two of them falling at 5 ft. 9in., while Carroll, N.Y.A.C., got it at 5.11, a very moderate jump.

Throwing the 16-pound hammer was a gift to Flanagan, who won by over 23 feet.

The two-mile was Orton's all the way, he taking the lead at the start, and finished, making a show of his field with such men as Finley, Grant and Williams.

The 120 yards hurdle race was run off next and went to Thompson, with Rogers a good second and Harding third.

In the 440 yards race, another record was smashed by Long of New York A.C., he fairly running away from Wefers, Hubbard, Manvell and several other well-known runners.

After this event Wefers was taken ill, as he had fairly outrun himself going into this race, the distance being too long for him.

In the evening the athletes adjourned to the Queen's, where they were presented with their medals by President George H. Gooderham, who got off a nice little speech to each and every one, thus bringing to a close the most successful meeting of the A.A.A. of C. In a neat speech Harry Brophy of Montreal remarked on the successful day, saying that other cities must certainly envy Toronto for the records that were made.

TORONTO HUNT CLUB.

Favorites Bowled Over at the Woodbine on Saturday.

Indian summer weather favored the Toronto Hunt Club for the opening of the fall races Saturday afternoon on the Ontario Jockey Club's course at Woodbine Park. The attendance was fair, between 2000 and 3000.

Don Pedro and Odd Genius, both Toronto horses, were the only winning favorites, the first four races going to outsiders, Thomas Cat, 4 to 1; Papa Harry, 6 to 1; Sunburn, 4 to 1, and Evaline, 6 to 1.

Two noted race track figures at the meeting were Snapper Garrison, the greatest finisher in a saddle America has ever seen, and Ed Corrigan, the Master of Bay Lorne, one of the most prominent racing men of the West.

A field of six good ones was well sent away for the opening race of the meeting. Marsian was the first to show, where nearly all the way, being nosed out at the finish by another outsider, Thomas Cat. The pair finished all out, and with a big gap of daylight between them and Ad. in receipt of a strongly-played Wordsworth. Harrington, the split favorite, was never in the money. Friendship looked dangerous at the end of the stretch, but tired badly the last eighth.

The money poured into the ring on Monotonia in the second race, and the Brennan horse went to the post a hot favorite. The big field went away to a fair start, but the public's choice was never heard of. It was Papa Harry all the way, with Monk Wayman and Einstein fighting it out for the place from the ¼ pole, the former getting second money by a head. The winner was lightly played for the place, as was also Monk Wayman and Einstein.

The flat race for novice hunters had four starters, and either owing to bad jockeyship or poor starting, the favorite was several lengths behind the bunch in getting away, and then almost secured the verdict from Sunburn, well ridden by Dr. Capron. This was another bad dump for public and talent.

The Woodbine Stakes looked a hard one to pick, and so it was. The public knew nothing of Evaline, and this good filly of A. Roberts landed a nice purse easily. Storm King looked dangerous for a mile, when Evaline came up strong and won by over a length, under a pull. Kinney seemed in trouble the greater part of the journey, and, with Bantock, carried the bulk of the money.

The Steeplechase was replete with accidents. Springal and Colonist went down at the third jump, the jockey on the old Queen's Plate winner (Stewart) receiving a good shaking up. W. C. Hayes' Sayonora hit the turf in the Irish jump, broke his front leg and was shot. Royal Oak was running well, when he fell at the 17th jump and left Don Pedro, Prince Mark and Prize to fight it out. Pedro won pulled up. Rothert & Gorman, with Odd Genius, landed their second race of the day, and made a crowd of speculators happy, very many backing the favorite. It was a bad start, Odd Genius, the only favorite on the flat to land, being the first to show. He run easy around the turn, going back into the bunch, but easily took his place again, winning by a couple of lengths. There was quite a race for the place at the finish, Red Monk coming strong. The Maniac shut up at the betting ring. Nearly every horse in the race was played one of the three ways, and although the first choice won, the books had the best of it.

AN OTTAWA LADY

SUBJECT TO VERY SEVERE NERVOUS HEADACHES

Gives an account of her rescue from the constant torture.

Mrs. A. E. Enright, 454 Lisgar street, Ottawa, Ont., spoke as follows to our reporter. "I have for a long time been subject to very severe nervous headaches, and was also affected by general nervous prostration. My rest at night was much broken, and I arose in the morning almost as tired as when I went to bed.

I have taken a number of medicines which did not help me to any great extent. I am thankful to say, however, that I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using them for a few days became very much better.

Now I am free from nervousness; the headaches have disappeared; I sleep well, and arise in the morning refreshed and reinvigorated for the duties of the day. I am better in every way, and think that aside from being the best heart and nerve remedy I ever used, that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as a general systematic tonic excel any other medicine in existence.

Opera House To-Night.

Read what the Belleville Sun says:—"A well-satisfied audience witnessed the production of 'The New Wing,' an English comedy by a talented company, at the Carman opera house last night. The piece abounds in ludicrous situations and of an amusing dialogue. In so well-balanced and capable a company, comparisons are hardly in place, but the acting of Charles Lamb, Ottis Shattuck, Earl Ryder, who were here less than a year ago with 'My Friend from India' Company, Elizabeth Whitney and Neva Harrison, was particularly worthy of mention. It is to be regretted that they did not have a full house, as both the play and the company deserved it." Don't miss this attraction to-night. It is the best of the season. They Won from Gore's Landing by Three Goals to None on Saturday last on the P.A.A.A. Grounds.

That the interest in Association Football is steadily on the increase in Peterborough was evidenced on Saturday afternoon by the increased attendance, over the previous game, which was in evidence to witness the match between the Gore's Landing team and the local Electrics.

The game was one well worth witnessing, being replete with fine combination work on the wings and brilliant individual efforts amongst the backs and halves.

The teams were lined up before Referee F. D. Kerr as follows:

Gore's Landing.		Electrics.
D McAllister	goal	Hoosy
W McAllister	backs	Burnham
W Herald	backs	Simpson
W Harris	halves	Wilgar
G Wallace	halves	Bird
H Andrews	halves	Jackson
McCracken	forwards	Foley
Dr Murray	forwards	Brooksback
J Foley	forwards	Crowley
A Foley	forwards	Simpson
Dr Pratt	forwards	Munro

The ball was kicked off shortly before three o'clock, and Gore's Landing seemed to have the best of the play for the first few minutes, and worked the ball down to the Peterborough goal with a succession of rushes. In a scrimmage beside the goal the ball went over the line giving the visiting team a corner kick. Peterborough was waiting for the ball, and though the visitors tried to rush it through, the Electrics cleared their goal and working steadily up the field, nearly tallied by a kick from Simpson. Down the field the ball came again and the visitors stood a good chance to score, only one of their men in the excitement of the moment got too far ahead and thus occasioned an offside play, giving the Peterboroughs a free kick and allowing them to regain the advantage.

The ball was continually being kicked over the line, particularly by the visiting team at their own end, thus giving the Electrics many corner kicks, which Wilgar developed a great capability for dropping just in front of the goal. It was off one of these corner kicks that Brooksback finally scored for Peterborough, drawing first blood. Time, 26 minutes.

It just took the Electrics four minutes to add another goal to their tally, Jim Foley doing the needful.

Gore's Landing then braced up and made things lively for the Electrics, many shots being made on the goal. The Peterborough defence, however, proved too strong to be penetrated. Hoosy, however, had to make several good stops to save his goal and Burnham and Simpson had their hands full for a time. When the attack eased up a little Peterborough resumed the aggressive and the play was very fast, being for some time apparently in favour of the boys from the Landing. After 26 minutes' play, as the result of a nice piece of combination work between Simpson, Munro and Willie Crowley, the latter scored.

No more tallying was done before time was called and the match ended in Peterborough's favour by three goals to none.

There were a large number of the Young's Point players, down to see the game and challenges were flying through the air.

Harry Andrews, of the Point, who played with Gore's Landing, was the star player on the field. It is said that he is the best half back in Ontario.

Mr. Stevens, Superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Works, was an interested spectator of the match and took a number of Kodak views of the game as it progressed.

Hal. Burnham plays a very strong game at back. It was seldom that the ball passed him.

Gore's Landing had two doctors on the team.

The Simpson Bros. play the game well.

Munro is quite a star on combination work and brought the ball down the field from Wilgar time and again.

Bird is a difficult man to pass on the half back line.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

There Will be a Number of Matches Played in Town This Year.

That Rugby football is going to boom in Peterborough this year is apparent by the way the players are turning out for practice.

Yesterday afternoon there was a regular mob of the canvas-clothed gladiators wrestling for a couple of hours on the P.A.A.A. lawn. Quite a few of the old players were out, but a large amount of new blood is being infused, and the younger members are going into the game with great enthusiasm.

Manager Smith is hustling things, and is trying to bring Osgoode II team down for a game on Saturday. If the Toronto boys come, they should be given a rousing reception, as they are a fast lot of men, who will give the local men all they can do to get the best of the contest.

Amongst those who were noticed out at practice on Saturday were Hal Burnham, A. A. Hollingshead, Chris. Graham, Garnet Bell, Bert Belleghem, W. Bird, W. Wilgar, Andy Scott, Simpson, brothers, — Bradburn, Bruce Rickey, Norman Bell, John Burnham, Sandy Hall and Clarence Bell. Les. Forbes, an old 'Varsity man, was acting as coach, and gave the boys a number of valuable pointers.

A meeting of the club will be held in the curling rink to-night. The rink has been secured for evening practice, and will be lighted. Some important matters will also be attended to.

EMERALD BENEFICIAL ASSOCIATION.

Meeting of the Grand Branch in Lindsay —Important Matters under Consideration.

The Grand Branch of the Emerald Beneficial Association is in session in Lindsay to-day. Mr. James Drain is representing the local E. B. A. branch. Amongst the important matters to be discussed is the proposed amalgamation of the Emeralds and the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union. Representatives from the latter society will be present at this session and it is expected both societies will amalgamate and become known as the Catholic Benevolent Union.

A CHANCE FOR THE COUNCIL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In view of the possibility of the Dickson Company resuming business in Peterborough, would it not be well for us as a municipality to show our appreciation of an important industry such as this, by assisting the company by means of exemption from taxation? The Board of Trade should make a move.

The Chief Establishes his Identity as George Foy, a Local Butcher, and Brings the Prisoner Back to Town.

Chief Roszel returned on Saturday night from Grimsby with the prisoner George Foy, whom he went there to bring to Peterborough on a charge of horse-stealing.

The story connected with Foy's apprehension is a curious one. The prisoner has been in the butchering business in town for some time, and on account of a fire and a robbery, which occurred on his premises, and about which the police thought he knew too much, he has been regarded with suspicion and has been under surveillance more than once in connection with matters in which the police were interested.

During the summer Foy made many night trips into the country and at one time he was closely watched on this account, as the county constabulary had their suspicions to what took him out of town in this manner.

These little excursions, however, ceased when Foy learned of the interest which was being taken in them. He then hired a democrat and horse from Mr. T. Fitzgerald, for the purpose, he stated, of disposing of some patent right through the county.

This was about the middle of August, and twice in every week some member of the Foy family would call in and tell Mr. Fitzgerald how well George was doing and that he would be home in a few days. As this went on for about six weeks Mr. Fitzgerald began to feel a little uneasy concerning his outfit, but did not lay any information with the police.

On Friday afternoon Chief Roszel received a telegram from W. H. House, county constable at Grimsby, as follows:

"Do you know J. H. Hunter, or Mrs. Foy Hunter here with horse and rig that is stolen? Answer."

Naturally, the chief in reading the message, punctuated the telegram by placing a full stop after "Mrs. Foy Hunter." He taxed his memory and all his resources to ascertain who J. H. Hunter could be. Suddenly the word "Foy" brought a thought into his mind and he was soon in communication with Mr. Fitzgerald and was in possession of all the facts connected with George Foy and the outfit which he had hired. A description both of Foy and the rig was telegraphed to Grimsby and the answer came back over the wires, "Description correct. Foy under arrest. Admitted everything."

Chief Roszel then left on the afternoon train for his man, returning on Saturday evening, when Foy was remanded until Friday, confessing his guilt.

The Chief learned at Grimsby that Foy was placed under arrest at the Lincoln House, where he registered as J. H. Hunter, Kingston. At the time he was trying to sell his horse and democrat for seventy-five dollars. Word had come to the Grimsby police to be on the watch for a horse thief from Fergus, driving a democrat made by the Tudhope Carriage Company, of Orillia, and as Foy's democrat was made by this firm, he was immediately arrested, suspicion having been directed to him by the small price he wanted for the outfit. On the prisoner's person were found three receipts for registered letters, two addressed to Mrs. Foy, Peterborough, and one to Mrs. Geo. Foy, Lakefield, and it was to get information about the man that the telegram was sent to Peterborough, and the placing of the full stop after the words "Mrs. Foy" would have made the unravelling of the mystery a little easier. The Chief, however, deserves great credit for the ability which he displayed in working out the correct solution to the problem and identifying Foy as the prisoner.

On the arrival of Chief Roszel in Grimsby Foy confessed to having attempted to sell the horse, and stated that he was on his way to Detroit at the time, intending to work around by the lake shore.

The horse and democrat are being driven home from Grimsby by one of Mr. Fitzgerald's men, who accompanied the chief up west.

ONTARIO'S GRAND OLD MAN.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT WILL BE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF ONTARIO.

He Will be Succeeded in the Cabinet, as Minister of Justice, by Hon. David Mills.

It has been for some time pretty well understood, and a special despatch from Ottawa gives confirmation, that Sir Oliver Mowat has consented to take the Lieutenant-Governorship of Ontario upon the approaching retirement of Sir George Kirkpatrick, which will take place within a month or so.

It may now be stated definitely that Sir Oliver will succeed Sir George Kirkpatrick and the change will occur during the course of the next few weeks.

With regard to Sir Oliver's successor as Minister of Justice, it is understood that the portfolio has been offered to the Hon. David Mills, whose decision may be shortly expected. Sir Oliver's appointment as Lieut.-Governor of the province, whose affairs he administered so well for nearly a quarter of a century, is a fitting recognition of the distinguished services he has given.

HANDSOME RECOGNITION OF FAITHFUL SERVICE.

Liberal Treatment of the Family of the Late Mr. Rogers.

The Bank of Montreal is our greatest monetary institution and no doubt a large share of its prosperity is due to the faithful manner it is served by its officials and employees and no doubt this faithful service is in a large part due to the liberal manner in which the servants of the Bank are dealt with.

A case in point is that of the late lamented manager in Peterborough, Mr. F. J. Rogers. In addition to a gratuity of $1,000, Mrs. Rogers is granted a quarterly allowance for life, whose amount cannot, of course, be learned, but it is understood to be a not unhandsome percentage of the salary drawn by the late Mr. Rogers, as manager.

DIED.

RUTHERFORD—In Peterborough on Saturday, 25th September, 1897, Mary Louise, eldest daughter of Mr. Christopher Rutherford, aged 3 years and 8 months.

Can't Eat

This is the complaint of thousands at this season. They have no appetite; food does not relish. They need the toning up of the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distress after eating and internal misery only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

CRUSADE AGAINST TRAMPS.

Six of them brought before the Police Magistrate this Morning.

Detective Ross of the C. P. R., is instituting a lively crusade against the tramps all along the line of this division, and this morning had six of them before Police Magistrate Dumble, having captured them with the assistance of the police and Constable Moore.

One big strapping fellow gave his name as John Dempsey. He was stealing a ride west, and is evidently not disposed to work when he can earn his money in an easier manner. The following card, which gave away his tactics badly, was found on his person, together with a big bunch of similar documents.

A SIMPLE REQUEST.

In this world of sin and sorrow,
With its shadows and its frowns,
In the midst of the great army
I am battling with the throngs;
Young, and rendered almost helpless
By misfortune's cruel sway,
These few words I tender to you,
As a cripple's plaintive lay.
In the race for earthly honour,
Some will prosper, some will fail;
In the strife the friendless cripple
Will find his efforts of no avail;
So to smooth life's rugged journey
This, my song, I offer thee,
Hoping after its perusal
You'll not forget my simple plea.

Price: Give what you wish.

He was sent up for three months' hard labour.

Vickery and Doyle, two lads whom the detective identified as Esplanade loafers in Toronto and patrons of Woodbridge Fair, were caught riding the bumpers on their way home from the Ottawa Exhibition. Vickery, the youngest, was allowed to go and tell the news, whilst Doyle was fined $10 or ten days in gaol. He took the days, as did Wm. Morrison, Thos. Tyler and John Walkinshaw. The latter three were going east when caught.

Detective Rosslle going to spend the next few months in running these gentry down, as there have been altogether too many box cars broken into lately.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affections of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson of the Standard Bank now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

You'll Miss it if You Miss It.

The Daughters of England, in connection with Lady Lansdowne Lodge No. 22, will hold an interesting tea and concert in S. O. E. Hall on Thursday, 30th Sept. Tickets 25c, children half price. A spicy programme is being prepared. Come all. 6d

PERSONAL.

Mr. John Green has returned from a pleasant trip to Niagara Falls.

At the annual meeting of the Undertakers' Association, Mr. D. Belleghem, ex-president, was elected a member of the executive committee.

Miss Philp, daughter of Mr. Joseph Philp, George street, leaves this evening to take a course in the Brantford Hospital Training School for Nurses.

Messrs. A. J. and R. P. Gough left today for Guelph, to attend the funeral of their nephew, Dr. Alexander Gough Day, who died on Saturday in St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Joseph Dwyer, gold medalist of Ottawa Normal School, left Saturday for Duck Lake, Saskatchewan, where he has accepted the position of teacher of the school there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stubbs, of Peterborough, were visitors to Omemee the past week. They were the guests at the homes of Mr. W. D. Stinson and Mr. Alex. Jones, says the Mirror.

Mr. Harry King and Hubert McBain rode on their bikes to Whitby, Saturday, returning yesterday afternoon, and report having a good time. They feel a little tired to-day.

Miss Ida Morris, of Pembroke, is visiting at Mrs. C. B. McAllister's, Charlotte street. Mrs. McAllister will receive Wednesday evening this week instead of on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Burton Brooks, who now holds the important position of the superintendey of one of the departments in the Royal Electric Works, Montreal, is home for a day or two visiting his father, who has been rather unwell.

Major Snelgrove, of Cobourg, who was recently elected High Court Ranger of the Ancient Order of Foresters, was banqueted by his friends in recognition of the high honour of his election.

Hon. Edward Blake returned to Toronto last week, looking brown as a berry and very well after a holiday at Murray Bay. Mrs. Blake is to return in a few days. Mr. Blake will not return to England before the new year.

Rev. S. J. Shorey, pastor of the George street Methodist church, will conduct the dedicatory services in connection with the fine new Methodist church at Bensfort on Sunday, Oct. 3rd, and address a tea meeting on the following evening.

Thos. Walters, of Lindsay, Superintendent of Public Works for the Ontario Government, was in town on Saturday in connection with some improvements which the Government intend making on Squaw River, Harvey township. The improvements are for the purpose of retaining the water in the spring to aid the settlers in getting their logs to market.

Dr. George Ferris, of Campbellford, was married on Wednesday last to Miss Bessie McCallum, of Cobourg. The function was a great society event in Cobourg and the heartiest good wishes are extended to Dr. and Mrs. Ferris by their many friends in Peterborough. The wedding presents, which were enumerated in the Cobourg papers, were very numerous and selected with much taste.

The Omemee Mirror of Sept. 23rd, says: "Dr. F. J. Bradd, Mrs. Bradd and their children, Stanley, Eva and Alta, and Mr. James McCormack all left town to-day for Peterborough, where they will reside in future. Omemee's loss will be Peterborough's gain. The Doctor was always foremost in any action for the benefit of this community. We join with his host of friends in this vicinity in wishing him and family continued success."

Miss Hendren, of Lakefield, has been visiting Mrs. (Rev.) J. J. Rae in Bowmanville. At the anniversary services in the Methodist Sunday school, she assisted with the singing. The West Durham News says: "The choir, assisted by Miss Hendren of Peterborough, rendered some choice selections at both services. A quartette at the morning service by Misses James and Saunders and Messrs. Knight and Frost was worthy of special note, as was also a duet in the evening by Misses Hendren and James. Miss Hendren also gave a solo at the morning service, but the best of the entire programme was her rendering of "Rock of Ages" at the close of the evening service. It was simply beautiful and will long be remembered by those who heard her. Miss Hendren during her visit to our town has made many warm friends and will always be a welcome visitor here."

VICTORIA MUSEUM.

The Committee was Successful in Raising $100 by Subscription very Quickly.

The members of the Town and County of Peterborough Historical Society appointed to raise $100 by general subscription to add to the grants of $200 from the town and $100 from the county, for the purpose of providing the necessary cases and furnishings for the Victoria Museum, beg to acknowledge with thanks the generous and hearty response made by those citizens who were asked to subscribe, so that the whole amount was obtained in a very short time.

The Museum Committee is now in a position to proceed with the fittings, and will be pleased to receive immediate contributions of articles, books, documents, etc., of interest, from any person who will make a gift or loan of the same to the Museum, through the secretary or other member of the society, so that suitable cases can be provided for them.

On Tuesday and Thursday, from 5 to 6.30; other afternoons at 4.30. Every player is also requested to be on hand for indoor work every evening, commencing at 7 o'clock. For this purpose a suitable building has been obtained, and Capt. Letellier will endeavour to instruct the players in some of the important points of the game.

LACROSSE.

Apparently the lacrosse club is going to take the biggest excursion of the year to Markham to-morrow to witness the last game in the semi-finals. Markham is quite satisfied with the showing they made in Peterborough and think that on their own grounds they will be able to make up the four goals which they lost here. It will be a great game to witness, and as there will be no more played here this season, Peterborough enthusiasts will not have another opportunity of seeing the team play this year, as the finals will be played up west; to-morrow's team will be composed of Dobbin, Brown, Mein, Glover, Borland, McCabe, Galley, Rubidge, Phelan, King, Lipsett and McCabe. W. E. Lech will act as field captain.

THE TURF.

Dr. Johnston has returned from Lindsay where he attended the exhibition and entered his chestnut mare, "Fleetwings," who has a 2.27½ mark, for the "free for all" trot or pace. Dr. Johnston is not all satisfied with the management of the event. In the drawing for places Fleetwings drew fifth position and as the track is very narrow, had to start in the race as a trailer. Notwithstanding this, in the first heat she captured the pole and came under the wire several lengths in advance of the nearest of the field. This entitled her to the pole in the second heat and a good start was made. The fight was between Fleetwings, Lisbon (2.16 mark), Keswick (2.18 mark), and Evergood (2.24 mark). These four got a fine start from the wire, but the Doc.'s mare took the lead rapidly and before the quarter turn she had a lead of over 100 yards. To recover his lost ground Keswick's driver urged his horse so much that he broke four or five times in the first three quarters. By this running he managed to collar her and then dropped into the pace, as the home stretch was approached. Then Fleetwings' driver waved his whip over her and the little mare responded gamely and gave he dust to Keswick again and came home an easy winner, twenty or twenty-five feet ahead. Then comes the funny work. Before the heat was called by the judges Curtis, the owner of Keswick, made the false charge that Fleetwings' driver had beaten Keswick over the head. The statement was greeted by the crowd with derisive yells and shouts of, "its a lie." Then Fleetwings' driver was called to the stand and, on being asked, asserted that he had not touched Keswick with his whip—it was impossible for him to do so, because Keswick failed to get near enough to him. In spite of this, the decision was given so quickly that Dr. Johnston had no chance to explain. The decision was to give the heat to Keswick and set Fleetwings back to second place.

Dr. Johnston at once went into the judges' stand and protested the heat on account of Keswick's running, also protesting against the judges' decision, stating that unless the mare was given the place she had fairly won he would withdraw her and sue for the money.

He was offered second money if he would let his horse start again for the next heat, but he wanted first place or none. The race was detained an hour, whilst the president and directors endeavoured to persuade Dr. Johnston to let Fleetwings start again, but he stood up for fair play, and finally sent the mare down town to her stable. She was followed by several hundred from the race track, who took occasion to hiss the judges before they left. Such a disgraceful contretemps on the speeding track will probably have the effect of spoiling the races there next year.

CANADIAN MINING PLANTS.

Stamp Mills Being Erected in Hastings Algoma and the Kootenay.

Toronto World.

Canadian manufacturers of machinery bid fair to displace their American competitors in supplying mining plants to companies operating in the various mineral areas of the Dominion. The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, of Peterborough, Ont., and the Jenks Manufacturing Company of Sherbrooke, Que., are devoting considerable attention to this branch of the trade, and with excellent results.

Mr. William Hamilton, jr., of the first named company, who is at the Queen's, told the World last night that they are now putting in stamp mills on five mining properties in Hastings, Algoma and the Kootenay. Their latest contract is for the installation of a ten-stamp mill for the Cordova Exploration Company at the Belmont gold mines near Marmora, of which Mr. David Kerr is manager, and in which Mr. A. W. Carscallen, M.P., is a chief owner.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 98.

Mr. T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes "I have been afflicted for some time with Kidney and Liver Complaints, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity, and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Thin Folds and Ruffles.

"What a pity Miss So and So will wear so many ruffles on her gown," said an observing man of the world. "It accentuates the fact that she is rather thin, and her motive should be to bring out by graceful folds and softer trimmings those curves of the figure that are a woman's great attraction.

"Pray do not let her hear you," said a lady listening. "She imagines that she is so much thinner than she really is, and she spends all her allowance in the dainty edges that finish those countless ruffles. But I believe she ought to know the mistake she makes," continued the lady, "and I am going to tell her." At that moment the young lady in question joined the two people discussing her, and, as she seated herself, looked with pride at her muchly trimmed dress, that had ruffles from the waist line to the bottom of it, and was rather heavy, too, since there was exactly upon it fifty yards of white muslin ruffling.

Her expression somewhat changed, however, when her lady critic remarked: "We were just saying that you made a mistake by wearing so many ruffles; it produces an effect of angles instead of the curves that make natural and charming the feminine figure."

"But," at once exclaimed the young woman, "I am so very thin, and these fluffy ruffles add to my size."

"There is where you are mistaken," replied the gentleman. "Many thin women make that mistake. You say you weigh a hundred and ten pounds, and your friend, Mrs. So and So over there, only weighs a hundred pounds, yet she looks rounder than you do, and her gown is simply fashioned, but quite as dressy as yours with all its ruffles. She appreciates that the curves of her shoulders and the general outline of her figure are good and has her corsage so fashioned that none of this is distinguished."

The young woman by this time, scrutinizing herself in a long mirror and then glancing at the lady who wore but few ruffles, had to acknowledge that her critics observed what was true and reasonable. Her ruffles seemed to wilt as she realized their superfluity, but she was in a degree consoled when the gentleman in the party remarked: "It is a very erroneous idea for women to suppose that men do not admire thin women."

TWO BIG FIRES IN TORONTO.

Bijou Theatre and Adjacent Property Suffers Eckhard's Wholesale House Again Scorched Boy Killed.

Toronto, Sept. 25.

The fire fiend was rampant yester day in Toronto, there being two herce conflagrations, as well as minor blazes. As the result of the one that occurred at the Bijou Theatre buildings and surrounding premises on Yonge-street in the evening a boy named Bertie Escott, who lived at 173 Victoria-street, is dead, and a dozen are injured, some perhaps fatally.

The fire which damaged the Bijou Theatre and the adjacent buildings seems to have started from an unknown cause somewhere around 6 o'clock in the old McGee foundry, at the rear of the Bijou Theatre and Rogers' furniture store. The building was a wooden structure thoroughly hidden from view by the surrounding buildings, and the flames got a great headway before they were discovered by Policeman Redford, who rang box 21 at King and Yonge, and Nightwatchman Burrows, who rang box 31, at Adelaide and Yonge. When the firemen arrived the fire had extended to the Bijou Theatre by way of the roof and entered the stage portion of the building. Here it spread very quickly, and extended south to the three-storey vacant factory owned by Mr. S. H. Janes.

The United Service gents' furnishing store, which is between the Bijou and Matthews' store, was flooded, and the upper storeys of the Bijou Building were gutted by fire.

The dreadful fatality which accompanied the fire occurred when the horses attached to the J. B. Boustead engine took fright and run amuck among a crowd on Victoria street, killing Percy Escott, a 7-year-old boy living at 173 Victoria street, and severely injuring a number of others.

When the Boustead engine reached Victoria-street Whitesides and Atkinson had considerable difficulty with the horses, a young and comparatively new team, which, excited by the yelling of the crowd and the glare of the flames, began to show signs of restiveness. Both men jumped from their seats and ran towards the horses' heads, but the crowd pushed in and hampered them. It was at this moment that the tragedy started. The pressure in the engine boiler reached 160 lbs., and the safety valves hopped off with a sharp, vicious sound which put the finishing touch to the frightened condition of the horses. They snorted, reared and plunged forward just as Whitesides and Atkinson reached their heads. Both men clutched the reins, but it was too late. The animals had got the bits between their teeth, and with a sudden dash they dragged the men down, and both were run over. The maddened animals sprang into the dense crowd on Victoria-street. Their first bound carried them on the pavement in front of the British Canadian Loan and Investment Building, and the engine wheels struck the curb with a force which bent the spokes and nearly upset the ponderous machine. Then they turned towards the east side of the street, scattering the people who, packed into a mass, were unable to get out of the way. The boy Escott was among the first victims, the wheels passing over his body almost at the same instant that Fred Beube was struck down with a fractured skull. Miller and Hodges went down at the same time, and the animals turned towards Victoria Exchange Hotel, swerving, however, just opposite, where the engine collided with the hook and ladder truck. They swung off from that and dashed down to King-street without further casualty to the crowd, who by this time rushed to each side of the street. At the foot of Victoria they swung the engine into the Wilton avenue reel, where they were seized and stopped.

Fred Miller, a young man who lives at 34 Gerrard-street west, was one of the victims of the runaway horses, and he is laid up in bed with one of his legs badly crushed below the knee and the other leg also injured.

Alfie Thomson, the 11-year-old son of Robert L. Thomson, a tailor, who lives at 25 Gerrard-street west, was another of the victims of the runaway fire engine team.

The total loss will approximate $15,000

The fixtures, scenery, etc., in the theatre are damaged to the extent of $5000, almost entirely by water. They were the property of Mr. M. S. Robinson, and carried no insurance.

The United Service Company sustained a damage of $2000, insured in the Economic for $1500.

Nos. 65 and 67 Yonge-street, also owned by the Magee estate, sustained damages amounting to $1000, covered by $20,500 insurance.

Bertie Escott, the little chap who was killed, was the only son of his widowed mother, who is a fatherless living in a humble abode at 173 Victoria-street. His father died five years ago. The mother's grief is heartrending, and almost inconsolable.

Mr. William Willison of The Globe reportorial staff, while walking in the dark in one of the vacant Janes' factory buildings, fell through a hole in the floor and sustained painful injuries.

ANOTHER FIRE AT ECKHARDT'S.

Damage Done Yesterday to the Extent of Thirty Thousand Dollars.

H. P. Eckardt & Co.'s wholesale grocery house at Front and Scott-streets was again visited by fire at 10 a.m. yesterday, and the damage will foot up in the neighborhood of $30,000.

A $50,000 blaze occurred in the same premises in April last.

The premises of W. B. Hamilton & Co., next door, also sustained some damage by water.

The damage to the Eckardt building is about $1500.

The stock was insured for $100,000, of which $80,000 was insurance which was put in since the previous fire.

An Early Morning Blaze.

At 6.30 a.m. the fire fiend visited the pork packing establishment of D. Gunn Bros. & Co., 80 Front-street east, and the brigade was called out. On the top of the building is a smoke house, and it is supposed a spark from this place ignited the roof. The flames burned a hole down into the cold storage department, doing about $300 damage before being suppressed. The fire owns both building and stock and had both insured.

THE TARTE-GRENIER LIBEL CASE.

The Minister of Public Works Takes the Witness Stand and Denies Mr. Grenier's Charges.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The noted criminal libel case of Tarte v. Grenier is now progressing in the Court of Queen's Bench, Mr. Justice Wurtele presiding. At the opening of the court, Chief Justice Sullivan of Prince Edward Island took a seat on the bench.

By agreement between counsel, a French speaking jury was selected, so as to obviate the necessity of translating the evidence. Hon. Mr. Tarte's legal advisers are Messrs. H. G. St. Pierre, Q. C., and R. Dandurand, while the defendant, W. A. Grenier, is represented by Messrs. L. A. Cornellier, Q.C., and Calixte Lavergne.

Mr. St. Pierre opened the case for the prosecution. The libel was contained in a newspaper article published by the accused. Mr. Tarte did not appear before them as a Minister of the Crown, but as an ordinary citizen, who was seeking the protection of the courts from slander, as the father of a family, who was anxious to transfer an unblemished name to his children. Mr. Dandurand stated that Grenier had gone to Mr. Tarte, offering to make the paper he had established, La Libre Parole, Mr. Tarte's organ, but on Mr. Tarte declining to have anything to do with it, he declared he was going to strike Mr. Tarte. The publication of the article complained of followed. In this article he charged Mr. Tarte with having betrayed the Conservative party to the Liberal party, for sordid motives; with having received money illegally and dishonestly from the late Hon. Thomas McGreevy, Ernest Pacaud, the late Benjamin Trudel, George Demers, H. J. Beemer and others; with having introduced boodling and extortion into the Department of Public Works, by giving only an extract of a letter written by Mr. Petit, and with other misdeeds.

After some formal testimony, Hon. J. Israel Tarte took the witness box. He said that Grenier had seen him in Ottawa and asked for money for his paper, offering to make it witness' personal organ, and saying $200 would do for the first week. He insisted strongly, and left the office in a threatening manner.

The article and famous "business is business" letter were read to the jury, and Mr. Tarte said the letter, as published, was only a portion of the original. It was opened by his deputy and the course followed of consulting the member, which his deputy said was always customary.

"Leave aside, Mr. Tarte, the gross wording of the article in La Libre Parole, of which you complain," said Mr. St. Pierre, "are the bare statements contained therein true?"

"The article in question is a series of foul and slanderous falsehoods, and I seek redress for them before this court," was the reply of the Minister of Public Works.

"Did you, as it says, leave the Conservative party for sordid and improper reasons?"

"I left the Conservative party when it had become impotent, and had ceased to be the exponent of principles on which it had been founded," said Mr. Tarte.

"Did you," continued Mr. St. Pierre, "receive the sums of money mentioned in La Libre Parole?" Mr. St. Pierre here read that portion of the article.

"It is a base calumny," was the reply. Grenier had said Mr. Beausoleil, M.P., had made uncomplimentary remarks about Mr. Tarte and would be exonerated. He had paid no attention to a telegram from Grenier saying he was waiting for what he (Mr. Tarte) had promised.

In cross-examination by Mr. Cornellier, he said his contention was that the motive of the article was simply a desire for revenge. He did not remember his exact words in Parliament, but they were to the effect that when traders were equal the sitting member would be consulted as regards giving contracts, that having been the practice.

Mr. Petit's letter to Mr. Tarte was then read, in which he attempted to explain the "business is business" letter.

Mr. Cornellier then continued his cross-examination. It might be, he said, that witness would not accept the opinion of the prisoner as to the feeling which Mr. Tarte's entrance into the Liberal party had occasioned among the Liberals, but was it not a fact that a great number of Liberals resented the ascendancy Mr. Tarte had acquired in the councils of the Liberal party?

Mr. St. Pierre objected and Judge Wurtele was about to sustain the objection, but Mr. Tarte desired to reply. When, he said, Mr. Laurier had offered him a position in the Cabinet, he had offered to remain out of it if his entrance might occasion any embarrassment to the Premier, but Mr. Laurier had insisted, saying that it was not only his own personal desire, but the desire of the party, that he should assume a Cabinet portfolio. It would not surprise him if there had been some who did not approve the appointment; it would be but natural that such should be the case.

In the afternoon Mr. Tarte was examined by Mr. Cornellier as to his changes of party allegiance in the endeavor to show that he was a political acrobat.

The court would not allow the production of articles of his in La Canadiene, attacking Mr. Laurier. Some of these, he said, had been written in his absence. He denied having met Mr. Wayland Glen in New York for the purpose of organizing a Continental League, though he had met Mr. Glen in New York. He had not written articles favoring annexation.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

DEFERRED THE HANGING.

It Was Done to Oblige Friends Who Wanted Two Men Killed at Once.

Jefferson, Ga., Sept. 24.—The execution of Grady Reynolds and Bud Brooks, murderers of M. C. Hunt, in Jackson County, did not take place to-day. At 3 o'clock this morning the Governor respited Brooks for four weeks, on a confession made by Reynolds, that he, single-handed, had committed the murder, but that Brooks planned the murder and shared in the division of the money. Reynolds was dressed for the gallows, but on a request, made by the brothers of the murdered man that both shall hang together, the execution of Reynolds was accordingly deferred also.

Granite Cross for Mrs. Stowe

Andover, Mass., Sept. 24.—A cross of Scotch granite, 12 feet high, has been erected over the grave of Harriet Beecher Stowe. It is copied after one in the possession of the Duke of Argyle, which Mrs. Stowe greatly admired while visiting in Scotland. Upon the cross is the inscription, "Tribute of loving remembrance, erected by the children," and lower down "1811, Harriet Beecher Stowe, 1896." Upon the white granite pedestal is the inscription, "Her children rise up and call her blessed." The grave is in a private cemetery of the trustees of Phillips Academy. In the same lot are buried her husband and son.

Abundance of Peaches and Grapes.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Sept. 23.—The peach crop in the Southern Ulster fruit belt is the largest since the big yield in 1880. The fruit is now fully ripened, and such as is being shipped is of the high grade that has given to Ulster county its reputation. The grape crop, like the peaches, is the most abundant that Ulster county growers have known in many years.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

This is to certify that I, James Ross, Tollgate Keeper, of the Town of Woodstock, Ont., have been a sufferer from Indigestion and a very weak stomach for a number of years, and have tried a great many medicines of different kinds, but could only obtain temporary relief for a short time, but after using one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic I could perceive a great difference. My indigestion was better and my stomach was much stronger than before, and I found I had gained several pounds in flesh, where I was weak and thin in flesh before. I think I used nine or ten bottles in all, and I am now a healthy man, but still I do not want to be without the medicine in the house, and I procure one or two bottles every year, and I can truthfully recommend Sloan's Indian Tonic to others suffering from the same complaint.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the optical cord which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The treatment is with medicine that will reach the nerve centres, and with nearly all medicines this is impossible with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines it is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

There is no message which brings more gladness to a true woman's heart than the sweet assurance that a little one is coming to bless her life and call her "Mother."

But in all her loving preparations for the expected little guest, a mother is liable to forget that her own health and physical condition is the most important provision which can possibly be made for the baby's happiness.

If the prospective mother is weak, nervous and anxious, this condition is bound to react on the baby's constitution. No daintiness of wardrobe will compensate for the loss of the natural, healthy vigor which a mother should bestow upon her baby.

As early as possible during gestation, the expectant mother should reinforce her bodily powers with the sustaining, health-bringing influence of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives natural, healthy vigor and elastic endurance to the organs specially concerned in motherhood. It makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and almost painless. It gives nerve-strength to the mother and vital hardihood to the child.

It is the only medicine devised by an educated physician specially to overcome all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs.

Mrs. Roscoe Vanover, of Robinson Creek, Pike Co., Ky., writes: "I wish to express my thanks to you for the good I have received from your 'Favorite Prescription.' I have used it at different times for the last five years, and always with the most gratifying results. But the greatest good received from the 'Favorite Prescription' was about four months ago when my last baby was born. I was afflicted with 'child-bed fever.' Instead of sending after a doctor I used the 'Prescription' and was cured. A lady friend of mine was similarly afflicted and sent after the doctor and took his remedies and died. I am 27 years old, weigh 147 pounds, the mother of five children, and am enjoying the best of health."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, promptly and permanently.

KITCHEN MANAGEMENT.

Lots of Trouble Saved By a Little Forethought and Method.

The great point of good management in the kitchen is to clean things away as you go on, and to be one day ahead in ordering necessaries. For instance, take the every-day want of tea and sugar. At starting, order in two packets of each, and as one packet is cleared, order in another, so you will always be prepared for an emergency, and the servant will not be called away from her regular work to "run to the grocer's. The kitchen, managed by some cooks, is everlastingly in a muddle, because things, after they have been used, are left here, there and everywhere, instead of being washed and put away in their proper places. The mistress of the house should insist upon order in the kitchen, and also that her cook should get ahead with vegetables—at least in preparing them—before they are wanted; that is to say, with regard to potatoes, try to get them pared early in the day, and don't leave the shelling of peas when in season until the last moment. A dinner is often spoiled through vegetables being insufficiently cooked. It is the fashion in some houses to put a kitchen clock on at least ten minutes, a plan that is worth following when the cook has a tendency to be late. It is wonderful what a lot of trouble will be saved by a little forethought and method in the kitchen; and how time is economized if every vessel is in its right place. Sometimes one sees the sink laden with dirty pudding basins, milk jugs, knives and forks and other things besides. Cooks will leave stale pieces of bread about, and choppers and boards with fragments of meat still clinging to them. This is all very untidy and very unnecessary. One great secret of success in cooking is to have everything clean and fresh; another is: "Never put off till the last anything that can be done beforehand;" thirdly, keep a wary eye upon the clock.—Madame.

Tips on Darning.

The scenery of this homely art lies in running the thread of the darning cotton so far on each side of the hole that it does not immediately fray and pull out the goods.

Take a long thread of darning cotton to begin with and run it at least half an inch along the goods on each side of the hole. Continue this until the hole is snugly covered. Now cross these threads in regular darning style, taking care that the same precaution is observed. A stocking darned in this way will wear, as far as the darning is concerned, as long as if no hole had existed.

To darn very large holes, such as are likely to occur from having been pulled or frayed out in the laundry, something more than a thread of darning cotton may be necessary, and a patch must be used. Such holes almost surely occur in the heel, as this part of a stocking is usually worn thin first and is more likely to fray.

In treating of the method of mending there it is safe to take the heel for a model.

From the leg of an old stocking, such as is sure to be found in your basket, cut a kite-shaped piece of goods about five inches long and four inches across. Turn the stocking wrong side out and lay the kite upon the heel so that the long pointed end runs up the back of the leg and the lower rounded part is at the base of the heel.

Run a stout linen thread down the centre of the kite, taking large, loose stitches. Now run in the same way across the kite-shaped piece, letting the thread be very slack. The next step is to sew the patch lightly to the heel by stitching it around the outside. If deftly done there will be neither wrinkle nor crease to tell the wearer that so important an operation had ever taken place.

Beautiful and Happy Homes.

The very word "home" touches every fiber of the soul and strikes evry chord of the human heart with its angelic fingers; it is the heart's garden. The sweetest type of heaven is a beautiful home; it should be the most delightful place on earth, the centre of the purest affections and most desirable associations, as well as of the most attractive and exalted beauties to be found this side of paradise. Nothing can excel in beauty or sublimity the quietude, peace, affection and happiness of a well ordered home, where virtue is nurtured and every good principle sustained. There is nothing like system in the school room or in the home; have a place for everything and let everything be kept neat and orderly; it saves time and labor. Yet, the truest beauty of any home is the pleasant face, kind words and helping hands.

Home should not be regarded as a place where the family merely eat, drink and sleep, but the spot to which the tired husband longs to return when the day's duties release his claim. To the man of business home should be an earthly paradise. Thrice happy is the man who finds solace and comfort in his home.

In the happy home one finds industry, sympathy and government, but love must be the director. Kind words, gentle acts and a sweet disposition makes glad the heart where peace and blessings dwell. Every true wife will strive to cultivate these principles.

Each one must do his or her part, for it is unity that makes the happy home. The influence of a beautiful home is felt not only by its own inmates, but by everyone who shares its hospitality.

Hot Water a Sovereign Remedy.

The other day a woman in a country town was dismayed by the appearance of her young son, borne into the house by friendly hands, and suffering from one of the common accidents of children.

In coasting he had managed to fall in such a way that one leg was caught between two swiftly moving sleds and was, in consequence, dreadfully bruised and now becoming rapidly discolored. His mother remembered that one of the summer boarders, whom she had entertained six months before, had told her to use hot water for such disasters. Here was an opportunity to try the remedy.

She immediately plunged the wounded member into a foot-tub of water as hot as the child could bear, and added more from time to time, as it cooled. This treatment was faithfully followed out, with such rapid effects that by the next day the little fellow was walking about the house, and able to use his injured leg, not freely, but enough for purposes of locomotion.

Its entire cure was a matter of a very short time, and it is not to be wondered at that that family now "swear by" hot water as a liniament. It will be found, used in the same way, equally efficacious for inflammations, for sprains, and should be called upon in any such emergency, and if the swelling is very bad, add vinegar.—Philadelphia Press.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality. There is no better value in the market.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

THE CHURCH CHIMES FROM AROUND TOWN.

SOME OF THE SPECIAL SERVICES WHICH WERE HELD YESTERDAY.

Interesting Church Paragraphs For Those Who Attended Church Yesterday and For Those Who did not —Rev. D. O. Crossley Occupies His own Pulpit For the First Time.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Rev. D. O. Crossley occupied his own pulpit in Charlotte street Methodist church on Sunday morning. Although not fully recovered from his recent severe illness, he delivered a vigourous sermon—the first since he accepted the pastorate of the church. The congregation were most favourably impressed by his address.

Miss Hall and Mr. A. L. Davis sang a duet entitled "In the Cross" in a most acceptable manner.

In the afternoon the Sunday school children and their parents were addressed by Mr. Emberson at a missionary meeting, which was well attended.

In the evening Rev. W. B. Smith took the service and sermon, the pastor, Rev. D. O. Crossley, having not sufficiently recovered to undertake both a morning and evening service yet.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

Yesterday afternoon being "Rally" Sunday in the George street Methodist Sunday school there was a special programme which was of a very excellent character, prepared by the officers of the school. The meeting was opened by singing the Doxology, which was followed by a prayer by Mr. T. W. Robinson, superintendent. After a few preliminary remarks from Mr. Robinson, Mr. Smith, who is supplying the Charlotte street pulpit, was called upon to give his address, as was previously announced. He divided his address into two parts, giving in the first part an address to the teachers. He said, in opening, that the position of a teacher in a Sunday school was a very important one. It had been said by some one that man respects himself according to the degree of respect he has for his work or calling. "Teacher, do you feel this way toward your class?" If you do not feel thus you should not be teaching a Sunday school class. Your work is under God's direct instruction, and the results of your teaching is to be tried as by fire, and in this test only the good results will last. It is to last for time and eternity. The teacher can very easily mould the minds of these young people into good habits, and so enable them to grow up godly men and women. The teachers should remember that their efforts in this direction reacts upon themselves. Anyone who reads and thinks much, thereby receives a good mental training. So it is in teaching the young people the way to Christ. We receive a good spiritual training at the same time. The teacher while teaching his class becomes more interested in the Bible, and consequently knows God better. The good teacher seeks guidance from God, and always asks His blessing upon his efforts to turn the young to Christ.

The teacher's aim should be to win his class of boys for the Lord Jesus Christ. He should have "My class for Jesus" for his motto. If the blacksmith could only heat his iron red hot once, how watchful he would be to strike at the proper time. This is not so, however, as iron may be heated as often as desirable, but the opportunity to turn some boys' steps heavenward comes to the teacher once in a lifetime.

Mr. Smith then reviewed the lesson with the children, and Miss Fife also delivered a short talk to the little ones.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The annual Harvest Festival of St. Luke's church will be held on Thursday next at 8 o'clock, when the sermon will be delivered by Bishop Sullivan, of St. James' Cathedral. The church will be appropriately decorated and special music will be rendered by the choir. All seats are free, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

MARK STREET CHURCH.

The pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, preached two powerful sermons yesterday. In the morning his subject was "Class meetings," his text being Mal. iii, 16:17: "Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another; and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name. And they shall be mine in that day when I make up my jewels."

After a few introductory remarks on the purpose of class meetings, and calling attention to the fact that the rules of the Methodist church require all the members to attend class meeting, he said: Man is a social being, and, even in a state of innocence, God found it was not good for man to be alone. We require the company and conversation of other people of God, to alleviate the sorrows of life, and to sweeten the bitter cup of life's experience. In a hermit the purposes of God is frustrated, and nature is deranged.

Religious people need each other's society, for they are surrounded by enemies, who would gladly overthrow them. It seems at times that all the powers of hell and earth combine to defeat the Christian. Hence the desirability of class meetings. In the days of Malachi religion fluctuated even as it does to-day. The Jews fell into practical infidelity. They said then as men say now, "It is a vain thing to serve God." The result was corruption in both people and priesthood.

Attendance at class meeting should be regular to secure good results. Non-attendance at class meeting is often a sign of spiritual decay, of heart wandering and of backsliding.

In the text we have also indicated God's approval, for "God hearkened and heard it."

There is also a promise of distinction at the final day. "We shall be His when He makes up His jewels."

In the evening a large congregation was present to hear Mr. Moore's discourse on a "Sleeping Church," and Mr. Emberson's address on the "Missionary Problem." Mr. Moore took as his text, Eph. 5:14, "Awake thou that sleepest and arise from the dead and Christ shall give thee life."

Nothing is valued very highly to-day unless it can be made of practical use. Lukewarmness and half-heartedness are very much to be deplored. The words of the text were addressed to the church at Ephesus, once powerful, but afterwards much degenerated as a church asleep, while all around there was work to be done. There never was a time when the world was more in need of Christian activity than at the present time. It is possible to have the form of Godliness and yet lack the true spirit.

Let us awaken to the higher and purer joys of religion, which are possible even to those who already know their sins forgiven.

Then God calls us to awaken to His providences, which are often hard to understand. Awaken to scenes of adversity and misfortune, remembering that all things work together for good to them that love God. When Job lost his earthly possessions he held fast to God and became better off than ever.

We must also awaken to the value of souls. Few in the world really seem to care whether men are saved or lost.

The regular meeting of the E.L. of C.E. will be held this (Monday) evening, for the election of officers. All are urgently invited to be present.

Active preparations are being made for the anniversary services on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 3 and 4. Rev. W. B. Smith will preach the morning sermon, and all members of the Sunday school and Epworth League, as well as others, are specially invited. In the evening Rev. Mr. Harrison, of Bridgeworth, will preach. On Monday evening, Oct. 4, tea will be served in the town hall, after which an excellent programme will be given in the church. Several ministers are to give addresses and there will be special music, etc.

The church prayer meeting will be held in the church on Wednesday evening, and at the close of the prayer meeting the committees arranging for the tea are to report progress.

Friday evening cottage prayer meeting, conducted by Mr. J. Tighe, will be held at Mrs. Sager's, on Mark street.

At the close of the evening service Rev. Mr. Emberson gave a very helpful and interesting talk on missionary work. He represents the Students' volunteer movement for Foreign Missions, and is pledged to go as a missionary, if an opportunity comes.

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh and force.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

Britain Has Not Withdrawn From the Conference.

THAT IS THE REPORT FROM LONDON

Lord Salisbury Simply Objected to Japan and Russia Being Brought In—Strong Comments in the London Papers —Mohmands Sufficiently Whipped.

London, Sept. 27.—Announcement was made this afternoon confirming the despatches of the Associated Press of Saturday last, that the Marquis of Salisbury has not withdrawn from the Behring Sea Conference, but has simply objected to the presence of Russia and Japan. Negotiations on the subject are proceeding. Great Britain is willing to take part in the conference, and is endeavoring to secure the acquiescence of Canada.

The United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, and the British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Julian Pauncefote, visited the Foreign Office this afternoon. The whole hitch seems to be due to the failure of the Marquis of Salisbury to respond to Colonel Hay's note of July 29, acknowledging the Marquis of Salisbury's agreement to "a meeting of experts," and in which Col. Hay stated the President expected Russian and Japanese representatives would be present at the conference. No exception being taken to this, Colonel Hay concluded the matter was settled, until Wednesday last, when an objection was received from the British side, it being pointed out that the Marquis of Salisbury never contemplated taking part in a conference at which Russia and Japan were represented, having always contended, as shown in his despatch of May 9, that they had no locus standi.

It is also pointed out that the Marquis of Salisbury's letter of July 29 distinctly says Great Britain had agreed to a meeting of British, Canadian and American experts.

The Japanese Minister here said to a representative of the Associated Press to-day: "While no formal communications have passed between Japan and England, I have discussed the arrangements for a conference with the Foreign Office officials."

It is a curious fact that Colonel Hay's despatch of July 29 is omitted from the Behring Sea blue book just issued.

SOME PLAIN TALK.

St. James' Gazette Speaks in a Tone That Cannot be Misunderstood.

London, Sept. 27.—The St. James' Gazette this afternoon remarks: "It is quite clear that no concession we can make and no display, however sincere, of our wish to be friendly has availed one jot to disarm the bitter hostility of those Americans who are already ready for aggressive action. Neither is there a shred of evidence to show that the cold, passive dislike which so many Americans, who are friendly enough to the individual Englishman, feel for the British Government has been warmed in the least degree."

Recalling ex-Secretary Olney's alleged dictum that all connection between a European and an American State is in itself unnatural, The St. James' Gazette adds: "That some such doctrine is working in the American mind is evidenced by many signs, of which the persistent nursing of the Behring Sea dispute is not the least. This is in itself a fact of which we and the other Governments interested in America must take note, not as an excuse for losing our heads and rushing to meet an evil half way, but as good reason for clearing our minds and preparing for serious practical action."

Would Mind Nobody

London, Sept. 28.—The Daily Chronicle this morning says: "Whether the British Government agrees to the conference or not. The conference would hardly be expected to go beyond the collection of information. It would bind nobody and could have no mandatory effect. No new situation will arise if we refuse the invitation."

The Morning Post says: "It is the clear object of the party in Congress, of which Mr. Dingley is spokesman, not to pursue a dispassionate inquiry into the natural history of the seals but to secure a verdict against the occupation of Canadian fishermen outside the zone of the Pribyloff Islands. The sealing controversy is pursued because it supplies a continual opportunity of snarling at Great Britain, and enables them to worry a certain number of their Canadian neighbors. Illustrations of this kind will gradually teach our people that the best rule in dealing with American demands is to refuse them bluntly, without circumlocution. They don't originate in legitimate grievance, but in the passionate desire of the nation to injure and humiliate us."

The Times this morning says: "The insistence of the American Government upon either an international conference or the admission of representatives of Russia and Japan at the meeting of experts, can only tend to delay an agreement on the basis of ascertained facts and to render it improbable that the new regulations will be ready to be enforced in the summer of 1898.

"It is obvious that a conference between the United States, Russia and Japan, without England, could not in the smallest degree affect the binding character of the Paris award. A revision of the award should be determined by the common agreement of the Governments of the United States and Great Britain. No other powers have any right to a controlling voice therein. It may be added that, as the American claim was founded originally on the contention that the United States is the successor in title to all the rights of Russia in the Behring Sea, it seems a strange proceeding to contend that Russian interests in that quarter justify a demand for the separate representation of a power not implicated in the award.

"When Great Britain has settled with the United States, whether the regulations are to be revised and in what way, there will be nothing to prevent the Governments from negotiating their extension to the western coasts of the Pacific Ocean, where the sealing grounds are under the authority of Russia and Japan."

It Has Caused Surprise.

London, Sept. 27.—A despatch to The Standard, from Madrid, says: "The rumor of Austrian mediation between Spain and the United States in the event of hostilities has created surprise mingled with much incredulity. Spaniards fail to see what Austria could do unless seconded by naval powers, or at least by the combined pacific action of several Governments."

Kindly Comradeship.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 27.—Emperor William, in answer to the despatch of the Russian Minister of Marine, expressing condolence with the family of the young Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who was drowned by the capsizing of torpedo boat No. 26, off Cuxhaven, on Wednesday last, has telegraphed saying: "I am deeply touched at the expression of sympathy evinced by the Russian fleet at the sinking of the torpedo boat. The death of the worthy young Prince is a sad loss to me and to the German navy. I look upon the expression of condolence upon the part of my comrades of the Russian navy upon this melancholy occasion as an act of kindly comradeship. William."

BRITAIN GETS KASSALA.

An Important Arab Town on the Nile Ceded to John Bull.

Rome, Sept. 27.—All arrangements for the cession of Kassala to Great Britain have been completed, and everything is ready for the occupation of that town by British troops.

Kassala is a town of Abyssinia, situated, roughly speaking, about half way between Khartoum and Massowa, on the Red Sea. It is also only about 300 miles southwest of Suakim, and is at the junction of three telegraph lines. Kassala has an Arab population of some 5000 people, and was one of the towns occupied by the Italian troops in the efforts of Italy to establish an African colony by co-operating with the British forces in Egypt.

CABLE TO ICELAND.

Great Northern Telegraph Company Will Connect From Scotland.

London, Sept. 27.—The Icelandic Parliament having voted a subsidy for the purpose, the Great Northern Telegraph Company will, during the early summer next year, lay a cable from Scotland to Iceland, by way of the Faroe Islands. It is said that Great Britain will make cable connection from Iceland to British America.

MR. GLADSTONE AGAIN.

He Tells How the Concert of the Powers Has Operated in the East.

London, Sept. 27.—Replying to the accusation of inconsistency made against him for condemning the concert, or so-called concert, of the powers, Mr. Gladstone writes: "In 1880 we tried to make the concert act and we failed and went on without it. We thus procured enlarged territory for Montenegro, and Thessaly for Greece. This is exactly what I have desired as a mode of action in the east in these two disgraceful years. Compare the results."

Oats and Barley in France.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The official reports of the crop yields of barley and oats for 1897 shows the former will yield 15,340,210 hectolitres, compared with 16,241,431 in 1896, and that the latter will yield 87,016,960, compared with 92,003,398 in 1896.

LORD ASHBOURNE DENIES IT.

No Foundation for the Report That He is to Succeed Lord Dufferin.

London, Sept. 27.—(Telegram Cable.)—With reference to the cabled report that Lord Ashbourne, Chancellor of Ireland, was to succeed the Earl of Aberdeen as Governor-General of Canada, I saw the former nobleman this morning and he authorizes me to state that there is no foundation for such a report.

TRIBESMEN THRASHED.

British Forces Will Now Retire From the Mohmand Country.

Simla, Sept. 27.—General Westmacott attacked the Kudakhel tribes, who had refused to submit. After driving them [illegible] he will now retire from the Mohmand country.

KILLED HIS FAMILY

And Wound Up by Taking His Own Life

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY OUT WEST

Farmer Boecker, a Prosperous German, Who Was Considered to be Living in Happiness, Murdered His Wife and Six Children, Using a Shotgun and Revolver.

Carroll, Iowa, Sept. 27.—John Boecker, a farmer, living eight miles from this place, last night murdered his wife and five children and fatally wounded his 8-year-old son Henry. Afterwards the fiendish or demented man sent a bullet into his own head, inflicting a fatal wound. The family were prosperous Germans, and so far as is known lived happily. No motive for the tragedy has been disclosed. Boecker's victims are his wife and these children: Caroline, aged 4; Christine, aged 9; Henry, aged 8; Lizzie, aged 6; John, aged 3, and an infant, Henry, cannot recover from his wounds.

Boecker had an engagement to help a neighbor thresh to-day, and on his not putting in an appearance his brother Henry went to see why he did not come. The doors of the house were locked and there were no signs of life about. Henry tried to get into the house, but met no response, and finally kicked the door in and came upon the horrible scene. Boecker with his wife and baby slept in a back room, and the three corpses lay on a bed. The wife had been shot in the neck with a shotgun, which stood in the corner; the baby had been shot and its head crushed with the butt of a revolver. The man, still breathing, had a bullet hole in his temple, and by his side was a six-shooter with two chambers empty. The Boecker home is a storey and a half frame house, and upstairs Henry and Lizzie lay on a bed, with bullet holes in their foreheads, the latter dead, the boy still breathing. In the opposite corner of the same room Caroline, Christine and John lay dead, each shot in the forehead. It is undoubtedly a case of murder and suicide.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL POWER.

A Grand Display of Strength at Hakodate Japan, in Readiness for the Annual Manoeuvres.

Yokohama, Sept. 27.—The British fleet now assembled at Hakodate, Japan, for the annual manoeuvres, is perhaps the most powerful ever brought together under that flag in Eastern waters. Heading the list is the first-class battleship Centurion, bearing the broad pennant of Vice-Admiral Sir [illegible] Buller, K. C. B., Commander-in-Chief. Then come in order of force the Grafton, Immortalite, Pique, Narcissus, Porpoise, Daphne, Swift, Redpole, Hovet, Arches and the torpedo-catcher Handy. The total tonnage of this fine fleet is considerably in excess of that of any two nations represented in these waters. The many friends of Rear-Admiral Oxley, second in command of the British forces in Chinese waters, will be pained to learn of the recent death of Mrs. Oxley, which occurred a short time since at Hong Kong.

SHERIFF CONDEMNED.

Coroner's Jury in the Lattimer Shooting Case Says the Killing Was Wanton and Unjustifiable.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 27.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of the striking miners at Lattimer met in Deputy Coroner Cowman's office this evening, and, after an hour's deliberation, rendered the following verdict:

"That, from the circumstances of the case and the evidence offered, the said Clement Flatock and others came to their deaths by gunshot wounds on Sept. 10, at the hands of Sheriff James Martin and his deputies, and in this we, the jury, do all agree, and we do further say that the said Clement Flatock, with others, was marching peaceably and unarmed on the public highway, that they were intercepted by the said Sheriff Martin and his deputies, and mercilessly shot to death, and we do further find that the killing was unnecessary and could have been avoided without serious injury to other person or property, and we find finally that the killing was wanton and unjustifiable."

The verdict was not unanimous, four favoring it and two dissenting.

DEATH OF COL. CUBITT.

A Respected Citizen of Bowmanville Has Crossed the Bar.

Bowmanville, Sept. 27.—Another very respected citizen passed away early this morning, in the person of Col. Frederic Cubitt, at the age of 77 years. Col. Cubitt has always taken a lively interest in all public affairs, having been Division Court Clerk for the past fifteen years for the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland. He took special interest in military affairs, having had command of the 45th Battalion as Lieut.-Col. from 1866 to 1894. Deceased was a member of the High School Board, and at the time of his death was chairman, a position he has held for many years. In politics he was an ardent Conservative, and took a lively interest in political affairs, being a personal friend of the late Sir John Macdonald, and was the Conservative candidate in opposition to Hon. Edward Blake for this riding several years ago. He was a member of the Municipal Council for fifteen years, eleven of which he occupied the Mayor's chair. The town flag is flying at half-mast as a token of respect to deceased. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter to mourn his decease. His funeral on Wednesday will be conducted with military honors.

CANADA THE FOOD CENTRE OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

Prof. Robertson Tells our British Brethren of the Food Wealth of this Country—Also what a Grand Work the Government is doing to help the Farmer to the Best Market—More Interesting and Hopeful Information.

The following report of an interview of "Commerce," a paper published in London, England, with Prof. Robinson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, at present in the Old Country, will be both interesting and instructive reading, especially to the farmers of the country:

"Do you find the people here appreciate the efforts of Canada to feed us?" I opened the ball by asking.

"Yes, and the Canadian climate and soil give the people a good chance to make food products of the very highest quality. Canadian No. 1 hard wheat, and the flour made from it are unsurpassed by those from any other part of the Empire, or of the globe. Canadian cheese has established for itself a first place among all the cheese imported into this country. Canada now sends to Great Britain about 60 per cent. of the total quantity of cheese imported. The conditions of Canada are quite as well adapted for the production of superior qualities of butter, meats, eggs, poultry and fruits. But these more perishable foods in the past have been somewhat spoiled in transit. The distance of 3,000 miles from the markets of Great Britain has not been a great obstacle as far as the freight charges affected them. It is not distance, but deterioration, that has hindered. Only 6 per cent. of the value of cheese in Canada has been required to pay the transportation charges to the ports of Great Britain.

BETTER TRANSPORTATION.

"And what are the present arrangements for transport?"

"Wheat, flour and cheese are not injured in quality by being carried at the ordinary temperature of the atmosphere. Butter requires to be carried in cold storage to protect it from becoming strong or stale in flavour. The value of food products in Great Britain depends much more upon their condition, their appearance and their flavour, than upon their composition. Now to help the Canadian farmers to obtain a foremost place in the British market, with butter, meats, fruits and poultry, the Canadian Minister of Agriculture arranged to provide what is practically a chain of cold storage service from the producers to the ports of Great Britain. The Government subsidizes steamships to the extent of paying one-half of the initial cost—about £2,000 per steamer—of providing the best of modern duplex refrigerating machines and insulated compartments. Seventeen steamships have been so fitted up to ply between Montreal and London, Avonmouth, Liverpool and Glasgow this year. The agreements made between the Government and the steamship companies provide that not more than ten shillings per ton above the current freight charges shall be charged for the cold storage accommodation on the steamships. Any shipper may send a small or a large quantity to the extent of the accommodation provided. In order that the products intended for the cold storage chambers on the steamships might start in the best condition, the Government also agreed to subsidize cold storage buildings at the ports of export for three years, until the trade was sufficiently well established to be sustained entirely by charges on the products. Another part of the cold storage policy of the Government was an offer to pay a bonus of £30 to the owner of every creamery who provided a suitable cold storage room at his creamery, payments to be extended over three years, and to be made only on condition that the cold storage room was used, and kept at a satisfactory temperature."

INCREASE OF TRADE.

"Has the trade very much increased as a consequence?" I inquired with some interest.

"With the imperfect and partial cold storage service on steamships provided since 1894 there has been great gain in the exports of butter from Canada," was the unhesitating reply. "In 1894 the quantity exported to Great Britain was 2,339,334 pounds, which in 1896 had risen to the quantity of 9,895,984 pounds. That quantity can be increased even at a faster rate in coming years. While Canada supplies about 60 per cent. of the quantity of cheese imported by Great Britain, she might furnish an equal proportion of the 340,000,000 pounds of butter imported annually. The Minister of Agriculture in Canada has arranged with the railway companies to give a regular weekly refrigerator car service on seventeen routes of railways running into Montreal, and also on the railways running into the ports of Halifax, St. John and Charlottetown. The cold storage service is for the carriage principally of butter, dressed meats, eggs, poultry and fruits, and the first shipment of dressed beef from Canada in proper refrigerator chambers arrived in Liverpool about a fortnight ago. It came in excellent condition, and promises to be the beginning of a large trade."

"Are there to be any Government depots?"

"The Government will not open any depots or shops for the direct sale of Canadian products. The distribution will be done through the existing commercial agencies. The Government agencies only furnish information of an authoritative and reliable character, which will be of use to producers, shippers, receivers and consumers. We have arranged to make special trial shipments of grapes, pears, peaches and tomatoes. A special cold storage building has been erected in the famous fruit-growing district known as the Niagara peninsula, and weekly shipments of these fruits will be sent to test whether it will be entirely practicable and profitable to develop an export trade in them to Great Britain. One or two men will be engaged to work in Great Britain as agents for the Department of Agriculture to canvass for customers for Canadian products, to learn all they can about the newest needs and preferences of the British markets, and to furnish information to the Canadian producers how to suit these market needs. Some of the butter from the Government creameries will be sent regularly to the market in Great Britain."

THE BRITISH MARKET.

This looked as if operations on a big scale were contemplated, so my next query was inevitable:

"Then you consider there is an immense trade in prospect?"

"Of the twelve staple food products which Canada can supply of the best quality and in abundance, viz., cereals such as wheat, barley, oats, flour, etc., animals (living) for food, dressed meats, cheese, butter, eggs, fish, fruit, lard condensed milk, potatoes, poultry and game. Great Britain imported from all countries in 1896 to the value of over £120,000,000. Canada has only been sending about 7 per cent. of that quantity. I claim that Canada can send at least one-third of the total quantity. In return for the enlarged trade in food products, Canada would become a still better customer for goods of British manufacture. It is in the highest sense important to Great Britain that natural products should be purchased from from those countries, and particularly the colonies, which, in return, are the best customers for British wares. If Great Britain should get into serious difficulty with any of the great powers, it would be a very great source of strength to have a large supply of staple foods available from one of her own colonies. At the last session of Parliament a bill, under the care of the Minister of Agriculture, was passed, requiring that all cheese and butter made in Canada for export be marked with the word 'Canadian.' Canadian producers and merchants have earnestly striven to have their products sold in the British market under their own name. The laws of Canada also entirely prohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, butterine, and imitation cheese. At the last session of Parliament a bill was introduced by a private member for the object of prohibiting improper speculation in the sale of butter and cheese. This is an attempt in legislation to prevent the sales of 'futures' and 'options' in butter and cheese. If it can safely be applied to these two products, it may be extended with advantage to other farm products. Nearly every student of political economy has recognised that while there is a wholesome speculation which forms a sort of balance-wheel, or fly-wheel service to commerce, a great deal of the selling and buying of 'futures' is injurious alike to the consumers and to the producers."

OUR FARMS THE STRONGHOLD.

"What do you think will be the effect of the Klondike discoveries in the eastern Provinces?" The universal topic would out, even when talking to a professor of agriculture.

"The natural resources of Canada are mainly those which can be realized upon through agriculture. Discoveries of rich gold fields are, of course, attracting much attention, but it is doubtful whether they will yield more wealth to the Empire than the thousands of fields of golden grain, the thousands of packages of golden butter and the thousands of tons of gilt-edged cheese. From the Atlantic to the Pacific there are diverse conditions in climate and soil and, therefore, suited for different methods of agriculture. The British people well know the superior quality of the apples from the Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia, the unsurpassed quality of cheese from Prince Edward Island, and the excellence of various products from New Brunswick. Quebec has in recent years come to the front for fine cheese of rich body, and butter of exquisite flavour, and is fast gaining a reputation for its bacon. The Province of Ontario has long been known as sending over to Great Britain nearly every kind of food product, the best of its sort. The range is from live bullocks to luscious grapes. Canadian cheese has quite displaced, I am told, United States cheese in these markets, and the pea-fed bacon and hams from Canadian packing houses, are recognised as superior even to the best Danish. From the sun-kissed prairies of Manitoba and the Northwest come wheat and flour of matchless quality; and by the action of the Government lately in managing experimental creameries, fine creamery butter will be added to the exports from that region."

The professor stopped, and I put in a question about the Lake-of-the-Woods.

"A not much heard of region, which is full of great possibilities for wealth, lying about half way between Lake Superior and the Province of Manitoba. Gold-bearing quartz of the free-milling sort is being found there in large quantities. Close by the enormous water power of the Winnipeg River is ready and available to grind millions of bushels of the wheat which passes that way on its journey to the ultimate markets of Europe. There are vast areas of timber suitable for the paper-pulp industry, cheap transportation facilities and a plentiful supply of water the year round. In all these regards I need not say that Canada is a most important part of the empire, and hereafter will surely be the country from which the largest amount of actual wealth in various forms will be drawn. For the first time in the history of the human race the centre of power in a world-wide empire is with a people whose home-land is well up towards the northern zone. This promises a perpetuity of British supremacy which the Roman, Greek and Assyrian empires did not, and could not, from the very nature of things, maintain. The stability of a nation depends not primarily upon its armament, its art, or its commerce, but upon the certainty of an abundant supply of good food for the people. In the stress of fierce competitions which nations, as well as individuals, must face in the struggle for self-preservation, robust, well-nourished, vigourous bodies count for more than any external weapon or agency. The individual man is still the unit which tells for more than anything else in any kind of conflict, and the quality of the food grown in a northern clime is a controlling factor in building up masterful men. [illegible] other nations do not with loving admiration; and it behooves statesmen and the common people to look well to the essentials which will enable her to hold her own in war, if that should come; in commerce, in manufactures, in shipping and in agriculture, if peace be continued. The fields, stalls and gardens of the empire should be able to feed its own people."

I gazed on the professor in admiration of his earnestness, and was just thinking of another question when he resumed:

"The object of the Canadian Department of Agriculture is to give full and reliable information to the producers how to suit the exact demands of the British consumers who have been taking Canadian products and to see that the products are delivered in an undeteriorated condition; also to seek new customers, who are expected thereafter to be retained by the intrinsic good qualities of the food-stuffs from the premier colony of the empire. There are laws in Canada which entirely prohibit the manufacture of adulterated food products. 'Filled' or imitation cheese cannot be made in Canada. The manufacture of oleomargarine is entirely prohibited; and, at its last session, the Canadian Parliament passed a most stringent law called the Dairy Act, 1897, providing for the registration of each cheese factory and creamery in Canada and forbidding, under heavy penalties, any misrepresentation as to the dates when any butter or cheese was manufactured. The Dominion Government have also undertaken to establish co-operative creameries in outlying districts of the country where commercial agencies are not yet ready for handling butter economically in the usual way. During the current year 16 fully-equipped creameries and as many more tributory cream-collecting or cream-gathering stations are under the management of the Government, which, for a charge of twopence per pound manufactures and markets the butter for the new settlers. The net proceeds from the sales are paid to the farmers in proportion to the quantity of butter made from the milk or cream which they severally supply. This is done in the newer settlements of the Dominion only; but the several Provincial Governments now have various agencies at work for giving the farmers the latest information on the best and most economical methods of carrying on their work. They have agricultural colleges and schools, travelling dairies and itinerant lectures for institutes of farmers which hold several meetings annually in each county. The Governmental help to agriculture in Canada seems to be given along strictly practical and business lines. No bonuses are paid to give a fictitious value to products; but no effort is spared to further the educational equipment of the farmers in order that they may be able to do the best work for themselves, the Government doing only what the several farmers or communities could not accomplish singly and unaided. As soon as any new method or movement is well under way the Governmental assistance is withdrawn and another new line of work is taken up."

TARTE-GRENIER CASE

Postponed Because of the Illness of a Juryman.

THE PREMIER AND SIR OLIVER

Will be on Hand to Testify—Mr. George Hague Gives a Good Account of Matters in the West—Canada Receiving Much Attention in England—Montreal News.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—The Tarte-Grenier case did not proceed this morning, as one of the jurors was ill, and after Dr. Bouchard had examined him and announced that he could not appear to-day, but might to-morrow, Justice Wurtele adjourned the court. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat would be on hand to-morrow, Mr. St. Pierre announced.

In answer to Mr. St. Pierre's request to have them examined, so that the Premier might leave for Halifax, Mr. Cornellier said that it would depend on an application he intended to make for the production of certain documents.

Mr. George Hague, joint general manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, who has returned from a visit to the west, reports that large quantities of money already have been sent into the country from Winnipeg and Brandon for the purchase of grain, and the Canadian Pacific is doing its very utmost to facilitate a rapid movement. One day last week the company carried between Winnipeg and Fort William the largest amount it had ever done in its history. The realization of the crop means very much to the mercantile interests of Manitoba. Farmers are paying up notes that have been long overdue. Merchants are already realizing on debts that they had written off years ago. A farmer sold his whole crop in Winnipeg on the day of Mr. Hague's arrival and realized for it the handsome sum of $13,000, a sum which enabled the farmer to discharge all his obligations and have a large sum of money to his credit in the bank. There are likely to be many instances of the same kind for the crop is generally a good one in all sections of the country. This cannot but give a considerable stimulus to the importing and manufacturing interests of Manitoba.

Sir Adolphe Caron, who has been in England for some weeks past in connection with his mining interests in British Columbia, arrived in Montreal from New York this morning. Sir Adolphe says the interest taken in London in Canadian gold properties is very great, just now completely overshadowing South African mines. English capital is ready to take up any good property that may offer, whether it be in British Columbia, the Klondike or the Michipicoten district. The particular company which Sir Adolphe represents, which is composed of Montreal, New York and London capitalists, expect to prosecute mining operations on a large scale in the Kootenay regions.

BRITAIN'S NOBLE QUEEN.

"Here Is the Only Court Where the Law of Purity Is the Law of Favor and the Requirement of Fashion."

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The Rev. Dr. William Burnett Wright paid a glowing tribute to Queen Victoria and her successful reign of 60 years over Great Britain at the Lafayette Presbyterian Church last night. The subject of the divine's sermon was: "Impressions in London, 1897."

After dealing at length with the events leading to the accession to the throne of the young Princess, Dr. Wright said:

"What could come of putting at such a crisis a child upon the throne? No man knew, but most men thought they knew and were afraid. What has come of it all men know now. This child is the only sovereign in Europe whose throne has not been shaken, and there here is the only imperial throne that has not been emptied by violence during the last sixty years.

"Here is the only court where the law of purity is the law of favor and the requirement of fashion. Here is the one palace into which every house in Christendom may safely look to find a model family. She alone, among the monarchs of the earth, has made the title, 'Defender of the Faith,' a fact and not a cynical fiction. She is the monarch who, more than any other since history began—unless King Alfred be the exception—has taught men to understand the secret power of Christ's kingdom, by showing what it is to rule, not by authority, but by influence, for she has been, not the tyrant but the servant of the people.

"Queen Victoria mastered lawlessness and violence by that gentleness which has made her people great. There are few mistakes greater than to fancy that the Queen has been a figurehead in the government of England. She has exerted a greater influence than any of her Ministers. She conquered the spirit of lawlessness in her people by first conquering it in herself. She never stretched her prerogative. We know that the Gibraltar of English safety has been her hearthstone. It was cracked and crumbling when the wife and mother kindled upon it the fires of true love."

At the conclusion of the sermon Dr. Wright announced that he had done but half his task. It still remained for him to show how much, through this sovereign, God had done to accomplish the most important two purposes that have been achieved by the Anglo-Saxon race during this marvelous century—the restoration of faith and the emancipation of women. He said he would deal with the subject next Sunday night.

McIntyre, Ont., Sept. 20.—The young son of Hugh Lamont, of this place, has been afflicted with dropsy since infancy. He was bloated and swollen all over. His parents were at their wits' end to find some cure for him when they read of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Lamont got six boxes of the pills and the boy began taking them. Before the sixth box was finished he was cured. It doesn't matter whether the patient is young or old, the pills will effect a cure of any kidney disease, or of any disease arising from disordered kidneys.

NOTES FROM WINNIPEG.

Illness of A. T. Wood, M. P., of Hamilton—The Ogilvie Milling Co. Boycotted—A Sudden Death.

Winnipeg, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Word has been received here of the serious illness of A. T. Wood, M. P., of Hamilton, at Vancouver.

A lad named Jordan was killed by the discharging of a gun while hunting near Wolseley.

J. B. Davies, postmaster at Norman, Ont., was arrested at Pembina, N. D., while attempting to abscond with public funds.

The Catholic school at St. Francois Xavier, closed since 1890, has been opened under the Public Schools Act. This is a victory for national schools.

J. Stanley, contractor, died suddenly at the Brunswick Hotel to-day. He went to his room after breakfast, not feeling well, and was found dead at noon. Cause, heart disease.

Hon. Clifford Sifton arrived from Ottawa to-day and is visiting his father. To-morrow Major Walsh and party leave. Six Indians and two whites arrived to-day from Fort William, who will go as dog drivers to the party. Philip Walsh, Major Walsh's brother, will be one of the party.

The Ogilvie Milling Company, who have been boycotted by farmers at many points because they did not open their elevator at the beginning of the season, when prices were high, are now paying two cents a bushel more than other companies in order to get wheat. Till yesterday the Ogilvies had not gotten a single bushel at Glenboro, and practically none at a dozen other points. The Canadian Pacific have not power to move the crop fast enough, and already several markets are blocked. A general blockade is certain if the price keeps up.

John McBeth, twice a member in the Local Legislature, died yesterday in Denver, where he had gone for his health.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MUPORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

THE HARVEY LITHOGRAPHIC STONE QUARRY.

A Company to Operate Formed as the Outcome of Development Operations—Promising Prospects of Successful Results.

On Friday of last week a number of those interested in the Lithographic Stone Quarry at Harvey went to the quarry and examined the stones that had been taken out and saw the volume of work that had been performed during the season.

On Tuesday evening following, a meeting of those who had an interest in the mine and had contributed to the fund for its exploratory development, was held. The prospects were thoroughly canvassed and so encouraging was the outlook that the formation of a company was decided upon, preliminary organization effected and the solicitor of the company, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, was instructed to take the necessary steps to obtain a charter of incorporation for the new company, to be called "The Ontario Lithographic Stone and Mining Company (Limited)."

The capital stock of the new company is fixed at $250,000; fifty thousand shares of $50 each. One hundred thousand dollars of the stock will be treasury stock, a portion of which will be placed upon the market.

As soon as the details of the organization of the new company are completed active work in placing the products of the quarry upon the market, where there is a good demand for such stone, will be begun.

These steps have only been taken after a thorough test of the stone by practical lithographers in both England and the United States, and after having the quarry examined by experts to ascertain the extent and value of the deposit, which these experts pronounce to be equal to the best quality of German lithographic stone, with the sizes obtainable being equal to supplying the average sizes demanded by the trade.

All the stone of this kind in the vicinity which seems to be the largest and best known deposit yet discovered on this continent, is on lands that have been secured by the company.

During the winter arrangements will be completed for the purchase and installation of the necessary machinery and plant for the vigorous operation of the quarry.

It is understood that an English syndicate of capitalists, after having inspected specimens of the stone sent to England are negotiating for the purchase of the entire interest in the quarry, but it is also understood that the company now controlling it will regard only a very handsome sum as a temptation to dispose of their promising property.

MEETING FOR WOMEN ONLY

In the Town Council Chamber—An Address Upon an Important Subject by Mrs. Harvie.

The attention of the women of Peterborough is most earnestly called by the Board of Management of the Y. W. C. A. to the meeting to be held in the Council Chamber, on Thursday, Sept. 30th, at 3.30 o'clock, in the interests of the young women and girls of the town. This meeting is to be addressed by Mrs. John Harvie, President of the Young Women's Guild of Toronto and Inspectress of Children's Aid Societies throughout the Province. Mrs. Harvie has spent many years in personal work among the girls of Toronto and her success in dealing with them has been almost phenomenal. Every woman in Peterborough who has at heart the moral and spiritual welfare of the town should strive to be present, and also be prepared to co-operate in the efforts that are to be made to reach and influence for good the young women of the town. Committees will be then formed for special work among the women of the community.

A collection will be taken up to defray necessary expenses.

KENNEDY & WADE GET SHERBROOKE ST. SEWER.

CONTRACT AWARDED AT THE COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The Water Works Company to Get Its Dues—Mr. Denne Appointed Collector—The Assessment Question—Minor Matters.

A special meeting of the council was held last night in the Clerk's office. Present the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. White, Meldrum, McWilliams, LePlante, Davis, Robertson, Cobb, Denne and Best.

An informal discussion took place over the matter of the costs in respect of the outfall sewer arbitration, and the Clerk was instructed to inform North Monaghan and Otonabee that the council of Peterborough is willing to stand by the agreement made in the regard in question.

Mr. Best, chairman, presented the report of

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE

as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN—Your Sewerage Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the tender of Messrs. Kennedy & Wade, to construct the sewer on Sherbrooke street, asked for in the petition of J. W. Gray and others, namely 75 cents per foot, the terms of their present contract to apply to this work, be accepted.

2. That a cheque for $1,000, less the amount paid the Standard Pipe Co., be issued to the Ontario Sewer Pipe Company, on account of pipe purchased from them, and that an account for $60 for brick be paid to Curtis Bros.

3. That the Town Solicitor and the chairman of this committee be appointed a deputation to interview the Ontario Government in reference to the law regarding assessments for local improvements, and the Treasurer be authorized to pay the expenses of the deputation.

4. That the Sewerage Committee be authorized to purchase an iron pipe for crossing the creek on Aylmer street at Brock street.

5. That the Committee be authorized to have a street gulley constructed at the corner of Hunter and Chambers street.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY BEST,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

SEWERAGE BY LAW.

Mr. Best introduced a bylaw for the construction of a sewer on Sherbrook street, from lot five west of George to Aylmer street, a distance of 350 feet, and Messrs. Kennedy & Wade were by the bylaw given the contract on the same general terms as apply to their Aylmer street contract.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Mr. White introduced a bylaw to appoint a collector of taxes, and a bylaw was passed appointing Henry Denne collector of taxes for the year 1897, at a salary of $600.

ASSESSMENT CONFIRMED.

A bylaw introduced by Mr. Denne was passed, to adopt the assessment roll for 1897 as the basis of the assessment for 1898.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Denne moved, seconded by Mr. Cobb, that the clerk be instructed to publish a notice of the passage of the bylaw to adopt the assessment roll of 1897 as the basis of the assessment of 1898, in THE EXAMINER, Review and Times newspapers.—Carried.

Mr. Best moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that owing to the explanation made by the Water Company the council now rescind the order passed by the council July 3rd, and that the Water Company be paid their money according to agreement.—Carried.

Mr. Robertson moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that Mrs. Drake's taxes be remitted.—Carried.

Mr. Denne moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that Mrs. Gagnon's taxes be remitted.—Carried.

MUD LAKE FLOATING BRIDGE.

The Question of the Joint Maintenance by the Town and County.

Last night at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, a deputation from the County Council appeared to discuss the question of the town co-operating with the county in the partial rebuilding and subsequent maintenance of the floating bridge across Mud Lake. The deputation consisted of Mr. Anderson, Warden and Messrs. John Burnham, W. H. Casement, Geo. Fitzgerald, John Moloney and Mr. J. B. Pearce. Mr. Jas. Middleton arrived about the close of the conference.

The deputation ably presented the advantages that accrue to the town, as particularly represented by the merchants and business men, through the maintenance of the bridge, and the facilities it affords for reaching our excellent market, and also the loss that would arise from the closing of the bridge, which might result, unless the county got some assistance in rebuilding and in meeting the heavy bill for maintenance.

The matter was referred to the town section of the Joint Committee, with instructions to make enquiries among merchants and others as to the advantages derived from the maintenance of the bridge in good condition, and the loss that might result from its being closed, the county in the meantime to procure tenders to ascertain the cost of making the necessary repairs to the bridge.

Without wishing to prejudice the case, it may be suggested that it is very much in the interests of the town to have the Mud Lake bridge maintained, for the closing of it would divert a large stream of visitors to our market, who naturally are also good customers of our merchants.

THE NEW WING.

It was Well Staged, and as a High Class Comedy would be hard to Equal.

Those who attended the presentation of the English farcial comedy, "The New Wing," at Bradburn's opera house last evening, were more than delighted. It is full of fun and sparkling wit, brilliant witticisms and ludicrous situations. The cast was as follows:

George Slab a plumber.....Otis Shattuck
Sir Edward Strangeways, Bart, an architect.....Chas Lamb
General Singleside.....Richard Sullivan
Bobby Bultons.....Earl Ryder
Mr Jobbins, land surveyor, etc.....Barney McDoogough
Nibbs, the butler.....Alf Helton
Hester, Gen Singleside's daughter.....Neva Harrison
Flossie Trivett, ward of Gen Singleside.....Elizabeth Whitney
Mrs Dexter, a relation of Gen Singleside.....Minnie Bernard
Louise Dexter, her daughter.....Della Clark

If another of Mr. Kennedy's plays is produced in Peterborough this season it will receive a most flattering reception. The spirit of the whole comedy was splendidly sustained throughout and the characters are certainly well assumed. Mr. Bradburn is deserving of a vote of thanks from the public for providing so enjoyable an evening's entertainment.

Rendered Exceedingly Difficult From Lack of a Shelter for Rescued Children.

A woman and four children were brought to the police station this morning in a cab. The woman was arrested on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. The eldest of the children, a very pretty girl fifteen years old, though looking younger, and the youngest, a boy of two, were all that the Children's Aid Society could at present take charge of, although a girl of twelve should have been taken also. As there is no Protestant shelter for Protestant children they were placed by the Society in St. Joseph's House of Providence, through the kind permission of the sisters.

This is really the only available temporary shelter for children in town, and Protestants owe a debt of gratitude to the Sisters for providing a means of protection which it has not yet dawned upon Protestants to provide. The question is—"When will be seen the necessity of taking up this most important of all works?" It is a work that ought to be done by women only, or under their management. The secretary affirms the complete unfitness of a man for dealing with the rescue of young girls, and laments the apathy of those who ought to take it up as their work. Crime seems to be on the increase, and what ought to be done by Christian people may one day have to be done by force to protect the state. There is asserted to be an immense amount of moral degradation abroad, a degradation that grows while people continue to sleep in blissful ignorance or blissful doubting.

Think of such things as the following in a Christian community, and this is only one instance of many: A girl of fourteen applied recently for a pass to the theatre. It was refused. She wandered down into the street, and was seized upon by the young men that lie in wait for just such girls. Our informant followed up the case and found that the ruin of that young girl was enough to make strong men weep. The time has come when Christian people must stop organising and go to work amongst the fallen and the falling—seek to know that their "neighbour," in a Scriptural sense, who may be found at their doors as well as in distant China or Japan. There's a world of truth in the old saw, "Charity beings at home."

April 5—Paper, Mr. Duncan Walker.
April 26—Special object.

It was also decided to recommend the Club to reduce the annual fee to 25 cents, and to abolish open meetings.

Membership tickets will be supplied to all persons applying for them, without ballot.

This action looking to the greater popularization of this excellent club, will doubtless result in greatly widening the sphere of the good influence upon the culture of our citizens it is known to exert.

The club has apparently a prosperous and useful season before it.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

A most cordial invitation is given to all the girls to come out next Thursday evening, when Mrs. Harvie will give address. There will also be a good musical programme and refreshments and a pleasant evening is expected. The final arrangement for the classes will then be made, so all come out who intend joining.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember,

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills; easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

A HINT TO BICYCLISTS.

Reckless Use or Abuse of their Privileges May Produce Restriction.

Bicyclists are recognized by the Legislature, by which their rights are defined in respect of the rights of the road.

But too many disregard the provision the law lays down in respect to the rights of the road. The law provides that a bicyclist meeting another wheel or a vehicle shall turn aside to the right in passing. It also provides that a bicyclist in passing a wheel or vehicle going in the same direction shall turn aside to the left. If both parties concerned observe the law of the road, nothing unpleasant is likely to occur.

But an example of the danger of disregard of the law of the road happened on Saturday evening. A man and a woman bicyclist were wheeling on George street. The lady was in her place on the right side of the street railway track. The man was on the wrong side, and in addition to that as the two approached, the man turned to to the left, the wrong way, and the lady at the same time turned to the right, the right way, and, doubtless thinking that the man knew enough to be allowed out alone, felt sure that the way would be clear. She discovered her mistake too late to avert the inevitable collision that took place. Both were thrown from their wheels through the stupidity of the man, but fortunately nothing more serious than a severe shaking up, ruffled tempers and crumpled clothing resulted.

If bicyclists persist in thus disregarding the law, they need not be surprised if legislation is enacted imposing severe restrictions in the way of carrying bells, lanterns and other prophylactic bicycle bric-a-brac.

THE CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS.

Nominations Took Place in Their Rooms Last Evening.

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Catholic Literary Association was held in their rooms for the purpose of nominating the directors for the coming year. Dr. Moher occupied the chair and after a few introductory remarks, the nominations ensued with the following result:

Directors—Messrs P Doris, J Hanrahan, J Lonergan, J J Lynch, John Corkery, R Sheehy, D O'Connell, Dr Moher, A Murty, D J Costello, W Thorne, F Morrow, W Pope, J Simons, T J Begley, W Crowley, T Corkery, E McFadden, J Carroll, T Hanrahan, F McFadden, T Cronin, Dr. Letellier, A McPherson, John McCabe, J Dillon, W Grady, F Quinlan, L R Keogh, J Cleary, A Picard, J Dolan, J L O'Brien, T B McGrath, M O'Brien, W Rudkins, H LeBrun and A J Gough.

The election of a board of directors, as well as the officers, takes place next Tuesday evening.

At the close of the nominations stirring speeches were made by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Messrs. J. L. O'Brien, P Doris and T J Begley. The coming season promises to be a successful one for the Association in every respect.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affections of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson of the Standard Band now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

MR. MELDRUM BUYS A MILL

To Enable him to Meet the Large Demands of his Trade.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, whose business energy seems restless unless it has an outlet, has purchased the Paris Roller Mills, situated at Paris. These mills are located in the heart of the town of Paris and on Smith creek at its confluence with the Grand River.

Mr. Meldrum has already given the contract for thoroughly reconstructing and refitting his mills to be hereafter known as the "New Paris Roller Mills," with the most modern and best improved equipment of machinery. The refitting of the mills is in the hands Messrs. J. G. and W. J. Gray, of Toronto, whose reputation is continental. The new mills, which will be new from water wheel to the blow spout in the attic, will be amongst the best in the country, will have a capacity of 200 barrels per day.

It will be run in connection with Mr. Meldrum's present extensive flour and grain business.

The report that gained considerable currency, that Mr. Meldrum contemplated leaving town, is utterly untrue and without foundation. He has not the slightest idea of leaving Peterborough where he has such large and important interests. He was compelled to procure the Paris mill or some similar mill in order to hold his trade.

Through Mr. Meldrum the farmers of this vicinity may have the honour—if it is to be considered an honour—of helping to fill the order of the Emperor of Russia for Canadian flour. Yesterday Mr. Meldrum shipped five thousand bushels of white winter wheat, grown in this county, to the McKay Milling Company, Ottawa, who recently received an order for flour from the Czar of all the Russias.

A PETERBOROUGH MUSICAL CONTRIBUTION.

The Way They Put on Oratorio in London.

In Moderato's column in "Saturday Night" the following is found:

Mr. John Crane, the well known Peterborough choirmaster, in an interesting letter to the editor of this column makes the following references to his recent musical experiences in England: "I spent some six weeks in Paris and London this summer and had the pleasure of hearing the concerts of the Handel Festival at the Crystal Palace. They were very fine. Three thousand voices were in the chorus, and one cannot but admire the wonderful precision and grand effect with which they sing their work. Albani, Mme. Mackenzie, Santley and Lloyd were the soloists. Having received Saturday Night with your remarks about Albani's singing of the Messiah solos in Toronto, and the unwarrantable liberties she took with the music as regards tempo and phrasing, it was only the next day that I heard her, and what you referred to was very apparent in her singing—in fact, the audience took her work with distinct coldness, especially in "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth. In striking contrast was the artistic phrasing and singing generally of Lloyd and Santley. They aroused immense enthusiasm."

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE ANNUAL SPORTS.

The first event in the programme will be the steeple chase or cross country run from the Collegiate Institute to some point to be determined between now and to-morrow night when, after 4, the run takes place.

THE LAKEFIELD BIKE BOOM.

The Great Road Race on Friday, October 1st.

C. P. R. Solidification.

The work of replacing 60 lbs.-to-the-yard rails with 80 lb. rails is progressing rapidly on the C. P. R. as far east as Central Ontario Junction and as far west as Pontypool. The sixty pound rails will be shipped for use in the new branch of the C. P. R. under construction, the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. It won't be long till the discarded rails will have the laugh on the big rails by which they were displaced. A short run of ore-laden trains o'er the sixty-pound rails and they will be gilt with the gold dust that will sift through the cars.

A PREHISTORIC PEDAL IMPRESSION.

Preserved With Wonderful Fidelity in Solidified Sand.

A well known civil engineer (that is, he is generally civil) has showed the EXAMINER a stone foot which he found during a period of exceedingly low water on the beach of Deer Bay.

The article in question is a most interesting reproduction of the moccasined foot of an Indian, the contour, as well as entire contents, resembling exactly the foot of an Indian covered with a moccasin. The Knight of the Theodolite who has made a careful survey of the specimen, lays great stress in identifying his petrous podomorph, upon the prominence of the part corresponding to the os calcis (heel bone) as being peculiarly Indian.

The theory of the formation of this stone foot has been very carefully studied out. It is supposed that ages ago—in prehistoric times—an Indian, after having had a rather convival night with the boys at Tom Eastland's, at Buckhorn, started across the country for his home at Hiawatha. It is further supposed that he had not gone far before he felt the need of a modest quencher and decided to take in Jack Holmes' hostelrie on the way. In order to do this, his nearest way would be around the head of Deer Bay. Here it is supposed he committed the rash act of taking a drink of water from the bay and, in so doing left the imprint of his moccasined foot in the sand at the water's edge. Being prettily heavily loaded, the impression would be a deep one. The theory is that the sand was washed by the action of the water into the mould thus formed, and, the theory proceeds, the oil exuding from the moccasin prevented the amalgamation of the sand that was washed into the mould, with the sand surrounding it, thus accounting for the separation of the cast from the "country" sand. This cast by natural action solidified, and thus we have a most intelligent and indisputable theory to account for the remarkable find made ages afterwards by the civil engineer.

The petrified foot is an unique and scientifically interesting discovery. It would be very instructive to get the opinion of Mr. David Boyle, the noted archæologist upon the find. He would no doubt associate it in some lucid manner with the serpent mound at Rice Lake, and there would be much reason in such a course. From the history cited above of the Indian who made the track in the sand, it is natural to reason that he had snakes in his boots or, rather, moccasins. For the scientific mind, anxious to establish a theory, the transition from snakes to serpents is easy, and from snakes to serpent mound equally easy. Mr. Boyle is known to be very skeptical, and his deductions are carefully drawn; but even doubting Thomas, redivivus, could not but reach conclusions as to the identity of the stone foot.

This important find will doubtless reach the Victoria museum, but it won't "get there with both feet"—there are self-evident mathematical reasons against such a mode of arrival, but the one foot is solid enough to answer the purpose.

The Secretary of the Society may be inclined to be skeptical, but association with comparatively trival and painfully modern matters like canal construction, may exercise a warping influence upon the most well-balanced and judicious mind.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Arrangements were not fully completed last evening to allow the Rugby football team to practice in the rink. The business meeting was held in the Oriental hotel parlours, the use of which were kindly offered by Mr. Graham. Capt. Letellier took the chair and a lively discussion was a once entered upon as to the new colours to be adopted. Three combinations were suggested to be worn with white canvas knickers and jackets, viz.—black Jerseys and green stockings; royal purple Jerseys with black stockings; and green Jerseys with green stockings. The second suggestion was adopted, and Peterborough Rugby football colours will be Royal Purple and Black this season.

Manager Smith submitted the correspondence which had passed between himself and Osgoode Hall in relation to the second team coming down from Toronto on Saturday. A satisfactory arrangement had been made and a committee was appointed to receive the visiting team at the station, composed of Messrs. Adolph Letellier, Chris Graham, Bruce Rickey, Hal Burnham and Alf. Terrill.

Saturday's game promises to be a fast one as the Osgoode team are picked for the Intermediate Champions of Canada, whilst the local team will have a number of the best of the old heads to pilot them through, with some of the strongest of the new men.

Our Canadian Women

And Their Many Troubles.

Paine's Celery Compound a Life-giver.

For the many serious ills that women are heir to Paine's Celery Compound is truly an invaluable blessing. It speedily purifies the blood, and banishes backaches headaches, tired feelings, languor, nervousness and heart troubles. No other medical discovery ever given to suffering women can boast of such a record of cures. Mrs. A. Legault, St. Andre street, Montreal, says:

"I cannot help telling all sufferers what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I would have been a lost woman had I continued six months longer in suffering. My case was a bad one. Headache, insomnia, nervous prostration and loss of memory made up my troubles, and I feared they would lead to insanity. I went to several doctors who treated me with all their skill, but I did not get any better. As I am the mother of seven children I became disheartened with failures and being obliged to spend so much money. My friends advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle gave me little relief, but the second began to work miraculously on my nerves. I continued using the compound and after taking nine bottles I can positively say I am cured."

Mr. William Irwin, of the firm of William Irwin & Co., lumbermen, left this evening for the scene of his operations on the Wahnapitae River. The firm has now in the woods over 500 men, all Canadians, taking out saw logs for export and home consumption. They have also two timber camps on the Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway, taking out timber for the English market. Mr. Irwin says they will take out in sawlogs this year about forty million feet and about 250 thousand cubic feet of square timber. Mr. Irwin says that they have in their camps over two hundred men from this locality and will give them steady employment until the logs reach their destination.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY

BABY WAS CURED.

DEAR SIRS,—I can highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It cured my baby of diarrhœa after all other remedies failed, so I give it great praise. It is excellent for all bowel complaints.

HIS FLY-BOOK.

It Is Dearer to the Angler Than Any Other Possession.

Is there anything closer to an angler's heart than his fly books. I know of a case where a burglar among other things, took a fly book. He was arrested and speedily convicted and imprisoned. He cleared things out pretty well in the house, but the owner seemed to care nothing about the missing fur coats, sealskin sacques, silverware and other valuable articles and pirates, but he did bewail the loss of his book of flies. The other things he could buy again, but to get together such an assortment of tackle as he owned of himself and friends would be a matter of time and many dollars. He had been years collecting them, picking up odd ones here and there and for quality and variety his book could not be excelled.

It was a fly storehouse, as it were. No matter where he intended fishing or whether for trout, bass or salmon, he could always find a choice assortment to draw from with which to fill up a supplementary book.

Although it was some time ago he yet bewails the loss of that fly-book. Many have been the efforts to get track of it, but all in vain. He has gone to the expense of sending to the prison, in a distant city, and endeavoring to prevail upon the convict to divulge the hiding place of the book, but without success.

A persistent search of the pawnshops and periodical advertising have produced no better results.

There were flies in that book for trout and salmon in Irish waters; flies for the salmon and trout of the Scotch lakes and the English streams, and flies for the salmon of Norway. The favorites from Maine to California, and from one end of Canada to another, were collected in that wallet; anything and everything from the feather-down midget with cobweb gut to the lordly salmon fly, absolutely irresistible to the lurking salmon deep down in the icy pools of the Cascapedia.

There were flies in that book on which famous bass, trout and salmon had been hooked, each fly carrying with it memories of battles fought from canoes among the rushing, swirling waters.—Pittsburg Despatch.

The Chicago Drainage Canal.

The Chicago Drainage Canal extends from the Chicago River (which empties into Lake Michigan) to the Illinois River, a distance of 28 miles. At first it was the intention to use the canal for drainage purposes only, but there is a growing desire on the part of the promoters to have a canal which may be used for shipping purposes.

The canal is of great interest to Canada and the States on the St. Lawrence route, as it is feared that to divert such a volume of water required even for drainage purposes for the city is estimated at three hundred thousand cubic feet per minute; but if the canal is to become a channel for vessels there will be drawn from Lake Michigan a volume of water equal to that passing through the Ohio.

That teachers and pupils may compare the Chicago Drainage Canal with other and older canals we present the accompanying pen and ink sketch. Should the Chicago Canal become a channel for shipping it will afford a waterway for boats drawing less than 22 feet of water. With a deepening at certain points of the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers, ocean steamers may pass from the Gulf of Mexico to Lake Michigan.—Canada Teacher.

Gentlemen,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. TRICKS OF MEDIUMS.

SUPPOSED SPIRITUAL PHENOMENA MERELY TRICKS OF LEGERDEMAIN.

Cost Medium Frauds, The Cabinet, Handcuff and Spirit Collar Tricks Exposed by a Magician How Easily We Are Fooled.

A well-known conjurer who has been before the public many years in his own line, recently contributes an interesting article to The Scientific American on the nature of so-called spiritualistic frauds.

The article was not written for the purpose of proving that he believes in spiritualism, the mediums and mediumistic phenomena, but to explain how several of their release from cabinets and which they had been fastened. The writer frankly states that during the many years he has given exhibitions of the juggler's art he has met many test "mediums," and can say without qualification that all of them have been impostors.

On the other hand, this writer has himself performed cabinet tricks many times, and before intelligent and alert audiences, and has never been exposed.

In these tricks of the cabinet, so old and yet still so frequently performed, the methods used are many, but all mystifying.

Among the many successful rope tests, the following is about the best: A piece of soft cotton rope about six feet long, and of the size known as sash cord, is securely tied around the performer's left wrist, dividing the rope so that the ends will be of equal length. When the committee are satisfied that they have made the knots secure, the performer places his hands behind him, with the right wrist resting over the knots on the left wrist, and the ends of the rope are securely tied together, bringing the knots down tight on the right wrist. This appears fair enough, but it is not as fair as it appears, because, while the knots are quite secure, there is sufficient slack between the wrists to enable the performer, by giving his right wrist a half turn, to withdraw this hand from the rope encircling it.

The reader may say: That is all well enough, but how and by what means does he secure this slack?"

In placing his hands behind him after the rope is tied about the left wrist he gives the rope a twist, crossing one end over the other, pressing the wrist down on the knot and covering the wrist and knot with the right wrist, which is then tied. When ready to release himself, the performer gives his right hand and wrist a half turn, releasing the twist lying on the knot, which thus becomes a part of the loop tied around the right wrist, and enlarging it sufficiently to enable the performer to pull the right hand free from the rope, when he can perform any trick he chooses with the free hand. By replacing the hand in the loop and giving the hand a half turn the knots can be shown as secure as when first tied.

The handcuff test is a great favorite of the "medium." In this test the performer uses any pair of handcuffs furnished by the audience, and by them put on him. Yet in a very few moments after he takes his place in the cabinet his coat is thrown out, but on examination the handcuffs are found to be on his wrists just as they were placed by the audience. As a final test, the performer comes out of the cabinet holding the handcuffs in his hand, removed from the wrist but locked.

The explanation of this trick is very simple. There are only a few styles of handcuffs made in this country, and all that a "medium" has to do is to secure the proper key for each style, which keys are concealed about the person, and by the aid of the fingers and teeth the proper key can be fitted to the handcuffs. In some types of handcuffs it is impossible to get the fingers to the keyhole. If such a pair is placed on the performer, and he cannot use his teeth to hold the key, he slips the key in a crack in the chair or cabinet, which crack he makes sure is there before undertaking the test, thus holding the key and unlocking the handcuffs.

The spirit collar trick, when once exposed, appears as easy of performance as those already dealt with. The whole secret is found in a number of false bolts and a genuine one which the "medium" knows how to remove without difficulty.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Winnipeg, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—J. Lebertie, a French laborer, was asphyxiated with coal gas in an hotel here yesterday. He still lingers, but no hopes are entertained of his recovery. Nothing is known of him beyond his name.

William Gates, aged 16, was fatally shot near the city on Saturday. He was in a buckboard, with a gun leaning against his thigh, when a dog jumped into the rig, pulling back the trigger with its foot. The contents of the gun entered Gates' groin, and he died in the General Hospital to-day.

Major Walsh arrived from the east to-day and will remain in the city some days before proceeding to the Yukon.

Stewart Langrall fell from the elevator at Brandon on Saturday, receiving severe internal injuries.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell also arrived to-day. He refused to speak on any political subject.

Cures Erysipelas, Scrofula, Salt Rheum Eczema and all other eruptive Skin Diseases.

A Marvelous Cure for Erysipelas by Sloan's Indian Tonic, in Lambton County.

Mrs. J. J. Porter, of Corunna, writes:—

I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day and am now entirely cured.

Fred W. Leiskau, Baden, writes:—

Please send me another bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. I bought one bottle from your agent early this spring, and I must say it is the best medicine in existence. I was troubled with a soreness in my right side and tried many doctors, but they could not cure me, and after using the one bottle I have had no trouble with the soreness. I am very glad I can state this.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Choosing a Husband.

George Eliot says in one of her novels, that almost any woman can marry any man she makes up her mind to. Whether this is truth or fiction, certainly a woman chooses her husband oftener than he knows it. But she must play the negative part. She can only make herself as attractive as possible in a modest, womanly way and rely upon human nature and manly instinct.

A sensible man naturally seeks a wholesome looking, healthy, capable companion. Men are not unselfish enough to willingly assume the care of a weak, nervous, debilitated wife.

Men are not attracted by a sallow, pimply complexion, foul breath, or thin, emaciated form, because these symptoms are the sure index of poor digestion and impoverished blood.

A woman afflicted by these mortifying miseries should seek the powerful, purifying and nutrimental influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely dispels all unwholesome appearances by clearing and renovating the organic sources of healthful vitality.

It helps the liver to filter all bilious impurities from the blood. It gives the digestive organs power to extract nourishment from the food. It rounds out thin forms; wipes away wrinkles, and gives to the complexion its natural clearness and bloom.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of a severe case of poisoning of the blood," writes Mrs. Sella Nixon, of Coast, Santa Cruz Co., Cal. "Boils one after another would break out on my arms, and were very painful. I have tried the loudly praised sarsaparillas without any benefit whatever, and until I took your 'Discovery' did I get well. That was two years ago, and I have not had a boil or sore of any kind since."

ORCHARD CULTIVATION.

Fruit Must Receive as Good Care as All Other Crops.

Good tillage increases the available food supply of the soil; it also conserves its moisture.

Trees should be made to send their roots deep into the soil, in order to fortify against drought. This is done by draining the soil and by plowing the orchard rather deep.

This deep plowing should begin the very year the trees are set out, and it should be continued every spring until the habit of the tree is established.

Moisture is retained in the upper soil by very frequent but shallow tillage, because at once the surface of the land becomes a mulch for the soil beneath.

Tillage should be begun just as soon as the ground is dry enough in spring.

This tillage should be repeated as often as once in ten days through growing season—from spring until July or August.

Tillage should not exist for the purpose of killing weeds.

Late cultivation may be injurious by inducing a late growth. At all events it can be of small utility when the tree begins to mature and rains become frequent. This season of respite gives the grower the opportunity of raising a green manure, and of adding fertility to his land at trifling expense and with no harm to his trees.

Fall plowing may be advisable for farm crops, but not for orchards.

Only cultivated crops should be allowed in orchards early in the season. Grain and hay should never be grown.

In general head culture is best. The modern cultivators and harrows make such cultivation easy.

Trees, especially apples, are often trained too high, because of difficulty of working close; but modern tools permit the heads to be made low.

Harness with no projecting hames nor metal turrets should be used in bearing orchards. Those requiring no whiffletrees are also useful.

Potash is the chief fertilizer for fruit trees, particularly after bearing.

Potash may be had in wood ashes and muriate of potash. An annual application of potash should be made upon bearing orchards, of the muriate from 500 to 700 pounds to the acre.

Barn manures can be used with good results, particularly on old orchards.

Cultivation may be stopped late in the season, and a crop then be sown upon the land. This crop may serve as a green manure.—Prof. L. H. Bailey, in Orchard Bulletin.

Mrs. Ecclestone's Sufferings From Kidney Disease Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—A Medicine That Produces Good Results for Both Old and Young.

St. Catharines, Sept. 27.—Mrs. F. E. Ecclestone, aged 60, a well-known resident of this city, has for sometime been afflicted with Kidney disease, the symptoms of which were severe pains in the small of her back. She is now perfectly cured. This happy result is due to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the famous and infallible remedy for all kidney disorders. Mrs. Ecclestone says the pains have never returned since her recovery, and her happiness over her restoration to sound health is indescribable.

The Returned Klondyker.

"Yes, George," she said, as she fondly gazed upon the bearded face of the wanderer, "we have been very poor since you went away."

"We'll change all that now, little woman," said the smiling miner. "But, here, I'm as hungry as a wolf. Where is dinner?"

"Alas, George," she answered, "I have no money to buy the necessary ingredients."

"No money?" he echoed. "Here, where are your scissors?"

With steady fingers, he rapidly snipped off his luxuriant beard.

"My darling," he said, as he handed her the whiskers, "run with these to the nearest bank. Properly washed they ought to clear up a cool five hundred in the yellow dust. And—wait, my darling!—this afternoon I will take a bath, and if the debris doesn't fetch a couple o' thousand I'm a howling kyote!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

USEFUL IN DODGING CREDITORS.

One of the Advantages Possessed By the Balder Twins.

The Balder twins are in evidence again and one man is lying awake nights trying to think of a way to conciliate them. It was a put-up job against him, but he doesn't suspect it. He called at the apartment house where the family lived and asked in a disagreeable way to see young Balder.

The message was given to Harold, who went out into the hall and met a stranger, who, however, seemed to know him very well.

"Now, young sir," he began, "I want this bill settled. You've stood me off long enough, and I don't leave here to night until I've got the money or security as good as the money."

Harold Balder looked at the man without flinching.

"I never saw you in my life before," he said, with a haughty assumption of supreme indifference. "Will you be so explicit as to inform me what this bill is for?"

"Oh, them high and mighty airs won't go down with me. You owe me for a suit of clothes that you bought last spring, and I want my pay. And I want it now."

"And let me tell you right now that I never patronize a tailor that collects his own bills or sends them in under a year. You are mistaken in the person, my good man."

"Ain't your name Balder?"

"Certainly, but I never bought a suit of clothes from you."

"I've a great mind to thrash you, and I believe I'll just do it. You'll tell the truth and pay that bill, too, when I get through with you."

He had peeled off his coat and turned to clinch Harold, when he threw up his hands in astonishment. Eugene Balder, the other twin, had appeared on the scene, and as the two stood there side by side their own father and mother could not have told them apart.

"I've got 'em again," said the unhappy tailor, rubbing his hands across his eyes.

"Perhaps you have had some dealings with my twin brother," said Harold coolly.

"Why didn't you tell me you had a twin brother?"

"Why didn't you ask me? Now, Gene," turning to his brother, "I suppose this is the person you wanted me to patronize for my wedding suit? Well, my advice is that you pay him off and send him about his business, and I will give my patronage to some first-class establishment, where they don't hound a fellow to death for a few dollars."

"That's dead easy, Harold," said Eugene, "but the bank is closed and father has gone out for the evening."

"It's of no consequence; I'd rather you'd owe than not," gasped the creditor, "and any work you want done I will do it for the most reasonable price and wait your convenience. You see, I mixed you up with another family of the same name who do not pay their bills."

"We are the Balder twins; everybody knows us," said Harold promptly, "there can be no other family of the name."

"No; come to think of it, they were Smith. I hope you'll excuse me."

"Don't mention it," said Harold, as he opened and closed the door after the retreating creditor. Then he looked at Eugene and winked.

"Thanks, awfully," said his twin, "that fellow had it in for me, didn't he?"

"Yes, but you can stand him off awhile longer. If he takes us singly it will be all right, but together we can't bluff him again. It won't work."

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

A Hindoo Cricket Expert.

The best cricket batsman in England now is an Indian named Ranjitsinhji. It sounds something like falling downstairs with a scuttle of coal, and it is by no means an index of his ability to wield a cricket bat.

In his opening match Ranjitsinhji made 77 not out and 150. There are but few more astonishing feats on the cricket field. He simply outstanced his fellow batsmen. In his first-class matches he averaged 57, with an aggregate of 2780 runs, beating the invincible W. R. Grace's 2739 made in 1871.

Altogether the batting of Ranjitsinhji amounts to genius. Ordinary players who attempted to turn good length balls off the middle stump invariably came to grief, but he did it with such skill and certainty that the best bowlers were driven to despair.

Ranjitsinhji is tall and dark, and has an eye like an eagle.

Admired the Queen.

Charles Dickens, according to an English newspaper, was at one time "chaffed" by his friends for keeping a sketch of Queen Victoria over his fireplace and gazing upon it in a "rapture of admiration." It is said that her girlish beauty made a deep impression upon him, and that he wrote a friend that he had once spent days in the neighborhood of Windsor, hiding among the trees in the park and walking along her favorite drives, in the hope of getting a glimpse of Her Majesty.

Throat lined with Ulcers

A Young Lady Cured of Long Standing Catarrh and Catarrhal Sore Throat by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Miss Anna A. Howey, of Eden, Ont., says that she suffered from Catarrh for ten years, used a number of remedies advertised, but was always disappointed in the result.

Last fall she suffered intense pain in her head and her throat was lined with ulcers. The doctors called it Catarrhal Sore Throat, but did not cure it. She saw that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure was being highly recommended, so procured a box from C. Thomson, druggist, Tilsonburg, Ont., and commenced its use. Soon the ulcers cleared away from her throat, the pain in her head ceased. She says that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure does not cause distress or sneezing when being used, and is the most effective catarrh remedy she ever tried.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, a Justice of the Peace, declares that he knows Miss Howey and her mother, and can vouch for the truthfulness of her statements.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality. There is no better value in the market.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

SOME THINGS HE SEES AND MAKES COMMENT UPON.

Spicy Little Remarks About Everyday Topics—Some New Ideas on the Great Seal Question, Which Have not Heretofore Been Taken Into Consideration.

I think it is time the street inspector sent some men out to hammer down the the nails which stick out above the sidewalks. By the way, is not Hunter street in an awful shape? The sidewalks would disgrace a country village!

Did you notice the wonderful performance of the Dutch bicyclist, Cordang? You are aware that Huret, a Frenchman, held the record for twenty-four hours' riding, about 565 miles. On the Crystal Palace track in London, last week, Cordang travelled 616½ miles in twenty-four hours! The details have not come to hand yet. I don't know whether he was off the track at all during that time, but think of a man going over twenty-five miles an hour for twenty-four hours! Each mile would have to be made in two minutes and twenty seconds, which time would include any stops.

It is with the most profound regret that I hear the sad news about the crop of canteloupes—the most luscious fruit that mortal lips ever tasted, it satisfied every demand made upon it. But the crop is capricious and dependent on conditions which no fellow can find out. The best canterloupes are brought from a small section of Colorado. They are sweet as honey—but, the cost! Ay, there's the rub! They are worth their weight in silver, and one must mortgage his house if he would feed his children with them. 'Tis true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true.

The Yankees are still kicking up a fuss about the seals. They will claim them as their own particular private property because they, the seals, breed on certain islands in Behring Sea which the United States bought from Russia. It is time that Canada asserted its rights on another international question. Everybody knows that the wild ducks that fly south to the United States every fall to be shot in November and December, are Canadian ducks, hatched on Canadian soil—or water—and we have just as much right to claim damages for their destruction by U. S. pot hunters as the U. S. pretends to have on the seal question.

I often notice the newspapers say that the fair is a great help to the business men of the town. Let your reporter go up and down George street and ask the merchants if the fair does them any good. Ninety per cent of them will say "No!" emphatically.

The Czar of all the Russias, the White Czar, Nicholas II. is reversing the traditional policy of Russia, "greatly to his credit." He has decided to abolish the punishment known as Siberian exile. Offenders will be imprisoned in Russia, and large institutions are about to be erected to serve this end. His Majesty may have seen that abolishment of transportation is necessary to the progress of any country.

There are other evidences that the Czar has travelled with his eyes open. He has just promulgated a ukase prohibiting, under severe penalties, any form of labour on Sundays or the chief fourteen fast days of the orthodox calendar. Again, the Czar has cancelled his father's order, which decreed that every non-orthodox person in Russia who married an orthodox person should sign a declaration declaring that any children of such a union would be baptized and educated in the orthodox faith.

He has also removed the restrictions against the Roman Catholic faith in the Province of Poland. To-day every parish has its priest and every diocese its bishop. At the beginning of the present year Nicholas II contended that the Polish rebellion of 1863 had already been sufficiently atoned for and that the time had come when Poland's rights and privileges, then forfeited, could be safely restored. In consequence during his visit to Warsaw this month he found the entire city decorated and was greeted with an outburst of popular enthusiasm such as never before had been given to a Russian Czar.

Hear what Daniel Webster said of labour:—Labour is one of the greatest elements of society—the great substantial interest on which we all stand. Not feudal service, of predal toil, or the irksome drudgery by one race of mankind subjected to another; but labour, intelligent, manly, independent, thinking and acting for itself, earning its own wages, accumulating those wages into capital, educating childhood, maintaining worship, claiming the right of elective franchise and helping to uphold the great fabric of the state.

SIGMA.

RETURNED WITH $50,000.

Mr. Dufresne Made His Pile in the Klondike Placers and Gives Some News as Well as Advice.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—A. Dufresne, a native of this city, but lately a resident of Boston, has returned to Montreal from the Klondike with $50,000 in gold. Mr. Dufresne strongly advises no one to go to the Yukon without at least $500 in loose money over and above provisions necessary. Still he says no one ever starves in a mining camp, unless he gets lost and cannot find any other human being. Every man's supply of provisions is free to anyone who requires food. All provisions are common property when necessity comes, and actual starvation is impossible unless the scarcity should become universal. Speaking of the wealth of Klondike, Mr. Dufresne said that when he was in Dawson City he saw many miners take out $1000 a day. Everybody had a sack of gold instead of a roll of bills, and when anything was bought paid for it in gold dust. The miners spend money freely. They go into a saloon and call everybody in sight to have a drink. Those who have rich claims play faro and other games and think nothing of losing from $1000 to $5000 a day. When a miner sells his claim he will go to the next large town and spend the proceeds. There are very few women in the Klondike at present, but their number is being increased rapidly.

Blaze at Victoria Corners.

Blackwater, Ont., Sept. 27.—Last night about 8 o'clock fire was discovered in the residence of James Brethour, Victoria Corners, and the house and contents were totally consumed. The family were attending church at Sunderland, and when neighbors discovered the fire it had gained such headway that nothing could save the house. The outbuildings were saved. Origin unknown; loss heavy; insurance not known.

NO ULTIMATUM PRESENTED.

A Despatch From the British Embassy at Washington Says So.

Manchester, England, Sept. 27.—The Guardian says the Foreign Office has received a cable despatch from the British Embassy in Washington, denying that General Woodford, the United States Minister to Spain, has presented any sort of an ultimatum to the Spanish Government. Lord Salisbury, The Guardian says, is keenly interested in the relations between Spain and the United States, and has consequently caused enquiries to be made in regard to Minister Woodford's alleged representations to the Duke of Tetuan, the Spanish Foreign Minister.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Sixth Week Opened at Chicago With a Larger Crowd Than Usual—All Classes of People Attend.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The beginning of the sixth week of the Luetgert trial today brought to the court room a larger crowd than usual. Policemen and court bailiffs on duty at the doors had much difficulty in handling the crowd and admitting those with tickets. The States Attorney's office was overrun by people who importuned Assistant States Attorneys for passes. Never before at criminal trials in Chicago, the Anarchists' trial not excepted, has there been more widespread interest than has been aroused by the Luetgert trial. All classes of people have been attracted, including politicians, ministers, actors, jurists and men and women of prominence in other walks of life. During the progress of the trial a United States Senator, several ministers of national reputation, visiting judges from other States and attorneys of high repute have been among the listeners to the evidence.

Among those who gained admission to the court room to-day was a full-blooded Esquimaux. He is a Klondiker, his home being at Anvik, on the Yukon River. He wanted to see Luetgert, "the big meat man, kill a wife," as he expressed it. States Attorney Deneen expressed the belief to-day that at least three or possibly four weeks more would be required to complete the presentation.

Physical improvement, due to Sunday's rest and massage treatment, was noticeable in Luetgert's appearance as he entered the court room to-day, smoking a cigar and greeting his attorneys and his son Arnold pleasantly.

Mary Siemmering, the servant girl whose cross-examination was in progress Saturday when court adjourned, was recalled. When she went on the witness stand to-day to endure, as she supposed, the cross-examination of States-Attorney Deneen, which is electric in its rapidity, Mary appeared composed and defiant. Her cheeks were flushed, which indicated, apparently, some mental excitement, but the young woman, it was evident, had made up her mind. Greatly to her surprise and apparent relief, Assistant States-Attorney McEwen asked the questions, and did not keep her on the stand long. His cross-examination was not severe.

"Did you not say before the grand jury that Mrs. Luetgert was a good and kind mother?" asked Mr. McEwen.

"I did," confessed the witness.

"Now, you say she beat her children and was cross with them."

"When I went to the grand jury room to testify, Inspector Schaack was there. He told me if I did not say what I did he would punish me," said the witness.

Jacob Melber, of Wheaton, Ill., testified that on May 6 he saw a woman at the depot in Wheaton at 5 o'clock in the morning, whose description resembled that of Mrs. Luetgert. She enquired the way to Elmhurst. Melber is a butcher. He said he saw Mrs. Luetgert only last March. When asked, upon cross-examination, to describe the missing woman he could not do so.

Charles Boehnke, who had worked for Luetgert for 16 years, testified that on April 28 he had a brief conversation with Mrs. Luetgert and she seemed much depressed, and remarked that "things were going bad in the house." The exact words were, "We are about ruined and I will go to the country and work out; I cannot stay here."

When Mrs. Augusta Koch, a neighbor of the Luetgerts, who knew Mrs. Luetgert well, was called to the witness stand, Juror William Harler was called upon to act as interpreter. This was the second since the trial began that Juror Harler had been similarly called upon, despite the fact of the discovery that he was indicted ten years ago in connection with the Cook County Commissioners' boodle scandal. State Attorney Deneen has the utmost faith, however, in Juror Harler's honesty. Mrs. Koch said she had known Mrs. Luetgert for eleven years and had lived near her most of this time. She saw and talked with Mrs. Luetgert the last week in April. Mrs. Luetgert was depressed and talked about going away. She told the witness, according to the statement of the latter, that Luetgert had been swindled by a man who had promised to pay him a big sum for an interest in the sausage factory. Luetgert had let the man have a large amount of money and the man had run away. This evidence was in support of the statement of ex-Judge Vincent at the opening of the trial to the effect that a promoter had swindled Luetgert out of $25,000 and that this was the beginning of the troubles of the sausage maker.

Other witnesses testified along this line later in the day.

William Charles, Luetgert's partner, testified this afternoon that the caustic soda taken to the basement of the sausage factory in March was brought there for the purpose of cleaning up the establishment. Several barrels of tallow and a barrel of chipped bones were emptied into the middle vat to make soft soap, according to the witness. Luetgert told him on the night of April 30 that he was going to make the soft soap that night. The barricaded door he explained away by saying that a dog got after a rat and the boxes were piled up in front of the door unintentionally, while an effort was being made to aid the dog to catch the rat.

Charles said he met Luetgert in a saloon opposite the factory on the evening of the night Mrs. Luetgert disappeared, and Luetgert said he was going over to he factory and turn on the steam. At 9 o'clock the same night Charles said he went to the basement of the factory and found Luetgert there and the steam turned on. The mixture boiled over once or twice and splashed up on the floor, he said. The following day he visited the factory basement and saw the mixture in the vat. The tallow was in one portion of the vat and the grease or lard had collected in another part of the vat by itself. Luetgert again turned on steam in the mixture, he said.

On cross-examination by State Attorney Deneen, Charles denied he had "doctored" the books of the concern so as to show a yearly profit of $30,000.

The proceedings for the day closed with Charles' testimony.

The trial will probably last for another month.

FIRE AT BOWMANVILLE.

Lake View Hotel Destroyed With Some of Its Contents.

Bowmanville, Sept. 27.—About 7.30 this evening fire was discovered in the outbuildings of the Lake View Hotel at the G. T. R. station, owned and occupied by Mrs. Joseph Ruebottom. The distance being about a mile and a half the fire had gained great headway before the engine arrived. On account of the scarcity of water it was some time before a stream was thrown. Most of the contents of the hotel were saved, but the building is a total wreck. There is some insurance, the policy having been renewed on Saturday last. Mrs. Ruebottom's loss is not known. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

THRESH IT OUT! "YES AND WE MEAN TO DO IT."

A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 323 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Pumkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I hear them talking about the 25 cent Tea that they got there yesterday. My friend asks, what about Fruit Jars? Well what about them? Why you are the only man in town who has got them. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. I saw a load of Grapes arrive yesterday, how do you buy them that you can sell them so cheap? We buy them by the ton. THE LUETGERT TRIAL

An Important Statement Favorable to Defence.

A LAWYER AWAY UP IN NEBRASKA

Believes Mrs. Luetgert Called Upon Him With the View of Getting a Divorce —Said Her Husband Lived in Chicago Intimations of Perjury by Defence Witnesses.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The court proceedings opened to-day with the appearance upon the witness stand of Dr. Clarence Rutherford, the Luetgert family physician. He testified as to Mrs. Luetgert's physical condition, stating that she was in fairly good health.

Armadale Opdyke, a fruit vendor from near Janesville, Wis., said that in May he was in the vicinity of Lake Zurich, near Janesville, with a horse and wagon. On the night of May 9 he camped out, sleeping out in his wagon. In a small grove near him he saw two women. They were lying on the ground and said they were going to remain there during the night. Opdyke said he carried an armful of hay from his wagon to the women and they made a bed of it. The witness positively and unconditionally identified a photograph of Mrs. Luetgert as one of the women he saw in the woods near Lake Zurich the night of May 9.

Maggie Shaughnessy of No. 1348 North Roby-street was put on the witness stand to strengthen the impeachment evidence against Emma Schimpke. The witness was with Emma Schimpke and Rosa Gleich at the dance in Wesig Hall, opposite Luetgert's sausage factory, the night of May 1. She said she saw Luetgert in the bar room of the place, and that she and Emma Schimpke left the hall about 9 o'clock and went home. Consequently Emma Schimpke could not have seen Luetgert and his wife at 11 o'clock.

Marcus Heinnimann added the weight of his testimony to that of others who have told how Mrs. Luetgert had frequently said she was going away from her home because Luetgert had failed. On April 28, the witness said, Mrs. Luetgert told him she was going away.

Dr. B. L. Kiese, one of the medical experts of the defence, testified as to experiments he made at the Luetgert factory and elsewhere with bones and other material found in and about the vat.

INTIMATIONS OF PERJURY.

Rumors Around the Court Buildings in Chicago Which May Mean Trouble.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Intimations that perjury had been committed by witnesses for the defence in the Luetgert murder trial were heard around the Criminal Court building to-day, coupled with a suggestion of grand jury investigation. It was said that the prosecution seriously contemplated seeking the indictment of Mary Siemmering before the grand jury now in session. During the time Mary Siemmering was on the witness stand she was questioned sharply by Assistant States-Attorney McEwen relative to her testimony before the grand jury which indicted Luetgert. She admitted that her story before that body as well as the evidence she gave before Justice Kersten, who held Luetgert for trial, was different in material points from the evidence she gave at the present trial. Her explanation of the before the grand jury, telling her that if she did not testify against Luetgert she would be punished.

Inspector Schaack denounced this statement as utterly false.

The daily crowd at the entrances to the Criminal Court building to-day was even larger than usual. It was about equally divided as to sex.

SAYS HE SAW MRS. LUETGERT.

An Attorney From Tekemah, Neb., Believes the Woman Called on Him.

Tekemah, Neb., Sept. 28.—H. Wade Gillis, an attorney of this place, claims to have seen the wife of A. L. Luetgert, who is now on trial in Chicago for her murder, long after the woman's body is supposed to have been boiled to pieces in the sausage factory. He says the woman came to him in the latter part of May and consulted him about getting a divorce. His story is as follows:

"I think I saw the woman who is said to have been murdered. Perhaps I can do the accused husband no good, for I may not be able to convince the jury that I saw Mrs. Luetgert, but if I did not see the woman I saw a person who resembles her in every particular. Why did I not speak of it before? For the very good reason that it never occurred to me that the woman I saw was Mrs. Luetgert until I entered the court room in Chicago Wednesday and heard the woman described by one of the witnesses. Then I hunted up a photograph of Mrs. Luetgert, and was certain that I knew some important facts about the case.

"I said nothing about it at the time. Why? Because I was in charge of other business, and our court opens here today, and I could not afford to be detained in Chicago as a witness, and if I told all those lawyers what I knew I might not have got home for a month.

"About noon on May 27 or 28, I am not certain which, a woman, poorly clad in a black dress, entered my law office here. She said she wanted to consult me about a divorce suit. She was very nervous, laboring apparently under great mental excitement.

"She said she lived in Chicago, where her husband was wealthy. She had left her husband because of his cruelty, and was anxious to know if her deserting him would affect her chances for securing a divorce and the custody of her two children. She said she had two boys, whom she wanted.

"She said she had come to this State because she understood it was easy to get a divorce here. She said she had no money, but could get some, and desired to know the full cost of a suit. I told her, and she inquired the way to an hotel, saying she would return in the afternoon and close the case. I intended to ask her more about herself when she returned. She did not tell me her name, and all the time seemed to want to avoid publicity. That was the last I saw of her.

"When I was in the court room in Chicago Wednesday last and heard the description of Mrs. Luetgert by one of the witnesses I was satisfied that my strange visitor was the wife of the sausagemaker.

"When I got to Omaha last night I wired to the attorneys for the defence, telling them part of what I have here recited. They wired me to come to Chicago at once."

Vincent is Elated.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Attorney Vincent of the defence is elated over the news from Tekemah, Neb. He has not decided whether to have Attorney Gillis make a deposition in Burt County, Neb., or have him come to Chicago as a witness to testify regarding the woman he believes was Mrs. Luetgert.

TORONTO HUNT CLUB RACES.

Fine Weather, Fast Track and a Good Attendance on the Third Day.

Toronto, Sept. 29.

The Hunt Club was favored once more with perfect weather for the third day of the fall races. Laverock, in the third race, was the only favorite to win. Strathrol, the well-played second choice, captured the opening event, ¾ mile, in the splendid time of 1.15¾. The steeplechase furnished the biggest surprise of the day, Prince Mark, at 8 to 1, finishing first rather handily. W. C. Hayes captured the second race with Gay Hampton from an easy field with the comfortable odds of 3 to 1, that only a few nibbled at. False odds prevailed in the last race, that Abingdon won at 4 to 1, the favorite finishing in second place.

First race, purse $300, 3-year-olds and up, selling, ¾ mile—Strathol 1, Harrington 2, Friendship 3. Time 1.15¾. Mohawk Prince, Nover, Zeal, Frontman, Samson, Relf and Metre also ran.

Second race, purse $250, green hunters, 1½ miles—Gay Hampton 1, Falsecraft 2, Regina 3. Time 2.08½. Nellie, The Baron and Clarke also ran.

Third race, the Reynard Stakes, 2-year-olds, purse $500, ¾ mile—Laverock 1, Nabob 2, The Devil 3. Time 1.18½. Frisco Ben, Beguile, Abe Fashion, Fleming and Mongolian also ran.

Fourth race, Handicap Steeplechase, purse $300, 1¾ miles—Prince Mark 1, Dom Pedro 2, St. George 3. Time 4.44¾. Springal and Belva also ran. The Bachelor, Royal Oak and Great Bear fell.

Fifth race, purse $300, 3-year-olds and up, selling, 1 1-16 miles—Abingdon 1, Thomas Cat 2, Frank Jaubert 3. Time 1.49¾. Ulysses, Earth and Distant Shot also ran.

MASSACHUSETTS BENEFIT.

Over Half a Million Dollars of Assets—$100,000 at Ottawa.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 28.—Alfred S. Woolworth and Arthur Lord, receivers for the Massachusetts Life Benefit Association, filed a report of the assets of the corporation in the Supreme Judicial Court to-day. The report shows that the assets of the insolvent corporation in this country amount to $506,273, exclusive of $140,396 of nominal assets, from which the receivers think little will be realised.

Of foreign deposits, as appear by the books of the Association, deposited with the Government depositaries in foreign countries for the protection of policyholders there are $31,499. There are also United States Government bonds deposited with the Receiver-General at Ottawa, Ont., amounting to $100,000 and five parcels of real estate in Canada, valued at $13,750. These assets are held in Canada, where a permanent liquidator for the association has been appointed.

A PITIFUL APPEAL

From the Mussulmans in the Island of Crete.

THEY ARE NAKED AND STARVING

And Ask the Ambassadors and the Sultan to Send Them Succor British South Africa Company After Kruger A Plot to Kill the Czar Latest Cable News.

Canea, Island of Crete, Sept. 28.—The Mussulman notables have sent the following telegram to the ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople and to the Sultan:

"Our position is becoming unbearable. Winter is approaching and we are without shelter, and living on a beegram of flour per day, given us by Mussulman charity.

"Our Christian compatriots have burned our olives, and the island will soon be denuded of timber. Sowing begins in October. If we do not return to our homes, how can we live next season?

"Public charity has already expended 5,000,000 piastros, and it is doubtful if that source of relief can support us another month. We, too, are God's creatures. In the name of humanity, put an end to our desperate position."

PLOT TO KILL THE CZAR.

A Whole Street of Warsaw Was Undermined But the Scheme Leaked Out.

Warsaw, Sept. 28.—Though an official denial will be forthcoming, it has leaked out from official circles in such a manner as leaves no room for doubt that there was a deliberate and determined plot against Emperor Nicholas at the time of his recent visit to this city. Its success was only frustrated by accident.

Several weeks before the arrival of the Imperial party a number of persons, supposed to belong to the German Socialist party, undermined Nicoy Sviat, the principal street in Warsaw, between the Governor-General's palace and the Royal castle. As the tunnel which had been undertaken from the cellar from a beer house approached completion, the conspirators became apprehensive of a collapse of the roadway and called in several Polish masons to build supports. The masons, whose suspicions were aroused, notified the police and 130 arrests followed. Among those in custody are four disguised German officers, either on leave or belonging to the Landwehr, who had been active in the actual work of tunneling. A number of merchants and manufacturers from the town of Lodzy, Poland, are also implicated.

GERMAN PROTECTIONISTS

Propose to Have an Autonomous Tariff and New Commercial Treaties.

London, Sept. 29.—A despatch to The Standard from Berlin says:

"At Saturday's conference [illegible] of the three German corporations which are the main advocates of agrarian, industrial and commercial protection, held under the presidency of Count Posadowski-Wehner, Secretary of State for the Interior, it was resolved to prepare a new autonomous tariff and new commercial treaties, on the basis that the iron lords consent to the raising of the corn duty, while the agrarians consent to higher commercial duties.

The commission proposed by the conference will be so constituted as to be absolutely dependent on the Government. This has caused much excitement among German commercial men who are not thoroughgoing protectionists. They have resolved to establish an independent and impartial committee to obtain the material they deem necessary for the preparation of a customs tariff and of new commercial treaties. A bitter conflict between the two committees is inevitable.

GETTING EVEN WITH KRUGER.

British South Africa Company Demand Three Million Pounds Indemnity.

London, Sept. 28.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Capetown says it is rumored in Johannesburg that the British South Africa Company has demanded £3,000,000 indemnity from the Government of the Transvaal for inciting the natives of Matabeleland to revolt against the company and for supplying them with rifles.

CALLED IT SCOTCH BACON.

Dealers in London Fined for Selling Canadian Pork Under a Wrong Name.

London, Sept. 28.—(Telegram Cable.)—Considerable talk has arisen among pork establishments here because of fines imposed upon certain bacon dealers. The dealers sold as Scotch bacon pork imported from Canada, and for this offence they were subjected to fines.

There have been many rumors of purchase of cannon by the Canadian Government for coast defences in the Dominion. Enquiries made at the Woolwich arsenal resulted in a denial by the officials that any armament for coast defence had been ordered by Canada.

Spain Shows Her Teeth.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—A despatch to The Frankfurter Zeitung from Madrid asserts that a powerful Spanish squadron will immediately proceed to Cuba on the pretext of attending the installation of the new floating dock at Havana, but really as an answer to the despatch of the American flotilla to Florida waters.

THE QUEEN IN SCOTLAND.

An Incident in Which U. S. Ambassador Hay Was Made Conspicuous.

London, Sept. 29.—The Daily Chronicle this morning recites an interesting incident of the Queen's present visit to Scotland. Ambassador Hay was staying with Sir John Clark when the Queen arrived at Deeside. As usual, Sir John went to the station at Ballater to meet Her Majesty. On this occasion he took Col. Hay with him. The Queen noticed Sir John's companion, but did not immediately recognize him and asked who he was. On being informed she asked to have the American Ambassador

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1897.

LOCAL SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

THAT the prosperity of the farmer has a stimulating effect on general industries is well known, but the effects are seldom so directly seen as in the case of Manitoba and the Northwest this year, when a splendid harvest was supplemented by the additional advantage of good prices. Yesterday the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Crmpany shipped a carload of locks and builders' hardware, such as they manufacture, to Winnipeg, and this is only one of several similar carloads that have gone forward within a short time this season. The farmers have good crops and good prices. This enables them to build new homes, and the merchants who deal in hardware to meet the demand must necessarily give large orders. This indicates the importance which the EXAMINER has frequently insisted upon, of the filling of Manitoba and the Northwest with a population which will create a demand for the manufactured products of this and other provinces. A prosperous farming population is the best sort of population for a country; they furnish both the senews of war for the toiler in industrial circles, as well as being good purchasers of the products of such toil. Conditions like this constitute the most wholesome form of commercial relations, where one class supplies the wants of the other with advantage to both without any artifical restriction. The circumstances of the Lock Works are only an indication of the activity prevailing in all departments of industry, and the orders sent from Winnipeg to the Lock Works are not the only good things sent there for the works are kept busy with demands for their products from all parts of the Dominion. Without being optimistic, one we think, has reason to conclude that an era of wide-spread and general prosperity has dawned all the more welcome after years of despondency and dullness.

OTTAWA'S MODESTY.

THE Government's action in demanding that Ottawa owners of saw mills observe the law designed to prevent the pollution of streams with sawdust, cannot be regarded as premature, though the parties concerned may consider themselves aggrieved. But they should not entertain this feeling. For several years the mill owners in Peterborough and vicinity have complied with the law and incurred no little expense in changes and additions to their mills to meet the requirements of the law and prevent the pollution of streams in a manner that is not only injurious to fish life, but also a menace to the health of those who travel on them, as well as seriously obstructing navigation. But Ottawa seems to want special favours, according to its wont. The modest citizens of the capital want the Government to assume a large share of the burdens that properly belong to the city, and one cannot b surprised at the citizens interested in saw mills claiming exemption from the operation of the law while other portions of the Dominion are required to observe it.

Fourteen children were given to them, all of whom lived to manhood and womanhood. They have lived in this township (Walpole) forty-seven years. Mr. Trimmer retired from active farm life twenty years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Trimmer are held in very high esteem by the whole community.

Amongst the children from a distance were two sons and one daughter from Manitoulin Island. Also the bridesmaid at their wedding 60 years ago was present at the diamond wedding to-day. Mr. Trimmer is still active in religious matters, being a valued class leader in the Methodist Church, Hagersville.

A ROTTEN OLD BRIDGE

Gave Way at Lyndoch and Tumbled Mr. Whitehead and His Team and Wagon Into a Big Creek

Lyndoch, Ont., Sept. 28.—About 6 o'clock this evening, while Marshall Whitehead, with a filled water tank, was crossing the upper bridge which spans Big Creek, in this village, one of the side stringers, which proved to be nearly rotted off, gave way, precipitating the whole mass into the water, about 20 feet below. The wagon and tank turned completely over, thereby doing very little damage to either of them. One horse is probably ruined. With the exception of a good shaking up, Mr. Whitehead came through the wreck apparently none the worse.

MR. A. T. WOOD'S ILLNESS

It Was an Attack of Influenza and the Member for Hamilton is Not Seriously Ill, as Reported

Hamilton, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The family of Mr. A. T. Wood, M.P., received a telegram from Victoria to-night from Mrs. Wood, which sets at rest the alarming reports concerning the member. Mrs. Wood states the cause of illness to be influenza, which has already modified, and that the family will shortly leave for home, via San Francisco. Mr. George Wood, the son, who was telegraphed for, took a special train only to catch the ordinary train, and not for any haste due to any crisis in his father's illness.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were 46 car loads of live stock on the market to-day, composed of 670 cattle, 1471 sheep and lambs, 25 calves and 7500 hogs.

The market for export cattle was dull and slow, owing largely to reports of lower prices on the British markets. Prices were lower than on Friday last, and several loads of cattle that were on this market a week ago to-day were sold at less prices considerably than were then offered. One extra choice heavy lot, for which $4.75 was offered last Friday, were still on the market to-day unsold. Prices ranged from $4 to $4.25 per cwt. for the general run of sales, and it was said that $4.35 per cwt. had been paid for one load, and that $4.50 had been bid for one heavy load, weighing over 1450 lbs. each.

J. Gould bought 3 loads of 60 cattle, averaging 1350 lbs. each, at $4.20 per cwt.

Brown & Snell bought 5 loads at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.

C. Zeagman bought 5 choice heavy bulls, weighing from 1600 to 1800 lbs. each, at $3.80 to $4.25 per cwt., and sold 15 stock bulls, weighing 1142 lbs. each, at $2.70 per cwt.

The lower grades of butcher cattle were dull and slow of sale, but good choice butcher cattle sold as well as ever, at prices ranging from $3.75 to $4 per cwt., while medium brought $2.75 to $3.25; common $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

W. G. McClellan bought 25 head of butchers' cattle, averaging 1000 lbs. each, at $36 each, and 19 cattle weighing 900 lbs. each at $26.50 each, also 16 heifers at $3.35 per cwt.

A. Maybee bought 12 cattle, weighing 900 lbs. each, at $2.40 per cwt., also 5 cattle, weighing 1000 lbs. each, at $2.50.

William Levack bought one load of 25 cattle, averaging 950 lbs., at $3.65 per cwt.

S. Halligan bought several lots of light feeding bulls, weighing about 1050 lbs. each, at $2.50, and is ready to buy all coming forward.

Stockers and feeders were not so brisk, but prices remain about the same as we quoted them on Friday last. Stockers from $2.60 to $3 per cwt., light feeders $3.20 to $3.50, and heavy feeders at $3.60 to $3.75, and some choice heavy feeders brought $3.90.

William Cresslock bought 40 stockers and light feeders at prices ranging from $2.80 per cwt. to $3.60 per cwt., according to weight and quality.

There were about 12 milch cows on the market, which sold at prices ranging from $25 to $42 each.

Calves brought from $3 to $8 each.

Export sheep were dull and slow of sale, owing to adverse cables from England. Ewes sold at $3 to $3.25 per cwt. and bucks $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

Lambs brought $3.75 to $4 per cwt., or, in other words, $2.50 to $3.25 each.

The hog market has declined in prices about 12½c per cwt., and the choice qualities bring $5.75, which was the highest price paid.

MELANCHOLY CASE OF SUICIDE.

Mr. William J. Tremeer of Brock Township, Despondent Through Ill-Health, Hanged Himself.

Cannington, Ont., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Despondent through continued loss of health, Mr. William J. Tremeer, lot 24, con. 4, Brock, a prominent farmer and society man, took the rope method of suicide this morning at about 9.30. Mr. Tremeer, who has been in ill-health for some months, after breakfast this morning, said to his wife that he would go to the field where the hired men were lifting potatoes, which he did, and after talking with them and giving orders for the day, stated that, as he did not feel very well, he would go to the house and take a rest. On his way home he had to pass the barn, and either from mental weakness or despondency he turned into the barn, made a rope fast to the centre beam, and from appearances he must have climbed up the ladder, which leads from the floor to the beam, then put the rope around his neck and jumped into eternity. Mr. Tremeer was 45 years old, a member of the Maccabees and the Foresters. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter to mourn his untimely death. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

WHO OWNS THE RIG?

Black Horse With a Buggy Attached Found in the Shed of a Church in Vaughan Township.

Woodbridge, Ont., Sept. 28.—On Monday the sons of Mr. David Seed noticed a horse and buggy in the driving shed attached to the Presbyterian church on lot 22, on the 7th concession of Vaughan. On enquiry they ascertained that it had been observed there for two days previously. They then took possession of it and cared for the horse, for which no owner can be found. The horse is black, with one white hind foot, and had evidently been driven very hard. The buggy is a very good one, Gananoque make, and there is a goatskin robe, a horse blanket and an old overcoat and pair of mitts. It is a puzzle how the animal came there. Some think it is stolen property, while others incline to the opinion that the owner may have gone to the adjoining woods or to a fishing stream close by and has met with some accident.

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET,
OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

TARTE-GRENIER CASE

Proceedings in the Court at Montreal Yesterday.

NOTHING MUCH WAS BROUGHT OUT

The Minister of Public Works Was Badgered a Good Deal, But Details That Had No Bearing on the Case Were shut Out by Judge Wurtele.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Tarte-Grenier case was continued to-day, Mr. Tarte again being called to the stand as a witness for the defence. At the opening of the court bench warrants were ordered to issue against Hon. C. A. P. Pelletier, Hon. Francois Langelier and Hon. Charles Langelier, and the clerk of the court was ordered to apprise them of the fact by wire. Mr. Cornellier remarked that they all had railway passes and could easily come.

Mr. Tarte having taken the stand, Mr. Cornellier produced a copy of the article in La Libre Parole, taking up the paragraph charging Tarte with being a vulgar political acrobat, etc. Mr. Tarte said he certainly did object to it.

"You have admitted you changed your party?"

"I admit having changed political allegiance, as greater men than I have done before."

"That is not the question. Did you change politics, or did you change opinions?"

"I changed opinions of men and things. Your article charges me with being an acrobat of all regimes. If I had not changed opinions since the age of 20 I would have been an idiot. I changed on a number of matters, social, religious and political."

"When La Libre Parole says that you boast in saying that you changed opinions, does it say the truth?"

"I never took any pride in being called a vagabond. A vagabond is a man who has fallen so low in the social ladder that he does not even know where to lay his head. I have known and I know such men."

"So you have not changed your politics?"

"I am an old Liberal-Conservative. I have since entered the ranks of the Liberal party, which is made up of men of moderate views, having for their leader Sir Wilfrid Laurier. I favor liberty, religious and political, for all. I am a member of that party of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the most brilliant representative in this country. Yes, I have changed opinions since I entered journalism. I then thought I knew everything, but I have since learnt a great deal. There is no man in this room, from the judge to the jury, who can swear that he has not changed opinions at one time or another."

"Did you say in the Police Court that Mr. Laurier had changed his opinions?"

"I said that Mr. Laurier and I had grown older since we first met, and that he had changed his views as well as I had. We have always been on good terms. I remember that not long since he warmly eulogized the late Sir George E. Cartier."

Mr. Tarte denied that he told Mr. J. P. Whelan the $5000 he received from Pacaud had been used to do political printing, but he remembered he did some printing by commission, but did not remember where it was done.

"How much did you pay for printing?"

"Very little of the total amount went for printing; it was used for general political purposes."

"Did you not say before that you had had a mass of printing done?"

"I don't remember having said that I had a mass done; I know there was some printing done."

"Will you tell us how much you collected in Quebec for this printing, apart from the amount of $5000?"

Mr. St. Pierre objected to this question as being illegal. Surely the court was not going to enquire into all the acts of Mr. Tarte's life. Otherwise half the city of Quebec, where he lived all his life, would have to be subpoenaed. It had nothing to do with the case whether Mr. Tarte had received any political subscriptions or not. Mr. Cornellier contended that he could show that other money had been subscribed for the printing of lists, which would have allowed the $5000 to remain in Mr. Tarte's possession. There was no sane man who would not ask why Mr. Tarte had received $5000 without asking whom the money came from and what it was intended for. Mr. St. Pierre held that the defence could not attempt now to prove that Mr. Tarte had received money to corrupt the electorate without having alleged that charge in their plea.

Mr. Cornellier insisted strongly that, the complainant not having filed an answer to the plea, he had a right on general issues to make the witness account for every cent he had received out of the amount mentioned.

Judge Wurtele overruled Mr. Cornellier's question, whereupon the latter asked that the stenographer take note of his objections, as they might later on form the subject of a motion to the Court of Appeal.

There was a lively passage between Messrs. St. Pierre and Cornellier, the former accusing the latter of speaking for effect, while the counsel for the defence insisted upon the jury knowing how Mr. Tarte had spent the $5000 he had received from Mr. Pacaud. Mr. Cornellier then asked the following questions:

"After having received, as you declared when a witness for the prosecution, the sum of $5000 from the hands of Pacaud, will you tell the court what you did with that sum, and if, as you said, it was paid into the funds of the Conservative party, will you tell the names of the persons to whom the money was paid, the date when it was paid and the objects for which it was paid?"

Mr. St. Pierre objected to the question, and the objection was sustained.

Mr. Cornellier then asked the same question in slightly different wording, inserting the words "for legitimate purposes" after the words "$5000 from the hands of Pacaud." Objection was again taken by Mr. St. Pierre, and again sustained by His Honor. The court was not there, said His Honor, to satisfy public curiosity, but to proceed legally to examine the evidence bearing upon the actual charges made. What distribution had been made of the $5000 did not concern the enquiry. The charge which the defence made against Mr. Tarte was that he was a boodler. That charge concerned the acquisition of moneys, not their subsequent distribution. Because, to give an example, a thief might build a church with the proceeds of his theft, that act did not make him any less a thief. For the same reason the legitimate or the illegitimate distribution of funds had nothing to do with the original acquisition of the funds.

Mr. Cornellier again returned to the charge and put a general question, asking if the money had been paid to any of the then Conservative leaders, whom he mentioned by name as Mr. Taillon, Mr. Leblanc and others.

This question shared the fate of its predecessors and was overruled. Being overruled on every point, as the defence has been all along, Mr. Cornellier devoted himself to procuring Mr. Tarte's definition of the term boodler. This was Mr. Tarte's idea: A man who took advantage of his official position to divert public money to serve his own personal or other interests, in fact a thief.

"And," said Mr. Cornellier, "would you not consider that a man holding the public position you held at the time you received the $5000 from Pacaud without, as you have admitted, rendering any service in return, was a boodler?"

"Had I considered that taking the money savored of boodling I should not have taken it," was Mr. Tarte's reply. "The money was not public money, and, as I have already explained several times, I believed at the time that Messrs. Prefontaine and Pacaud had bought the claim of Whelan, and I did not know that the money I was receiving came from Whelan. Had I known that I would not have taken it."

"Will you tell us, then," continued Mr. Cornellier, "if you had kept that $5000 in your pocket and used it solely to enrich yourself, would you consider that boodling?"

"I have already said that I did not keep the money. You are asking a purely hypothetic question."

"Well, I ask you would you consider it boodling?"

"I said," was Mr. Tarte's reply, "that I considered a boodler one who, using his official position as means, diverted the money of the people to his personal or improper ends. As the $5000 was not the people's money, but came from an entirely private source, I should not consider myself dishonored had I put what was offered me in my pocket and kept it."

Some time was spent on the affairs of Le Soir, bringing out the statement that all the creditors had been paid but Mr. Grenier. Mr. Tarte denied saying he would see Grenier was paid.

Mr. Grenier very much annoyed his counsel by saying that there was a mass of details his counsel was not acquainted with, whereupon Mr. Cornellier had the sitting adjourned.

Erratum.

In the published list of the Peterborough Central Exhibition there was an omission, which is here rectified. In the grade cattle class the judges put a third prize ticket on a two-year-old heifer exhibited by Mr. Jas. Head, (Nicholls Hospital) and failed to make a corresponding entry in the judge's book. Therefore, the prize taken by Mr. Head's heifer was not recorded in the published prize list.

THE LATE DISTURBANCE.

There Was no Intentional Theft Committed by the Defendant.

The charge of horse stealing, which was preferred against Mr. Robt. Burris, of Belmont, by Mr. Geo. Bertram, of Seymour, was dismissed this morning when the parties appeared before Judge Weller, as no intention to defraud was apparent, and the matter was settled amicably as between plaintiff and defendant.

Mr. Burris, as will be remembered, purchased a team of horses from Mr. Bertram, giving in payment a lien note. He then traded for a single horse and some cattle, not understanding the exact significance of a lien note. On giving up the horse and cattle the plaintiff was satisfied.

The defendant was represented by Mr. F. D. Kerr and Mr. R. E. Wood, County Attorney, appeared for the Crown.

57TH BATTALION NOTES.

The Orders for the Ensuing Week—Inspection Coming On In a Few Weeks.

The Battalion turned out strong last evening and paraded to the Market Square, headed by the Drum Corps and Bugle Band. After an hour's drill the officers took their companies for another hour on the Central Park.

At ten o'clock the following orders were read in the shed by the Adjutant:

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, Sept. 28, 1897.

Orders by Lieut-Col. R. W. Bell, Commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1. Detail of duty for week ending October 9th: Officer for the week Capt. Clegg, next for duty Capt. McGill.

Bugler for the week Bugler Bu.cher, next for duty Bugler Sgt. Sharpe.

2. The Bugle and Drum Corps will parade every Tuesday evening until further orders.

By order
H. A. MORROW, Capt.
Adjt. 57th Battalion.

Inspection will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 19th, 20th and 21st, and the men are drilling conscientiously in order to once more carry off the honours of the District.

Last evening the drill shed was illuminated with incandescent lights for the first time, the connection being made yesterday afternoon. There are twenty-eight sixteen candle power lights in the drill shed proper, and the officers quarters and different armouries are also well illuminated.

Sgt.-Major Peters is already making preparations for the annual Battalion concert and will begin at once to teach a squad the sword exercise which will be even more attractive than the bayonet drill of last year.

Several large arc lights will be placed in the Central Park in order to light it sufficiently for Company drill at night, as the evenings are becoming very short.

Lt.-Col. Bell announced to the men last night that any wanting to participate in the Nursery Match at the Rifle Association prize meeting on Thursday, would be provided with free amunition.

QUARTERLY MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS DISCUSSED.

Canada for Canadians—The Provincial Timber Policy—The Town's Relation to the Dickson Company re. Cutting Lumber in Peterborough.

The quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the council chamber last night.

Mr. Carnegie, president, occupied the chair, and there were present Messrs. R. Mulholland, F. McWhinnie, T. A. S. Hay, A. L. Davis, A. E. Lech, F. D. Kerr, Dr. Rose, J. J. Turner, W. D. Parker, W. L. Allen, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Peter Hamilton, F. J. Jameson, R. J. Kingan and W. H. Meldrum.

After routine

were received

From the British Columbia Board of Trade with reference to taking steps to secure for Canada the immense trade which has resulted from the rush to the Klondyke goldfield and asking the co-operation of the Peterborough Board of Trade to bring about this end—Received.

Several accounts were presented and on motion referred to the Finance Committee.

NEW BUSINESS.

The President said he felt that there were several things which should engage attention. In regard to the Klondyke gold fields, he thought that the example of the United States should be followed and that our Government should provide that only British subjects should be allowed to operate Canadian gold mines. He was in sympathy with the idea of having Canadian timber cut in Canada by Canadian labour, and he agreed with Mr. Bertram as to the course that should be taken by the Government in dealing with our timber interests. In regard to the matter of the Dickson Company, he felt that this Board should initiate action looking to giving the company some encouragement to establish mills here.

Mr. Stratton said that as a member of the board he agreed with the president as to the desirability of the Government taking action to secure to Canadians the exclusive right to operate placer mines, and he would suggest that a memorial be adopted by the board looking to this end, and also a memorial to the Ontario Government, expressing the board's opinion on the subject of the timber policy the board favoured. From the information at his disposal and the consideration he had given the subject he was inclined to favour active measures for the protection of Canadian timber interests.

Mr. Stratton added that he was in favour of doing anything reasonable that would be in the interests of Peterborough if inducements were to be given the Dickson Company that would cause them to have manufactured into lumber in Peterborough the logs now being cut upon what is known as the Scott limits. The Manufacturer's Committee might take this matter up and co-operate with the council and see what, if anything, could be done, to secure the cutting here. It would give considerable employment to Peterborough working men, and would restore a want that was felt to a considerable extent when this company ceased active operations.

Mr. Meldrum recognized the importance of the questions mentioned by the president. He agreed with his views. American subjects should be treated upon their entering the country as Canadians were when they went to the United States. He also believed that all Canadian logs should be cut into lumber on Canadian soil by Canadian labour. He spoke from personal knowledge of the large employment given by the Dickson Company. If measures were taken to have the timber of the company cut here, the advantages in the shape of the employment it would produce, the money it would distribute in the town, the abundant and cheap fuel it would provide for our poorer citizens, all combined to justify the board in making efforts to have the mill established in Peterborough.

Mr. Davis spoke in favour of inducements being offered to bring the cutting of the Dickson Company's lumber to Peterborough. He spoke of the advantages to the town of such an arrangement, and some such action was due the company in consideration of the past services it had conferred upon the town.

Mr. Mulholland was strongly in favour of the project of bringing the Dickson Company's lumber cutting operations to Peterborough. He was not so fully convinced in respect to the Mud Lake bridge matter as to the greater share of the advantage being in favor of Peterborough, whose market was sought because it was a good market. He agreed with the president's position upon the lumber question, and suggested that these matters be submitted to a special committee to investigate and report.

Mr. Peter Hamilton said we could not afford to isolate ourselves from the county in trade matters as we had done in municipal matters. It was of vital importance to the town that its trade connections should be kept up. He thought the town was in duty bound to a certain extent to take a broad view of the matter of the Mud Lake bridge rebuilding. As to the Dickson Company matter, in view of the assistance which had been extended by the town to some industries, while others were left to fight their own way, he was not in a position to say much upon the subject. As regarded the lumber question, it was one that required very ample consideration. He was opposed to the imposition of an export duty on logs. Such action as an export duty either lowered the value or increased the cost of the article subjected to such duty. It was impracticable to dictate to the purchaser or the market. Buying was a question of cost, and the cheapest market got the preference. We might be moved by sentiment to retaliate, but the real question was, will it pay? He believed in dealing with these questions with a view to the best interests of Canada.

Mr. Mulholland suggested that the advisability of the reunion of the town and county was worthy of consideration. It had worked well in the case of Cobourg and Port Hope. He felt that as far as possible Canada should be for Canadians. He was in favour of having our own timber manufactured into lumber on our own soil and was in favour of retaining for Canadians the gold fields of the Klondyke.

The President agreed with Mr. Mulholland's suggestion.

Mr. J. J. Turner was in favour of an export duty on logs to meet the tax of the United States. He owned a schooner, and since the United States duty was imposed, he had no lumber cargoes for his vessel. In Port Hope there was, he said, only one vessel now carrying lumber as against a dozen a short time ago. He was in favour of immediate action in the direction of imposing an export duty on logs.

THE BRIDGE MATTER.

After discussion of the subject in a general way, the board agreed that it was desirable for the town to assist the county in the reconstruction of the Mud Lake Bridge. It was desirable to live in harmony with the county and the Board favoured meeting the county in any reasonable manner—while it was held that it was a county bridge pure and simple.

LOCAL LUMBER CUTTING.

In regard to the lumber matter that had been under discussion, Mr. Stratton moved, seconded by Mr. Hay, that the question of having the logs cut by the Dickson Company on the Scott limits, manufactured in Peterborough, be referred to the Manufacturers' Committee to co-operate with the town council with a view of having them manufactured here.—Carried.

Mr. Stratton felt that it would be a graceful act of sympathy on the part of the Board to pass a resolution of condolence with the wife and family of the late Mr. F. J. Rogers, of the Bank of Montreal, an active member of the Board and a progressive citizen.

Mr. Meldrum and Mr. Carnegie agreed with the spirit of Mr. Stratton's proposal, and paid a high tribute to the late Mr. Rogers' character as a public-spirited citizen and an honourable man of business with whom it was a pleasure to deal.

The secretary was instructed to forward a copy of such resolution, which was adopted.

On the suggestion of Mr. Hay and on motion it was decided to hold monthly meetings of the board on the last Tuesday of each month during the winter.

THE MAYORALTY.

Mayor Yelland Announces Himself a Candidate for 1897.

A representative of the EXAMINER interviewed Mayor Yelland this morning in connection with the rumour that he was canvassing for re-election as Mayor of Peterborough for the coming year, and the following conversation took place.

Reporter—Well, Mr. Mayor, I understand that you are a candidate for re-election as Mayor for 1897?

The Mayor—Yes, I am. I feel that I am entitled to election by acclamation for one year, and after that I will consider the question of giving it up.

Reporter—Supposing you are never elected by acclamation?

The Mayor—Then I will have to fight for it, and they cannot but beat me anyway.

Reporter—You are in the field then against all comers?

The Mayor—I am a candidate against all comers and feel as though I will be until I am elected by acclamation.

THE COBOURG CASINO SCHEME

A Plan to Galvanize our Lakeside Cousins Into Life.

The town council of Cobourg has made an arrangement with the heirs of the late Thos. Pearse for the purchase of twenty-one lots on the lake shore, lying south of the Arlington, running east from McGill street. The object of the purchase is to improve and assist maintain an extensive enterprise, under consideration by Signor Albertini and a number of capitalists, which that gentleman has induced them to undertake in Cobourg. At present Signor Albertini is in Buffalo, where extensive plans are being prepared by Mr. Kent, one of the first architects of that city. As far as is known as present, it is the intention to lay out the grounds, build drives and erect cottages, and in the centre of the plot to construct a large casino, where a first class caterer will supply cottagers and villagers with meals and refreshments. All the appointments are to be of a high order, and fully up to the best found at Newport and other famous watering places in the United States. Entertainments, such as concerts, dramatic and operatic performances, will be given from time to time. A band stand will be erected and open air concerts will be given every evening that there is an off night on the inside. The grounds will be lighted by electricity in abundance, making the surroundings as light as day. In addition it is intended to build bath houses of the latest design, where all who wish to take a dip in the blue waters of Ontario may do so on the shortest notice. We learn that Signor Albertini expects to begin work this fall and have the whole completed by the first of June next year, when the season opens. All the above means the expenditure of a large sum of money, and we have been informed that the necessary capital has been subscribed, and as soon as the plans are accepted we may expect to see the first step taken to make Cobourg the best fresh water resort in America.—Cobourg Sentinel Star.

ENDEAVOUR NOTES.

Meeting of the County Executive—The Vice-President to Look After Correspondence.

The county executive met at the Y.M.C.A. parlours on Saturday, Sept. 25th. The representation was fair. Business of importance was discussed. Owing to lack of interest in the C. E. column, it was discontinued some time ago. The executive decided to request the vice-presidents of the different districts to take charge of the column in turn—one this week, another the next, and so on. By this means reports of work from all districts would be published, the editors to co-operate with the vice-presidents. Committees were appointed to stir up interest in the work in different quarters. The executive decided to ask each society to assist the local Union to furnish a room at the Y.M.C.A., to be known as the Endeavour room. They felt that as they used the room for meetings—as also did the Sunday School Associations and other Christian organizations of the county, that something should be done to assist the local societies. Each society will be asked to contribute the amount generally given to the county union fund for this purpose. The Executive will endeavor to conduct the work without much financial aid this year. Circulars will be sent to the societies in the union, which will present the matter more fully. The Executive adjourned subject to the call of the president.

The local societies are getting down to work again. St. Paul's and St. Andrew's societies held a union meeting at St. Andrew's Sunday school on Sept. 13th. Charlotte street society visited Mark street society on the same evening. Election of officers is now in order. In a couple of weeks names of new officers will be published.

The provincial convention will be held at St. Thomas on Oct. 6th, 7th and 8th. The programme to hand promises a great treat.

The prayer topic for October—"For Christian Liberty." Pray that everywhere Christians may be moved to give freely to God's work out of the abundance God freely gives to them. Pray that the cause of missions may splendidly receive a great impulse from these consecrated gifts.

THE PETERBOROUGHS LOSE AT MARKHAM.

A CURIOUS MUDDLING OF THE OFFICIALS.

The Boys Cannot Make out Why They Were so Roughly Used after Extending So Many Courtesies to the Markham Team here.

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club returned from Markham last night smarting under the worst defeat which they have sustained for years. But it was not the score of 9 to 2, which made the boys feel so sore. If they had been beaten, and beaten fairly, they would have taken their defeat without a whimper, but to have the Markham men treat them so scurvily on the field is what galls the boys. It will be remembered that when the Markham team visited Peterborough they were treated in such a gentlemanly manner as to cause favourable comment from everyone who saw the game, and deserve a special letter from the secretary of the visiting team, conveying his thanks for the treatment accorded his team.

It was different in Markham, and the Peterborough boys had not been on the field five minutes before they found it out, although the slugging was not so noticeable until the Markham team began to see that unless something of the sort was resorted to their chances of winning the series

WOULD BE SLIM INDEED.

After 52½ minutes play the score was a tie, each side having two goals to its credit. With half the match over the Markhams began their dirty work, and the bodies of the Peterborough boys will bear witness to their handiwork for many a day to come, so badly were they used. Everything went, apparently. Slash, trip and cross check as they would, the Markham's were perfectly sure of not being called down, as the referee was conveniently blind when called upon by the Peterborough's to notice violations of the rules in the way of fouls, etc.

The Peterborough's were wholly unprepared for such treatment at the hands of a team which had been used so "white" here and the fierce checking which they encountered seemed to take all the snap and ginger out of them, although at times they made some magnificent rushes on the Markham flags.

In the latter half of the game, whilst the Peterborough combination seemed to work up the field nicely enough from the defence it seemed to go to pieces just before it got within shooting distance of the Markham flags, and the goalkeeper had very little to do except assisting in relieving from behind.

The game was started at ten minutes to three when, strange to say, walked out on the field. One set had been telegraphed by President Craig, to go from Toronto and act, and the others had been sent from Fergus, having been notified later, and only in time to get to Markham by travelling all night. Just what this all means is what the Peterborough boys are trying to make out.

TWO SETS OF OFFICIALS

As the players are willing to swear that three of the goals which were given against them were not scored at all, it looks very much as though some crooked work was going on and appearances connect this sudden change in the officials with the crookedness. The rules call for the referee to be chosen by the contending teams. Thompson Beattie, of Toronto, was settled upon as mutually satisfactory, but without any notification of the Peterboroughs, whatever, D. J. Slater, of Arthur, suddenly appeared on the scene and refereed the game, stating he did so by the authority of the president of the association. What he doesn't know about refereeing would fill a very large book, or else he was wilfully blind to the dirty work of the Markham team, for never but once could he be persuaded to call a halt, and then it was when Geo. Lipsett was deliberately fouled directly in front of him by having a Markham man run his stick between his legs and threw him. It took five minutes to get fair play in the matter, and even then Peterborough was not given a free throw, but the ball was only faced off.

THE ARMS AND LEGS

of any member of the Peterborough team will tell the tale of ill usage far better than it can be written.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Markham.		Peterborough
Hamburg	goal	Dobbin
Glover	point	Brown
Wales	cover point	Mein
Pringle	1st defence	Glover
Geo Wilson	2nd defence	Borland
Scott	3rd defence	McCabe
Querrie	centre	Galley
A Snell	3rd home	Rubidge
F Snell	2nd home	Phelan
Tefft	1st home	King
Wilkinson	outside home	McCabe
W Wilson	inside home	Lipsett
Querrie	field captain	W E Lech
J G Michie, Fergus	umpires	Geo Morrow, Fergus

Referee—D. J. Slater, Arthur.

THE BALL WAS FACED

at ten minutes to three and taken by Markham from the face-off. Snell carried it in on the flags and was sharply checked by Glover. He dodged around some trees, however, and gained time to pass and some fast combination work in front of the Peterborough flags resulted in Markham scoring in less than half a minute, the ball never having touched a Peterborough stick after having been faced.

Peterborough took the ball in the next draw and it was passed in to Jack McCabe, who had a chance to score but shot wide. The play was then all around the Markham goal and several shots were made but the defence was too strong to be penetrated and, on the ball being transferred to the other end of the field, the Peterborough goal was subjected to a sharp fusillade. Glover relieved but the ball was returned again and Dobbin had to make some of his phenomenal stops in order to save his flags, which were imperilled constantly. On the goal being relieved the Markham flags were sharply attacked, but the defence had the Peterborough men too well covered to permit of them doing anything effective. For the next several minutes the game was fairly even, although the Peterboroughs were kept slightly more on the defence than Markham. Mein did some great work in relieving and Dobbin's great blocking was much admired. Percy Rubidge finally got the ball in centre field and the Peterborough home players spread out all over the field like a flash. King having neatly evaded his check, had the ball passed to him and in to Jack McCabe, who scored for the Peterboroughs. Time 14½ minutes. Score, 1—1.

Markham drew the ball in the next game and made a sharp rally on the Peterborough goal, which, however, was well relieved. King, Lipsett and McCabe got in some nice combination work out in the field but it was broken up before it reached the Markham goal. Markham then made several rushes on the Peterborough flags, but they were well held down. The alternate attacks on both goals occasioned some very fine play, but it began to get a little rough. Markham pressed hard, but could not get through to score, apparently. Again and again they rushed in on the Peterborough flags, and at last sent the ball between the sticks. Score, 2—1. Time, 12½ minutes.

The next game was opened by a rally on the Peterborough goal, but Brown relieved well, although fiercely obsecked. Dobbin also came in for some rough handling, but cleared his goals and passed far down the field. Phelan took a start at the Markham flags, but it was well blocked and sent back into Peterborough territory, from where it was brought out again by Jim McCabe. He passed to Phelan, who passed back again to him, and Jim then passed to King, who tallied, making the score 2—2. Time, 5 minutes.

After being passed up and down the field several times, the ball settled down around the Peterborough goal, and in 4 minutes Markham made the score 3—2.

Peterborough drew the ball in the next game and Jack McCabe was given a chance to score, but shot wild. The ball was then passed and Markham scored again in half a minute. Score, 4—2.

DIRECTLY DOWN THE FIELD

The play was even in the next game and was very rough, Rubidge getting a hard crack on the head and being warned by the referee not to get it again. The players were engaged in a general scuffle behind the Peterborough goal when suddenly the umpire threw up his hand and called "game," when the ball had not been in front of the flags at all. This created a great deal of excitement amongst the Peterborough men, but of course the umpire's decision had to stand. Score, 5—2.

Half a minute later was again given a game which was not scored, and even the Markham people gave the umpire the laugh as the goals at the north end of the field were directly in front of the grand stand, and every body could see that the ball didn't go through. Score, 6—2.

The Peterborough boys now seemed to lose all heart through two goals being wrongfully given against them and the rough treatment which they were receiving. Several times the Peterborough players were actually clinched on the field, and it was no common sight to see three or four men in a heap on the ground together, yet the referee paid not the slightest attention to it.

With the score even in both matches, the Markhams became rougher than ever, and the cross-checking was a sight to behold. They might have won the match without it, but they didn't try to, but went into the butchering business on the wholesale plan. Dobbin's wonderful work in goal had been noticed, and the way he was checked was an outrage. Markam succeeded by these methods in scoring three more goals before time was called, thus winning the match by the score of 9-2, and the series by 13 goals to 10.

NOTES.

About sixty lacrosse enthusiasts accompanied the team to Markham, and the Grand Trunk provided a special car for the boys. It was greatly appreciated.

The President of the Club accompanied the team for the first time this year.

The score against the Markham club would have been larger here but for the marvellous work of Whitlock, who played on the defense. Who this Whitlock can be proves a puzzler. He is not known in Markham or in Stouffville and he was not playing yesterday. There is no doubt but that he was a "ringer" whom the Markham boys were afraid to play at home. This is not lacrosse.

There were a lot of the Stouffville lads at the station to see the Peterboroughs go through.

If it had not been for the guarantee list which the management circulated before arranging for the excursion to Markham, money would have been lost on the venture. As it is they hope to come out almost even.

MR. BUXTON CORDIALLY WELCOMED.

The New Physical Director Warmly Greeted at the Y M C A—Addresses of Welcome—Reception.

Mr. H. H. Buxton, the new physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association, arrived to take charge of his work last evening. It was first expected that he would come on the C. P. R. at 4:10 p. m., and consequently the large delegation that met that train were disappointed, Mr. Buxton not reaching here until 8:40, via Belleville.

Mr. A. C. McCallum, of the Physical Work Committee, and the General Secretary, Mr. Williams, first welcomed Mr. Buxton at the station. The other members of the committee present were Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, H. Fronde, Rev. J. G. Potter, C. Chalmers, P. Gerrans, W. Rummings, H. Gadwin, W. Wilson and W. Brookes.

These accompanied the Physical Director to the building, where a large number of young men were assembled.

The Reception Committee, under the able leadership of Mr. Geo. Hartman, had complete charge of all the arrangements for the evening, and the men who wore the blue badges are deserving of great praise for the success which has crowned this their first independent effort. It was their desire that the ladies of the Auxiliary should be relieved from work on this occasion, as their hospitality and kindness had been so recently and so repeatedly expressed at the former social gatherings.

The reception room of the building presented a very attractive appearance and the log fire in the fire-place gave it the final touch of completeness and homelikeness. Through the kindness of Mr. Peter Hamilton the fire place had been furnished with irons.

Before the programme began in the association hall Mr. Buxton received many hearty handshakes and expressions of welcome to Canada, to Peterborough's Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Alfred Parker, the genial and popular president, occupied the chair and expressed great delight at the sight of so large a number of interested young men.

The pastors of the town present were Rev. Messrs. Davidson, Potter, Smith, Moore and Shorey.

Some twelve male members of the George street choir sang in a chorus and received hearty applause. They were under the able leadership of Mr. George Schneider.

Mr. Evy Hall delighted the audience with his whistling solos and selections on the bones. Both received hearty encores. Mr. M. Kennedy accompanied him on the piano.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang "Comical Cures" which was so well given as to call for another, to which response was given. The selection was a good natured "Lucky Jim."

Mr. A. C. McCallum then came forward and gave an excellent address of welcome to Mr. Buxton. Mr. McCallum took the place of Mr. J. S. Knapman, whose illness was universally regretted. The speaker after his forcible and feeling words of welcome to Mr. Buxton, proceeded to state the foundation principles on which the work was based. The word "Christian" was objected to by many, but nevertheless that word and what it expressed was the secret of success in the work. Many features that characterized clubs were kept out because they were not helpful to the young man's best interests.

The Secretary then added a few words by way of welcome, at the same time announcing that the gymnasium classes would begin next Monday, and the educational classes the week beginning Oct. 18th, subjects to be taught, arithmetic, book-keeping, shorthand, electricity and penmanship.

Mr. Buxton was well received as he rose to reply. His remarks were timely and interesting. He pointed out that the work was a three-fold one—developing body, mind and spirit. He had come to Peterborough, not to help in one line alone, but along all lines of the work.

Mr. Buxton is a fine type of a young man, physically well built, and has a pleasing appearance and a genial manner. These have made him popular and loved by those with whom he has formerly associated.

He is a lover of all sports which go to make up a true man. Hockey and Rugby football are two games at which he is an adept.

Under him the physical department of the Association in the new gymnasium should make rapid strides at progress.

The Reception Committee served refreshments after Mr. Buxton had concluded, and the remainder of the evening was spent in an informal way.

The gymnasium was of course the centre of attraction during the evening, where the visitors were given an opportunity of examining the excellent apparatus.

The majority of the Board of Directors were present at the gathering, and for the first time since his recent illness Mr. J. W. Bennet spoke a few words to the young men. They were pleased to see him as much alive as ever in advocating their best interests.

A WONDER WORKER.

LIFE, HABITS AND PHILOSOPHY OF A GREAT SCIENTIST.

Magician Tesla's Ideals and Ambition His Only Dissipation Is His $15 Dinner at the Waldorf- Why He Has Never Married.

The name of Nicola Tesla has again flashed around the earth. He is the foremost man in the world. No human being has ever reached the pinnacle on which he stands to-day.

When the young man announced publicly, about five years ago, that he believed the time would come when he would be able to transmit electrical vibration without wires, it was looked upon as a dream in nowise to be taken seriously.

The dream has become a reality.

The material facts of his life are well enough known. He was born in Smiljan, a village of perhaps forty houses, in Lika, on the borderland region of Austria-Hungary, of the Serbian race, which has maintained an unceasing struggle with Turkey for freedom. In his native language there are a hundred words for knife, and only one for mercy.

His father was an eloquent clergyman in the Greek Church, in which a younger brother is now a recognized force. His mother possessed extraordinary mechanical skill.

Nicola was intended for the priesthood. He passed four years in the public school at Gospich and three years in the Real Skule. Then he was sent to Carstatt, Crontia, where he spent three years in the Higher Real school, graduating in 1873.

He devoted himself to electricity and magnetism. His father consented to his taking a scientific course, and he entered the Polytechnic school at Gratz.

He was not yet 20 when he told his professor that it was possible to operate a dynamo without commutator or brushes, and he was laughed at as a foolish boy. But the time came when he made the rotating field principle an accomplished fact.

From Gratz he went to Prague and Buda-Pesth to study languages, and to broadly qualify him for his profession. He entered the Government telegraph department. Afterward he went to

NICOLA TESLA, THE WONDER WORKER.

Paris, searching for more knowledge. He connected himself with an electric lighting concern.

It was while he was in Paris, in 1882, that he prefected the rotating field principle, which has had a profound influence on dynamo electrical machinery. He purposed giving his discovery to the world. But wise business men, who learned its value, urged him to first secure a patent. Tesla had no thought of a patent.

In Paris he was urged to go to New York. He acted swiftly. The day he arrived in the United States Tesla went to work in Edison's laboratory.

Afterward he became associated with different companies, which placed his inventions upon the market, for Tesla has made many which only electricians know about.

It was little more than seven years ago that he established a laboratory in South Fifth avenue, in New York, and devoted himself to that research and experiment that is his joy and ambition.

These bald facts give little hint of the man himself. So far as personal appearance goes no one can look upon him without feeling force. He is more than six feet tall and very slender. Yet he possesses great physical power. His hands are large, his thumbs abnormally long, and this is a sign of great intelligence. His hair is black and straight, a deep, shining black. He brushes it sharply from over his ears, so that it makes a little ridge with serrated edges.

His cheekbones are high and prominent, the mark of the Slav; his skin is like marble that age has given the first searing yellow. His eyes are blue, deeply set, and they burn like balls of fire. Those weird flashes of light he makes with his instrument seem also to shoot from them. His head is wedge-shaped. His chin is almost a point.

So much for the appearance of the man. Never was a human being filled with loftier ideals. Never did a man labor so unceasingly, so earnestly, so unselfishly for the benefit of his race. Tesla is not rich. He does not trouble himself about money. Had he chosen to follow in the footsteps of Edison he could be, perhaps, the richest man in the world, and Tesla is just 40 years old.

Tesla equipped himself with the best technical education that Europe and America could furnish. He mastered all that the men who had gone before him had accomplished. And all the while he was not for himself.

Nothing of importance that Tesla has discovered has been accident. For a quarter of a century he has lived with his whole consciousness near the bosom of nature. He has wrested her secrets from her. He has learned the source of her power. Now he has harnessed it that man may be happier and better.

To the layman Tesla's life seems to be bound up in vibrations. Three or four years ago electricians declared that 500 a second was the limit. Tesla announced that he was sure he could obtain 30,000,000 vibrations a second. Airey's he has secured 50,000,000, and the end is far off. These figures show the relative position of Tesla and other electrical scientists.

The daily life of this man has been the same, practically, ever since he has been in New York. He lives in the Gerlach, a very quiet family hotel, in Twenty-Seventh street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue. He starts for his laboratory before 9 o'clock in the morning, when he has not passed the night there. All day long he lives in his weird, uncanny world, reaching forth to capture new power to gain fresh knowledge.

No stranger ever sees him at his work. No one knows of his assistants. At rare intervals he presents some experiments in his laboratory, and there is no sacrifice that thousands of people would not make to gain admission to these.

Usually he works until 6 o'clock, but he may stay later. The absence of natural light does not trouble him. Tesla makes sunlight in his workshop.

At exactly 8 o'clock he enters the Waldorf. He is attired in irreproachable evening clothes. In the winter time he never wears an evening jacket, but always a coat with tails.

He walks directly to a table in the farthest corner of the palm garden, which is reserved for him. He carries two or three newspapers in his hands, and one of these he perches before him.

No gourmet who dines at the Waldorf can order a better dinner than Tesla. It is an elaborate dinner of many courses. He drinks a fine Burgundy and a fine champagne, a quart of one and a pint of the other. His dinner costs Tesla never less than $15, and seldom more. It is practically the only meal he eats during the day. He never tips the waiter or the man who takes care of his hat and coat less than a dollar.

He finishes his dinner at exactly 10 o'clock, and leaves the hotel, either to go to his rooms to study or to return to his laboratory to work through the night.

Two or three times a week he will go to a barber shop. He demands that the towels and covering on the chair be changed, and does not object to the barber using the common mug and brush. He insists upon having his head rubbed for nearly half an hour.

These are the only occasions when Tesla appears in public. Perhaps two or three times a year some one may dine with him. He is a bold man who may dine with Tesla. If he has any sense at all he will realize that he can give the scientist not the slightest tittle of information about anything that interests him. And he cannot understand about what Tesla is talking for more than two minutes at a time. For this marvelous mind lives in a realm so weird and so awful that the ordinary intelligence draws back affrighted.

Tesla is, above all things, a serious man, undoubtedly the most serious man in New York. Yet he has a keen sense of humor and the most beautiful manners. He is the most genuinely modest of men. He knows no jealousy. He has never decried the accomplishments of another, never refused credit.

When he talks you listen. You do not know what he is saying, but it enthralls you. You feel the importance without understanding the meaning. He speaks the perfect English of a highly educated foreigner, without accent and with precision. He speaks six or eight languages equally well.

He speaks constantly about electrostatic force, that mighty power which he has chained at last. And this he has explained.

"Electrostatic force is that which governs the motion of the atoms," he said, when he was asked about it. "It is the force which causes them to collide and develop the life-sustaining energy of heat and light, and which causes them to aggregate in an infinite variety of ways, according to nature's fanciful designs, and form all these wondrous structures we see around us. It is, in fact, if our present view be true, the most important force for us to consider in nature."

Tesla has never married, and it is not likely that he ever will. His father and mother are both dead. His brothers are in his native land. He has elected to devote his whole life to his work, and for this reason he is denied the love and companionship of a good woman. And this, too, he has explained.

"I believe that a writer or musician should marry. They gain inspiration that leads to finer achievement.

"But an inventor has so intense a nature, with so much in it of wild, passionate quality that, in giving himself to a woman, he would give up everything, and so take everything from his chosen field. It is a pity, too; sometimes we feel so lonely."

But the inventor who succeeds has his recompense, and this also has Tesla spoken about.

"In my student days I have known what it was to pass forty-eight hours at a stretch at a gaming table, undergoing intense emotion, that which most people believe is the strongest that can be known, but it is tame and insipid compared with that sublime moment when you see the labor of weeks fructify in a successful experiment that proves your theories."

Many times has Nicola Tesla known that supreme happiness. And he is likely to know it often again. It is impossible that his life work can be finished at 40. It would seem that his powers are only reaching their maturity.

No man has ever occupied the place that he has, for he is not only an uncrowned king of science; he is not only the deepest, most original investigator; he is a real discoverer of wonderful forces, and inventor of the harness to control them, and, in addition to all these things, he is a seer as well. And only the ignorant have courage to scoff at him.

No More Flags in Battle.

Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the British army, has publicly announced that "the meteor flag of England" will never again be carried into battle, in land fights at least. In presenting new colors to a regiment recently he said: "In future it would be madness and a crime to order any man to carry colors into action. You might quite as well order him to be assassinated. The Germans carry the poles on which the colors used to be, so that they attract no notice in action. We have had most reluctantly to abandon a practice to which we attached great importance, and which, under past and gone conditions of fighting, was invaluable in keeping alive the regimental spirit upon which our British troops depended so much."

A Marvelous Cure for Erysipelas by Sloan's Indian Tonic, in Lambton County.

Mrs. J. J. Porter, of Corunna, writes:—

I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day and am now entirely cured.

Fred W. Leiskau, Baden, writes:—

Please send me another bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. I bought one bottle from your agent early this spring, and I must say it is the best medicine in existence. I was troubled with a soreness in my right side and tried many doctors, but they could not cure me, and after using the one bottle I have had no trouble with the soreness. I am very glad I can state this.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia--Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

What a wonder it is that some women are so heedless about the things that concern them most. They endure all sorts of pain and misery with carelessness which would never be possible if they realized the consequences.

Comparatively few women understand that when they neglect their health because they are too busy or overworked or their minds are taken up with other concerns, that they are balancing on the edge of a fatal precipice.

Any weakness or disease of woman's special organism is no trifling matter. A woman who through indifference neglects these troubles is laying the foundation for life-long wretchedness.

A modest woman naturally recoils from the mortifying ordeal of examinations and local treatment which doctors insist upon. But there is no necessity for any such repugnant alternative. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures these delicate complaints positively and completely. It is a medicine devised for this particular purpose by one of the most eminent of living specialists in woman's diseases.

Dr. Pierce has been for nearly 30 years chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During this time he has received fully ninety thousand letters from women who have been cured by the "Favorite Prescription." Some of these letters are printed by permission in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. More than half a million copies have been sold at $1 to each. An absolutely free edition in paper covers will be sent for a limited time to anyone sending 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a handsome cloth-bound copy send 50 stamps.

PROPER DRESS FOR THE NECK.

Ties and Stocks Are of Gorgeous Hues for Early Autumn.

The stylish ties for next season are the butterfly bow, the accordion-plaited bow, and the Napoleon stocks. In color these ties are gorgeous. Plaids, it is believed, will be the most popular, even more so than the Roman stripes, which are somewhat newer.

The butterfly bow tie has a most unusual appearance when untied, and to the uninitiated it appears less like a tie than almost anything else one could imagine. In reality it is nothing more or less than a wide string tie with broad ends so notched as to, when tied, give the fluffy effect of a narrow Windsor. It possesses one very great advantage to feminine minds, it is so easily tied correctly. In fact it would be next to impossible to tie it any other way. The most stylish are in dark plaids and Roman stripes in any and all colors. They should be selected to contrast and not match the waists with which they are to be worn.

The accordion-plaited bow is a made-up tie, two full accordion-plaited ends fastened to a plain band by a puffy little knot in the centre. These come in all solid colored and figured silks and in black satin. The newest, and perhaps the most stylish, are of shaded silk, the outer edge of the bow being brighter than the centre and the band on which it is made. One pretty tie of this description had ends of rose cerise shaded to black, and fastened to its black band with a soft cerise knot.

The Napoleon stocks will be much affected by women with long necks. They are broad bands, fitted closely to the neck, with Windsor ends of bias silk fastened in the back. One of these ends is so arranged as to slip the other through it; then they are both brought forward and tied in a soft, fluffy bow under the chin. These ties may be worn with or without a collar, and on dressy occasions may show a fall of narrow lace around the throat. So far, these ties are only shown in gay colors, either plaids or pronounced figures, but they may be had in either silk or cotton. The latter are for bicyclists, and should be worn only with cotton or linen waists. The narrow stocks of last season, fastening in the back, and with a stiff made bow, come this season only in black satin, to be worn with turn-over collars.

Something entirely new and for evening wear is the floral boa. It is a thick garland of bright colored flowers, to be worn close around the neck, with ends of broad taffeta ribbon. These are especially designed to take the place of the ostrich boa for evening wear in the early fall before one feels the need of furs. They are much cheaper than ostrich boas, and, as they are generally becoming, will doubtless be much worn. A striking one, and becoming to a brunette, is of large, yellow chrysanthemums; there were three rows of blossoms and twelve in a row, with four broad streamers of yellow taffeta ribbon. On the ends of each of these ribbons was fastened a chrysanthemum, giving the effect of large, fluffy tassels.

AN AGED LADY.

Mrs. Ecclestone's Sufferings From Kidney Disease Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—A Medicine That Produces Good Results for Both Old and Young.

St. Catharines, Sept. 27.—Mrs. F. E. Ecclestone, aged 69, a well-known resident of this city, has for sometime been afflicted with Kidney disease, the symptoms of which were severe pains in the small of her back. She is now perfectly cured. This happy result is due to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the famous and infallible remedy for all kidney disorders. Mrs. Ecclestone says the pains have never returned since her recovery, and her happiness over her restoration to sound health is indescribable.

Not Good for Baby.

A modern mother who is bringing up her little one scientifically has declared against the time-honored custom of amusing the baby by allowing him to look out of the car windows when on a railroad journey. "Watching the whirling objects will produce dizziness, which is very liable to bring about brain fever," she says. "The dizziness is created not so much by the constant effort of changing the focus of his vision by readjusting the auxiliary muscles of the optic nerves as by the quick succession of these impressions of the vision upon his brain. The fretfulness and nervous irritability of many children who make life a burden to other travelers on a long journey are often caused by the flying panorama seen from the car window.

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh and force.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

A Deaf Man's Protection.

John Mumby, of Wading River, L.I., is deaf. Consequently, though bicyclists clanged their bells for his benefit, and when bells proved of no avail, lifted their voices in loud and blasphemous expostulation, he was frequently run down by them. He has taken somewhat remarkable means to protect himself against his foes. He goes about the village dragging a sort of wheelbarrow with the barrow part cut out. No bicyclist with a proper regard for his wheel will risk running into that. And in order that the wheelmen may not pass too close to him on either side Mr.

NO FEAR OF WHEELMEN.

Mumby has reinforced his apparatus with a plank that extends to some distance on either side.

The Army of Russia

The army of the Czar is composed of twenty-one corps d'arme, divided up into fourteen conscriptions. The strength of each corps is about 45,000 men. The infantry comprises about 165 regiments of the line, twenty regiments of chasseurs, sixteen regiments of grenadiers and twelve regiments of the guard, says an exchange. This is a very fine army, well organized, of great resisting power and prodigious tenacity. It is armed with a repeating rifle very much like the French Lebel, and which is highly esteemed by the Russian generals. The artillery is composed of ninety-six siege batteries, 194 field batteries, fifteen mountain batteries, forty-three batteries a cheval and three mortar regiments—altogether nearly 5000 light pieces and 1500 siege guns.

Besides this there are brigades of engineers, military train, railroad electricians, torpedoists, velocipedists, police, etc. As to the imperial cavalry, it is well known to be one of the finest and by far the most considerable in Europe. It is composed of regulars and regiments like Cossacks, for example, who enjoy a certain degree of independence and some privileges, and who yet submit to the usual discipline. This cavalry is divided into 671 squadrons, of which 352 are regular cavalry, cuirassiers, dragoons, uhlans and hussars and 319 Cossacks.

Kissing on a Tandem.

"One of the greatest problems in bicycling," says one of our giddy wheeling friends, "is how to kiss a girl while riding a tandem without upsetting ourselves. The first time I tried it there was the blankest catastrophe on record. We were spinning along at a scorching rate, and came across a shady place where the light was obstructed by the dense foliage and the shadows lay heavy and somber. I had made sufficient progress with the damsel whom I had honored with the front seat to venture upon a delicate caress, and as we struck the shadows I leaned forward, throwing my weight upon the handles and giving my back the necessary curve. She naturally was somewhat startled and dodged, giving the wheel a wrench that was fatal. In a moment we were sprawling upon the ground, and when I gathered up her remains and my battered self she was a picture of lovely wrath. Only a man who can ride a bucking broncho in a cyclone ought to tackle such a feat."

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

MASON & RISCH

PIANO COMPANY, LIMITED.

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality of tone. There is no better value in the market.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

W. A. SANDERSON.

TERRIBLE HUMOR

A Little Boy's Sufferings. Covered with Sores and Raw from Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

About eighteen months ago my baby boy (now three years old) broke out with horrible sores all over his body, which tortured him night and day. He would scratch to such an extent, that his face and such parts of his body that he could reach with his hands were almost raw from scratching. After being under treatment by doctors for three months the child got worse, and there seemed nothing that would relieve him.

He had wasted away to a mere skeleton, from want of sleep. A Mr. J. G. Ahern, of the Gate City Loan Co., who happened to call at our residence, was attracted by the fearful screams of the child, and asked if he might see him. He was brought in, and upon seeing him, Mr. Ahern said, that "while it was the worst case he had ever seen, he felt satisfied that it could be speedily cured by the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES." I finally consented to try them, purchasing the CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA OINTMENT, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and used them according to directions. Before we had been using them three weeks, we noticed a decided change for the better, the itching began to subside and a healing process had set in. In seven weeks from the time we began with CUTICURA REMEDIES, my little one was completely cured, and without a sign of the trouble left. It is over a year since he has been cured; there has been no return of the trouble, and the little man is now fat and hearty, with a beautiful, clear skin.

OTONABEE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

GRAND RALLY OF THE WORKERS IN ITS INTERESTS.

A Most Successful Gathering—Large Attendance—Report of the Interesting Proceedings.

One of the most successful rallies ever held by the Otonabee Sunday School Association was held on Friday, September 24th, at Villiers. The weather was all that could be desired, and the attendance good.

At the evening session the school room was crowded to its utmost capacity. The singing by the choir of the school was exceptionally good. Tea was served to all the visiting delegates in the Bible class room.

The

AFTERNOON SESSION

begun with devotional exercises, opened by Mr. R. Weir, Villiers, the president, Mr. J. Lancaster, occupying the chair.

After a brief address of welcome by the president, Mr. J. Lancaster, who is also superintendent at Villiers Sunday School, reports were received from the different schools through the visitors appointed by the executive. The reports presented were excellent, showing the present standing of the school seen by the visitor, and containing suggestions for greater efficiency in the working of the schools. The hearty thanks of the Association was tendered the visitors.

Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, addressed the convention on "The Cultivation of the Missionary Spirit in the Sunday School." Stir the children up to give, not so much because the heathen needs it, but because we need it ourselves. Be careful in cultivating the missionary spirit. If the heathen are ever to be converted, it is by believing in the Gospel. As soon as this is thoroughly grounded into the scholar he must either give or go. Teach the scholar to pray for the furtherance of the Gospel, and believing the Gospel and praying for its furtherance, he will either give or go. Teach the child that giving is a part of worship. Teach the child to give intelligently. We all like to know where our money goes. Teach the child to give willingly. Teach him first of all to give himself. If he gives himself he will give of his substance. Have a high ideal for your scholars. Mothers have high ideals for their children and a Sunday school teacher should have just as high an ideal for their scholars, for from them are to come our future missionaries and ministers.

Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison, primary superintendent, conducted a conference on primary work. Several of the delegates took part in the discussion. At the close a Primary Union was organized.

THE EVENING SESSION

opened with a bright and attractive praise and prayer service, after which Dr. Harrison taught a normal lesson on the Life of Paul, the central figure of the lessons of the past quarter. Rev. J. E. Moore, Ashburnham, gave an excellent address from the subject, "A Hive of Bees." The hive contained the following bees: Be religious, our first duty is to glorify God; be punctual; be industrious, a lazy Christian is a misnomer; be temperate, the Bible teaches temperance; be courageous; be truthful; be careful of your character; be careful of your money, money is a good thing when rightly used; and lastly be faithful to your trust.

Rev. J. J. Liddy, Keene, gave a brief address on Sunday school work under the following heads. Be careful of the truth you teach. Be reverent. Teach with a purpose. Be prayerful. Present the truth so that it will remain, and teach trusting that your work will bear fruit.

A brief but impressive consecration service, led by Mr. E. G. Porter, Keene, brought this delightful rally to a close.

CONFERENCE OF BAPTIST PASTORS.

THE PETERSBOROUGH ASSOCIATION MEETS IN NORWOOD FOR DISCUSSION.

In the Absence of the President and Secretary their Offices were Filled Temporarily by Rev. T. Watson and J. W. Kirkpatrick—Reports of the Work in the Different Churches Presented.

The Quarterly Conference of the pastors and deacons of the Peterborough Association was held in Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 28th and 29th.

The Baptist church in Norwood was organized in 1886, and though not a strong body is showing signs of progress. The church building is small but attractive and neat, and a credit to the few who stand for Baptist principles in the place.

There were present at the opening of the Conference:—

Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick, Bailliieboro.
Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, Port Hope.
Rev. T. Watson, Colborne.
Rev. O. C. Elliott, Park street, Peterborough.
Rev. J. R. Bomer and Mr. White, Stirling.
Rev. C. E. McLeod and Messrs. W. Graham and G. W. Mann, Gilmour Memorial church, Smith.
Rev. W. Peer and Mr. Raddon of Norwood.

In the absence of the president and secretary, Rev. T. Watson and Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick were appointed temporally.

After singing and reading of Scripture, John 15th chapter, Rev. J. R. Bomer engaged in prayer. Then followed the reading of the minutes of the previous conference, which were approved. Rev. P. K. Dayfoot was called upon to engage in prayer, and after a statement from the Executive Committee, the session was given into the charge of Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick for a general conference on the work.

Mr. Kirkpatrick read part of the fifth chapter of Ephesians and spoke a few earnest introductory words before throwing the meeting open.

The first discussion grew out of a question put by Mr. Elliott, "What plan could be adopted by which strangers in our congregations could be influenced and instructed in the truths we hold?" Considerable light was given by the members who took part, and the conclusion seemed to be that a Bible class should be formed to bring about that end. Rev. W. Peer gave an interesting account of the work which Student Alexander had done during the summer in the back country. His field began about 12 miles beyond Havelock at a district called Stony Lake, and went as far back as Oak Lake and Deer Lake. He had to do most of his work on foot, walking through the bush and fording the streams as he best could, and from the account of Mr. Peer it seemed as if he did pretty much as the pioneers did who opened up the churches in the front.

A number of others gave reports of the work in their churches, speaking hopefully of progress.

The meeting adjourned at five o'clock, after prayer by Rev. Mr. Peer.

EVENING SESSION.

The meeting began at 7:30 o'clock, and after a short service of praise, Rev. O. C. Elliott read the Scripture, Luke, 2nd chapter, 21st to 36th verses. He took for his text the 29th and 30th verses, and emphasized the following points:

1. Salvation is a gift from God to needy men.
2. Men needed salvation according to the Word of God.
(a) They need saving from the guilt of sin. By their willful transgression of the just law of God, they had incurred the penalty for sin, which was death. Nothing but the forfeiture of life would free from sin's condemnation.
(b) They need saving from the power of sin. Not only must atonement be provided, but they must know the saving power of Jesus Christ in daily life in heart, mind and will. The preacher appealed to those present to accept of God's salvation.

An after meeting closed the day's proceedings.

On Sunday, October 3rd, the anniversary sermons will be preached by Rev. W. B. Smith, of the Hamilton Conference, and by Rev. Mr. Harrison, of Bridgenorth Circuit. On Monday evening, October 4th, tea will be served in the town hall, after which an excellent programme will be given in the church.

The regular meeting of the Mark street Auxiliary of the W.M.S. will be held the second Wednesday in October, the 13th, instead of the first Wednesday, on account of the W.M.S. convention to be held in Peterborough during the first week in October.

In Memory of Richard Tedford, who Died at the Age of 54 Years, June 13th, 1897.

Dearest uncle, thou hath left us
And thy loss we sadly feel,
Darling uncle, can we forget thee,
Though the wound you cannot heal.

Dear uncle, thou hast gone before us
To that happy, holy land,
Where angels bright are ever singing
"Glory, glory to the Lamb.

Alas! his life with us was short,
Which God to him had given;
He took him from this sinful world
To live with Him in heaven.

Alone through life we now must wander—
His voice no more we hear—
Alas! the home is dark and dreary
Without the father dear.

The waves of sorrow tossed about
This gentle fragile form,
Till from above the summons came
To join the saints in heaven.

The sorrow of this sinful world,
In Christian toil no more,
Are but the price of sweet reward
In our eternal home.

In that fair land of love and light
He from his labours rests—
In that fair land where all shall come
Who in the Saviour trust.

In that bright home of peaceful bliss
Where Christian toils no more,
The prize is won and peaceful rest
Awaits the pilgrim on the shore.

Then cast your sorrow at His feet,
He will all your sorrows share,
Till life and death and all is past—
Then meet your Father there.

THRESH IT OUT! "YES AND WE MEAN TO DO IT."

A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 325 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Punkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I hear them talking about the 25 cent Tea that they got there yesterday. My friend asks, what about Fruit, Jars? Well what about them? Why you are the only man in town who has got them. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. I saw a load of Grapes arrive yesterday, how do you buy them that you can sell them so cheap! We buy them by the ton. Indian Tribesmen Checked at the Afghan Frontier.

THEY STARTED TO GET ASSISTANCE

But Were Sent to the Right About by the Ameer's Officers Spanish Cabinet Has Resigned Crisis Expected at Athens - Matters on the Nile Progressing.

London, Sept. 30.—A despatch to The Times from Simla says: The Afridi and Orakzai deputation which started for Cabul to solicit the help of the Ameer was rudely checked at Jellalabad where the Afghan officials turned the deputation back and refused its request for ammunition.

This plain intimation from Abdurrahman that he is resolved not to assist the tribesmen is a most striking proof of his loyalty to the treaties. The Mullahs have all along included the tribesmen with stories promising the Ameer's support, and the tribal leaders are only now learning the truth.

CRISIS IN SPAIN.

The Azcarraga Cabinet Has Given Up the Fight at Last.

Madrid, Sept. 29.—The Spanish Cabinet has resigned. The Ministry was constituted as follows: Prime Minister and Minister for War, General Marcelo de Azcarraga; Minister for Foreign Affairs, the Duke of Tetuan; Minister of Marine, Rear Admiral Don Jose M. Beranger; Minister of Finance, Don Juan Navarro Reverter; Minister of Commerce and Agriculture, Don Aureliano Linares Rivas; Minister for the Colonies, Don Tomas Castellano; Minister for the Home Department, Don Fernando Cos-Gayon.

The Queen has accepted the Cabinet's resignation, but has asked General Azcarraga to continue in office until a solution of the crisis is found.

Her Majesty will summon the leaders of the various parties and the Presidents of the Chambers to-morrow to consult as to the situation. Senor Sagasta has been telegraphed for and it is believed that the Liberal leader will be asked to form a Cabinet.

Midnight.—It is said that Senor Sagasta is in favor of superseding Capt.-General Weyler and of granting autonomy to Cuba immediately. Senor Gamazo will probably be Minister of Foreign Affairs in the new Cabinet.

GREEK CABINET CRISIS.

The Government Expected to Resign To-Day When the Boule Meets.

London, Sept. 30.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says: It is generally believed that the Government will resign to-morrow (Thursday) at the sitting of the Boule. In any case several of the Ministers are unwilling to remain in power. On the other hand, it is believed that a Delyannis Ministry will not be accepted by King George and the nation at the present moment. Hence M. Ralli, the Premier, hopes to retain power, in which case the Cabinet will have to be almost entirely renewed. It is expected that the Chamber will accept the peace treaty unanimously, public excitement on the subject having quite subsided.

A PHILIPPINE CALAMITY.

Fire Destroyed Public Buildings and Killed a Number of People.

Manila, Philippine Islands, Sept. 29.—A fire here yesterday destroyed the gendarmes' quarter, the public library, the museum, the offices of the Department for the Inspection of Forests, and many other public buildings, involving great pecuniary loss. In the panic which resulted from the conflagration, many people were burned to death and many trampled upon and seriously injured. The disaster is said to be of incendiary origin.

SENSATION IN CHURCH CIRCLES.

Father Ignatius Appeared at the Nottingham Congress and Spoke Hotly.

session of the Church Congress. In discussing the "Progress of Life and Thought of the Church of England in the Victorian Era," the debate assumed a dramatic turn by the appearance of Father Ignatius, the famous monk and superior of Llanthony Abbey, which he founded. In an impassioned speech, Father Ignatius declared that the school represented in the present congress by the Dean of Ripon and the Archdeacon of Manchester was treating creeds as illusions, denying Christ and taking away God. Thus, he continued, was the very raison d'etre of missionary work destroyed, and, he exclaimed: "We are on the fringe of a great apostacy."

Governor Parsons Has Gone to Kassala—Dervishes Joining the British

Suakin, Sept. 29.—Governor Parsons has started from Massowah to Kassala, probably in connection with the cession of that place by the Italians to the British.

It is reported that Osman Digna, the famous general of the Mahdi, has gone to Omdurman, the military camp of the dervishes near Khartoum. Deserters from Osman Digna's forces have reached Sinkat and are joining the Anglo-Egyptian army.

Egypt Will Occupy Kassala.

London, Sept. 30.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily News says: It is semi-officially announced that the conditions of the transfer of Kassala to Egypt have been arranged with the exception of the financial points, which will shortly be settled. Egypt will then reoccupy the fort. The native garrison will remain, but English will replace the Italian officers. The Anglo-Egyptian troops from Suakim will be conveyed to Massowah, and will thence march to Kassala, establishing storehouses with material on Italian territory.

MR. MORLEY ON THE STUMP.

He Attacked the Government's Irish Policy and Advocated Home Rule.

London, Sept. 29.—Mr. John Morley, Liberal member of Parliament for Montroseburghs, has opened the autumn political campaign with a couple of speeches to his constituents. His speech yesterday was devoted to a severe arraignment of the foreign policy of the Government. To-day he criticized its home program. Referring to Ireland, he said that the Government's proposed measure extending local popular government to the Irish counties would only make the demand for Home Rule more audible and strengthen the forces behind this demand. He cited the case of Canada as justifying Home Rule.

LYNX AND THRASHER STRANDED.

Two Torpedo Boat Destroyers Grounded in a Fog and Three Stokers Killed.

Plymouth, Sept. 29.—The torpedo boat destroyers Lynx and Thrasher grounded to-day, during a fog, on Dodman's Point. The Thrasher broke in two and it is expected the Lynx will do the same. The crews of both boats were taken off. Three stokers were killed and two stokers were injured by the bursting of a steam pipe on board the Thrasher shortly after she grounded.

The Lynx has been towed off and taken to Falmouth.

London, Sept. 29.—The result of the election yesterday in the East Division of Denbighshire for a member of Parliament to succeed the late Right Hon. At the last general election Sir George Morgan, Liberal, polled 4899 votes, and Mr. H. S. I. Raikes, Conservative, polled 3115 votes.

IS IT AN EVASION OF THE TREATY?

The Corvette Yantic is to be Shorn of Her Armor and Sent Through Canadian Canals to Erie, Pa., Where She Will be Fitted With Armaments

Buffalo, Sept. 29.—A special despatch from Washington to The Evening News says: Orders have issued to Commodore H. L. Harrison of the Boston navy yard to despatch the war corvette Yantic to the great lakes, with the least delay possible. The orders were issued by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt yesterday. Commodore Harrison is directed to strip the Yantic of all guns, in order that as she passes through Canadian ports on the St. Lawrence, no question can be raised of a violation of the provisions of the 1815 treaty.

The statement is made to-day on the best authority that an order has been given to the commandant of the Washington navy yard to ship overland to Erie, Pa., a modern rapid fire battery for the Yantic. This latter order is credited wholly to the ingenuity of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, and if carried out it is certain to bring about early complications between the United States and Great Britain.

The Yantic is to be turned over at Erie, Pa., to the Detroit naval militia. It was originally intended to give the vessel to the Chicago naval reserve, but the Detroit organization succeeded in bringing a greater amount of pressure to bear on the Navy Department.

The treaty of 1815 prohibits the United States from having war vessels on the lakes. The sending of the Yantic to the lakes to be turned over to the naval militia appears to be an attempt to evade the treaty by keeping war vessels on the inland waters, not in the name of the Government at Washington, but of volunteer organizations of a semi-private character, which are under the control of the State Governments. It is possible the Yantic may strike a snag before getting through the Canadian canals.

GREAT FIRE AT WASHINGTON.

The Power Station of the Capital Traction Company Destroyed.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—An immense fire is raging here. The power station of the Capital Traction Company, a six-storey building, occupying the entire square on Pennsylvania-avenue, 13th and D-streets, has already been destroyed. The flames are spreading west and several buildings on the south side of Pennsylvania-avenue are on fire. The street car lines are tied up and the electric lights of the city are out. The loss will be heavy.

BACK TO OLD RULES.

You Can Take Your Grip Into the States Now With a Label on It.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 29.—Assistant Secretary Howell to-day sent instructions to the Collectors of Customs at Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit and Port Huron, directing them on and after Oct. 15 to return to the former practice of using labels on the hand baggage of passengers passing between American ports via Canada. In 1895 this practice was discontinued and inspectors stationed on the trains at the expense of the railroad companies, to guard against fraudulent practices in introducing goods in such baggage, but as no attempted fraud has been discovered by such inspectors their presence on the trains is not regarded as necessary.

Diver Crawford of Toronto Found It After Three Hours' Search.

Severn Bridge, Sept. 29.—The body of Leo M. Rohr, drowned at Flat Rapids, on the Severn River, last Friday, was recovered yesterday at 3.30 p.m., in about 30 feet of water, 100 yards from where the accident occurred, and although the body had been in the water five days, it was found to be in a good state of preservation. W. Crawford of Toronto, a professional diver, found the body, after three hours' search, fast between the rocks at the bottom of the river. The body was sent to Buffalo.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

ALREADY the Ontario timber policy is bearing fruit. There is a brisk demand for Canadian labourers in the timber limits, and at good wages.

HON. MR. MULOCK continues reducing post office expenses. He cuts down the staff to what is necessary to do the work, and saves large expenses thereby.

SOME persons object to the assurance, alter, "cheek," of our Yankee cousins claiming a monopoly of the title "American" to designate the citizens of the republic. One of the members of the British Association, writing of his impressions of the country, touching upon this point, indulgently concedes the propriety of allowing them to be called "Americans"—they have no other name. The United States have no distinctive name for their country and therefore none for their citizens.

OPPONENTS of the Canadian Government and enemies of the country, are making much of the allegation that the Canadian tariff has not increased the imports of British goods into this country, but on the other hand there is a decrease. But they have not the honesty to state that for the four months under discussion Great Britain's total export trade has decreased between ten and twelve millions, and that naturally the exports to Canada would also show a decline. Besides there has not been time for trade to accommodate itself to the new conditions. Some persons are foolish enough to expect to find apples on a tree they planted yesterday.

OTTAWA city has trouble in introducing wide wagon tires. The danger of offending farmers who visit the city market is too great to be trifled with. Wide tires are for the protection of the streets of the city, and if the farmers would only reflect, wide tires are in their interest as well. With wide tires a good road will last much longer and remain in better condition. Though it might be temporarily inconvenient, the enforcement of a wide tire bylaw in Ottawa would in the end be greatly to the benefit of the farmers in the vicinity. Anything that cheapens the means of getting produce to the market is an advance in price equivalent to the amount of cheapening. Good goods improve access to market, and wide tires improve the roads.

DOWN FROM UNALASKA.

U. S. Revenue Cutter Grant Brings Latest News From the North Country Steamer Ashore.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 29.—The United States revenue cutter Grant, Capt. Munger, has arrived from Unalaska and brought the latest advices from St. Michael and the surrounding country. The steamer Bertha arrived at Unalaska Sept. 12, and reported two inches of snow at St. Michael. There will be a big crowd of returning miners on the steamer Portland, and it is estimated that she will bring three tons of gold. On board the Grant are Capt. Peters and crew, in all nine men, of the schooner Hueneme, which left Seattle, Aug. 15, for St. Michael, with lumber for building boats for the Yukon River.

At 10 o'clock on the night of Sept. 7, during a dense fog, the Hueneme went ashore on Uniak Island, completely wrecking herself and cargo. All on board escaped to land by means of life lines that the sailors carried ashore by jumping overboard and swimming. Eight days later the captain took three men in small boats, rowed from the wreck and started to Unalaska. After pulling three days in an open boat, they were picked up by the steamer Dora and taken to Unalaska, where they were transferred to the cutter Grant, which vessel they started for the men left on Uniak Island. After securing them the cutter started for the Sound the next day, Sept. 20. The first day out from Unalaska, two sailors, William Hood and Otto Severn, were drowned by being washed overboard while furling the outer jibs. The bodies were not recovered. Hood was from this place, where his parents reside.

MAY PRAY IN ENGLISH.

Roman Catholics in America Permitted to Worship in Any Language That Suits Them Best.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 29.—In the course of a sermon at the installation of Bishop Trobec, the new Bishop of St. Cloud, Archbishop Ireland, after calling attention to the many nationalities in the diocese of St. Cloud, said: "It has sometimes been said that there is among Catholics in America a division of opinion as to the use within the Catholic Church of foreign languages. There is no diversity of opinion. Americans and Catholics will before this altar of truth believe and assert that men are free to speak what language they will, to retain what memories they will, provided that always America and the language of America and American institutions obtain their best loyalty. Catholics in America may kneel before their God and pray in the language that best expresses their emotions.

"The holy Roman Church within recent times has promulgated in this regard the law of liberty by sending a message from the Eternal City that Catholics in America may speak and practice their religious duties in the language they may choose. The decree of Rome proclaims that immigrants and their children are at liberty, if they will, to join parishes where the English language is spoken. By implication the decree allows to them the liberty to speak and practice their religious duties in any language they may prefer."

MASKED ROBBERS

Held Up a Stage in Old-Time California Style and Killed a Passenger.

Ukiah, Cal., Sept. 29.—Two masked highwaymen held up the Booneville stage yesterday and J. R. Barnett, a passenger, was shot and instantly killed by one of the robbers. As the stage was passing through a heavily wooded part of the road seven miles from here the bandits suddenly appeared and ordered the driver to stop. Barnett, who was seated on the rear of the stage, heard the order and plunged his hand into his pocket to secure his purse. The highwaymen thought that Barnett was about to draw his pistol and fired, the charge striking Barnett in the neck, killing him instantly. The robbers then secured three express boxes and disappeared. The sheriff is now trailing the outlaws with bloodhounds. If the highwaymen are captured they will undoubtedly be lynched.

A LOSS TO FERGUS.

Perry & Black's Saw Mill Destroyed by Fire and Many Men Thrown Out.

Fergus, Sept. 29.—This morning about 1 o'clock Perry & Black's sawmill, near Monkland Mills, was completely destroyed by fire. It is supposed to have originated in the engine room. The loss will be heavy over and above the insurance, which is $1200, as the machinery and everything in connection was of the best. The destruction will be felt by a great many families, as a large number of men found employment about the mill.

BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, Sept. 30.

Toronto dropped a game to Syracuse yesterday at the Island, and the dropping was done in the first inning. With the bases full, Dr. Smith threw wildly to first on Lesotte's hit and three men tallied. McGann returned the ball wildly and Lezotte made the circuit before a man was out. Ryan got first on fielder's choice, then Earl and Schlebeck succumbed at first. Kissinger hit and Lampe drove one out of the field, thus counting three more. Egan was thrown out at first on the second round and the side were retired, with seven runs to their credit on three hits and a "walk."

BOSTON STILL LEADS.

Brooklyn, Sept. 29.—The Bostons and Brooklyns began a series of three games at Eastern Park this afternoon, in which much depends on both teams. Winning all the games will give the Bostons the championship, no matter what Baltimore does. A majority of the games for Brooklyn means a cinch on the only place still left in the first division—sixth. It was Kennedy against Lewis, and for six innings it was nip and tuck, Lewis having a shade the better of the argument. In the seventh innings, Kennedy took a ride in the "airship," and before he came back to earth, the Beaneaters had hit him for one three-bagger, four singles and a sacrifice, which brought in four runs. This was more than Captain Griffiths could stand, and so he called on Payne in the eighth innings. He looked like Kennedy to the Bostons, and three more runs was the result, thus clinching the victory. The game was called at the end of the eighth innings, on account of darkness. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	0	2	1	1	1	4	3	—	12	18	3
Brooklyn	1	1	1	0	1	0	0	—		4	6	7

Batteries—Lewis and Bergen; Kennedy, Payne and Burrell.

At Baltimore—Washington went down before the champions in a well-played contest. The game was characterized by the sharpest kind of fielding on both sides.

Baltimore	1	2	1	0	0	2	0	0	*	6	8	3
Washington	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	—	3	11	2

Batteries—Nops and Clarke; McJames and Farrell.

At New York—Errors in the first innings and clean batting in the second gave the New Yorks a lead which the Phillies could not overcome. Although they hit the ball more frequently than did the Giants, the Phillies' only run was a home by Clements. With a lead of 6 runs, Rusie retired at the end of the seventh, and Seymour went on the slab. He succeeded in striking out five men and being hit but once, purely a gift affair by Taylor. Score:

									R.	H.	E.

Batteries—Rusie, Seymour and Warner; Taylor and Clements.

STILL BADGERING.

But Nothing Can be Shown Against Mr. Tarte.

THE EVIDENCE TAKEN YESTERDAY

Brought Out Nothing Particularly New The Minister Explained Different Transactions When He Might Have Observed Silence If There Had Been Anything to Hide.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—(Special.) The Tarte-Grenier libel suit was continued to-day and, although Hon. Mr. Tarte and the well-known contractor, J. P. Whelan, were on the stand during a part of the afternoon, little new evidence was elicited.

At the morning session of the court Hon. Mr. Longeher and Hon. Senator Pelletier appeared, but the counsel for the defence were not ready and the big guns from Quebec will be heard later on.

Hon. Mr. Tarte, being asked about money he had received from the Vice-President of the C. P. R., said: "Mr. Shaughnessy, knowing that I was bankrupt, came to me and offered me a subscription. I declined because I was a public man. I told him, however, that if he would give my sons some printing to do they would do it and it would help them along. He gave them an order for $2500 or thereabouts. As I left for Ottawa I took some $1200 or $1400 of this money and I was elected."

"Was Shaughnessy's money given for you or for your sons?"

"I have no doubt it would not have been given to my sons had I not been behind them. Mr. Shaughnessy had been my friend and he was anxious to help me. My sons have reimbursed all that they received, or near about. You are trying by your proceedings to make it appear that the transaction was dishonest, while such is not the case."

"How much did you receive from the Liberal party?"

"Not $1000 in all, and that for salary."

"How much did you receive in all?"

"From the subscriptions of which I have spoken about $3500 was raised, largely by the Cochranes, Mr. James Cochrane, and by me and the secretary. I did not get $1000 in all. In fact, I soon saw the Liberal party was unable to pay a salary, and I went to work in forma pauperis."

"How much did you get from Joseph Octave Pelland, advocate?"

"I don't know."

"Did you not get 25 notes of $25?"

"Perhaps, but they were not all paid; half of those who signed refused to pay. If you are anxious for an account I will give you one. Out of the $3500 that in three years passed through the treasurer, or through me or the secretary, $1000 went for me at Ontario elections, which cost $700 or $800 for speakers and literature; the Vaudreuil contested election $400 or $500. We also paid for lists and employes, postage $1500 at least. You see some friends helped us out."

"Is it not the same friend, James Cochrane, who has paid Hon. J. S. Hall for your $1000 note given Daniel Ford."

"That is a lie and a straight lie."

Mr. Tarte: Your Honor, this is all an attempt at blackmail. Not later than a month ago this case could have been settled. Had I been willing to pay $1000 this case would not have come into court at all.

Mr. Cornellier, at the court's request, then proceeded at length to say that he intended to have witness admit that he had used money for his own purposes, and that some of that money came from the treasurer of the party.

Mr. Tarte asked to be allowed to explain the transaction. Proceeding, he said: "Some time ago I borrowed $1000 from Mr. Daniel Ford, which I was to pay him back out of advertisements. Three months ago Ford asked for his money and I asked Cochrane to lend me $1000 to pay him, which he did, and Ford was paid. Cochrane has as security a mortgage on a small farm bought by my wife nearly 20 years ago."

The World was also brought into the day's proceedings, as follows: "Was not The Toronto World," said Mr. Cornellier, "one of your bitterest opponents during the campaign?"

"I do not think I read a single line of The Toronto World during the campaign," said Mr. Tarte.

Mr. Cornellier then wanted to place in evidence a circular containing extracts from The Toronto World, which was circulated in the County of Beauharnois during the campaign. He wanted to know if the circular had not come to the attention of Mr. Tarte.

Mr. St. Pierre objected to the circular in question being admitted in evidence and the objection was sustained by the bench.

Mr. Cornellier, in turn, protested that the circular in question contained as grave charges against the Minister of Public Works as the article published by Mr. Grenier in La Libre Parole. As, then, Mr. Tarte had made no reply to The World's article, was it not reasonable that Mr. Grenier could assume there could be nothing criminal in giving further publicity to facts already published and unreplied to? He, therefore, demanded that the circular be admitted as evidence. His request was refused.

"Have you not," then asked Mr. Cornellier, addressing witness, "either by your words or by your silence, admitted the accuracy of the statements of which you now seek to make a criminal libel."

"You may reply to that by your silence," said Mr. St. Pierre to his client.

Mr. Tarte, however, replied audibly. He had never, either in word or by silence, admitted the truth of the statement of La Libre Parole.

In the afternoon Mr. J. P. Whelan was heard.

A Lad Who Had been Dropsical From His Childhood Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Remedy That Never Failed.

McIntyre, Ont., Sept. 20.—The young son of Hugh Lamont, of this place, has been afflicted with dropsy since infancy. He was bloated and swollen all over. His parents were at their wits' end to find some cure for him when they read of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Lamont got six boxes of the pills and the boy began taking them. Before the sixth box was finished he was cured. It doesn't matter whether the patient is young or old, the pills will effect a cure of any kidney disease, or of any disease arising from disordered kidneys.

Star Pointer's Canadian Career.

B. J. McClary, whose elevation to the top of the flagpole on the pantheon of fame has been of the rapid transit order by reason of the fact that he is the first to drive a horse faster than two minutes in single harness, was born at London, Ontario, almost directly across Lake Erie from the Cleveland track, with its world-wide reputation. He is thirty-two years of age, and his father still tills the farm on which young McClary was born. He was always fond of horses.

After McClary had reached his majority he went to Reading, Mass., and worked three years as a horseman in that town. He was subsequently employed by Mr. Edward Mills, of Boston, who bought Star Pointer at the Cleveland sale in partnership with another Boston man.

McClary began to drive professionally in 1896. As luck would have it, he began with Star Pointer. And Star Pointer has made him famous. In addition to his work with Star Pointer young McClary has been quite successful with Gunnette, a fast gelding owned in Boston.

The judges, timers and starter who officiated at the first mile better than two minutes are nearly as proud of that fact as Owner Murphy is proud of Star Pointer.

Frank B. Walker, the well-known professional, was the starter; E. Scott Locke, of Concord, N.H.; Frank S. Hall and George A. Graves, of New York, were judges; Hon. Charles Dana Palmer, of Lowell, Mass.; George H. Hicks, of Medford, Mass., and Dr. Charles R. Wood, of Lowell, were timers.

The Irish of the Sixteenth Century.

They live in huts made of straw. The men are all large bodied and of handsome features and minds, and as active as the roe-deer. They do not eat oftener than once a day, and that is at night, and that which they usually eat is butter with oaten bread. They drink sour milk, for they have no other drink; they don't drink water, although it is the best in the world. On feast days they eat some flesh half cooked, without bread or salt, as that is their custom. They clothe themselves according to their habit, with tight trousers and short loose coats of very coarse goat's hair. They cover themselves with blankets, and wear their hair down to their eyes. They are great walkers, and inured to toil. * * * The most of the women are very beautiful, but badly got up. They do not wear more than a chemise and a blanker with which they cover themselves, and a linen cloth, much doubled, over the head and tied in front. They are great workers and housekeepers, after their fashion. From Capt. Cuellar's Adventures in Connacht and Ulster.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that I written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

Undoubtedly the Best.

Gentlemen.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN

It Was Again Won by Fred Weir Yesterday Afternoon.

The Cross Country Run held in connection with the Collegiate Institute sports took place yesterday, in order that those participating might be fully recovered from the effects of the exhaustion by the time the rest of the sports were run off on Friday afternoon next.

The course chosen this year was somewhat different, the change being made on account of the awkward spot in which the finish formerly took place. The start used to be from the sidewalk just in front of the school and the boys crossed Victoria Park, running down Sheridan Terrace to Hunter street, across the bridge and up the east side of the river to the Smith street bridge which they crossed and then came down through the back streets to the rear of the school yard, coming through to the front from the rear.

This year the boys started from the corner of Murray and Water streets and crossing the park took the same course as far as the Smith street bridge, passing over this they came straight on out to Water street and proceeding down it finished at the starting point.

As will be noticed, these deviations made the course considerably longer, yet Frad Weir, the winner, came within three seconds of breaking the record for the shorter course, which is held by Frank McPherson.

Another change was also made in the manner of running off the race. The boys who have not attained their fifteenth birthday were given forty-five, seconds' start over the older lads, and by the time made they can be given a little more next year in order to make the contest as even as possible.

The entries were: Seniors—Fred Weir, Burton Cameron, Enos Maybee, Norman Bell and Chas. Matthias. Juniors—Chester Kemp, Fred Allison, Herbert Wood, Owen Sawers, Holly VanEvery, Herbert Martin, Henry Cleeves and Horace Walkey.

The juniors were sent off at 4.23 sharp, and had just passed over the top of Court House hill when the seniors were allowed to start away after them. A large number of the school children ran up the hill on Murray street, and had a capital view of the boys as they went racing along on the east side of the river.

Norman Bell, who was looked upon as likely to give last year's winner, Fred Weir, quite a hard race for the trophy, had to give up at the Black Bridge, being taken with a violent pain in the heart.

It was expected that the runners would turn at Water street, and come into view in between 12 or 13 minutes after the start, and every eye was strained to catch the first glimpse of them. Suddenly a small boy, up on top of a telephone pole, shouted "Here they come!" and in another second Fred Weir could be seen coming down the road at a good clip, surrounded by bicyclists and school children. He crossed the tape first in 13 minutes 48 seconds. Taking off his handicap of 45 seconds to ascertain the corrected time, shows that he covered the distance in 13:03. Matthias was just 12 seconds behind him and the others who crossed the tape finished in the following time:

Enos Maybee, 14:18.
Chester Kemp, 14:23.
Burton Cameron, 14:30.
Fred Allison, 14:55.
Owen Sawers, 15:20.
Herbert Wood, 16:00.
Horace Walkey. —

Last year it took Weir 13:32 to cover the shorter distance.

A number of the jumping contests have come off with the following results:

Running hop, step and jump (senior):
1, Norman Bell, 34 04½.
2, F McGrath, 34:00½.
3, C Matthias, 33:11½.
Running hop, step and jump (junior):
1, Fred Roy, 30:07½.
2, Stanley Bradd, 30:00.
3, Horace Walkey, 29:04 1-2.
Running long jump (senior):
1, Norman Bell, 15:02.
2, C Matthias, 15:00½.
3, F McGrath, 14:11½.
Running long jump (junior):
1, Fred Roy, 13:01.
2, Stanley Bradd, 12:10.
3, Henry Cleeves, 12:03.

The rest of the sports are to be held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE GEORGE ST. CHURCH.

THE NEW PARSONAGE BUILDING.

Reports of Various Church Societies—The Financial Statement.

The annual congregational meeting of the George street Methodist church was held last evening, with the pastor in the chair.

On behalf of the Board of Stewards, Mr. D. W. Dumble made an explanatory address concerning the course which the Board was adopting in regard to the new parsonage. He stated that the old parsonage was not large enough and not built on plans which would permit of the introduction of modern improvements. The Board thought it wiser to build a new parsonage instead of expending a large sum of money in so altering the old one as to enable it to be fitted out with the required improvements. The interest on the amount expended in the erection of the new building would be less than the rental of a suitable home for a parsonage. It is not expected that a sum exceeding $3,400 will be required for the new parsonage, including the plumbing and heating, and the money has been secured at 4% per cent. interest, which can be considered as a most reasonable rental, and less than such a building would be procured for.

Mr. Dumble urged for a larger number of contributors to the church funds. Considering that the membership was 700, the money now contributed came from too few, and it would not be so onerous if more of the members subscribed, as the aggregate of small givings would tell most effectually in the reduction of the debt. The church had been required to raise $600 over and above its usual contributions for the renovation of the building and in connection with the Ranton services. This had affected the regular subscriptions, but such an expenditure was not likely to occur in other years.

THE AUXILIARY

of the W. M. S. reported having organized in 1887, with 13 members. The present membership is 61, being composed of 55 annual and 15 life members. The membership fee is $1. As someone has said, "Two cents a week and a prayer." The average attendance is 24. The amount sent the Branch Treasurer was $108, being $1 over last years' subscription. Twelve monthly meetings had been held, three public ones and two missionary prayer meetings. The thank-offering was $19. Forty-seven Outlooks had been taken and 80 leaflets. A box of clothing had been sent to Charter, Manitoba. The fields of labour are in China, Japan, the French work, Northwest Indians, Chinese Rescue Home, Victoria Orphanage in Newfoundland and Dr. Bolton's medical work.

THE E. L. OF C. E.

report was submitted as follows by Mr. W. J. Wattam:

Our object during the past year has been to promote an earnest, intelligent, Christian life among the members, to increase their mutual acquaintance and to make them more useful in the service of God.

With this as our object, we have striven earnestly and faithfully to secure the best results, with what success we, of course, cannot definitely estimate, but we trust that our efforts have been in some measure honoured of God.

The Christian Endeavour department of the League has, all through the year, been on the lookout for strangers coming into the town or congregation. For at least two hundred of these they have given invitations to all the services of the church. To assist them in this matter they have appointed the four ushers for the gallery.

At the time of the revival last winter they aided in the choruses and in distributing invitations for the meetings. Every Sunday evening at 6.30 o'clock a prayer meeting has been held for the purpose of asking the blessing of God to rest upon the after service.

Having been urged to establish a mission in the west of the town, for a few months a room was rented and meetings held once a week, but proving to be unsuccessful they have since been discontinued.

Under the superintendency of the Missionary Department we have a plan of systematic giving for missions, most of our members subscribing stated amounts each month by envelopes.

This department also has seen to the making of four quilts for the poor, have given clothing and a collection to the Children's Aid Society, distributed over twenty baskets of Christmas cheer and have made over one hundred calls upon the sick and those who do not attend the meetings.

The Literary Department has furnished programmes for our meetings once a month during the year, evenings being spent with Tennyson, Shakespeare, Longfellow, Dickens, Phillips Brooks, Mendelssohn and Herschel.

A reading circle also was formed under the direction of this department, which took up the course prescribed for Epworth Leagues. The benefit of this reading to the members cannot be estimated a practical result, however, of the circle has been the handing over of $6.25 to the convenor of the Missionary Committee—a voluntary offering for missions.

The Social Department has raised funds to defray all the current expenses and has endeavoured to promote sociability among the members.

They have, when possible, supplied flowers and plants for the church services and have sent bouquets to the sick.

MARRIED IN TORONTO.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Jessie McEwen and Mr G. A. L. Humphrey.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. John McEwen, No. 548 Manning Avenue, Toronto, when his daughter, Jessie, was united in marriage to Mr. G. A. L. Humphrey, of Westwood.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alexander Gilray, of the Presbyterian church, Manning Avenue, of which congregation the bride was a member. The parlours were exquisitely adorned with cut flowers for the occasion.

The bride was costumed in cream cashmere, trimmed with slombelle lace, while the bridesmaid was attired in white spotted muslin.

The groom was ably assisted by Mr. W. C. Breckenridge, of Westwood.

The ceremony concluded, a recherche wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Humphries were conveyed by white steeds to the 5.30 p.m. train for points west, including Goderich, Niagara and Hamilton.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch, while his assistant presented an elaborately finished set of knives and forks. The bride was made the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents.

Both the bride and groom are well and favourably known, and their many friends in this vicinity wish them long life and every happiness.

REV. W. B. SMITH IS LEAVING.

After Conducting the Services in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church for Several Months.

Rev. W. B. Smith, who has been occupying the pulpit of the Charlotte street church during the illness of the pastor, is leaving to resume his studies at Victoria University, Rev. D. O. Crosley having sufficiently recovered to conduct the services himself.

This being the case a farewell social was held under the auspices of the Epworth League last evening at which Rev. Mr. Smith was the honoured guest. Refreshments were served and an informal programme presented, consisting of music, singing, etc.

Addresses were delivered by Messrs. G. J. Tovey, president of the League, Rev. D. O. Crossley, J. L. Hughes and R. J. Kidd. All spoke in the highest terms of the work done by Mr. Smith during his stay in town, and a most successful career was predicted for him.

In reply Mr. Smith referred to the fact that the aim and object of every minister of the Gospel was to do good and if he had fulfilled his mission in Charlotte street church by benefitting any member of the congregation, he felt more than repaid for his efforts. In closing he spoke with feeling of the many ties of friendship he had formed whilst in town, and expressed the hope that his absence would not cause their severance.

The social was closed by the singing of the doxology.

Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. CANADIAN HOME JOURNAL.

The October number of the Canadian Home Journal more than realizes the expectations of its readers, who from the phenonomenal improvement noticeable in the few months it has been under its present management, have learned to look with genuine interest for each issue.

The current number contains, among much other matter of interest, another of Miss Alexandrina Ramsay's well illustrated articles on Old Toronto Families, this time giving us the Shaw family; a full description; by T. Mower-Martin, R. C. A., of the exhibition of art at the Toronto Fair last month; an unusually pretty illustrated page for the children; a short sketch and a number of beautiful views of the Yukon region; the first chapter of the Competition Story, the conclusion of which will be most interesting; a paper on Theosophy, by Mrs. Annie Besant; a full page of photographic Snap Shots of the Toronto Industrial Fair; the newest fall jackets, fashion notes, etc.; Mrs. Joy's page of receipts, book reviews Bible study, music and fancy work, and an article on the Wild Flower Planters, which gives to many their first idea of the work of this newly organized society. It is by far the best and most prettily illustrated number The Canadian Home Journal has yet given us, and in every way holds its own among the publications of the day. WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Mary A. Eastland and Mr. Hugh Fuller.

A very quiet wedding to which only the immediate relatives were invited, took place last evening at the family residence, North Monaghan, when Miss Mary A. Eastland was united in marriage to Mr. Hugh Fuller of town.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Armitage of St. John's church, the bride being assisted by her sister, Miss Letitia Eastland. The groomsman was Mr. Francis Hooey.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a most inviting dejeuner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will take up their residence on Rutherford avenue.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Barrie merchants charter a steamer and run free excursions from points on Lake Simcoe to their town.

—Foy, charged with the theft of a horse and wagon from Mr. T. Fitzgerald, was arraigned in the police court this afternoon and committed for trial.

—John Stewart, a Grand Forks cattle dealer, said to hail originally from the Lindsay section, was arrested near Pembina last Friday, for undervaluing a shipment of Manitoba cattle at the American port of entry.

—Mr. Wm. Graham, of West Ops, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury at the Lindsay fair. Having occasion to enter a stall containing a bull, the the animal made cross by dehorning, attacked him and crowded him against the wall. He would undoubtedly have been trampled to death had not a couple of stockmen rushed to his assistance. By vigourously prodding the bull with a fork they succeeded in rescuing the man from his very dangerous position. He was painfully bruised and will be sore for some days to come.

IS HE KNOWN HERE?

A Peterborough Man Acts Strangely in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 28th.—Thomas Ryan, 49 years old, rushed into No. 13 station house Sunday night and excitedly shouted "They're after me." Just what "they" were he did not say, but said they wanted to take his life, and had followed him all the way from Peterborough, Ont., where he came from. The man was locked up and this morning taken to No. 1 station where he is held awaiting an examination by Dr. Fowler.

BAPTIST PASTORS.

THE PETERBOROUGH ASSOCIATION MEETS IN NORWOOD FOR DISCUSSION.

The Second Day's Session—A Profitable Consideration of Important Subjects.

The second day of the conference meetings was one of very great interest and profit. The weather was all that could be desired for old Sol beamed upon us with his brightest smile and thawed out all chilliness.

President Dykeman and Secretary Erb were both present to direct the exercises of the day.

Before the session began the Associational Home Mission Board met to receive applications for aid from the mission churches, and Rev. J. R. Bomer conducted a service of prayer and praise, in which most of the pastors took part. The president called upon Mr. Watson, who opened the morning session with prayer, after which it was moved that the minutes of the previous day be taken as read.

The first paper read was prepared by Rev. T. Watson, Colborne, on the subject, "The Pastor's Moral Support." The chief moral support of the pastor is the Most High. Without that help no other support can avail.

Many church members give plenty of financial support, but withhold their moral support by inattention in God's house, absence from prayer meeting and the Lord's table and failure to sympathize with the pastor's work. Many pastors are hindered by the failure of members to assist in the teaching of doctrine, discipline, daily life.

The subject seemed to be one which all were interested in and animated discussion followed the reading of the paper.

Mr. W. Graham, of Peterborough, read a practical paper on "Pastoral Visitation." He spoke of the necessity of this work. Pastors should visit as well as preach. They should not only visit the sick, the bereaved, and all who are in need of sympathy and help, but by coming in contact with the members and their families emphasize their pulpit teaching.

Both pastors and deacons exchanged their views on this subject and expressed their appreciation of the paper read.

Mr. Dayfoot closed with prayer.

EVENING MEETING.

In the evening the exercises were in the form of a harvest home festival. Rev. Mr. Peer occupied the chair, and the choir sang in most splendid style "Wake the Song of Jubilee." Rev. Mr. Watson engaged in prayer and Mr. Knox followed with an excellently sung solo.

Rev. K. L. Dayfoot spoke on the peculiar subject of "Wood Piles." In the elaboration of his subject, which was by no means as wooden as its name would imply, he instituted instructive, comparisons and analogies between the component sticks of the ordinary wood pile and the different kinds of characters to be met in churches. The deductions drawn and the lessons impressed were apt and instructive.

To this succeeded a splendidly sung anthem by the choir, entitled "I Was Glad."

Rev. Mr. Dykeman spoke very entertainingly on "Anniversaries" and what they meant. His address also abounded in pithily put lessons, which made his remarks unusually edifying and interesting.

Miss Scott favoured the audience with a capitally sung solo.

Rev. C. E. McLeod, of the Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, spoke a few effective words of greeting, and urgee the people to take to heart Mr. Dykeman's address.

A finely-sung qung quartette was followed by a good address by Rev. Mr. Watson, and that by a duet.

Special mention should in justice be made of the excellence of the music.

The conference was a most successful one throughout.

LACROSSE.

Queries re the lacrosse match between Markham and Peterborough, Sept. 28th:—

Did the umpires know what constitutes a game, or how a ball is supposed to go through and from which end?

What was it worth each time they held up their hand against Peterborough?

Could the referee tell which part of a lacrosse stick is used to play the game?

Does he know what a foul is?

If he had got his desserts (stale eggs) he would know something about fo(w)l.

Did he ever face a ball before?

Did he ever play lacrosse?

In short, does he know anything at all about the game?

Did the Markham Lacrosse Club use our boys as they should have been used?

What is the president of the C.L.A.?

Does the president know what sort of a man should referee a match?

How much is there in being president?

Of what use is the present president?

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the Executive of the Rugby Football Club was held last evening in the Oriental hotel parlours for the purpose of selecting the team to play against Osgoode on Saturday afternoon. So many players have turned this year that the task was a hard one and was not completed. Andy Scott will probably play full back; Lefevre, Letellier and King, half back, whilst the scrimmage men will be picked from Rickey, Collins, McDonough, Welsh, Moore and Gray. Those of this group not playing in scrimmage are likely candidates for the wings together with Hal Burnham, Bradburn, Davidson, Forbes, Austin, Hollingshead, Beer, Morrow and half a dozen others.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick was on the field coaching the boys again yesterday and his advice was very welcome.

Roger Davidson and Jack McDonough were both knocked out in yesterday's practice match but will probably be able to play on Saturday.

The Peterborough Rifles Will Do Battle for the Championship of the C.L.A.

Since returning from Markham the management of the Peterborough lacrosse club has been working hard to gather up sufficient evidence to protest the result of the Markham game on the ground that a "ringer" was played in the person of Geo. Wilson.

It is with pleasure that the announcement is made that the evidence is well in hand, and that Peterborough yet has a chance of winning the finals.

Proof is now in possession of the management showing that Wilson, though originally from Markham, has been living in Campbellford and on Labour Day identified himself with the Campbellford club, by playing against Hastings with them.

This is sufficient to void the result of the last match and may even throw Markham out of the series entirely, thus placing the Peterboroughs in the finals.

Mr. Lionel King was in Campbellford and Hastings yesterday and to-day. Two lawyers are acting in behalf of the club in those towns, whilst Mr. F. D. Kerr is preparing the evidence in Peterborough.

VICTORIA CLUB MEETING.

The Members Draw up a Programme to Begin the Winter Entertainments.

A well-attended meeting of the Victoria Club was held last evening for the purpose of devising a programme of entertainments, etc., for the winter months.

Arrangements were made for the holding of a pedro tournament between sides chosen by the president, Mr. A. H. Stratton, and the vice-president, Mr. H. LeBrun. Each will pick ten men, who will be requested to select a partner and be at the rooms on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, when ten tables each will be put into play. If it is found that the tournament is a success and that interest is awakened thereby, fifteen or twenty tables will be worked in next time.

The billiard and pool tournaments are also to begin next week and a handicapping committee has been appointed consisting of Messrs. R. Ross, D. Davidson, A. McNee and W. E. Lech.

The names of four new members were submitted and admission to the club granted.

Hereafter the Finance Committee will look after the collection of the dues, the duty being too onerous for the Treasurer on account of the large membership of the club.

Temperature of Food.

The temperature of the things we eat and drink is hardly ever noticed; still, it is of considerable importance that food or drink should be of the right temperature. For healthy people hot articles of food should be served at a temperature about half that of the blood, but for infants it is imperative that milk should be given at blood-heat. Drinks intended to quench thirst are about right at a temperature of from 50 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Drink or food at extremely high or extremely low temperatures may do damage, and are most harmful when swallowed rapidly. Drinking water is best taken at 55 degrees, seltzers and soda water should be slightly warmed and beer should not be cooled to more than 60 degrees; red wine is best at 65 degrees; white wine at 50; champagne is the one liquor which is best at the lowest temperature allowed, but should not be taken colder than 45 degrees. Coffee and tea should not be taken hotter than from 105 to 120 degrees; milk is considered cold at 60 degrees, when it will be found to have the best aroma.

Cure for Hydrophobia.

There is a very simple method of curing hydrophobia and that form of epilepsy which is so frequently mistaken for it, which cure is known as the Buisson treatment, and is effected by forcing the poison through the pores of the skin by profuse perspiration. In cases where convulsions have already taken place, says a correspondent of The Boston Transcript, the patient should enter a vapor bath, with temperature from 127 degrees to 140 degrees Fahrenheit, and remain there until all symptoms of hydrophobia have disappeared. Where these baths are used as a preventive, one should be taken on each of seven consecutive days. This remedy is so simple that if no Russian or Turkish bath can be had it is quite possible to gain the desired result in any room by excluding the air as much as possible, placing patient in a chair over a lighted oil stove, on which is a pan of hot water, and, having wrapped all in blankets, allowing the patient to sweat out the poison.

Sunstroke

A new theory of sun-stroke has recently been expounded and is of particular interest at this season, when the source of the world's heat is getting in its hottest work. This theory is that what is called sunstroke is in fact the creation within the blood of the victim of a specific poison that acts upon the nerve centres or ganglia and so affects the brain and the other organs of the body and often causes death. The poison is created by a sort of chemical reaction and is thought to be made possible by certain conditions of the kidneys. The intense heat is, of course, the prime cause of the reaction, and is aided by injudicious use of foods and drinks. The next effort will be to secure, if possible, a sample of the poison element itself in order to analyse it, and perhaps to find an antidote. The recent remedies for sunstroke are practically confined to efforts to reduce the temperature of the body of the victim.—Washington Star.

MAKING HUSBANDS HAPPY.

How to Fulfill the Sacred Duty of Every Married Woman.

Recipes for making husbands happy are almost as multitudinous as dyspepsia cures; but one of the most notable additions to the list, which possesses at least the charm of novelty, was that prescribed at a recent meeting of the Professional Women's League, in New York, by Mrs. Emma Sheridan Fry, who in a brightly humorous paper on the frivolities of her sex threw out this specific:

I asked a friend of mine, who is the happiest woman I know, that is to say, whose husband is the happiest man I know, how she managed it, and she said: "Good looks, good dressing, and flirting." And when I inquired about the flirting, she explained: "A woman may or may not flirt with her husband before she marries him. That is as she chooses. But to flirt with her husband after she marries him is the second duty of every woman!"

Before marriage every woman has her own ideas as to the best way by which a husband may be made happy. After marriage a change is too apt to come o'er the spirit of her dreams. In too many cases she feels privileged to look frowsy and to dress slouchily; and as to flirting with her better half—except to flirt the price of an Easter bonnet out of his pocket—she is more apt to consider flirtation with him as incompatible with her ideas of true wifely duty than to set about it with that light touch of spontaneity which alone can give it savor. Mrs. Fry is a humorist; but her humor on this question veils a sound philosophy. Her triple extract of conjugal happiness might fail to prove invariably successful; but it can, at least, be recommended as harmless. Indeed, if she had only omitted the ingredient of flirting, which needs to be administered with caution, she might have been credited with a formula for happiness worthy to be recommended to all of her sex, single as well as married.

Housekeeper's Alphabet.

Apples: Keep in a dry place, as cool as possible without freezing. Brooms: Hang in the cellarway to keep soft and pliant. Cranberries: Keep under water, in cellar; change water monthly. Dish of hot water set in oven prevents cakes, etc, from scorching. Economize time, health and means, and you will never beg. Flour: Keep cool, dry and securely covered. Glass: Clean with one quart of water, mixed with a tablespoon of ammonia. Herbs: Gather when beginning to blossom; keep in paper bags. Ink stains: Wet with spirits turpentine; after three hours, rub well. Jars: To prevent, always keep your temper. Keep an account of all supplies, with cost and date when purchased. Money: Count carefully when you receive change. Nutmegs: Prick with a pin, and if good, oil will run out. Orange and lemon peel, dry, pound and keep in corked bottles. Parsnips: Keep in the ground until spring. Quick silver and white of an egg destroys bedbugs. Rice: Select large, with a clear, fresh look; old rice may have insects. Sugar: For family use, the granulated is the best. Tea: Equal parts of Japan and green are as good as English breakfast. Use cement made of ashes, salt and water for cracks in stove. Variety is the best culinary spice. Watch your backyard for dirt and bones. Xantippe was a scold; don't imitate her. Youth is best preserved by a cheerful temper. Zinc-lined sinks are better than wooden ones, and regulate the clock by your husband's watch, and in all apportionments of time, remember the Giver.

Straw Hat Possibilities.

Very elegant wall pockets are made of old hats. Indeed, the possibilities of old or new straw hats are endless. You take a roughly braided bathing hat which you wore last summer at the beach, line it with azure-satin, twist it to any graceful shape you please, on the upper surface of the flaring brim paint or embroider a group of flowers, and to the lower attach a large bow of ribbon with broad loops, and you have an ornament which sets off the wall splendidly. The deep crowns form the pocket, and the brim makes the picturesque part, and you would hardly suppose that with so little you could do so much toward the brightening of a dull room. Father's summer straw hat (which you hid away in the attic, so that he should be compelled to buy a new one) will lend itself to your ideas of the beautiful very readily. Line it with crimson flannel, fasten a cluster of wheat, a bunch of summer grasses, or a few spears of oats to one side, and tack one bit of the brim down with a bow, and there you are with the scrap basket, which is just what you need in in the sitting room or library.

WHEELMEN AT BUFFALO.

Baldwin Won the Mile Open From a Fast Field—Fred Longhead Failed to Qualify in His Heat.

Buffalo, Sept. 28. There were 3000 people at Buffalo Athletic Field today to see the national bicycle circuit chasers make some very fast time. It was the last local meet of the season, and all of the flyers were present. The features of the day were the winning of the mile open by Eddie Bald and the fast time made in the connection miles. In the final heat of the mile open the competitors were: Bald, Kiser, Tom Cooper, H. B. Freeman of San Francisco and A. C. Mertens. Fred Longhead failed to qualify in his heat. When the sport came Freeman jumped to the front, followed by Cooper, with Bald third. Turning into the stretch, Bald passed Freeman and started for Cooper with a great rush. He caught the Detroit man and won by a couple of yards. Freeman died away and was passed by Mertens before the line was reached. Summary:

Quarter mile, novice: Charles F. Bonn, Buffalo, 1; Robert Yeamens, Buffalo, 2; Ray J. Howe, 3. Time 2.35.

One mile handicap, amateur: A. E. Longnecker, 1; W. E. De Temple 2, C. C. Dreiberger 3. Time 2.08 2-5.

BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, Sept. 29.

The Torontos won the third of the Steinert Cup series at the Island yesterday in a game replete with features, some good and some bad. The home team put up a rattling game until the eighth and nearly all their errors were made after that.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Ned Hanlon of the Baltimores has not given up hope of winning the pennant. He says the Baltimores have four games yet to play, all with Washington, and in Baltimore. Three of these are scheduled games and one is a postponed game. Manager Hanlon was disappointed at the result of to-day's game, but he thinks the Orioles' chances of landing the pennant are better than Boston's. If the Baltimores win all four games, which he expects them to do, and the Bostons lose one of the three they must play in Brooklyn, the Orioles will beat them out. As Barnie is financially interested as one of the managers of the last season series of the Baltimore-all-American games in the West, and the Brooklyns need the games to keep in the first division, the Bridegrooms may be depended upon to make a hot fight. Games to-day: Washington at Baltimore, Boston at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at New York.

There was only one game in the National. At Pittsburg—The game was full of errors. The score does not show half the poor plays. In the fifth Chicago scored 11 runs, earning only one. The visitors were in on the errors, too, but bunched them in the third, when they did not count for much. Hughey and Donahue had to retire on account of injuries. The game was called on account of darkness. Score:

Farm Hygiene.

Dr. Collier, in a paper on the above subject, read at a county farmers' institute, made some very pertinent remarks which will bear repetition.

The farmer's family ought, he said, to be the healthiest in the world. They are entitled to pure air, pure food and pure water, the three great essentials of life. But how often do we find the wife or daughter afflicted with some mysterious ailment which defies the doctors and seems most benefitted by a change of air. Remove them from home for a time and they regain health; let them return, and it is not long before they are sick again. What can we conclude except that there are unsanitary conditions round or in the house which produce illness?

Houses ought to be built over a cellar, which is carefully cemented, or what is better, asphalted. The cellar is really the most important room in the house. The air in the cellar goes all through the house, even to the attic, as is proven by cooking onions in the cellar, and noting how the odor permeates the entire building. For this reason the importance of a good, dry, clean cellar is very great. A damp cellar leads to rheumatism and malaria. Keep but few vegetables in the cellar, and if you have a furnace, don't take the air from the cellar for heating purposes.

As for water, a driven well is the safest; there is less danger from percolation and surface drainage. Wells should be laid up in water lime cement. There should be no drain, stable, outhouse or barn yard within 100 feet of a well. A well will drain an area equal in diameter to its depth, and often greater if the soil is loose and porous.

Ventilation is often greatly neglected in farm homes. Ventilation does not mean a gale blowing through the house, but it does mean a quiet but continuous current of air, proportioned to the number of persons in the room. An excellent method of securing fresh air is to raise the window a little at the bottom and have a board made to fit the space. A continuous current of air comes in then from between the upper and lower sashes.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

BOSSED BY A WOMAN.

Mrs. A. E. Paul Will Have Full Charge of the Street Cleaning and Scavenging Brigade of Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 28. Mayor Harrison has intrusted the promised revolution in down town street cleaning to the management of a woman. To Mrs. A. E. Paul has been given the task of redeeming Chicago's main thoroughfares.

When Mrs. Paul marshaled a troop of 25 men in military order, with brooms perched upon their shoulders, down Washington street today at 8 o'clock, the work of keeping down town streets and crossings free from refuse was begun. Henceforth business men and citizens will see discipline in the street cleaning force. Mayor Harrison is determined to have clean streets and sanitary conditions in the alleys. Mrs. Paul will have complete charge of all the street cleaning and garbage forces in the business district.

AFRAID OF YELLOW JACK.

Treasury Clerks at Washington Get Scared at Money From New Orleans.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The Treasury Department was almost thrown into a panic yesterday afternoon by the discovery that among the money sent in for redemption were several packages from New Orleans. As soon as these were discovered there was a hasty exodus of men and women clerks from the redemption division of the Treasurer's office.

Treasurer Roberts and Assistant Treasurer Meline were notified. A telephone call was sent to the Marine Hospital and an officer soon arrived and disinfected the packages. The clerks, however, with visions of yellow fever before them, could hardly be induced to resume their work.

A Marvelous Cure for Erysipelas by Sloan's Indian Tonic, in Lambton County.

Mrs. J. J. Porter, of Corunna, writes:—

I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day and am now entirely cured.

Fred W. Leiskau, Baden, writes:—

Please send me another bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. I bought one bottle from your agent early this spring, and I must say it is the best medicine in existence. I was troubled with a soreness in my right side and tried many doctors, but they could not cure me, and after using the one bottle I have had no trouble with the soreness. I am very glad I can state this.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

In the Yosemite Valley a while ago, a young fellow went out on the edge of a shelving precipice two thousand feet high, and balanced himself on his head. A little slip or little puff of wind would have sent him to eternity. Not one man in a million would be that kind of a fool. But nine men in ten are all the time taking foolish chances.

There is no deadly peril about a little fit of indigestion or biliousness, and yet if a man allows these troubles to get a hold on him he is taken serious risks. Dyspepsia alone seldom kills anybody; that is, it only kills you by inches, and takes a good many years doing it. Put it weakens and undermines the constitution so that it is all ready to receive and fertilize the dangerous diseases which do kill you outright.

Disease-germs won't grow in healthy blood any more than corn will grow on a rock. A man who keeps his digestion perfect and his blood pure may eat and drink and breathe disease-germs, but they gain no foothold. They are cast out of the system. But a man with a dyspepsia-weakened constitution breathes in typhoid or diphtheretic germs and down he goes.

The best health-insurance a man can have is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly on the stomach and liver. It gives the blood-making organs power to make healthy blood. It clarifies the blood from all impurities, and builds up the healthy flesh, muscular power and nerve energy, which fortifies you against disease.

His life-long success in the treatment of chronic diseases has given Dr. Pierce's medicines a world-wide reputation. His "Pleasant Pellets" cure constipation.

STANDARD OF COLOR.

PRANG'S FORTY YEARS OF RESEARCH AND EXPERIMENT REWARDED.

Rainbow's Hues Are Now Classified—How the Eastern Colorist Has Solved the Problem That Has Long Baffled Science.

Colorists in the arts and those branches of commercial industry into which the question of color enters to a greater or lesser degree are manifesting much interest in the report that Louis Prang, the eminent eastern colorist, has perfected a color standard. There are standards of measurement, standards of weight, of sound and of light, but until the completion of Mr. Prang's labors, covering something like forty years of research and experiment, there has been no such thing as a color standard. When two persons [illegible] to each other about a color, say a red or a yellow, neither has been able in the past to explain to the other just what sort of a red or yellow he has in his mind's eye. There has been no standard to refer to; there has been no exact meaning to any color name, and teachers, decorators, colorists and all who handle colored materials appreciate the fact that in the realm of color chaos reigns in this respect. Eminent colorists of past ages have struggled in vain to solve the problem of a standard of color and have left marks of futile attempts behind them in print and paint. The obstacles have always been most perplexing and apparently insurmountable.

Mr. Prang, who is known all over the world as one of the greatest of color printers, has devoted himself to the problem, and having solved it he has retired from the firm with which his name has been so long associated and will devote his time and energy to the establishment of his standards. Color experts have held that the essential points of color standard must be the presentation of well-defined characteristic color notes in number sufficient to cover the whole field of possible color in easy intervals; a systematic arrangement of these color notes in scales; a nomenclature that shall be comprehensive, direct and easy of acquirement and application, inexpensiveness and accuracy of production.

"The first four points," said Mr. Prang, in presenting his theory, "I believe are embodied in my scheme; the fifth will have to rest on confidence in my ability as a color printer. I want to say that I neither intend nor expect that my standard will supersede the international standard of physical colors such as the physicist requires, but the everyday user of colors will find in it the means of a common understanding when talking about colors. It will be as easy to write out harmonies in color as it is to write harmonies in sound and that will be understood as easily.

"The choice of colors for the standard and their arrangement in a scale of hues is based on an ideal unit of color—that is to say, a complete physical series of colors, including not only all the colors of the spectrum, but certain reddish violet hues, which it is well known the spectrum fails to give. This unit of color may be imagined as a color circle, a band of all possible pure colors flowing into each other by imperceptible transition, as is seen in the spectrum. Divided into twenty-four equal color intervals this furnishes a well-graded polychromatic scale of twenty-four separate and distinct hues in proper relation to each other.

"I have restricted myself to these twenty-four colors, believing that number of intervals ample. The hues to represent these colors have been chosen only after careful consideration and consultation with other color experts. Each of these twenty-four fundamental colors in the standard heads one monochromatic scale of seven tones, each covering the interval between full color and white. This requires 168 color notes for completion of what I term the pure color series. Pure colors, seen under lower than normal daylight, lose color value. They get dulled or broken, increasingly so with dulled or broken light. Soft and marvelously beautiful hues are the result and cover an almost limitless field in which the colorist revels. These effects of nature may be imitated by the colorist by breaking or dulling his pure pigments by adding gray, or mixing complementary pigments.

"In my standard I have divided the whole field occupied by these colors into six series. The first series of broken colors follows the pure color series and the sixth series represents the very last stages of low light in which color is still suspected. Each series contains 168 color notes, just as in the pure color series, so that the standard embraces 1176 actual color notes, the systematic arrangement of which offers to the colorist forty-nine polychromatic scales of twenty-four hues each, 168 monochromatic scales of seven tones each and 168 shade scales of seven tones each. These, I believe, give the colorist or decorator an endless source of color harmonies."

The plates for the standard are in press, but advance proofs have been received by some of his intimate friends and given out by them. An examination of these proofs, which, by the way, are marvelous evidences of the advancement of color printing, make the color-ist's plan of nomenclature clear. He treats the color circle as if it were a color compass, so to speak, with the exception that where there are four cardinal points in the compass in the color circle there are six, namely, red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet. The hue between red and orange is red orange, and between red and red orange is red red orange. Each color is designated by its initial letters thus: R, red; RO, red orange; RRO, red red orange; and so on. There are forty-two plates of colors each headed by four colors, under each of which are the six tones between it and white. The pure colors have the simple initial. The series of broken colors are indicated by an "X" followed by a small figure showing to which of the six series the color belongs. A glance at the following will make the system clear:

"R" is pure red. The next symbol to the right on the same line indicates red of the first series—broken by the addition of gray, and the symbol immediately below the "R" indicates the first tone lighter than the pure red. The other series are indicated by figures prefixed to the color intial in the same manner, and the tones of that shade bear the same symbol as the color with the addition of the particular tone symbol. There is also a plan for the indication of tones between those contained in the standard by simply adding the plus or minus mark to the symbol to indicate a leaning toward the preceding or following tint. These simple signs enable the colorist to absolutely indicate 8000 colors, which may be correctly interpreted and reproduced by anyone having a copy of the standard.

Colorists who have received the standard plates believe that in time they will have brought about a uniformity among manufacturers all over the country, each of whom at present has his own idea of what a color should be. Burnt umber is one thing in Toronto and another in Hamilton, or London, and if a single standard can be introduced it will be a great benefit to all branches of mercantile art.

The standard will be of special value to painters, color manufacturers and those who make or handle colored fabrics. The educational side of the question should not be overlooked, and color study should be introduced in the schools in connection with the drawing or studies of form. Why should color not be studied? The education of the eye to an appreciation of the subtleties of color, with its fine gradations, opens a field of unsuspected pleasure to the student. But aside from any educational idea, the standard has a great physical value.

One can look into the future, when the color standard shall have become as familiar as the old spelling book, and fancy Mrs. Newlife's parting instruction to her husband, "Now, John, don't forget that yard and a half of silk for my waist; you remember the color don't you? That's right, XzBBGL3, dollar ten a yard. Good-by."

STANDARD COLOR NOMENCLATURE.

When the Enamel Is Dull.

A complaint often made by wheelmen is that the enamel of their wheel is dull or worn. If worn there is little hope for it except in a new coat, but its luster can be much improved by a little attention. Take a large, soft linen rag and lukewarm water. With these wash your wheel carefully and dry it with a soft rag. Then polish it with a solution of beeswax [illegible] in spirits of turpentine. Wipe it with a chamois cloth. Avoid soap, hot water and a brush.

Yum! Yum!

A musical bicycle has been invented by a man in Pressburg, Austria. The motion of the wheel grinds out a tune like a hand-organ, and the rider rolls along to the strains of delightful harmony.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

MASON & RISCH

PIANO COMPANY, LIMITED.

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality of tone. There is no better value in the market.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

The hand of death has removed from amongst us one of Norwood's best respected citizens in the person of Mr. Wm. Eaton, sen., who died at 12 o'clock on Thursday of last week. Mr. Eaton was of Scotch extraction, being born at Brichan, Scotland, in 1833. In 1855 he came to Canada to seek his fortune in the New World, settling in Niagara district, where he engaged in the tailoring business for two years, after which he came to Westwood and engaged with W. E. Roxburgh, who conducted a mercantile business there at that time, and worked at his trade for two years more. At the expiration of that period he came to Norwood, in 1859. In 1860 he was joined in marriage to Miss Margaret Eason, of Cronabee, who with two daughters—Mrs. A. Scott, of Norwood, and Miss May Eaton, of Kirkpatrick & Buck's millinery establishment—and two sons, Alex. Eaton, of Ottawa, and W. A. Eaton, merchant tailor of this place, survive him. Mr. Eaton was a devoted servant and member of the Presbyterian church, taking an active part in all the offices, and for the last eight years of his life he acted in the capacity of of elder for one of the districts of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. In politics he always placed his vote on the Reform ticket.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on Saturday to the Norwood cemetery, the pall-bearers being six elders of the church, namely, W. E. Roxburgh, James Cumming, Richard Nicoll, James Meikle, Chas. Nicoll and Alexander Gardner. J. Finlay & Sons closed their factory and business generally was suspended during the funeral.

Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

STATUES FOR PARLIAMENT HILL.

One of Her Majesty the Queen and the Other of the Late Premier Mackenzie - Ottawa Barrister Robbed.

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—The Secretary of State, Hon. R. W. Scott, is publishing an advertisement, inviting Canadian artists to submit proposals to the Government for a statue of the Queen and one of Alexander Mackenzie. Both are to be erected on Parliament Hill. The Queen's statue is to be placed on the terrace in front of the Parliament buildings. Artists are to send models of their designs. The models should be of plaster or similar material, not less than one foot in height, and must reach the Minister of Public Works not later than Jan. 1 next. The general design of the statue is left to each competitor. The conditions for Alexander Mackenzie's statue are similar, except that the Government does not specify in what part of the Parliament grounds the statue is to be located. Parliament voted these appropriations last session. The statue of the Queen is to be a memorial of Jubilee year. That of Mr. Mackenzie has long been conceded to be desirable in justice to the memory of the first Liberal Premier of Canada.

Barrister C. Downing Fripp telephoned to the police station this morning that he had been robbed. He said that while returning from Sandy Hill and crossing the bridge he was attacked by two men, thrown from his wheel and knocked unconscious. When he recovered shortly before 3 a.m. he found he had been robbed of $100 in cash. Mr. Fripp afterwards telephoned to the police station and told the above story. Mr. Fripp says one of the men is a short, dark man, and that it was the short man who struck him. He did not see the other very distinctly, as he was taken unawares.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

A Greater Crush Than Ever in the Court Room—Luetgert Anxious to Tell His Story.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—The crush of humanity at the Criminal Court building to-day was greater than upon any other occasion for the past two weeks. A report spread that Luetgert himself would be called to the witness stand to-day to tell his story to the jury. Luetgert was in rare good humor. He is recovering from the injury to his right leg. The testimony in his behalf recently has had a reviving effect upon his spirits, and his scowl has given way to a decidedly cheerful expression.

Luetgert again expressed his earnest desire this morning to go on the witness stand. He is desirous to "talk to the jury," as he expressed it. His lawyers, ex-Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen, apparently feel somewhat nervous about putting Luetgert on the stand. They have a great deal of respect for States-Attorney Deneen's ability as a cross-examiner. They appear to fear that under the rigid cross-questioning of the States-Attorney, Luetgert may make admissions or be led into statements that will spoil much of the important evidence given in his behalf. Luetgert may be called to-morrow. If he is not he will not be called before Saturday, as he is superstitious about appearing for the first time on Friday.

The members of the jury were in good spirits to-day. Last evening they went out to the National League Baseball Park and played ball for an hour. Rietz was called to-day and questioned as to his experiments with human bodies boiled in a ten per cent. solution of caustic soda. The important matter brought out was his declaration that the bones produced by the prosecution had never been subjected to the test of a potash solution. He said that the surface and general appearance of the bones which the prosecution maintains were found in and around the vat did not indicate that they ever had been in contact with a potash solution.

EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDE.

More Taken Off That Way Than by Smallpox in Montreal—A Denial by Sir William Van Horne.

Montreal Sept. 29.—(Special.)—An epidemic of suicide has struck Montreal and the victims have been more numerous since the New Year than those of the much-dreaded smallpox.

This morning at 5.30 Thomas Ollerhead, who came here from St. John's, Nfld., some time ago, tried to put an end to himself by a pistol shot. It appears that he held a good position in St. John's, the loss of which preyed upon his mind. The ball has not yet been extracted from Ollerhead's head, although the doctors say the case will not prove fatal.

The second case was that of a young woman named Forget, of Sanguinet street, who took paris green, but a stomach pump did good work and the poor girl will likely recover.

Sir William Van Horne contradicts the report that the Canadian Pacific have offered to build the Quebec bridge on condition that the Government lease the I. C. R. to Sir William's company.

Hon. Mr. Tarte announces in La Patrie that the future policy of the Laurier Government will be to unite the I. C. R. with the Parry Sound road.

The Witness contends that the position of the Hardy Government in Ontario is insecure.

The Montreal Board of Trade decided to-day to support the demand of the commercial travellers for a reduction of 40 per cent. in the excess baggage rates.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. Walter Green, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

Robertson's Mixed Floor and House Paints still lead all other makes in giving perfect satisfaction. They are never sticky, nor do they peal off, but dry hard, bright and glossy. If they require thinning use only the oil sold by the agents. Poor oil, as well as poor paints, never dry satisfactorily and will not wear. Robertson's Paints that were used two years ago, look better to-day than other paints used this year. 2aw-w

Pneumatic Snow Plow.

A citizen of Atlanta, Ga., has invented an electricity-driven pneumatic snow-plow that is entirely unlike anything ever before brought out. The snow is scraped from the roadway by a shear, and then blown out of the way by an air blast from a blower, which latter is driven by two 30-horse power motors. When passing teams the wind gate may be closed and snow permitted to accumulate until the air is turned on again. Neither the snow remaining or removed is packed. The plow is adjusted in regular work to remove fifteen inches.

THE DEATH DUTIES COUNT UP.

Over Seven and a Half Million Pounds From Them Alone in Six Months—The Epoched Crisis at Athens Averted—A Pro-British Tariff in Canada Next Year.

London, Sept. 30.—According to an official statement issued to-day, Great Britain's revenue for the six months just ended was £49,397,448. This is a net increase of £2,098,345 upon the revenue for the corresponding period of last year. Of the grand total, £7,634,982 was derived from death duties.

SITUATION AT ATHENS.

The Expected Crisis Avoided by the Generalship of the Premier.

London, Oct. 1.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says: M. Ralli, when presenting to the Chamber the preliminary treaty of peace, took strong exception to its terms, and attributed to Germany all that had been done against Greece.

He declared that he would not submit a resolution approving the treaty, because it was executory and, therefore, did not require approval, and also because such a step would be contrary to the sovereign rights of the state and the crown.

M. Delyannis expressed his approval of this position, but blamed the Government for again asking a vote of confidence, as this had already been accorded. Therefore, presuming that the Government was actuated by other reasons, M. Delyannis said that he would withhold his support. The vote was then taken.

THE WAR IS OVER

As Far as Mohmands are Concerned, But There is Trouble Yet Elsewhere.

Simla, Sept. 30.—The campaign against the Momunds has been successfully concluded, and nothing now remains but to collect the fines. The Upper Momunds have been severely punished and the Lower Momunds, cowed by the success of the British troops, are accepting the terms of the British commanders.

Raiders are looting in the vicinity of Hangu.

A force of insurgent tribesmen attacked Sadda yesterday, but were easily repulsed.

All the English women have been removed to places of safety in the Kurrum Valley.

NOW RUSSIA BOBS UP.

Her Intrigues With Afghanistan Have Failed and She is Mad About It.

Paris, Sept. 30.—A despatch to The Politique Coloniale from St. Petersburg says the Afghan mission to Russia has departed, bearing the promise of Russian support in the event of Great Britain encroaching upon the Ameer's territory. The despatch says negotiations between Russia and Abyssinia continue, with the object of establishing a league to oppose the British advance in Africa, and it is added that Russia is about to reach an understanding with the United States, with the view of arresting the extension of the British Empire in the Pacific.

A NEW COMBINATION

Newspaper to be Started at Moscow to Boom Anglo-Russian Trade.

London, Oct. 1.—The correspondent of The Times at St. Petersburg says: A new Anglo-Russian newspaper, printed in the Russian language, is about to be published at Moscow, as part of the scheme of promotion of commercial relations between England and Russia. The paper will also serve as the organ of the Imperial Russian Agriculture Society of Moscow, which will use its influence to increase the sale of Russian and English manufactures, especially machinery and agricultural implements. The paper will point out that the present movement is specially favorable to an increase development of the intercourse between the two countries.

The Dingley tariff may result in a considerable decline of British exports to America and a diminution of American exports of raw material and foodstuffs to England, which will be calculated to facilitate Russian exports to England.

A PRO-BRITISH TARIFF

To be Adopted by Canada After the German Treaties Go Out of Force.

London, Sept. 30.—The Times' Ottawa correspondent says, on the highest authority, that after the expiration in July, 1898, of the commercial treaties now in force, Canada will adopt a tariff that will be essentially pro-British.

A Cure for Tuberculosis.

Count Okuma Wants a Hand In.

London, Sept. 30.—The Manchester Guardian says that Count Okuma, the Japanese Foreign Minister, is likely to represent Japan in the Behring Sea Conference at Washington, not on account of the exceptional importance of the Behring Sea controversy, but because of other important matters between Japan and the United States, in the settlement of which he is desirous of assisting. Among the questions in the settlement of which he wishes to take part are those of immigration, the Dingley tariff and the Hawaiian dispute.

Great Falling Off Due to the Strike.

Glasgow, Sept. 30.—The Clyde Shipbuilding returns for August show that only 10 vessels, aggregating 9000 tons, were launched as against an average of 25 vessels, with an average tonnage of 45,000. The falling off is due to the dispute between the employers and the engineers, resulting in the strike of the latter.

British Subjects Want Relief.

Brussels, Sept. 30.—At a meeting held last night by British subjects to protest against the new Belgian law compelling foreigners to serve in the civil guard, resolutions were passed requesting the British Government to take steps to relieve British subjects in Belgium from liability to serve in either military or auxiliary service under any other than the British sovereign.

According to the rules of the Catholic Church, Count Badeni, if he did not receive absolution, would have to be excommunicated.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Route to the Klondike Overland From Edmonton.

A PROMOTER NOW AT THE CAPITAL

He is Seeking Government Aid Postal Clerk Killed by Falling From His Train Highwaymen Attack a Woman Sudden Death at a Liberal Meeting.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—J. B. Powell, C. E., who is now in the city, is the manager of a company that intends making a new route, chiefly overland, from Edmonton to the Klondike. Over 1000 miles will be by land and 400 miles by water. Mr. Powell wants assistance from the Ottawa Government.

"You'll find a dead man on the road back there," a lady called to Mr. Chas. Gibb, on the Aylmer-road last night. Mr. Gibb of the Senate and Mr. Percy Thompson, son of C. F. Thompson, coal merchant, of Sparks-street, were returning from Aylmer and when near Bessey's hill met a lady driving swiftly in a buggy. She pulled up and told them that she had been held up a few hundred yards back on the road and that she had driven over one of the men. She says that as she approached the hill three men appeared on the roadway. One said: "That's her," and seized the horse's head. Another approached the side of the rig to catch her. The lady told them that she whipped the horse and it jumped, passing the man at the head, but ran over the man at the side. The third man shot at her, grazing the rig. Mr. Gibb says he could not see her distinctly in the gloom. Mr. Thompson had a large sum of money with him, and being unwilling to take any chances they turned back and took the car at Deschenes for the city.

Walter S. Booth, railway mail clerk between Ottawa and Montreal, fell off a C. A. R. train last night between Alexandria and Glen Robertson and was killed. Mr. Booth was a son of Mr. R. R. Booth and a nephew of Mr. J. R. Booth. He was a married man and lived at 152 Bay-street. He had no family. The young man left here last night at 6.45 on his regular run to Montreal. His wife accompanied him and rode in the first-class coach. Upon reaching Alexandria Mr. Booth got off to take the mail out of the mail box at that station. In again boarding the train, instead of going into his own mail car, Mr. Booth got into the first-class coach to talk to his wife. When the whistle sounded for Glen Robertson he said good-bye to his wife and started forward. He was seen to leave the car and go out onto the platform, and that is the last time he was seen alive. On nearing Coteau the mail agent, who was in the mail car, told Conductor Pease to go and see what was keeping Mr. Booth. The conductor did so, but could not find the unfortunate man. Arriving at Coteau word was at once sent to the head officers in Ottawa, and all the constables were ordered out to search. They searched all night, but could find no trace of Mr. Booth. The body was found in a ditch this morning, between Alexandria and Glen Robertson.

A very sad affair took place at a meeting of the Reform Association here to-night. E. Leblanc of Leblanc & Lemay, clothiers, Sussex-street, dropped dead on the floor from his chair. He had been addressing the meeting a minute previous. Dr. Troy was sitting near him. The Doctor thinks that heart disease was the cause. Leblanc was one of the License Commissioners for the city. He was about 60, and was very popular.

Professor Robertson to-day received a cablegram to the effect that the pears, plums and tomatoes shipped in cold storage, via the Vanconver, for London, via Liverpool, reached the latter port in perfect condition. The shipment of peaches was a failure, the fruit having been too ripe when picked. Even had the peaches been sold for what they would fetch, Prof. Robertson does not entertain fear of the fact militating against future shipments.

THEY DEMAND GOLD MONEY.

National Democrats of Massachusetts Condemn Free Silver Coinage and Favor Arbitration.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—The State Convention of the National Democratic party of Massachusetts was held in Faneuil Hall to-day. It was the second time that the representatives of the party have met for the purpose of placing a gubernatorial ticket in the field. Following is an abstract of the platform as adopted:

"We adhere to and insist upon the maintenance of the present gold standard. We believe that the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, when present commercial ratio is nearly 30 to 1, would be destructive to the interests of the wage-earners, of depositors in savings banks, of the insured, of the veterans, and of the whole people. We believe that the payment of debts, public or private, in dollars of less intrinsic value than those in which they were contracted is dishonest. Therefore we reaffirm our allegiance to the great financial principle which guided Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland—that it is the sole function of the Federal Government in monetary matters to provide a standard of value and to coin metallic money every dollar of which shall be of equal intrinsic value; that nothing but this coin'd money shall be legal tender, and that the Government shall not carry on a banking business.

"We favor arbitration for the settlement of all international disputes.

"We oppose all extensions of the boundaries of the United States which would bring under its government masses of people unfitted for American citizenship.

"While we believe that the power of injunctions, if properly used, is beneficial, we demand, however, that combinations of laborers, formed without malicious intent and using peaceable methods, shall be permitted by statutes and shall not be restricted by injunctions.

"We oppose the revolutionary doctrines of the Chicago platform; and we deplore all attempts to create class and social dissension."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Some of the Conservative papers are claiming that Hon. John Carling, when a member of the Ontario Cabinet, established the Agricultural College of Ontario. And he got his reward. He was frozen out of the Cabinet and the Conservative organs of the short-sighted sort, have been trying to freeze out the Agricultural College ever since. Hon. Mr. Carling may have laid the foundation of the college, but the Mowat Government developed it and against continuous opposition have made it the instrument of advancing the farmers' interests, more powerfully than any other influence and it is hard to understand the opposition of the Opposition to an institution that is the only one that the farmer can claim as especially maintained in the interests of his calling.

We beat the United States in the production of cheese, but they are ahead of us in the matter of poultry, whose products last year in that country were worth three hundred millions or nearly equal to the value of the entire wheat crop of the country, or a little over $4 for every head of the population. According to the report of the Bureau of Industries it is computed that the value of the poultry crop in this province is only four million or about one seventh the value of our wheat crop. This condition should be remedied. Ontario farmers as a rule only raise poultry "on the side," keeping a breed of fowls better adapted to doing damage by scratching out crops than to giving paying returns. What is worth doing is worth doing well, and if poultry is kept, good breeds should be selected and proper care taken of the flock. There is enough, and more than enough, produce wasted about the farm or fed to mongrel dogs, whose chief use is to worry some neighbour's sheep, to feed a flock of poultry which, if properly attended to, would yield a handsome return, and a cent per cent profit in the time and money expended. Muscle is necessary to the farmer, but brains are equally essential. Given an equal opportunity, a farmer without hands but with brains would make more money than a farmer with half a dozen hands, who has no brains, or fails to use those he has.

TARTE-GRENIER CASE

The Accused Editor on the Witness Stand.

HAD BEEN A LIBERAL FOR 15 YEARS

Went to Mr. Tarte About a Claim and Was Told to Go Where He Didn't Want to Go—Waited in Vain to Punch the Minister of Public Works.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The surprise of the day in the Tarte-Grenier libel case was a strong protest by Mr. Leboeuf against the comments of Mr. Tarte's paper, La Patrie, which, the counsel claim, were made to influence the jury, who have been allowed out every night. Mr. St. Pierre met this with a letter which Hon. Mr. Tarte had written to his own paper, repudiating its utterances in the matter. However, Judge Wurtele said almost all the papers had been committing contempt of court since the trial began. He would not take the trouble to reply to the newspapers, as he had only to answer to Parliament and his own conscience. His Honor concluded by saying he would keep the jury in the Court House till the end of the trial.

W. A. Grenier, the defendant, was the star witness of the day. He related that he had been a Liberal for fifteen years, and having a claim against Le Soir newspaper he was advised by Mr. Geoffrion to go to Tarte, as he was the chief of the district. Tarte had promised to settle, but in the end had refused, and when Grenier had insisted the Minister had said: "For God's sake leave me alone and go to the devil." Grenier had waited in the hall of the Russell House to punch Tarte, but the Minister did not appear and the licking was postponed. He also said that Mr. Tarte had refused to support all newspaper projects unless the Minister or his sons were interested. The witness then decided to attack Tarte in his paper, as the former said there were the loudest complaints from the Liberals against the stranger who had got into the Government by a fluke. Grenier also created a sensation by declaring that he had received a letter from a Libelar member of the Legislature, now a member of the Quebec Government, asking him to publish an article against Mr. Tarte.

"Did he mention Mr. Tarte's name?"

Mr. St. Pierre: "No; the article was against the traitors at Ottawa."

This afternoon the examination of the accused, W. A. Grenier, was continued by Mr. St. Pierre for the prosecution, but there was little new evidence elicited. Mr. Grenier declared that he had never told anybody he intended to make his paper Mr. Tarte's personal organ. Hon. Mr. Geoffrion was also examined and testified to the claim Mr. Grenier had against The Soir, the Liberal organ. The case was continued.

YELLOW FEVER SITUATION.

Doctors Who Went to Raise Quarantine Were Driven Off by a Mob With Shotguns.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 30.—President Oliphant, Dr. Carter and Dr. Guiteras reached this city early this morning. They had left yesterday to meet Dr. Swearingen and other health officers, with a view to the raising of the quarantine embargo against freight, and had a very rough experience. At Ruine a mob with shotguns prevented their further progress and they were ordered to turn back, which, under the circumstances, they were compelled to do. During their trip they had gathered up twenty-four representatives of Health Boards and held a meeting at Cade, at which they fully discussed the situation here and elsewhere, and adopted resolutions tending to relieve the congestion of freight. A committee was appointed to communicate with the authorities on the lines of the Texas & Southern Pacific, with a view to securing an amelioration of present oppressive conditions.

The Board of Health has made arrangements to provide quarantined people with apparatus for fumigating letters which they desire to send to the postoffice. The people in country towns are pitched so high that they will not even receive thoroughly disinfected letters.

A Case at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—A negro who came into this city from Huntsville, Ala., last night, was taken up as a yellow fever suspect and carried to the county pest house, where he was completely isolated. No fears are entertained here of any infection from the South.

Washington, Sept. 30.—A summary of the progress of the yellow fever epidemic up to the close of the day yesterday made in the office of the Surgeon-General of the Marine Hospital service, gives a total of 682 cases and 60 deaths in the entire country.

Had an Enthusiastic Reception and Spoke to Ten Thousand People on Trade Matters.

Toronto, Oct. 1.

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived here at noon today in company with D. C. Fraser, M.P., C. McIsaac, M.P., H. J. Logan, M.P., and E. Goff Penny, M.P., (the party coming by a special from Moncton. At the Halifax depot an immense crowd had assembled to greet the Premier and they cheered vociferously when he made his appearance. He was met by Mayor Stephen and the city aldermen, Sir Joseph Fisher, Lord Melvin, Lieutenant-Governor Daly and a number of other prominent personages. An address of welcome was read by the Mayor, to which Sir Wilfrid responded warmly in expressions of thanks. He was then driven to the Exhibition Grounds, where he was the guest of the exhibition committee at luncheon. At 3 o'clock he delivered a public address from the exhibition grand stand, which was intended to be a vast crowd, numbering at least 10,000.

In his speech the Premier referred pleasantly to his visit to Halifax and the reception accorded him and then spoke briefly on the question of foreign trade. On this subject he said: "The policy which was inaugurated in 1878 had for its object to keep trade within Canada. Let me submit to you, gentlemen of the Maritime Provinces, you of the city of Halifax, that the only policy which can be successful is the policy which will look for trade with nations abroad, and, above all things, with the Mother Country the richest and wealthiest of all nations. [Applause.] The policy which we have inaugurated, the policy of the present Administration, is that we shall seek better markets in the Mother Land, in old England. This we have endeavored to do. There were many obstacles in the way there are still many obstacles in the way but some of those obstacles at all events have been removed. It is not for me to allude to what has been done in England when I was there, but I can say this, and with pride I am able to say it, my trip to England can be associated with a measure which has been long sought for by the Canadian Government, that is to say, the denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties. I claim no credit to myself personally for this; I agree with Sir Charles Tupper that I have no reason to boast for this personally, but, gentlemen, while I claim no credit to myself personally for this great measure, I have reason to claim some measure of credit for the success which we have thus obtained, and the credit is due, not to me, but to a son of Nova Scotia, to one of your ablest men, one of my dearest colleagues, to the Minister of Finance, the Hon. Mr. Fielding. [Applause.] It is to him and to his course that the success or that measure is due. Long ago, and upon many and many an occasion, the same thing had been sought of the British Government; Canadian Parliaments passed measures in order to have this granted by the British nation. Our prayers were not heeded, simply because the German treaty, and this Belgian treaty, were of great use and great value to the British nation, and if the British nation were to be deprived of these treaties they were making a great sacrifice. But when Mr. Fielding came with his tariff and gave preference to British goods, then sir, the British nation, finding that we are making a sacrifice ourselves, and doing it without asking any reward, generously came forward and granted what had been heretofore refused. This credit, I say, is due altogether to my friend, Mr. Fielding."

Garrison Was in the Saddle, But Did Not Land in Front—The Racing Was Good.

Toronto, Oct. 1.

The fifth day of the Hunt Club's fall meeting passed off just as successful as did the four preceding days. The weather was perfect, with a midsummer sun.

Entering two of the people's choices finished in front, two split favorites, one second choice and a 5 to 1 shot; so it looks as if the public had its best day of the meeting. The winners were: South Africa 8 to 5, Beguile 5 to 1, Thomas Cat 7 to 5, Cockatoo 3 to 2, Clysses even, and Harrington 4 to 10.

The betting in the third race indicated that all had a chance. You could have had 2 to 1 about any of the three at some time of the betting, and the Cat and Mazarine closed about equal favorites. It was Sir Thomas at the way, and the great Garrison had only a show to get second place. Storm King tired badly.

First race, ⅝ mile, purse $300, all ages, allowances—South Africa 1, Gio. Shehan 2, Geyser 3. Time 1.05. Locrum, The Manxman and Metre also ran.

Second race, ⅝ mile, purse $300, 2-year-olds, selling—Beguile 1, Olney 2, Flying Bess 3. Time 1.03½. Fleming, Florna Rose, Cerelli, Papa Harry, Glonoine, Ramonda also ran.

Third race, ⅝ mile, purse $300, added 10 pounds above scale 1 mile—Cat 1, Mazarine 2, Storm King 3. Time 1.15¾.

Fourth race, 1⅛ miles, value $250, for hunters, Green Horses' Steeplechase, gentlemen riders—Cockatoo 1, Morvena 2, King Joseph 3. Time 2.18.

Fifth race, 1⅛ miles, value $500, 3-year-olds and up, The British Stakes—Clysses 1, Defender 2, Evaline 3. Time 1.58½.

Sixth race, ⅞ mile, 300 added, 3-year-olds and up, selling—Harrington 1, Mohawk Prince 2, Red Monk 3. Time 1.29⅘. Nover, Frank Jaubert, Earth, Snapshot, Anna Lyle also ran.

BASEBALL RECORD.

TORONTO 12, SYRACUSE 12.

Yesterday's ball game at the Island was for blood—and the Stobart Cup. It was a battle between batters and batteries. Whitman was on the slab for Toronto and Mallarky for the visitors. Both were wild at times, at other times pitched good ball.

Toronto	0 0 2 3 0 1 1 0 5—12
Syracuse	0 0 0 3 4 0 3 0 2—12

BOSTON WON, BALTIMORE LOST.

Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—Although Boston has one more game to play with Brooklyn, and Baltimore will play two more with Washington at the Monumental City, the race for the league pennant practically came to an end with the conclusion of to-day's game at Eastern Park. Boston won the game, while Washington trounced the champions, which leaves Boston the undisputed champions until the season of 1898.

Batteries—Dunn and Burrell; Klobedanz and Bergen.

At Baltimore—The ghost of a chance that Baltimore had to win the pennant for next season no longer exists. It vanished early in this game, when the Senators fell upon Dr. Pond's curves, batted him off the slab, and took a good long lead in the fourth innings, after which the Orioles seemed to lose heart, and played listlessly and without ambition. The score board, in the meantime, showed Boston's victory, score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—	3	9 5
Washington	2 0 1 2 4 0 0 0 0—	9	15 2

Batteries—Pond, Amole and Robinson; Mercer and McGuire.

At New York—The New Yorks hit the ball when hits meant runs this afternoon, and thus they won the second game of the closing series from the Phillies.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	4 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 *—	6	13 3
Philadelphia	2 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0—	5	8 2

Batteries—Seymour and Warner; Zearfoss, Wheeler and Boyle.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Listowel, Ont., Sept. 30.—At the Cheese Fair here to-day 20 factories boarded 1057 boxes, mostly September cheese, about 2000 boxes being last half of August make. The sales were confined to the August cheese, of which a few lots were sold at 9¾c, 9⅞c, 9⅝c and 9¾c. Some of the August holders are inclined to hold for 9⅞c, but may sell to-night, yet no business is being done in September.

Barrie, Sept. 30.—At the meeting of the Cheese Board here to-day 2035 boxes of colored cheese were offered, mostly first half of September; 405 were sold at 9c, balance unsold. Three buyers in attendance. On motion the factories were allowed to sell their September off the board. The board adjourned to meet in Elmvale on Wednesday, Oct. 13, at 1 o'clock.

Brockville, Ont., Sept. 30.—At the Cheese Board to-day 30 factories offered 1097 white and 2080 colored; 8⅝c offered for both; no sales.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

LUETGERT MURDER TRIAL

Public Interest is Unabated Dr. Allport and the Bones Produced in Evidence Were Not Human.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Public interest in the Luetgert murder trial continues with unabated intensity. Luetgert was in good spirits again to-day. The testimony of Dr. Allport yesterday afternoon bore greatly to the big sausage maker's liking. Dr. Allport declared the temporal bone which Professor George Dorsey of the Field Columbian Museum, identified as that of a human, was the femur of a dog. Dr. Allport is a professor of descriptive and comparative anatomy in the Northwestern University. The dispute between these two eminent authorities as to the bones has brought about a crisis in the case. If the jury believes Dr. Allport the conclusion can hardly be escaped that no human body was boiled in the vat in Luetgert's factory.

When Dr. Allport went on the witness stand again to-day he created another sensation by declaring that the temporal bone, which Prof. Dorsey identified as human, and from its formation probably the right temporal bone of a female, is not human.

Dr. Allport did not know what was in store for him in the cross-examination. Prof. Dorsey had prepared for the prosecution a list of questions that stirred the Northwestern University professor when they were propounded by Assistant State Attorney McEwen. The questions were bristling with technicalities and were framed with a view to testing Dr. Allport's knowledge of osteology. Dr. Allport had prepared for the defence the cross-examination of Prof. Dorsey and the latter evened matters with a vengeance to-day.

Dr. Allport made a statement on the stand to-day, subsequent to the one before given, that caused a profound sensation. He was examining the temporal bone which had been identified by Prof. Dorsey, and pronounced by the latter not only a temporal bone, but the temporal bone of a woman. "That bone is not a temporal bone, either of a human or of the lower order of animals," declared Dr. Allport, gazing at the exhibit intently. "It is a composition of bones put together by artificial means. The trace here which Prof. Dorsey said was the outline of a facial nerve, is a fibre of animal matter with which the bones are stuck together."

The statement was received with something akin to dismay by the prosecution for a moment. Luetgert leaned back in his chair and laughed.

Assistant State Attorney McEwen began a fierce cross-examination of the witness.

Prof. Allport for hour after hour answered questions suggested in the main by Prof. Dorsey and propounded by Assistant State Attorney McEwen. Questions were fired at the expert with such rapidity that he became bewildered. Confusion led to contradiction and this developed sharper cross-questioning, so that the last two hours of the expert upon the witness stand were fraught with nerve-testing anxiety for him.

Mr. McEwen neatly caught the doctor napping during the afternoon session. The expert was required to name a portion of bone handed him. After a brief examination he said it was part of the skull of a monkey. Attorney McEwen immediately asked another question which led the doctor to believe he had identified the exhibit at the first guess, and the expert confidently entered upon long dissertation relative to the similarity of the skull in some portions to that of a human skull. After he had finished Assistant Attorney McEwen reached for the bone the expert held and remarked: "Well, the bone is from the skull of a dog."

Dr. Allport looked surprised, but, recovering himself suddenly, he observed: "Well, it might have been a monkey-faced dog."

There was a long wrangle between counsel and the witness over sesamoid bones and plaques.

TORONTO MARKETS

Flour—The market is lower. There were purchases of straight rollers to-day for export at equal to $3.80 west.

Wheat—The demand is fair at the decline in prices. Sales of 50,000 bushels of white and red winter were made in the morning at 76c north and west freights, and 77c bid in the afternoon for red at western points. No. 1 Manitoba hard offers at 74c Fort William, and it is quoted at 99c Goderich.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet and prices purely nominal.

Barley—The market is quiet, with offerings fair. Feed barley sold at 24c west.

Oats—The market continues quiet, with white offering at 23c west, and mixed at 22½c west.

Peas—The market is unchanged, with sales at 46c to 47c north and west.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were about 25 car loads of live stock delivered on the market to-day, made up as follows: 420 cattle, 334 sheep and lambs, 15 calves and 350 hogs.

Trade was at a standstill as far as the exporters were concerned, and we did not hear of any business being transacted, or see any of the buyers on the market who usually frequent it. The market seems to be demoralized on account of adverse reports from the English markets.

Butchers cattle were also very dull and prices for choice stuff fell fully 25c per cwt.

William Levack bought about 60 butchers' cattle at prices ranging from $3.25 to $3.35 per cwt. and $250 per cwt. for picked lots.

We saw one dealer who had one load of very nice butchers' cattle who refused an offer of $3.20 per cwt. for them, deciding to wait for Friday's market.

For stockers and feeders, although the market was not so brisk, we would quote about the same prices and stockers weighing from 600 to 750 lbs. each are selling at $2.75 to $3 per cwt.

T. McCarthy, representing a Buffalo firm, and who shipped three car loads of stockers during the past week, bought several lots to-day, and will be on the market the remainder of the week to purchase this class of cattle.

Milch cows were worth from $20 to $40 each.

Calves sold at $3 to $4. C. Zeagman sold one at the latter price.

The market for sheep was also very dull, and demand was not good for export sheep, which sold at $3 to $3.25 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

Lambs brought $3.50 to $4 per cwt., and $2.50 to $3.25 each.

The run of hogs was light, only 350 coming forward. Prices remain the same, at $5.50 to $5.75 per cwt. for best quality.

HEART PAINS.

The Heart and Nerves are Often Affected and Cause Prostration of the Entire System.

A Kingston Lady Testifies to Her Experience in the Use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

The Following Letter Should Carry Weight.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.,
Toronto, Ont.

DEAR SIRS,—I have suffered for some years with a smothering sensation caused by heart disease. The severity of the pains in my heart caused me much suffering. I was also very nervous, and my whole system was run down and debilitated.

Hearing of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills being a specific for these troubles, I thought I would try them, and therefore got a box at McLeod's Drug Store.

They afforded me great relief, having toned up my system and removed the distressing symptoms from which I suffered. I can heartily recommend these wonderful pills to all sufferers from heart trouble.

Wounded Plants Have Fever.

H. M. Richards, in England, has discovered in wounded plants a phenomenon corresponding to fever in animals. It runs, as does increase in respiration, a definite course, and attains its maximum in about 24 hours after injury. He says that, compared with the ordinary temperature of plants in relation to the surrounding medium, the rise after the injury is "as great as, if not greater than, in animals." In massive tissues, such as potatoes and radishes afford, the effect of the injury was local, whereas in leaves (e.g., onion bulbs) much greater extent of tissue was sympathetically affected.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I prefer you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agency Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

"THE SLATER SHOE"

Resting the Feet.

A hard mattress rests the sleeper more than a downy feather bed, because it does not press so many parts of the body at once, relieving certain bumps while the others are being lain upon.

No two pairs of shoes are exactly alike on the inside, and changing them once per day eases different portions of the feet by throwing the weight upon other parts. This gives a surprising restfulness to the feet, as well as to the shoe, which also gets tired, just as a razor does.

Leathers should always be chosen according to the condition of the feet, as they differ materially in effect and purpose.

On every pair of "Slater Shoes" there is a tag, which tells the exact leather used, giving its peculiarities and the wear it is adapted to.

You can thus buy "Slater Shoes" intelligently and know that they're Goodyear Welted, if you see that they're stamped on the sole with the name and price—$3.00, $4.00, or $5.00.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

MRS. DUMBLE'S PARLOUR SOCIAL.

A Delightful Social and Financial Success.

"The Pines," the beautiful residence of Mr. D. W. Dumble, was last night a scene of peculiar brightness and beauty. The occasion was Mrs. D. W. Dumble's social in aid of the Parsonage Fund of the George street Methodist church. Mr. Dumble's official faculties for securing the attendance of the multitude at his matutinal receptions seem to have been appropriated in another sense by Mrs. Dumble, for in response to her invitation a very large company invaded and overflowed the spacious drawing rooms, library and other rooms which were brilliantly lighted and tastefully garbed en fete. The grounds were also brightly dotted with Chinese lanterns, particularly the winding drive that creeps up the slope from the McDonel street gates. The gracious cordiality of the reception of the guests by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. F. Johnston, made everybody "at home," and soon the house was vocal with the hum of cheerful conversation, which was delightfully interrupted at intervals by choice selections of music, of which a programme of unusual merit was presented.

The first number was a beautifully performed pianoforte solo given by Miss Grant in her peculiarly artistic style—"Simple Histoire," by Henri Ravena.

This was followed by a baritone solo by Mr. Harold Nelles, entitled "Off to Philadelphia," and in response to an undeniable recall he sung with excellent result and finish "Good Bye to the Leaves." Later in the evening he sang a stirring sea song of the rugged school—"Old Timbertoes," and gave great delight. Mr. Nelles, who is a son of the late Chancellor Nelles, of Victoria University. He has lately become a resident of the town and last night gave evidence of the important addition he is to the musical forces of Peterborough.

Mr. C. N. Brown gave one of his inimitable readings, the "Irish Schoolmaster."

A song in the Armenian tongue was intoned by Mr. George Zigarre.

Mr. John Butcher's flute solo, a charming performance of Mercadente's Original Caprice, "Solitude," to which a capital accompaniment was played by Miss McCabe, was very highly enjoyed.

Miss Vair, one of our most accomplished local vocalists, was heard with delight in Paul Rodney's "Drifting and Dreaming," Mrs. R. E. Wood contributing a sympathetic accompaniment.

During the evening the refreshment room, which was fitted with well-filled five o'clock tables, was a centre of interest. The refreshments were presided over by Mrs. Frank Mason and Mrs. C. B. McAllister, and were deftly served by Misses Vina Belleghem, Mabel Mason, Mabel Bradburn, Maggie Gamble, Mary Fife, M. Richardson and Annie Belleghem.

One large room was devoted to a "museum," in which several characters in costume were well presented, and a phonograph, with its varied programme of music, etc., afforded agreeable entertainment. The characters in, what one lady jocularly designated, "The Chamber of Horrors," so excellently presented, were: "Mary Queen of Scots," Miss Edith Robinson; "Lady of Fifty Years Ago," Miss Sarah Robinson; "Japanese Lady," Miss Abbie Robinson; "The Hirsute Man," Mr. Mabee.

The evening was at all events a great social success, over three hundred delighted guests having been present, representing every church congregation in town, and the financial outcome was also extremely satisfactory.

SOCIAL EVENING AT THE Y.W.C.A. ROOMS.

A Decidedly Delightful Evening Spent.

At the social evening in the Y.W.C.A. rooms on Thursday evening there was a very pleasant two hours spent. After a hymn and an opening prayer by Mrs. Roger, an excellent instrumental solo was presented by Miss Roger.

Mrs. Harvie was introduced by Mrs. Stewart, and briefly addressed the young ladies present. She pointed out the objects of the Association and the responsibilities of the members in respect of aggressive work for their sisters. She emphasized the point that the Association was not a band of older women appointed to patronize the younger, but only working earnestly among young women with a view of assisting them in their efforts for self development, and the importance of plans for action and aggressive work on these lines was urged.

Mrs. Harvie's capital address was followed by a very sympathetically sung song, "When the Mists have Rolled Away," by Miss Montgomery. This was followed by a recitation by Miss Aggie Patterson.

Classes were formed in physical drill, cooking and embroidery. A Bible class for Saturday evenings was also formed.

After excellent refreshments had been served the assemblage separated after a most pleasant and profitable evening.

THE WOMEN'S WORK FOR WOMEN ONLY.

MRS. JOHN HARVIE ADDRESSES A MONSTER MEETING.

A Practical Talk on Practical Issues—The Danger of the Causes and How to Counteract Results—Special Committees Appointed.

The announcement that Mrs. John Harvie, of Toronto, would address women only, yesterday afternoon in the council chamber drew such a large crowd of ladies to that building that a proposition was made to adjourn to the Bethany Mission Hall, and here the meeting was accordingly held.

As the gathering was called under the auspices of the Board of Management of the Y.W.C.A., the vice-president, Mrs. Stewart, occupied the chair, and called upon Mrs. Clark to read a portion of Scripture and Miss Forsythe to open with prayer.

Mrs. Harvey then addressed the meeting. She was glad, she said, to meet the women of Peterborough, who by their presence there showed their interest in the moral well-being of the community. It was a subject that ought to appeal very strongly to every woman's heart. Being more practical than theoretical, she would attempt no flights of eloquence, but talk directly on the question they had come there to discuss.

At different times different questions agitate the public mind; to-day social purity was one of the problems of the hour. Here, in Peterborough, the attention of good had been called to the presence of reckless immorality—even among the very youthful in their midst. From the most credible authority it had been learned that a state of things had existed here for years that would disgrace any community. It was impossible to speak of such conversation and practices as were here carried on. Peterborough was no worse in this respect than other large towns and cities. These evils exist in as great a degree elsewhere as here, and we must not close our eyes and ears to what is going on in our midst. Mrs. Harvie then proceeded to give some of the causes of the widespread evil. Parents are partly responsible. There is a great lack of proper home influence. In olden times parents gathered their children around them, but in the bustle and excitement of the present time—in these days of much organization parents can be out at meetings every night in the week. Children are neglected. They practically make their own lives. The bicycle craze is taking young children away from their homes. Young girls are out at all hours of the night. Then, too, there is a lack of courtesy—of chivalry on the part of men to women now-a-days. Children are being affected by it; they are learning to laugh at their mothers. The wishes of parents are not respected. Indeed, the smallest child may set up his will against his parents and it would only be thought smart. Children are growing up to-day reckless, foolish, thoughtless. Mrs. Harvie here referred to the incredulity of so many parents.

OTHER PEOPLE'S CHILDREN might be bad; their conversation might be indecent and their conduct lewd, but that of their own never.

The remedy for the present deplorable state of affairs lay along two lines; the preventive and the rescue lines. The spread of the evil must be stopped. To accomplish this the women of Peterborough should resolve themselves at once into a vigilance committee, call in the assistance of the police and the officers of the Children's Aid Society; find out where the evil exists; pray well over the matter and then go and see what they can do to stamp it out. If necessary, an example should be made of the ringleaders. Send them to the Provincial Refuge in Toronto. That would cost the town nothing; or send them to the Alexandra Industrial School in the same city. For that you will pay $2 00 a week. To locate the evil will be easy enough. "I don't think," Mrs. Harvie continued, "that in twenty-four hours I could locate half a dozen cases. The speaker then urged the women present to form themselves into committees for house to house visitation. Interest the young women in kitchen garden work, in cooking, in sewing; put a geranium in one window. Get them interested and amused. Drive out evil by putting thoughts of good in its place; hold mothers' meetings; scatter good literature among them; direct their attention to all that pertains to good living; Get a shelter to which children who are left destitute can be sent. This is no difficult matter. One widow lady may be willing to take five or six boys, another five or six girls under ten, some one else girls who are older. In the town of Peterborough to-day there is not a place to which a homeless child can be sent. Put a notice in your papers. Ask for and destitute. Clothes, too, are wanted. Let a committee be formed to make them for those in want.

Rescue work is the grandest and noblest work that women can do. Girls have been allowed to drift away from purity and goodness without a hand being put out to save them. It is just drift, drift until the poor girl closes her life in jail or on a sick bed. What lies before that mother and her illegitimate child who was born to-day in one of your hospitals? asked Mrs. Harvie. Get some good woman to give her a home until she can get one in the country bye and bye. Find a foster parent for that child. Visit the jail—gather the women there about you. My first work in a jail was a revelation to me. "I'd love to be better," said a young girl of seventeen, twenty miles away from her home. When women and girls leave your jail look after them. Be waiting outside for them. Find a place to take them to.

I am neither afraid nor ashamed to visit disreputable homes and make friends of its inmates. You may save some. But don't stand on a table and say "Come and be saved." Go to them. Organize at once. Form yourselves into a Woman's Benevolent Society; ask to have the Children's Aid Society extended and women included. Divide into committees. One group for rescue work; one to prevent crime. This work in connection with the Y.W.C.A. That is for respectable girls—unless you can get the girls themselves at work.

Mrs. Harvie then suggested that those present who were ready to do active work should stand up. It would only take $300 or $800 to do the work she referred to and every dollar would come back to the donor of it.

A provisional committee was then formed consisting of Mrs. Beck, convenor; Mrs. Stuart, assistant convenor; Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, secretary; Mrs. L. M. Hayes, treasurer, and the following: Mesdames Dykeman, Sharpe, Haultain, Garrow, Harding, McBurney, Carlisle, Rehill, Kennedy, George Burnham, McPherson, Barlee, Clark, Boswell, Gervis, Jones, Peck, Garrow, Thexton, Mulligan, Laing, Galley, Brown, Comstock, Anderson and Denistoun, and the Misses Chamberlen, Launderville, Hudson, Gow, McCoy, Rehill, Stevenson, Armstrong and Burnett.

A committee was next formed to interview the officers of the Children's Aid Society. The members are Mesdames Roger, Potter, Wallis, Fitzgerald, Ball, Carmichael.

The Committee on Rescue Work consists of Mesdames Turnbull, Dykeman, Peck, Burnham, Haultain, Spears, Kennedy, Dunsford, Zimmerman, McBurney, Fitzgerald, Clarke, Brown, the Misses Gow, Forsythe, Clarke, Code.

The meeting closed with prayer and the singing of the Doxology. The collection amounted to $12.22.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

George Foy had a Hearing Yesterday Before the Police Magistrate.

In the police court yesterday afternoon George Foy was charged with stealing a horse, rig and harness from Mr. T. Fitzgerald about six weeks ago.

The complainant testified that the prisoner had engaged a horse from him, agreeing to return it the next morning. Contrary to his promise he did not return the outfit at all. Subsequently the constable at Grimsby had telegraphed to Peterborough that the prisoner was acting suspiciously there. Upon Chief Roszel and a man who knew the horse going up to investigate, they found the outfit of the complainant.

The defendant on the other hand stated that he had written to Mr. Fitzgerald on several occasions stating that the horse was all right and that he would receive his pay on his return.

The magistrate thought there was a prima facie case of stealing and committed the prisoner for trial.

IN JAIL ON AN OLD SCORE.

Minnie Easton Doing Three Months in Castle Nesbitt.

The woman and companion, the latter womon not being arrested, was domiciled in an old dwelling opposite the Dobbin farm. The woman was brought to town and committed to jail for three months in satisfaction of a fine imposed three years ago for keeping a house of ill fame on what is known as "Edison Heights."

WEDDING BELLS.

In which many Peterborough Citizens will be Interested.

On Tuesday the bell in St. Mary's church, Hastings, announced the nuptials of Mr. P. M. Howard and Miss Victoria Tracy. The event drew a large number of spectators to witness the interesting ceremony.

Mr. T. O'Reilly assisted the groom, and Miss Kate Lynch of Peterborough performed a like service for the bride.

After the ceremony and nuptial mass the guests partook of a wedding breakfast at Mr. Tracy's.

The happy couple were then driven to Norwood where they took the noon train for a trip to Ottawa and Montreal. It is needless to say that the bride was the recipient of many valuable gifts.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Peter Hamilton is in the Western States on business.

Miss Tottie Hartley has returned from Quebec, after a two months' visit to her sister, Mrs. W. R. Russell.

Mr. Dan Gordon left to-day at noon for Millbrook. He will sing this evening at the concert following the Fair.

Mr. Tim Kirk, who has been playing lacrosse in Hastings all summer, has returned to his home in Madoc.

Mr. Lem Fetcher returned from Toronto to-day, where he has been witnessing the games of the Steinert Cup Series.

Miss Maggie J. Calcutt, Miss Susie Calcutt, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rogers, are visiting friends and relatives in Chicago.

Miss Van Homerich of New York, who has for several weeks been visiting her cousins, the Misses Calcutt, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Alf. Thomas, of Cleveland, who has been in town visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McClelland, Reid street, returned home this morning.

Miss E. H. Russell is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Hartley, No. 52 Murray street East, and will remain throughout the winter months.

Mr. D. W. Dumble went to Toronto to-day to attend a meeting of the Court of Conciliation to deal with labour disputes, of which he is a member. A strike of pianoforte makers in Guelph is the occasion of the meeting of the Board.

Mr. C. H. Knapp, agent for that best known show of its kind on the road, Guy Bros. Minstrels, was in town to-day making arrangements for their appearance in the Opera House here on Thursday, Oct. 7th. He says the show is an entirely new one—better than the Guy's have ever presented here, and that's saying a good deal.

Rev. S. J. Shorey left to-day at noon for Bancroft, where he will open the new Methodist church on Sunday and on Monday will give an address at a tea-meeting. Bancroft is rather inaccessible apparently, as Mr. Shorey had to leave at noon to-day on the C. P. R. and going to the C. O. R. Crossing, run down to Stirling for the night, taking the early train on the Central Ontario. It will land him within twelve miles of his destination and he will have to stage it from there.

Catarrh of Ten Years' Standing Cured by Dr. Chase.

I suffered from Catarrh for ten years and was treated by some of the best physicians in Canada. I was recommended by Dr. C. Thompson, druggist, Tilsonburg, to try Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and can state positively it cured my Catarrh and Catarrhal Sore Throat.

Yours respectfully,
J. D. Phillips, J.P., Witness. Anna A. Howey, Eden, Ont.

LACROSSE.

The following letter appears in to day's Mail and Empire:

SIR,—I read the account of the lacrosse match between the Peterborough and Markham clubs, as telegraphed from the latter place; and as I was a witness of that game, I would like to ask you who appointed the officials for the occasion. If it was done by the President of the C.L.A., I, an old player, long retired, can assure you that a more incompetent lot of men could not be chosen by anybody. They either did not know their duties, or they were there for the express purpose of helping Markham to win the game. The referee deliberately shut his eyes to the fouling that was done, and evidently did not know the meaning of certain rules that were quoted to him—but he was not as bad as the umpire at the eastern end, Mr. Michie, whose actions showed conclusively that any call of "game" by Markham would send his hand in the air. In fact, so anxious was he that his hand went up no less than three times in five minutes, although during that time no claim of game was made by the Markham players themselves.

I hope I am not maligning the gentlemen who acted as umpires, for the one at the other end gave Markham the sixth goal, and I am prepared to swear that the ball passed the front of the poles, not between them; but if they say they did try to be impartial, then I say they did not know their business, and should not have accepted the position. As for the President of the C. L. A., he has been so erratic lately that his actions in appointing two sets of officials to go to Markham only helps to show that he is not at all responsible for his actions.

Yours etc.,
OLD TIMER.

Peterborough, Sept. 29, 1897.

[It is only fair to President Craig to explain how the two sets of umpires came to be on the ground. Mr. Craig appointed Mr. Thompson Beattie to act a referee, and asked him to take two umpires with him to Markham from Toronto. The night before the match Beattie wired Craig saying he could not go to Markham, as he had to go elsewhere on business. Mr. Craig tried ineffectually to communicate with him by telephone to inquire about the umpires, but he could not get him in Toronto, so in order to be sure that there were officials on hand, he sent three from Fergus. He had no time to make a choice as the men had to start immediately for Galt to take the night train for Toronto. Mr. Craig exercised his authority in a wise manner, and "Old Timer" should have taken time to enquire into the matter before rushing into print. That the officials were incompetent, no one will deny, but this was no fault of the President, as he had no time in which to communicate with more experienced men.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affections of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson of the Standard Band now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

PETERBOROUGH RIFLE ASSOCIATION SCORES.

A SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL MEET ON THE RANGES.

Capt. E. B. Clegg Captures the Cox Cup—Capt. Dennistoun Wins the Aggregate—The Bankers' Cup also Goes to Him—The other Winners.

Yesterday the annual matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association were very successfully shot at the Curtis Ranges. Everything was favourable. The day and weather were ideal for the contest. The wind was not a serious factor in interfering with the shooting, though it was a trifle tricky at the long ranges, and the light was excellent. The attendance of local marksmen was larger than last year, and there were several in town who could not leave their business for the shooting. There was a diminished attendance of outsiders, these being represented on this occasion by Messrs. Oliver, Williamson and Pilkey. The fact of the Lee-Metford rifle being used, with which the other corps are not equipped, to some extent accounted for the lack of presence of outsiders.

The contest for the Cox Cup was close, a score of 64 being made each of Staff Sergt. Bartlett, Capt. Dennistoun and Capt. Clegg, but the Captain's score had the highest value, and last year's winner, Private T. J. Ritchie handed the cup to this year's winner.

Mr. James Stewart acted very efficiently as range secretary.

If You are Subject to Cramps

You know how important it is to have a prompt remedy on hand. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has a wonderful and immediate influence upon this malady. It relieves in one minute and cures in five. Pleasant to the taste, and the best remedy in the world for pain.

Robertson's Mixed Floor and House Paints still lead all other makes in giving perfect satisfaction. They are never sticky, nor do they peel off, but dry hard, bright and glossy. If they require thinning use only the oil sold by the agents. Poor oil, as well as poor paints, never dry satisfactorily and will not wear. Robertson's Paints that were used two years ago, look better to-day than other paints used this year. 2aw-w

MECHANICAL DRAWING CLASSES

To be Opened in the Public Library Rooms on October 7th Under an Excellent Instructor.

The Public Library Class in Mechanical Drawing will open at the class rooms in Public Library building on October 7th, at 8 p. m. The instructor this year is Mr. Walter J. Francis, at present chief draughtsman of the Central Bridge and Engineering Company. He is an honour graduate of the Ontario School of Practical Science, Toronto, and associate member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. He also obtained a special award at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893. He also held the position of chief draughtsman throughout the construction of the new Union Station buildings, Toronto. He has been closely connected with all branches of mechanical drawing for over ten years.

The course of study will be given within a day or two. It may also be mentioned that the directors of the Public Library are offering five important prizes to those who attend at least thirty lessons, and take the highest standing in the examination at the close of the course.

The President, Dr. Burnham, is offering a valuable prize, and the Canadian General Electric Co's prize is also a valuable one.

It is expected that young mechanics especially will take prompt advantage of these classes. Our employing manufacturers are known to prefer employees who have the advantage of good theoretical instruction, and it is known that the young men who get promoted and have the preference in our manufacturing establishments, as a rule, are those who have added a knowledge of drawing and theoretical mechanics. No better way of passing an evening can be found than attendance in the Public Library drawing classes.

The Latter's Proposed Methods Saving Effected by the Plans Outlined by Prof. F. H. King A Subject of General Dairy Interest.

As the warm season is coming, Mr. O. B. Schier, of Baltimore Md., questions Hoard's Dairyman somewhat about a cooling system which he is contemplating to put up for use during the next summer

The milk from our farms, says Mr. Schier, which, previous to its shipment has been cooled by means of a Star Milk Cooler to about 54 to 55 degrees, reaches us, due to the gain of temperature to and over the railroad, with about 60 to 65 degrees, sometimes even as high as 70. All our business is done in quart and pint bottles and we find it absolutely necessary to get the milk in the bottles as cold as possible. As soon as it reaches us and has passed the filter, we cool all milk again by letting it run over a pipe cooler and would prefer to bring it down as low as 38 or 40 degrees.

During the past year we used to make ice water in a big barrel, placed on the roof of our dairy and well insulated against outside temperature. The water for this purpose was taken from the city supply and shows in the warm time a temperature as high as 70 to 80 degrees, which necessitates, in the first place, the use of a considerable amount of ice to reduce this temperature to the required one. The water being cooled, passed through the cooler by its natural fall, entering it at the bottom pipe and leaving it the top, to be carried away to the sewer.

Now this seems to me a great waste of cold storage, and I had an idea that we may do better by the plant. To put up a refrigerating machine is, for several reasons, (one of which is the first expense), not well possible at the present time, so I fell on the next best thing, in any opinion, still I don't know if I am right and to tell me whether I am or not is what I request from The Dairyman and its readers, some of whom may have some experience in this line, viz., a cold brine circulating system.

My intention is to build a well insulated wooden tank, having a double air space, lined with galvanized iron, 108 inches long, 16 inches wide and 36 inches deep containing 36 1-4 cubic feet, or 273 3-4 gallons.

Through the top of the tank I intend to pass 4 cans of galvanized iron, each 7x8 inches and 30 inches deep, displacing 12 1-2 cubic feet or 92 3-4 gallons, and capable of taking 750 pounds of ice, offering a cooling surface to the brine of 48 1-3 square feet. After the cans are placed in their proper position there would be room in the tank for 150 gallons of brine.

The amount of milk to be cooled in the morning is about 150 gallons; that of the evening about 140 gallons. The tank shall be connected by means of a brine pump with the cooler, so that the pump, taking away the brine from the tank near the bottom, forces the cold brine through the cooler and aerator and discharges it from there back into the tank on the other end about 2 feet above the bottom. To cause the brine to come in all its parts in connection with the cooling cans in its circulation through the tank as much as possible, the cans are fastened alternately to the one and the other long sides of the tank as shown in the cut, by means of dividing sheets.

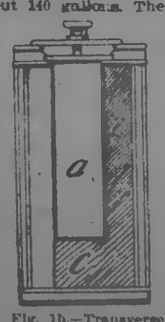

Fig. 1b.—Transverse cross section through tank and can.

We used in the last year 106 tons of ice from April till November, at an expense of $450—the month of August, figuring at the highest with 19 1-2 tons. Part of this ice is used to make the ice water, and the rest was broken up in small pieces and put around the bottles during transportation.

As you see, my leading idea in using the brine circulating system is to save those cold units which remain in the fluid after passing through the cooler and which are now lost by running away with the waste water. Now I wish to know, first, if the saving in cold storage will justify me to go to an expense of about $120 to $130?

Second, I would be obliged for a correct answer how the cooling cans should be arranged; if they should have a drain pipe in connection with a water tank in order to carry the melted water from the ice away as produced, or if the melted water, which as I have been taught, has a temperature of 32 degrees as long as not all the ice is melted should be kept in the cans as a cooling agent for the brine, until the ice is all melted, in which case the drain pipe may be closed up by means of a ground stopper as used in wash-basins, etc.?

Third, if any ventilation of the box is necessary to let the warm air escape, and how this should be arranged? Shall there be some small openings in the tops of each can (cooling cans) or must those be closed up hermetically? Or shall there be some openings in that part of the top of the box that covers the brine? Or, finally, shall there be no openings at all?

Prof. F. H. King's Remarks.

Wishing to get the best possible criticism on the plans above proposed, Hoard's referred them to Prof. F. H. King, and gives his reply below:

In complying with your request to answer the queries of your correspondent, Mr. O. B. Schier, since the question must be one of general interest to your readers, permit me to deal with his problem from the standpoint of the underlying principles which he rightly proposes to utilize.

The idea of returning the water to the ice or cooling tank, represented in figure 1, as he describes, after the milk has been cooled with it to 38 degrees rather than allowing it to run to waste, means a saving of as many cooling units per pound of water used as the difference between the temperature of the water supply and 38 degrees, which in your correspondent's case is about 52—38—14, because if he cools his milk to 38 degrees with cold water or brine, the water must leave the milk at 38 degrees to be returned to the cooling chamber, or to run to waste as the case may be.

Now, to circulate the cold brine round and round through his milk cooler and ice tank, means to utilize the whole number of cooling units in the ice consumed, less the necessary loss which is incurred in the process of circulation.

Your correspondent proposes to cool about 1250 pounds of milk twice daily from 65 to 70 degrees down to 38 degrees, using ice. How much ice is necessary to do this work?

In round numbers, one pound of ice in melting yields 142 cooling units, and the melted pound of water at 32 degrees will yield six units more if the milk is allowed to bring its temperature up to 38 degrees. Under these conditions, then, each pound of ice will yield, where there is no loss, 142—6—148 cooling units. To cool one pound of milk from 70 degrees down to 38 degrees requires removal of 70—38—32 units of heat. One pound of ice therefore, has cooling units enough to cool nearly 148 divided by 32—4.63 pounds of milk from 70 to 38 degrees. Then to cool 1250 pounds of milk from 70 degrees to 38 degrees will require 1250 divided by 4.63—270 pounds of ice. The least amount of ice your correspondent can use daily, then, for 2,50 pounds of milk will be 270 x 2—540. He states that he uses ice from April to November, or 214 days. In cooling 2500 pounds milk daily from 70 degrees to 38 degrees with ice during 214 days the least amount of ice which can be used to do the work will be 540 x 214—115,560 pounds, or about 58 tons.

Your correspondent states that he used 106 tons from April to November last year in cooling his milk and in packing about his bottles for transportation. If he can estimate what part of the 106 tons was actually used in cooling the milk he will then be able to see what his actual loss has been and how great a saving might be incurred provided there was no loss. At the rate he says his ice cost him $460 for 106 tons. The foregoing cost would be $246.22. The foregoing will, I think, enable your correspondent to judge for himself whether his proposed plan will be much improvement over the one he has been using.

Second question. His cooling cans should be made to retain all of the water melted until that water must be drawn off to make room for the next charge of ice, but it is important that the brine in his tank be kept a little higher than the water and ice in the ice cans, because the coldest part of his ice tanks is in their upper section. He should also draw his brine off to his milk cooler from the top.

Third question. The brine tank should be constructed as nearly air tight as possible, and so good a non-conductor of heat as to waste through its walls the least number of cooling units. For the ice tanks I see no need of covers at all for them, if they are short enough to be covered by the single lid of the brine tank. It will be very important to construct the bottom of the brine tank and the lid also, as well as the ends and sides, on the refrigerator plan. Otherwise there would be a large waste of ice through both the top and bottom.

It seems to the writer that a modification of your correspondent's plan is likely to prove more effective, more economical and more durable. One phase of the modification which I have in mind is represented in figure 2. It consists of a refrigerator ice chest, 30 inches by 30 inches by 60 inches long, inside measure, inside of which there is placed a brine coil made of two-inch galvanized iron pipe, in which the brine is made to circulate by means of a pump as your correspondent proposes. The refrigerator chest, lined of course with galvanized iron and water tight, would be filled with broken ice and water. Unless there is some other need of the cooling device than that of cooling the milk morning and night, the greatest economy would be reached in simply charging the cooler with the amount of ice needed to do the morning work with a surplus sufficient to keep the body of the cooler down to near 40 degrees.

The brine should enter the cooler at the bottom, where the water is warmest, and leave the coil after passing through the upper tier of pipes last, where the water is coldest. It must be understood that water at 32 degrees, as well as ice, is lighter than water at 40 degrees, and will remain at the top of the tank with the ice. Only enough water should be drawn out of the tank to make room for the new charge of ice, and usually this should not be withdrawn until the time for re-charging just before the cooler is to be used.

A cooler constructed on this principle cannot give the cheapest possible arrangement for cooling milk by means of ice. The cheapest device, everything considered, where a permanent outfit is to be erected would be one which utilized the cooling power of the ice without the labor and losses of rehandling the ice after it has been stored. In other words, where ice is available, there should be an ice-house or ice storage chamber so situated with reference to the cooling room that the bottom of this ice store house may be provided with a coil of galvanized iron pipe, upon which the ice of the whole storage chamber rests directly. Then as the cooling brine is circulated through this coil upon which the ice rests, it would withdraw from the ice so many cooling units as is needed to do the work with no other labor than simply pumping the brine through this refrigerating coil and the milk cooler. I represent in figure 3, a diagram illustrating this idea. It will be seen that such a plan would allow the ice to settle down upon the cooling coil as rapidly as it is melted and the water so melted should be drawn off and could be used for refrigerating purposes as well as the brine.

I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day and am now entirely cured.

Fred W. Leiskau, Baden, writes:—

Please send me another bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. I bought one bottle from your agent early this spring, and I must say it is the best medicine in existence. THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that but disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they knew beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

POISONING THE FOUNTAIN.

If the fountain of life is poisoned at its very source, there can be no health in any part of the body.

When a woman has any disease or weakness of the delicate special organism of her sex, the fountain head of her physical existence is poisoned and she cannot be healthy in any respect until this one fundamental trouble is cured.

The family physician may make the very common error of ascribing all the trouble to superficial causes he may prescribe for neuralgia, indigestion insomnia, or headache, when these are merely symptoms of some deep-rooted malady of the distinctly feminine organs.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints may be completely cured right in the privacy of her own home without recourse to mortifying examinations and "local treatment" by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives health to the special organism of womanhood. It purifies all diseased conditions; gives elastic strength to the ligaments, and vitality to the nerve-centres. It promotes good digestion, sound sleep, and freedom from pain.

It is the only medicine devised for this one purpose by an educated, skilled specialist in this particular field of practice. It is the only medicine which insures prospective mothers against the dangers and sufferings of motherhood.

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains several chapters devoted to the special physiology of woman, with advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. A paper-bound copy sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only. or, cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MENTAL VISION.

Marvelous Sight Which Has Been Partially Recognized by Science.

At the meeting of the British Iron and Steel Association, held at Cardiff, Wales, in the first week of August, a paper showing a great amount of original research entitled "The Diffusion of Sulphides through Steel" was presented by an American chemist, Mr. E. D. Campbell, of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The president of the association in announcing the paper, which was accepted as read, and is printed in full in the English technical papers, said: "Mr. Campbell is an eminent American chemist, who has done most wonderful work considering the position in which he is placed, because he is blind. His researches were really, under the circumstances, simply marvelous."

It is curious, in view of the information imparted by the president of the British Association, to notice in reading this paper of the blind chemist how frequently he speaks of seeing phenomena, as though favored with normal vision. In one experiment he placed a piece of steel in a furnace, which he provided with a peep hole, in order that the operations could be constantly watched, and thus the piece could be withdrawn at the critical moment. There are several tables of analyses representing much careful work of a kind that necessitates close and accurate scrutiny. There is no internal evidence in the paper itself that leads one to suspect that the author is blind; and, while it is certain that the manipulations described must have been performed by an assistant, this does not detract from the really remarkable accomplishment.

Vestadium.

Vestadium, a new aluminum alloy, is said to be possessed of considerable strength. Its inventors claim that it is of far greater utility than any metal of the same specific gravity at present known. Vestadium is an alloy of aluminum, with a specific gravity of 2.73—that is, about one-third the weight of steel of the same volume, and is therefore of the same specific gravity as pure aluminum, which is the lightest metal in mercantile use. In some tests made in England, a tube of the metal, 12 inches long, was fixed with one end against a support, and pressure applied to the other end. The tube commenced to yield only when a pressure of over 4800 pounds had been applied, and was only very slightly crushed at a pressure of more than 5000 pounds. One of the great advantages of vestadium tubes is that they never snap. In the whole of 12 tests made the metal was found to be homogeneous, and in every case the fracture was clean and silky. Vestadium is non-corrosive; the atmosphere and water take no effect upon it, and sulphuric acid leaves no mark on it. In color it is said to be whiter than silver. It takes a fine polish, which does not tarnish, and requires very little cleaning.

GIRDLES THE EARTH.

Nicola Tesla Talks of His Latest Wonderful Discover

Nicola Tesla has just announced the completion of his latest discovery—the simultaneous transmission of messages by means of the earth's electrical currents to an many scattered points on the surface of the globe as may be desired. This he regards as by far his greatest achievement. He will follow his usual custom and lay his information before the world of science in his own works and accompanied by his own computations and conclusions. To a few intimates he gave a thrilling demonstration of the operation of his device for arresting and subjecting to control under natural laws the electrical substances in and about the earth. His latest invention, device or discovery is to produce such a disturbance of the electricity of the earth as can be felt and noted simultaneously at all parts of the globe.

Tesla had his rooms in the laboratory on Houston street, New York, darkened. From a room adjoining the one in which he and his visitors stood a current was turned on invisibly. A huge black disk hung on a frame about eight inches in diameter, from the centre of which protruded a brass electrode seven inches in diameter. As the group gazed at this the apartment was filled with a crackling sound, which increased till it sounded like the rattle of mitrailleuse. Bright flames shot from the electrode, not from pole to pole, as in ordinary demonstrations. Like fiery serpents the coils of flame darted in graceful lines around the disk. The longest sparks were fully eight feet from the point where they burst into dazzling brilliancy to the vanishing point. These electrical sparks were undoubtedly the longest flashes of light ever produced by similar means.

It seemed like a terrific lightning display, with the snapping, crackling sound, displacing the reverberation of heaven's artillery, and all remarked the weird and awing effect of the exhibition.

"What are you doing?" was asked Tesla.

"I am producing," said he, "an electrical disturbance of intense magnitude, which is continuing throughout the entire earth. In other words, I am producing a disturbance of the earth's charge of electricity which can be felt to the uttermost parts of the earth."

"And the result will be?"

"Ah," said Tesla, "that is almost incomprehensible. This electral disturbance by means of certain simple instruments can be felt and appreciated at any point of the globe. In this way messages can be sent the entire earth around and be taken up at any part of the earth without the aid of intervention of wires in any way at all."

A New Electric Lamp.

It is prophesied that present methods of illumination are to be superseded by a lamp nearly perfected by Puluj, of Vienna, one of the earlier experimenters on cathode rays. For fifteen years he has been working upon it. Not only does it generate Rontgen rays, but it also transforms nearly all the energy of the electric current into light. Prof. Elbert's experiments prove that a single horse power of electric energy would be sufficient to operate 46,000 Puluj lamps. Prof. Lodge, head of the department of experimental physics in Universal College, Liverpool, says that "if mechanical energy can be converted entirely into light alone one man turning the crank of a suitable machine could generate enough light for a whole city." Puluj claims that his lamp fulfills this condition. Our present electric lighting system only utilizes from one to three per cent. of its energy in light, the rest passes off in heat. Puluj's lamp is lighted by means of an induction coil or a glass plate electric machine. The static electricity is the same as lightning. Puluj is investigating "the development of ethereal light vibration by chemical means."

Died With His Secret.

With the recent death at Naugatuck of Herbert B. Fowler, there has been lost the secret of an invention that promised to be of great value to the commercial world. It was a process for making an electrical deposit of copper from a solution upon wood or any other rigid or semi-rigid substance. This process was made possible by coating the substance that was to be copper-plated with a liquid preparation, the secret of which was known only to Mr. Fowler. Every means had been used to induce him to patent the invention, but he declined, fearing he might lose the use of it.

A Chicago company was recently formed which offered to take up manufacturing with the copper deposit extensively, but conditioned their offer upon the patenting of the invention. Their proposition was sent to Mr. Fowler, but before an agreement had been reached the inventor died.

Scientific Insect Destruction.

A noted bacteriologist has lately conceived a plan of exterminating all bothersome insects by inoculating them with some disease peculiarly fatal to their respective species. The plan was suggested by the successful results obtained by experiments in ridding fields of grain from chinch bugs. Mosquitoes, which are believed to convey malaria from the swamps to the human system, would exist no more. Flies, which are not as good scavengers as was once supposed and for whose loss improved sanitary measures would more than compensate, would no longer amble over the heads and noses of would-be nappers. There is a pathogenic germ which could be cultivated in tubes, as consumption bacilli are now propagated, which would sweep millions of the latter from existence. Bugs, gnats and all insects which ruin grain and fruit are to be the subject of bacteriological experiment.

Always Felt Tired.

"I suffered with severe headache and loss of appetite and I always felt tired. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking one bottle my headache disappeared. I continued taking it until now I am never troubled with headache and my appetite is good." LAURA GARLAND, 247 Claremont St., Toronto, Ont.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either, of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

MASON & RISCH PIANO COMPANY, LIMITED.

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality of tone. There is no better value in the market.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

ST. LUKE'S HAPPY HARVEST FESTIVAL.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS, CAPITAL SERMON AND HEARTY SERVICE

His Lordship Bishop Sullivan, of St. James' Cathedral, the Special Preacher—Beautiful Service—Excellent Sermon—The Visiting Clergy Present—A Liberal Offering.

St. Luke's held its annual Harvest Festival last evening, and the interior of the church was most beautifully decorated for the occasion. On entering the edifice the eye was at once taken by the trophy of golden autumn leaves, which hung like a canopy from the screen in front of the door. At its base was a pyramid of the larger vegetables. The window sills were all decorated with fruits, flowers and the smaller garden vegetables on a ground of cedar. From the large chandeliers hung cloisters of the graceful virgin's bower vine with its silken tassels.

The font was filled with ferns and palms, which were also grouped in pots around it. Pendant from the sides hung cloisters of rich looking purple grapes, which showed up well on the background of white. The altar was indeed most tastefully decorated, the floral emblems being of white flowers. Across the front of the chancel a central arch had been erected, with two smaller ones on either side. These were covered with the ears of oats interspersed with and relieved by the rich golden of the autumn leaves and bunches of grapes. A beautiful floral sickle hung auspended from the reading desk, and the decorations of the pulpit were also noticeably attractive.

THE SERMON

was delivered by His Lordship Bishop Sullivan, rector of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, and amongst the other members of the clergy who assisted Rev. Mr. Symonds, the rector, were Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Rev. W. L. Armitage, of Peterborough; Rev. W. L. Baynes Reed, of Keene; Rev. John Gibson, of Norwood; Rev. John Ardill, of Owen Sound; Rev. R. H. McGinnis, of Havelock, and Rev. R. L. Weaver, M.A., of Hastings.

The services were, of course, of a thanksgiving character, special prayers and lessons appropriate for the service being used. The music was also of a corresponding character. The first part of the service, Evening Prayer, was taken by Rev. E. V. Stevenson and the second part by Rev. W. L. Armitage. The first lesson was read by Rev. J. H. McGinnis, of Havelock, and the second by Rev. A. L. Weaver, of Hastings. The service was thoroughly congregational and hearty.

Bishop Sullivan took as his text for the evening the words "In everything give thanks," being a portion of Thessalonaines v., ch. 18th ver. This, he stated, was an Apostolic saying. It was a hard saying and few felt like conforming to it at all times—in abundance and in famine: in sunshine or in rain: in peace or in war.

The present thanksgiving service seemed to be held in anticipation of a proclamation, which many thought was issued too late in the year to fully enjoy its privileges. This very proclamation was in itself a ground of thanksgiving, as it points to a feature in our collective life in the world as the only guarantee of the security of our Divine rights. If the day was ever abolished, which God forbid, it would be the certain precursor of national decay and our downfall. It bears witness that we are not a nation of freethinkers, but that we believe in a God.

THERE ARE THOSE who would fain advocate the excision of the religious element from the day and have it a simple holiday. They ask what has God to do with it and inquire if all things do not follow laws of man's making, and do they not, therefore, owe obeisance to him only.

All we ask, continued the Bishop, is room for God behind all this

No one is so silly as to disbelieve in the instrumentality of man. Through his efforts nature and natural laws are arrested in development. There is a chain of natural law running through the world, but the uppermost link is anchored to the throne of God. One touch of His finger to it and the least of His creatures can be affected.

More than this belief is not demanded; less we cannot give at the price of our faith.

Returning again to the subject of Thanksgiving Day the speaker expressed the belief that it kept the nation sound at heart as a whole and holding most tenaciously to the belief in the fatherhood of God. It might seem odd in the heart of a city to give thanks that once more the earth had brought forth her harvest, but even if this harvest was not seen in the city, yet it must not be thought that manufacturing and mercantile pursuits were not the

as the harvest fields were the fountain head and foundation of a nation's prosperity. Not all the vast financial resources could save us in case of a universal crop blight.

It was a noticeable fact that the abundance of one nation had always supplied the want in another. Man must eat in order to live and God might well be thanked to-night for his blessings. He should be thanked not alone for the harvest but for the preservation of peace, the purity of our domestic life, the righteous administration of the law, the sanctity with which our marriage laws were observed and the elevetion and purifying of public opinion. We should also thank Him that we were still in possession of that God given blessing, which extends from the inmost portion of England to her furthest encompassing sea—liberty.

It might be said that civilization had helped to bring about so desirable a state of affairs, but it must be acknowledged that wherever this lofty civilization is to be found, it is only exclusively Christian nations that have the benefit of it.

Even Rome when at the zenith of her glory was governed by laws administered by those who made them but to serve their own base purposes. The public games were debasing, the people were which could not be even mentioned in a mixed congregation of men and women, and although the cities were embellished by beautiful institutions there was not one for the help or comfort of the sick or needy poor.

Who has made us different from this in our civilization?

He who has sent us the knowledge of His beloved Son.

In return for these blessings it was pointed out that the energies and means of a congregation should be laid more largely and liberally at the feet of the Church. It is this which sanctifies what remains to you. Loyalty consists in dedicating body, soul and spirit to the cause of Christ in your own church that ye may become poor as He did in order to attain the richness hereafter.

The speaker in closing turned his attention to the inestimable blessings which we have enjoyed under the sovereignty of her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen. Recently we had been called upon to do honour to her, but we must not forget the blessings we have in her because the Jubilee is passed. It was a good thing, the speaker thought, to be ruled over by one who as a queen and mother was worthy of our honour and attachment. No court in the world was equally as pure and virtuous as hers. Is it not that God has provided us with a Queen, surrounded by statesmen who have prevented revolution in our midst and war abroad? When Victoria ascended the throne the English possessions covered two millions square miles, now it was eleven million square miles, or one-sixth of the habitable part of the globe. Her subjects had increased from 30 millions to 350 millions, or fully one-fourth of the inhabitants of the world.

Whence has come all this?

On the day of her coronation Victoria was handed a Bible by the Archbishop of Canterbury as her most precious treasure, and let the day ever come when England loses sight of this trust and Ichabod will be written on her walls and her glory depart.

The music, which had been especially prepared for the occasion by Mr. Davies, the organist, is deserving of particular mention, the hymns and Psalms being sung in perfect harmony and the volume being well brought out. Mrs. Grassett's rich contralto voice lent additional value to the musical properties of the Magnificat in the solo portions. In Toop's arrangement of the Nunc Dimittis the special parts were taken by a quartette composed of Misses Tivey and Phillips and Messrs. J. J. Turner, jr., and W. Edwards. Mr. Edwards also took the solo in the Harvest Anthem in good voice.

An exceedingly large congregation was in attendance and the decorations will be allowed to remain up until after the Sunday services, and the special musical service will be repeated, when the Rector, Rev. H. Symonds will preach a short sermon on "Man's Co-operation with God in the natural and spiritual worlds."

Effect of a Hair Cut.

It seems to be a sacred doctrine with some queerly constructed people who affect to be geniuses that the length of their hair is an evidence of the weight of their brains. It is much more likely to be the outward sign of an inward lack of common sense.

Samson is said to have established some natural connection between his hair and his physical powers, but latter day cranks who have indulged in unshorn locks have not as a rule successfully worked the combination. That world-famed artist, Paderewski, he of the abundant locks, has just given an evidence of the fact that his hair has nothing to do with his marvelous powers, for a cable despatch tells the musical world that his barber has cropped him close.

Paderewski has set a good example to the long-haired fraternity. Let them all cut their hair and get a little more common sense.

New Trimmings For Fall Gowns.

All the gowns are to be trimmed this season, the skirts as well as the bodices. Yokes are to be much in favor and every yoke requires a certain amount of trimming as its finish.

A great quantity of braid will be used. Black braid in all widths will be fashionable—the braid will trim the dresses rather in a design than in straight rows—skirts will be braided not only near the hem but from the waist line down over the upper part of the skirt.

Puckered satin ribbon will be perhaps the newest trimming of the season. It will be wrought in many different designs and frequently edged with a fine silk cord. Conventinal scrolls will be one of the favorite designs for trimming skirts.

Pipings of satin or velvet will also be much in favor. Many of the newest sleeves will be trimmed from the cuff to near the shoulder with parallel rows of piping. This makes a particularly effective trimming, especially when the piping is a shade or two darker than the material of the dress. It will also be fashionable to have the piping in conspicuous color contrast from the dress.

Silk applique trimmings will be much in demand. For street gowns black will be the favorite, but on reception and dancing gowns all the delicate colors will be used. These applique trimmings are very beautiful in floral designs and wrought with tiny bits of colored rhinestones.

Passementerie will claim its customary popularity. It is always in demand, and this season's designs are more intricate and striking than ever before. Two-toned silk passementerie will also be in fashion. Passementeries wrought with jet will be worn, and Vandyke point effects will be much in favor.

The old-time cording is coming back into fashion again. The cordings are always in striking contrast to the color of the dress they trim.

Tucks as a trimming are to be all the vogue. Very fine tucks will be used, and they will trim not only the sleeves of the new gown, but the skirts.

The Fashion in Portieres.

The newest portieres for the coming season banish the old-time superstition that bad luck follows the peacock. This proud, gayly colored bird appears to be the most popular design for fall, both on the heavy and thin hangings. The latest Liberty velvets, which are so satisfactory as portieres, are stamped with small peacocks, in some of the Liberty velvets the peacock is seen in all the glory of its natural colors, and then again it apepars in colors of which the real bird never dreamed.

The peacock is also conspicuous on the newest gauze silk curtains.

In addition to the Liberty velvet portieres there is a very effective new material for hangings called Oxford velvet. This has a smooth, shaded appearance and comes in delft blue and white, in two shades of olive, in dull red and cream color and in a variety of other tints.

The shadow tapestry is one of the novelties of the fall season. It is expensive, but is exquisite in its changing tints.

The tapestry with a Pompadour stripe is another novelty. One particularly effective pattern shows the figured background in old lavender, and the stripes in a soft cream color.

An inexpensive material for hangings, which always looks well, is called Singapore lattice. It is an open work woven cord fabric and costs but 50 cents a yard and is fifty inches wide. It can be bought in all the new popular shades. The most fashionable sash curtains are made of Calcutta net in either ecru or pu. white. This material looks like a fair, coarse net, and is finished with a Louis XVI. edge.

The casement muslins in various designs will also be used for sash curtains.

For bedrooms the gossamer prints will be much used. This material makes an exceptionally dainty curtain. It is sheer in quality and has a colored stamped design.

The Colors of the Year.

Delicate tones of all colors will be in vogue, a reaction which always follows the use of vivid colors, which have been so much seen this summer. Beige, tan, castor and gray number among the popular shades.

THRESH IT OUT! "YES AND WE MEAN TO DO IT."

A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 323 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Pumkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I hear them talking about the 25 cent Tea that they got there yesterday. My friend asks, what about Fruit Jars? Well what about them? Why you are the only man in town who has got them. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. I saw a load of Grapes arrive yesterday, how do you buy them that you can sell them so cheap? We buy them by the ton. Cheapest and best Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Spices, Hams, Bacon, Butter and Eggs and all the best brands of Canned Goods, home-made Preserves, &c. To day we ship by C.P.R. 11 cases of our own make of home-made Preserves, to one person. Merit tells every time.

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS

Terrible Tragedy Enacted in a New York Hotel.

MOTHER AND FOUR CHILDREN DEAD

A Woman From West Point Engaged a Room, Put Her Little Ones to Bed and After They Got Asleep Turned the Gas on and Died With Them.

New York, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Caroline Rezinius of West Point, N.Y., and her four children were found dead this morning in the West Shore Hotel, 42nd-street and 11th-avenue. Asphyxiation by gas was the cause of death. It is believed the mother waited until the children were asleep, then closed all apertures and turned on the gas from two jets. Mrs. Rezinius appeared to be about 40 years old. The children were two boys, one about 15 and the other about 7, and two girls about 13 and 7 years old.

According to the hotel register the woman came from West Point, N.Y., but even this is doubtful. Clerk Sprague says that there was nothing unusual about the woman. She seemed worried and looked travel-stained, but the clerk says that the worry seemed to be due to the usual anxiety of a woman travelling with children. The woman had two trunks, which were sent to the room to which the family were assigned. The family went to their room, and, removing some of the dirt of travel, came down to supper. Clerk Sprague noticed that the woman had grey hair and seemed to be about 40 years old. Her features were fine and her complexion clear. The clothing she wore was handsome and apparently expensive. The children were also handsome and seemed to be happy. The eldest, a boy of 15, was tall and manly; the 13-year-old daughter was blonde and pretty; the other children were a boy of 7 and a girl of 4. The names of the children were not registered.

After supper the family retired to their rooms. It must have been about 9.30 o'clock when they left the dining room. About 8 o'clock this morning a chambermaid detected the odor of gas in the hallway. She began a hunt for the leak, and this led her to the rooms occupied by the family on the third floor. She notified Clerk Sprague. He hurried upstairs and forced open the doors. The rush of gas was so overpowering that he had to flee to save his own life. Finally, when the gas had been perceptibly diminished, he rushed in and threw open the windows. Even then he was nearly asphyxiated.

The sight that met Clerk Sprague's eyes was horrible in the extreme. In one of the rooms the woman and the 4-year-old child were in bed, their arms closely interlocked about each other's necks. The features of the little girl were distorted with agony. It is evident that the little one was awakened by the odor of gas, and the mother, determined that the child should die with her, held her tightly to her breast and prevented her from making any outcry. The other children were in bed in the two rooms, and had apparently died, unconscious of the murder that was being wrought by the desperate mother.

The police were sent for and ambulances from Roosevelt Hospital. The physicians worked over them for nearly two hours, but in vain. The preparations for the murder and suicide were most deliberate. It is believed that the woman waited until the children were asleep, and then, throwing open the trunks, took out some clothing. Tearing this into strips she packed the windows and door ledges. Then she turned the gas jets on full and laid down to die. The police have absolutely no clue as to the identity of the woman.

THE HUSBAND FOUND.

He is a German and Was Terribly Shocked by the News of the Tragedy.

Newburgh, N.Y., Oct. 1.—An Associated Press reporter visited West Point at noon to-day to inquire as to the identity of Caroline Rezinius, who with her children was found dead in the West Shore Hotel, New York City, this morning. He ascertained that she was the wife of Robert Rezinius, an enlisted man in the United States army at West Point. He is a painter in the administrative building. He received news of the tragedy this morning and was terribly affected by it. He is a German and speaks English imperfectly. He was so excited that he could give no coherent account of his family. He started for New York on the 1 o'clock train, accompanied by Dr. Saunders of The Post.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Rezinius left home with her four children. They boarded the 8.40 train for New York. Mrs. Victor Laher, sister of Mrs. Rezinius, says that the trip was merely a little pleasure excursion, as the children had had no outing during the summer, and the mother determined to give them a trip to the city. The tickets she procured were excursion tickets, and she intended to return last night.

Neighbors scout the suicide theory, saying that Mrs. Rezinius was an excellent woman, and that her home life was very pleasant and her love for her children very marked.

STARVING INDIANS.

A Methodist Missionary Tells a Pitiful Story of the Condition of the Redmen Winnipeg Notes.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—Fred Stephens, Methodist missionary between Lake Winnipeg and Hudson Bay, writes concerning the Indians: "I never saw such sad, broken-hearted people as those gathered Sunday last. They came to my tent, told me that they were thankful to God for taking their children from hunger's pangs and the cold's sting. They came, both at the island and at God's Lake, and begged me to tell them if there was any chance of getting a place inland where they could settle. 'We cannot live here,' they said. We cannot settle down and learn of God and have schools for our children. Can you help us?' As stated in despatches to The World a week ago, starvation will reach many this winter, food being already scarce at the end of August.

The Carberry football team won the provincial championship, defeating the Nationals of Winnipeg 3 to 1.

NEARLY 30 PERSONS INJURED.

A Smash on the Boston and Maine Railroad. The Montreal Express Was the Train Wrecked.

Medford, Mass., Oct. 1.—The Montreal express over the Southern division of the Boston & Maine Railroad, due in Boston at 8.30 o'clock to-night, met with an accident at West Medford at 8.20, whereby nearly 30 persons were more or less injured, but none, it is believed, fatally hurt. There were eight cars on the train, which was running rapidly, and the three rear coaches were derailed. Those injured most seriously are as follows:

A. A. Serva, Somerville, Mass., back injured.

R. W. Fuller, a Harvard student, residence unknown, hip injured.

Mrs. A. M. Allen, Chelsea, Mass., serious injury to spine.

Mrs. A. C. Fiske, Cambridge, Mass., general bruises.

George Baker, Montrose, Pa., left hand and fingers crushed.

W. A. Bond, Lynn, Mass., injured about head and neck.

Mrs. John W. Palfrey, Chelsea, injured about neck, hip and sides.

George E. Jenkins, Whitman, Mass., right leg broken, arms and back badly bruised.

Mrs. Rowen Ely, Boston, spine injured.

Miss Soughcott, St. John's, Nfld., general shaking up.

Mrs. A. Anderson, St. John's, Nfld., spine injured.

John T. Ely, Boston, badly bruised.

The coaches were derailed, it is said, because of a defective track. The more seriously injured were taken to hospitals in Boston. The others were sent to their homes or their destinations by the railroad officials.

BEAVER LINE GETS IT.

Sir Richard Cartwright Said to Have Promised Them the Usual Subsidy —Notes From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—(Special.)—It is understood that the representatives of the Beaver Line have had an interview with Sir Richard Cartwright, who has promised the company the usual subsidy of $20,000. The steamers will come to St. John during the winter months.

Four people in the Mother House of the Grey Nuns, Sussex-street, had a narrow escape from being asphyxiated at an early hour this morning. They were: Sisters Redempti and Ellmerence, nuns, and Elizabeth Weathers and Flavie Roberts, two servants in the institution.

Mr. J. R. Booth sent his private car to Glen Robertson yesterday afternoon to bring up the remains of the late W. S. Booth, who was accidentally killed. At the post-mortem examination yesterday it was decided that the young man met his death instantly, and that death was caused by the shock sustained.

MAIL BAGS MANGLED.

Cars Ran Over Them and Letters, Parcels and Papers Strewn About—Registered Letters Cut Open.

Morrisburg, Ont., Oct. 1.—For some time past the early morning mail from the west has been thrown off at this station on account of the train not stopping here. This morning the bags were put off in the usual manner, but in some way they came in contact with the car wheels and were badly torn. Letters, parcels and papers in a mutilated condition were distributed along the track for about 300 yards from the depot. Registered letters were cut open, leaving the contents exposed and it is probable a number have been lost. A lot of unused stamps were also strewn about. At present it is impossible to say what the loss will be.

Rev. J. R. Edwards Killed.

Rev. J. R. Edwards, Methodist minister of Huntingdon, in the Belleville Conference, while driving yesterday with his wife, was thrown from the buggy and instantly killed. Mrs. Edwards sustained serious injuries

KENOSHA WOMAN TO BE PRODUCED

In Order to Knock Out the Assumption That Mrs Luetgert is Alive Opdyke Story Being Investigated—More Bones in Court—Dr. Allport Severely Quizzed

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The prosecution is planning the delivery of a crushing blow to the defence in the Luetgert murder trial. It is now asserted that the prosecution will produce upon the witness stand three of the women whom witnesses have identified as Mrs. Luetgert. One of these is the woman who was seen by half a dozen persons in Kenosha, Wis., on May 4 and 5. She was described by several witnesses who saw her at the North Western Railroad Station in Kenosha, and at two of the leading hotels of the town, and identified by means of a photograph as Mrs. Luetgert. This woman will be put on the witness stand. She will relate all conversations she had with the police officials and others in Kenosha. The woman is claimed to be a character well known in certain districts of Chicago. Detective Deedle has traced the woman met on the country road near Kenosha, May 5, by Fred Schebe, and identified as Mrs. Luetgert, to Joliet, where she is now said to be located. She will be called to the witness stand, it is said, and will testify that she is a local evangelist, and was in the vicinity of Kenosha on the date mentioned, in the interest of some religious work.

Chicago detectives are now in the vicinity of Elgin, Ill., running down the story of Peddler Opdyke, who positively identified one of two women who slept in a grove near his wagon at Lake Ulrich, near Elgin, on the night of June 4, as Mrs. Luetgert. It has been discovered, it is said, that these women were gypsies. The production of the women who have been identified as Mrs. Luetgert will follow the closing of the evidence of the defence, and will be in the nature of rebuttal evidence.

Police Inspector Schaack entered the court room to-day carrying an armful of bones.

"I guess these will keep the boys busy to-day," observed the inspector, as he laid his burden down.

Luetgert walked into the court room without the aid of his crutch. He is recovering rapidly from the injury to his leg. He had a cigar between his teeth, and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

Dr. Walter H. Allport was recalled for further cross-examination, and the battle of the sesamoids was renewed.

It was noticeable to-day that Dr. Allport was less pronounced in his views and identification of bones than he was on Wednesday and Thursday. He was slow and careful in his answers, and dodged direct answers to questions when he could. His explanations were couched in technical medical phraseology, and became tiresome to the spectators in the hot and crowded court room. Beside Assistant States-Attorney McEwen, who did the cross-questioning, sat Professor Dorsey, Dr. Allport's scientific rival in this case. Prof. Dorsey had prepared the leading questions, which were submitted by the Assistant States-Attorney for answers. Toward the close of the morning session of the court Dr. Allport appeared irritated, and the result was that he became somewhat confused.

The cross-examination of this witness was the severest yet heard during the six weeks of the trial.

STRUNG UP AND LASHED.

Fiendish Cruelty Charged Against Dictator Barrios of Guatemala in Extorting Money From Wealthy Citizens

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—The steamer San Blas arrived from Central American ports yesterday with the following details of the revolution in Guatemala:

The revolution broke out on Sept. 6, and was participated in by seven departments, viz.: San Marcos, Quesaltenango, Huehatango, Tatonicopan, Mazakenango, Ouchie and Salola. The revolt began with an attack upon the outposts of Quesaltenango and other districts, which proved successful. The revolutionists, however, withdrew to gather reinforcements from the surrounding country, and three days after the first shot was fired the Government sent into the field General Leon, with 1500 men; General Toledo, with 42 pieces of artillery and 2000 men; one battery deserted to the enemy after leaving the city. On Sept. 9 J. L. Castillo, aide to Morales, arrived on the scene with an immense force of malcontents from neighboring provinces, and after a sharp engagement took the city of Quesaltenango.

Meantime Barrios was carrying matters with a high hand among the rebels within the citadel. Needing money he applied to Don Juan Apricio, a well-known capitalist, through the medium of General Roque Morales, who is noted for his cruelty. Knowing that the loan would mean financial ruin to him, Apricio hesitated, and was promptly taken to the castle and strung up by the thumbs. Upon his refusal to accede to the demands made upon him, Apricio was lashed until he fainted from the torture, and still being obdurate when he recovered his senses, Morales cursed him and shot him dead. His many friends, however, had their revenge shortly after, for when the city of Quesaltenango was taken Roque Morales was shot without a trial.

Grave accusations of cruelty to women, the wives and daughters of men who had joined the revolutionists, are made against Dictator Barrios.

A Good Bed For Winter Wheat.

Wherever the potato crop can be got off in time for seeding with fall grain, it makes the very best seed bed. No plowing is needed if the weeds are kept down. It is only necessary to pile the potato vines in heaps and burn them, starting the fire in a brush heap, if the potato tops are too green to burn readily. A great deal of plant food is developed after growing a crop of potatoes. It is chiefly water and carbon, with some potash, which is mostly found in the potato tops.

DISCREDITING LAW.

The failure to effectively enforce a law that is countenanced by public opinion tends to bring law itself into disrepute and to diminish popular respect for law. The Kingston Whig has been calling attention to the notorious non-observance of the curfew law in that city and instances several other places where similar failure to enforce, or even attempt to enforce, its provisions, exists. The Whig didn't mention Peterborough, and in not doing so missed a prominent point. We have had the curfew bylaw nominally in force for a long time, but there is no record of an attempt on the part of the authorities to enforce it. It is notorious that the law is broken nightly and with impunity. No more attention is paid to the ringing of the curfew bell, except by the man who goes through the farce of ringing it, than to the whistling of the autumn wind. The object of the law is a good one—to keep children off the streets at night, where all sorts of evil is rapidly learned. We have conventions and conferences to bewail the deplorable moral condition of our young, and yet we fail to get at the very root of the matter by using existing machinery to keep young persons from the dangerous influences of unrestrained contact with the evils of the night streets. It is not generally the boy or girl that is kept at home or otherwise under parental surveillance that goes astray. The young of the present generation have too much liberty. It is safe to assert that nine out of ten of the boys and girls that take to evil courses are those who have been allowed free run of the streets. The police magistrate thinks that enforcement of the curfew law is impracticable. Have the police authorities tried to enforce it? Better have it repealed at once than have it cumber the statute book and exist as excuse for resort to similar measures to reach the same results it failed to attain. People soon lose respect for the law that is used merely as a scare-crow—a mere statute stuffed with straw. Women, good, earnest, honest-meaning women may platitudinize and preach, but it is more action than preaching that's needed.

FAIR WAGES FOR FAIR WORK.

The Conservative press has had no little adverse comment to make upon Hon Mr. Mulock's reforms in connection with the post office department, and he has been the object of bitter attack, especially as he has, in effecting economies, been compelled to dispense with many unnecessary officials, whose chief function was to increase the public pay roll. He has made one departure, however, that should meet with their approval and the approval of all interested in the welfare of the community. It is somewhat of an innovation and sets an example that can be followed with excellent effects outside the post office department. He has closed a contract for the supply of mail bags for his department. The terms of the contract provide that all the work be performed in the factory of the contractor and none in the homes of the employees—thus closing the door to any application of the sweating system. Sub-letting is forbidden and no transfer of a portion of the contract can be made without the consent of the Postmaster-General. It is also stipulated that the wages paid shall be the current rate given in the district in which the factory is situated. The contract in question is a small one, but the principle laid down in respect of employment is important and all the more so because it is to be applied to all future government contracts, and will insure that those who work for the Government shall have government assurance of fair reward for their labour. Thus the workingman will be assured of his rights, and the contractor will not enjoy the fruits, which under other circumstances, he has enjoyed at the expense those who did his work.

TORONTO MARKETS

Flour—The flour market is dull, with prices unchanged. Straight rollers are quoted for export at $3.80 west, and car lots here at $4.

Wheat—Offerings of white and red are large, with sales to-day at 76c high freights, and at 77c middle freights. No. 1 Manitoba hard is offering at 90½c Fort William, and it is quoted at 95c to 96c Goderich.

Bran—The market is quiet at $7.50 west and $8 middle freights. Shorts $11.50 to $12 west.

Buckwheat—The market is quiet and prices purely nominal.

Barley—The market is quiet, with offerings fair. Feed barley sold at 24c to 25c west.

Oats—The market continues quiet, with sales of white at 22½c west and of mixed at 21½c to 22c west.

Peas—The market is weaker, with sales at 46c north and west.

Oatmeal—The market is quiet and prices steady at $3.10 to $3.20 for cars on track.

Corn—The demand is fair, and prices unchanged at 31c west.

Rye—The market is dull and lower, with good offerings. Car lots are quoted at 40c to 41c north and west.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were about 31 car loads of live stock arrived to day, composed of 989 cattle, 1000 sheep and lambs, 20 calves and 1500 hogs. This is independent of what came in yesterday.

The trade for exporters was dull and very slow. Prices ranged from $4 to $4.40 per cwt., one load selling at the latter price, but the bulk of the sales were made at $4 to $4.30. One load of extra choice heavy cattle, weighing 1450 lbs., well finished and equal to the best American cattle, sold at $4.60, but this was an exceptional sale, as it is seldom there is as good a lot offered.

William Mayne sold to J. & C. Coughlin one load, averaging 1,350 lbs. each, at $4.30 per cwt.

Joseph Gould bought one lot, weighing 1,300 lbs. each, at $4.25 per cwt.

J. & C. Coughlin bought a very fine load, weighing 1,350 lbs. each, at $4.40 per cwt.

Butchers' cattle were slow of sale and market dull, especially for the common grades, which were almost unsalable. One dealer brought three car loads of butchers' cattle here on Tuesday, and sold the last of them to-day.

C. Zeagman sold one load, weighing 980 lbs. each, at $3.20 per cwt., and two very nice heifers at $32 per head. Choice picked lots of butcher cattle were worth from $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt., and common to medium at quotations given below.

Heavy shipping bulls were worth from $3.50 to $4 per cwt. Light feeding bulls for the byres sold at $2 to $2.50, and a few choice $2.75 per cwt.

Feeders and stockers sold well, and trade was good. Prices for heavy feeders were a little off in sympathy with the export trade, and cattle weighing 1000 to 1200 lbs. sold at prices from $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

S. H. Reynolds of Bowmanville bought 51 light and heavy feeders for the farmers of Darlington, Whitby, and Pickering at prices ranging from $3.45 to $3.75 per cwt. He also bought three car loads two weeks ago.

Zeagman bought two steers, weighing 900 lbs. each, at $3.40 per cwt.

H. P. Kennedy of Port Hope was a heavy dealer in stockers, feeders and lambs for the Buffalo market. He was shipping seven decks of cattle and lambs, and bought 50 feeders, averaging 1050 lbs. each, at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt; also 100 stockers at $2.50 to $3.12½ per cwt., according to quality. The feeders were purchased for Ontario farmers.

AFTER MANY YEARS

A SUFFERER IS RESTORED TO HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Suffered From Weak Heart and Could Not Safely Walk any Distance—How the Pulse of Life Was Adjusted.

From the Cornwall Freeholder.

The romance of unwritten facts of real life far exceeds the rich elaborations of fiction. A peep behind the scenes would furnish us with adequate proof that there is more of care, trial and severe anxiety in human life than floats on the surface. We find many whose experience has almost incessantly fluctuated between health and sickness; little if any of this is obtruded upon the notice of the world, or breathed into human ear. You may secure the confidence of some of these sufferers who will rehearse to you dark catalogues of pains and aches that are often ill understood by their friends and inadequately treated by the physician. Thanks be to the mighty genius that discovered the now famous panacea for the ills to which humanity is subjected when suffering from impoverished blood or a shattered nerve system. Thousands have and thousands are still using to the greatest advantage Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have passed the ordeal of experiment again and again with ever increasing honour. The following statement is from one who was rescued from seeming permanent enfeeblement and distressing heart action. Mary Fisher of Lancaster township, Glengarry county, is a maiden lady. About eight years ago Miss Fisher was seized with weakness and a distressing sensation in the region of the heart. It was attributed to several causes, all possibly more or less true, they were overworked, exposure, etc. She was certainly weak and the action of the heart was abnormally rapid. The doctor in attendance pronounced the ailment nervous palpitation of the heart and she received treatment accordingly for two years. At this stage she took to her bed she was so low. For twelve months she lay receiving only domestic attention. She improved somewhat, however, and was able to be taken to a friend of her's near Lancaster village, Mrs. J. Haney, where she was under medical attendance and took medicine for about three years. At the end of this time she could not safely venture to walk out even a short distance. All this time she complained of her heart. About two years ago she began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, from this date she began what proved a steady restoration of nervous energy. During the summer of 1896 the improvement was marked. She was able by the middle of the summer to do as much work and walking as most ordinary women, and so satisfactory and apparently permanent is the cure that Miss Fisher has gone to her former home. Such are the unvarnished facts of a remarkable case. The malady was persistent, tenacious and hard to fight. But the constant use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills wrought a marvellous change, which Miss Fisher's friend said might be profitably known to many others.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

A RAINY PROTEST.

I doan complain 'bout Mister Rain,
But he use us mighty rough!
En 'pears des like he never know

—FRANK L. STANTON.

If we told you that your baby was starving, that it actually didn't get enough to eat, you might resent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby life and baby beauty. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

earning $500.00 a year is equal in earning power to a building producing $500.00 a year rent. Such a building should be worth $10,000. Here, then, are two properties worth $10,000 each. If the building is it is a total loss. Not always, you say, because such buildings are well insured, where the owner is not a fool. But, suppose the man dies, is not the loss just as great? THE DARING AFRIDIS Attacked a British Patrol Party Near Peshawur.

THE AMEER PROVES HIS LOYALTY

General Jeffreys Had a Hot Engagement With the Mohmands Before They Were Subdued—Two British Officers Killed Greek Ministry Resigns News by Cable.

Simla, Oct. 1.—The troops under General Jeffreys had some savere fighting at the villages of Agrah and Gat. The insurgent tribesmen occupied positions behind rocks, and a hot engagement at close quarters was fought before the two villages were destroyed. Lieut.-Col. O'Bryen and Lieut. Browne-Clayton were killed, Lieut. Peacock was severely wounded, Capt. Tyrs was slightly wounded, three British soldiers were killed and 15 wounded; seven native soldiers were killed and 23 wounded.

In consequence of their failure to accept the terms of the British commanders, the punishment of the Mohmands was resumed on Wednesday. Twelve of their villages were destroyed, and their fortified towers were blown up without opposition.

AFRIDIS ARE DARING.

They Attacked a Patrol of British Lancers, Near Peshawur.

Peshawur, Oct. 1.—The Afridis attacked a patrol of British Lancers, near Fort Bara, this morning. It was an unpleasant surprise to the British commanders to find that the enemy has ventured so close to Peshawur. Fort Bara is only a few miles distant from here.

Ameer Orders Arrest of Afridis.

Simla, Oct. 1.—The Ameer of Afghanistan has ordered the arrest of any Afridi Jirgahs appearing at Cabul.

THE CRISIS IS ON.

Greek Ministry Has Resigned Newspapers are Discontented.

Athens, Oct. 1.—The Premier, M. Rallí, this morning officially tendered the resignations of the Cabinet Ministers and they were accepted by King George.

All the newspapers, with the exception of the Delyannis organs, express the deepest discontent with the crisis.

The Asty declares the Chamber has accomplished a shameful betrayal by placing party interests before the interests of the country.

GERMANY WAS THE KICKER.

Threatened to Withdraw From the Concert If Greece Refused Peace Proposals.

Athens, Oct. 1.—The contents of the white book presented to the Chamber are now generally known. It confirms the statement that Germany threatened to withdraw from the concert of the powers in the event of Greece not accepting the peace conditions, and it also confirms the statements made regarding the warning to Greece which the French Minister for Foreign Affairs, M. Hanotaux, issued on May 30, relative to the internal situation of the country, declaring that any attack upon the dynasty would threaten the very existence of Greece.

SPAIN'S CABINET CRISIS.

It is Taken for Granted That Sagasta Will be Made Premier.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—The Liberals are preparing to give an ovation to Senor Sagasta, their leader, upon his arrival here to-day. It is taken for granted that he will form a Cabinet, of which probably Senor Gamazo will be Minister for Foreign Affairs; Senor Moret y Prendergast, Minister for the Colonies, and General Correa, Minister for War, although Senor Moret y Prendergast has been mentioned for appointment as Spanish Minister at Washington to succeed Senor Depuy de Lome.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. E. MULFORD, Agents Supplies, P.O. Box 95, St. Henri, Que.

GERMANY AND SAMOA.

Berliners Would Rather See Britain Get it Than the United States.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—The officials of the United States Embassy and of the United States Consulate here say there is no truth in the story contained in a despatch from Berlin to The Daily Chronicle of London, saying that President McKinley has instructed the new United States Consul-General at Berlin on the absence of the United States Ambassador, Andrew D. White, who has been spending a fortnight at Heringsdorff, to give an opinion as to an alteration of the Samoan treaty, and that it was believed that the United States intended to invite a new conference on the subject. It was added that Germany was certain to object strenuously to any weakening of her hold on Samoa, and that the complete cession of the group of islands to Great Britain would meet with far more support in Berlin that would American occupation of the islands.

The Vossische Zeitung expresses the opinion that Samoa ought to become German, as two-thirds of the land is owned by Germans. The Vossische Zeitung also says: "The existing treaty must be abolished and order re-established."

Other newspapers express similar views on the subject.

A PLAGUE OF TYPHOID.

Business Paralyzed at Maidstone, Kent, England—People Leaving Their Homes.

London, Oct. 1.—The prevalence of typhoid fever at Maidstone, Kent, is increasing, and trade is absolutely at a standstill. There are now 1172 cases of the disease, and there have been 46 deaths, six of which occurred last night. The surface impurities of the water supply, due to the declinage from a hop-picking encampment, have not abated. In addition to the many doctors and nurses who have arrived from other places to care for the sick a large number of volunteer nurses have been advertised for.

Some of the residents have become panic-stricken at the alarming state of affairs and the continual tolling of the church bells denoting the burial of the dead, and many are leaving their homes.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON.

Much Destruction in the Business Section of Blackfriars Road.

London, Oct. 1.—A big fire broke out this evening shortly before midnight in the Blackfriar's-road and before it was quenched did enormous damage. It originated in Pascall's confectionery stores and spread rapidly to the Saunders' bacon curing establishment and then to the adjacent premises occupied by the Percevals, well-known Government contractors. In spite of the efforts of the firemen all these large structures were virtually destroyed.

The Pope's Condition.

London, Oct. 1.—The Globe this afternoon says it hears the Pope's weakness is increasing and that the church dignitaries are afraid he will not rally from the extreme feebleness and exhaustion he now betrays.

Premier of Natal Resigns.

Durban, Natal, Oct. 1.—Hon. Henry Escombe, Q.C., Premier of Natal, has tendered his resignation, on the ground that the country is not favorable to his proposed loan for railway construction.

Do You Intend Making Your Rooms Look Brighter and Cleaner?

Thousands of women all over Canada will this season clean house and make rooms look brighter and cheerful.

It should be remembered that Kalsomine can be beautifully tinted with the Diamond Dyes at a very trifling expense. One package of Diamond Dye tints ten to fifteen pounds handsome shades for walls. The favourite colours are yellow, orange, cardinal, slate, crimson, Bismark, violet, green, light blue and pink.

To make good Kalsomine, dissolve one-fourth pound of good glue to each ten pounds of whiting. Mix with sufficient water to give the right consistency. To tint it, dissolve a package of dye in a quart of water, and add as much as necessary to give the colour desired.

When you buy dyes for tinting, be sure you ask your dealer for the Diamond Dyes, using any of the shades mentioned above.

Brakeman Killed.

Vancouver, Oct. 1.—An accident to the east-bound freight train occurred at noon yesterday near White Creek Bridge, twelve miles west of North Bend. The boiler of the engine hauling the freight train exploded while running at full speed. The brakeman, George Elson, was thrown down an embankment, dying almost immediately. The engineer and fireman were scalded, but escaped death. The engine was partially destroyed. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Three California Stages Robbed.

Milton, Cal., Oct. 1.—Yesterday afternoon three stages traveling from Angels Camp to this place were held up by two masked highwaymen and robbed. Passengers were relieved of moderate sums, but no one was hurt by the robbers. From the description furnished the robbers are supposed to be the pair who recently held up the Ukiah stage and killed Mr. Barrat.

THE CARELESS AND INDIFFERENT

Suffer Intense Agonies This Month.

Many Men and Women in Great Danger.

To Such Mortals Paine's Celery Compound Guarantees a New Life.

The Great Medicine a Sure Cure for Rheumatism and Sciatica.

Thousands of people die annually of rheumatism, yet every case could have been cured if Paine's Celery Compound had been used in time.

Too many men and women show a marked indifference when, in some form, the dread disease commences its agonizing work. Some foolishly imagine that bright warm and dry weather will banish the intruder, and they determine to trust themselves to time and circumstances. Others place their hope in warmer clothing and the frequent use of liniments, while some experiment with electricity and baths.

As the days pass, the careless and indifferent find themselves deeper in the mire of suffering, and they experience all the countless twinges and agonies of the disease. They have chills, pain in the back, quickened pulse, constipation, loss of appetite, coated tongue, and the joints swell—usually the knees, elbows and wrists.

Now is the time of extreme danger. Now the sufferers realize that they are paying the penalty of their carelessness. Many will soon be helpless and useless; we shall see them with stiffened muscles and joints and limbs twisted and drawn up.

Some will ask the question, "Is there truly a cure for such helpless rheumatics?" We say unhesitatingly there is. The agent that cures effectually and scientifically is Paine's Celery Compound. It has cured thousands in the past—men and women of the highest standing in every community—and these have given the strongest testimony for the encouragement of others. Besides removing the cause of rheumatism Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine in the world that guarantees a permanent cure.

Will you, sufferer, continue in agony and danger of death when such a mighty remedy as Paine's Celery Compound is offered to you?

Let us assure you, poor rheumatic sufferer, that the use of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will quickly dispel any doubts that you may have. The effects will be so encouraging that you will be forced to continue with the life-giving medicine till you are sound, well and happy.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

French Peas.

The French have the reputation of being a lively nation, and this national characteristic applies even to peas. Mr. James Cooney, of Otonabee, this morning showed the EXAMINER a sample grown from imported French peas, which were literally alive with bugs. The peas are very much deterorated in quality and weight, nearly half the pea being bored out by the bug. Mr. Cooney thinks that some government action might be taken to regulate the importation of seed peas containing the germs of the bug, which destroys the subsequent crop.

Robertson's Mixed Floor and House Paints still lead all other makes in giving perfect satisfaction. They are never sticky, nor do they peel off, but dry hard, bright and glossy. If they require thinning use only the oil sold by the agents. Poor oil, as well as poor paints, never dry satisfactorily and will not wear. Robertson's Paints that were used two years ago, look better to-day than other paints used this year. 2aw-w —A couple of Lake street young ladies heard that the eating of onions before retiring greatly benefitted the complexion. They tried it for some time, but it isn't safe to mention onions in their presence since one evening when they ate them a little too early, and had to deny themselves the pleasure of an evening's fun, through not being able to meet a couple of young gentlemen who called.

Return of the Guys.

Read what the Peterborough EXAMINER said of the show last year:—The Guy Bros. drew their usual big house in Peterborough last night, and gave so excellent an entertainment as to ensure them a royal welcome next time they come around. The jokes of the end men were all new, and from beginning to end the fun was fast and furious. The soloists were all in fine voice and the chorus work of the quartette has to be heard to be appreciated. The specialists were all above the average. This company appears at Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday, Oct. 7th. Secure your seats early.

FRED. McGRATH SENIOR CHAMPION.

FRED ROY WINS THE JUNIOR CUP.

The Result of the Collegiate Institute Sports Yesterday on the Nicholls Park Oval—An Innovation is Introduced in the way of an Archery Contest for the Young Ladies.

As the result of the annual sports in connection with the Collegiate Institute, Fred McGrath, son of Mr. T. B. McGrath, is the senior champion and holder of the staff cup for the next year. Last year Fred won the H. S. Macdonald cup and junior championship. In being the youngest of the competing seniors, yesterday, he deserves great credit for carrying off the coveted trophy. Chas. Matthias pressed him hard for the honours and made a good second.

Fred Roy, son of Mr. R. M. Roy, is the proud holder of the junior championship, and the H. S. Macdonald cup for the year. It was a close contest between him and Stanley Bradd until the last event, the obstacle race, in which Roy took first place, thus securing the laurels.

The sports were held on the Nicholls Park oval, and the attendance and interest surpassed that of other years considerably, a large number driving to the park in carriages and witnessing the events from their turnouts.

The races were run off under the following rules.

1. All events are open to pupils of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute in actual attendance.
2. A fee of five cents will be exacted from each competitor entering one event. A fee of ten cents will be exacted from each competitor entering two or more events. No fee will be required for the archery contests.
3. No competitor may hold more than two prizes.
4. Any pupil who has taken part in any event but who has been unsuccessful in winning a prize will be eligible for the consolation race.

Those intending to compete for any event should give their names to the secretary, J. McCaig, by Friday noon, to avoid confusion and delay.

6. Points do not count in the fatigue race in the cup competition.
7. Points gained in the bicycle and team races will not count in either cup competition.
8. In the Team Race six prizes will be awarded: one to each member of the two winning teams, and a first and second to the two competitors, not of the winning forms, who first cross the line. In this race the first over the line will score as many points as there are competitors, the second one fewer, and so on throughout. The prizes will be awarded to the two teams making the highest aggregate number of points on this basis.
9. The Macdonald Cup, presented by H. S. Macdonald in 1896, will be awarded for one year to the competitor under 15 years of age who obtains the highest number of points in competition. The holder of this cup for 1896 was F. McGrath.
10. The Staff Cup will be awarded for one year to the competitor winning the highest number of points in the senior competition. Those who have held this cup are: H Orde, 1892; R Kearns, 1893; G Bell, 1894; H Philp, 1895; F Weir, 1896.
11. A junior is one who has not yet passed his fifteenth birthday. Junior students may enter all events, but seniors may not enter events marked "Junior."
12. In awarding the cups, a first counts five points, a second three, and a third one.
13. Points in the Archery Contest will be awarded according to the practice in rifle competition.

7 mile handicap road race, being from park down the western approach across the Black Bridge to Nassau, across the river and down on the east side to the park.

The riders were sent off as follows:

3½ minutes—F Weir, J Fessenden.
3 minutes—Tully, L Best.
2 minutes—F Bradburn, H McBain, P Crossley
Scratch—Wesley Millburn.

Crossley was the first man back, riding neck and neck with Bradburn at the entrance to the park, when the latter fell, allowing the former to forge ahead. The time made was as follows:

Crossley, 24 m, 15 sec.
Bradburn, 24 m, 22 sec.
Fessenden, 25 m. 25 sec.
McBain, 26 m, 2 sec.
Tully, 26 m, 43 sec.
Millburn, 26 m, 54 sec.

Crossley therefore wins both the time and the place prizes. The former consists of a very handsome silver medal presented by Mr. Robt Nell, and especially manufactured for the winner of the event. The design is a wheel surrounded by the Canadian coat of arms pendant by crossed chains from a silver bar upon which the name of the winner will be engraved. There is space on the medal for an inscription concerning the event and the date.

NOTES.

Quite a number of records were broken during the day, the most noticeable event of the kind being the putting of the shot by Torpey a distance of 34 ft. 5 in., the previous record being 26 ft ½ in.

In the high jump Turner brought the record up from 4 ft. 8 in. to 4 ft. 10 in., and in the quarter mile senior race McGrath reduced the time from 1 minute flat to 58 3-5 seconds. Wesley Milburn pulled ten seconds off the mile bicycle record by riding in 2.18, the record being 2.28.

Doubtless the winner of the championship would have had to break a few more records in order to win if both Fred Weir and Norman Bell, his two most dangerous competitors were not both somewhat incapacitated. Bell having over fatigued himself in the cross country run, and Weir being badly shaken up by the breaking of the pole under him when vaulting in the first event of the day.

In the 100 yards senior race Matthias was late in going to the starting point, and the boys went away without him. As he came up the track he prevented Weir and Bell from starting. Claiming that he could lower the existing record for the distance, he ran an exhibition 100 yards, but did not do better than 12 2-5.

The archery competition for the young ladies was a pleasant innovation, and although the competitors have only practiced for a short week, some very creditable scores were made. Next year the archery will be one of the greatest attractions of the afternoon.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Minnie Joliffe, of Colborne, and Mr. A. C. Denike, of Havelock.

The celebration of the nuptials of Miss Minnie Joliffe, youngest daughter of Rev. J. W. Joliffe, of Colborne, took place on Thursday last at the Methodist parsonage, Colborne, when she was united in marriage to Mr. A. C. Denike, of Havelock. The wedding took place in the afternoon, the rite being performed by the bride's father. The bride looked very handsome in a magnificent gown. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms and bridal veil, caught with a bunch of smilax and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid was Miss Maggie Joliffe, her sister, who was also charmingly attired. The groomsman was Mr. Orlando Joliffe, brother of the bride.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party, which was composed of a few intimate friends of the contracting parties, repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous dejeuner was served. The happy couple left on the four o'clock train for Avon, Western Ontario, via. Toronto, where they intend spending a few weeks visiting friends before returning to take up their residence in Havelock.

A HAVELOCK ROBBERY.

Mr. Wm. Dineen Robbed by a Stranger Whom he Housed For the Night.

On Tuesday night Mr. Wm. Dineen, of Havelock, was robbed of $35 by some party unknown. Suspicion centres on a stranger who applied for lodging for the night after the hotel was closed.

The man was sober and said he could not procure lodging elsewhere. Mr. Dineen consented to take him in. The bedroom that he gave the stranger is directly opposite his own and when Mr. Dineen got up next morning the stranger was gone, as was also every cent Mr. Dineen had had in his pockets even to three odd coppers.

Mr. Dineen is unable to state exactly what amount of money is missing, as he forgot to count it on retiring, but he thinks there was about $25.00 in bills and silver.

METROPOLITANS AT MONTREAL.

Local View of the Convention of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., at Montreal.

The local delegates of the annual convention of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, returned this morning from Montreal, by C.P.R. special, and report having had an enjoyable trip, combining business with pleasure. The special which carried the local staff to Montreal on the down trip passed through here Wednesday night, and also contained the Toronto, Hamilton and London district staffs, including all of the most important Canadian western cities and towns.

After Montreal was reached the St. Lawrence Hall, the Dominion delegates assembled, took a trip to Lachine, per G. T. R., and then embarked per steamer Berthier to shoot the rapids back to the city. This is described by the delegates as a thrilling voyage, but devoid of the slightest mishap, except the loss of a hat or two.

After dinner the most sumptuous the chef de cuisine could prepare, the convention was called to order, Vice-President Haley Fiske, of New York, in the chair, while on either side sat Geo. H. Gaston, second vice-president; Thos. H. Willard, M.D., Medical Examiner; Col. John Gilton, Chief Agent; J. J. Cohen, Manager ordinary dept.; E. J. Thomas, Manager of Agencies; F. O. Ayers, Manager Intermediate Dept.; W. G. Staniland, Chief Supervisor; Major Corwin, Superintendent Agencies Ordinary Department; J. Nelson Smith, Mayor of Montreal, and the several superintendents of the districts of the Dominion.

Vice-President Fiske in his address indicated the great progress of the Company during its existence of thirty-one years, the assets having increased from one million of capital at the rate of a million dollars a year, and a surplus of over five millions at the end of 1896, and the generally satisfactory condition of the company. Several other addresses followed in a similar strain. An address which carried much weight was that of the Mayor of Montreal. He characterized industrial insurance as the greatest boon to the workingman. From what he had seen of the benefits of industrial insurance he could not refrain from strongly advising everyone, however poor, to carry insurance. Could the people of Canada be more widely converted to the idea of insurance, half the poverty now extant would not exist. He spoke from a practical point of view, being mayor of the city. He only hoped that his remarks would be instrumental in enlarging the business of the company, and thereby lessen the poverty and destitution of the cities and the country at large.

Second Vice Pres. Gaston in referring to the records made by the several districts, spoke in glowing terms of the good work done by Asst.-Supt. Geo. Smith of Peterborough, with his staff, consisting of Agents J. C. Gammie, T. Connolly, W. Grant, H. LaBelle and J. T. Wilkins. The superintendent under whom he served could not show a better record for any of his six assistant superintendencies. These encomiums were greeted with loud and prolonged applause, and made the local staff prominent at the time.

The convention closed at seven o'clock and after an hour's intermission supper was partaken of. This was followed by remarks from Superintendent, assistant-superintendents and agents, after which the convention adjourned till next year.

LACROSSE.

The Markham Sun speaks of features of Tuesday's game: Tuesday, Peterborough, the winners of four championships, came here to wrestle with our boys for the championship of Eastern Ontario, and as they had a lead of four goals on the game at Peterborough on the previous Tuesday they felt reasonably sure, and not without reason, of returning to their town winners in another lacrosse competition. The Peterborough's are a gentlemanly lot of boys, and were accompanied by a crowd of A 1 sports, and not only were they good sports, but were the most handsome looking crowd who have yet struck town. Now this is no flattery because we can get written recommendations from a score of people on the point.

The game commenced at 2.50 p.m., and for two hours the game was a battle royal for supremacy. A cleaner, fairer, up and up game it would be hard to find, and a more interesting game for spectators could not be imagined. Markham won the first game in half a minute, then Peterborough took the next in 14½ minutes, then Markham the next in 12½ minutes, and Peterborough evened it up in five minutes. Thus at the end of the first hour the teams were tied, and Markham's chances of winning were not so bright as one would have wished them to be. Peterborough, however, was playing a defence game for the greater part of the hour, and our speedy home was fast taking the wind out of them. Dobbin, in goal for Peterborough, was a daisy, and played a game never equalled here. The number of times he saved his team would count up in the seventies; he indeed was a star. The visitors intended playing a defence game, and with that in view had an extra strong defence on, Glover playing a particularly good game. Then too, Rubidge on the home was a star, and the men whom we pick out as the visitors' stars would be the three—Dobbin, Glover and Rubidge.

The citizens of Markham banquetted their team last evening and the Peterborough protest was just received in time to be read. It would doubtless act as quite a damper on the Belshazzar feast.

THE TURF.

At the Whitby Fair the horses from the Jones & McWilliams' livery stable showed up well. Princess May took first money on the first day and Nettie Wood took first money on the second day. At Millbrook yesterday Princess May took first and Jessie B. second. Master Fred is being kept at home.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The Reception Committee and a number of active Rugby players met the Osgoode team at the station at noon to-day and drove with them to the Oriental Hotel. The visiting men are a hardy looking lot and will give the local team all they can do to hold them down to-day. The former will play in the following positions:

Back—Victor McWilliams.
Halves—Parmenter, Bond Towers.
Quarter—Jones.
Scrimmage—Jellett, Atkinson, Synge.
Wings—McLellan, Story, R. F. McWilliams, McLean, Ferguson, Bilton, Wadsworth (Capt).

THE WHEEL.

Arthur Porter, of Boston, the former amateur mile-record holder and breaker of numerous amateur records, is said to be more than anxious to secure a race with Jimmy Michael. Porter is said to have never cracked back of pacemakers and to be able to follow any pace. Michael will not race the Waltham man until he has shown his colours and won a victory over some of the riders who have gone down before him.

How to tighten a nut and keep it tight is a secret few should be without. Sometimes it is worth as much as a repair kit. On a new wheel nuts have a tendency to work loose and drop off. The mishap can be prevented if the nut be taken off and cleaned, a little oil put on the thread and the nut screwed up. As a rule this will prevent trouble.

A good story of the biter bit, who was a policeman, comes from East Agila, Wales. Two cyclists, riding without lights, were called upon by a constable to stop. One did so, but the other continued on his way. The constable being a cyclist immediately mounted the machine of the standing cyclist and caught his man. The cyclists were both fined, but the policeman's disgust can better be imagined than described when they promptly summoned him for a similar offence, and the magistrate, having no option, fined him a similar amount.

The London Sporting Life says: An important meeting of cycle makers has been held at Coventry to consider recent development in the tire trade. The makers have decided to combine to secure the right to supply their customers with what they want. In the rush last year buyers took what was offered them in both machines and tires—American bicycles now selling at £7 to £10, with hose pipe tires, and anything having the outward similitude of a pneumatic tire, but nowadays all this is changed. More than one has intimated to good agents that it is proposed to supply cycles without tires.

Arnold Schneider, Belgian vice-consul at Pittsburg, Pa., and executor of the estate of Frank Lenz, the bicyclist, who was murdered by Kurds in Armenia in 1894, has been notified by the State Department that the United States Minister at Constantinople has secured a reversal of the recent judgment of acquittal, and that a new trial of the men accused of the murder has been ordered. The Minister has been instructed to present a claim of Mrs. Lenz for $40,000 damages for the murder of her son.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affections of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dawson of the Standard Bank now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

McDONEL STREET FOUNTAIN.

Complaints Bring Made About There Being no Water.

The water is still cut off from the McDonel street fountain and complaints are being made of the fact from numerous sources, as the trough was a great convenience.

The council will be asked to deal with the matter at its next meeting.

Although the draining of the water out on to the street is objectionable, still most of it was absorbed by the park and did the trees good. The fact that the sewer is constructed to this point should remove this objection, anyway, slight as it is.

A QUESTION OF TIME.

On This Particular Occasion the Rule Didn't Work.

"For mercy sakes, Henry!" exclaimed Mrs. Flimpson, as she entered the room in full street costume, gloves and all, "haven't you begun to get your things on yet? You know the train goes at half-past and it will take us at least fifteen minutes to walk to the station. I never did see such a man."

"Time enough," replied Mr. Flimpson, without looking up from his paper. "It is only 7 now, and there is no need to start before twenty minutes past. We can get to the station easily in five minutes; but I'll give you another five minutes leeway. Sit down and make yourself comfortable, Mary. Don't get yourself in a flurry."

"But, Henry, my watch says ten minutes past."

"Whoever knew a woman's watch to be within an hour of being right? I tell you it is only 7."

"But how do you know your watch isn't slow?"

"Because I know it isn't. You could set the sun by that watch any day in the year. Look at the clock if you don't believe it."

"But the clock may be wrong."

"Bother! I tell you we've got lots of time; time to burn."

"If we don't get that train there isn't another for an hour and a half."

"Don't make any difference if there isn't another for a month. You women folks are always in such a hurry! You want to hang around the gloomy station for half an hour, I suppose. Well, I don't. Now make yourself easy. When did you ever know me to lose a train?"

"But, Henry—"

"I tell you we've got plenty of time. Now sit down and make yourself easy."

For ten minutes longer this went on. Mrs. Flimpson getting more uneasy every second and Mr. Flimpson more tranquil. Finally he laid down his paper, put on his shoes, with provoking deliberation, then his coat and hat; and then sat down to draw on his gloves. All this time Mrs. Flimpson was in a boiling state of impatience. She knew they'd lose the train, it was always the way, and all that sort of thing.

At last they were off, and all the way to the station Mrs. Flimpson was two or three steps ahead of her spouse, who would not hurry, the provoking thing! although Mrs. Flimpson insisted that she could hear the train coming.

When they got to the station, strange to relate, the train had not departed, it hadn't arrived and didn't arrive for five minutes. As a matter of fact, Flimpson's watch was right on the dot, just as he said it was, and Mrs. Flimpson had had all her fussing for nothing.

There are exceptions to all rules.—Boston Transcript.

AFFLICTED FROM INFANCY.

A Lad Who Had been Dropsical From His Childhood Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Remedy That Never Failed.

McIntyre, Ont., Sept. 20.—The young son of Hugh Lamont, of this place, has been afflicted with dropsy since infancy. He was bloated and swollen all over. His parents were at their wits' end to find some cure for him when they read of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Lamont got six boxes of the pills and the boy began taking them. Before the sixth box was finished he was cured. It doesn't matter whether the patient is young or old, the pills will effect a cure of any kidney disease, or of any disease arising from disordered kidneys.

Flowers Nice to Eat.

The use of flowers, such as rose leaves and violets, for making confections is well-known. Now the nasturtium is treated in a like manner, and the products are received with much favor. This flower and its pungent leaves are said to possess valuable dietetic properties and are classed among the most approved additions for salads and sandwiches to vary the menu.

The latest accession to the dietary list is that favorite fall flower, the chrysanthemum. Those that have tried this flower food proclaim it to be as pleasant to taste as it is beautiful to look upon. Chrysanthemums are served as a salad with a French dressing, or chopped fine with a nicely seasoned cream sauce poured over them. The flowers have a flavor somewhat similar to the cauliflower, but more delicate.

A flower salad that the French consider a great delicacy is made from the young pink and white clover blossoms.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

MANGLED BY THE TROLLEY.

Terrible Death of Donald A. Parres in Toronto Fell When Trying to Board a Car.

Another life has been sacrificed to the trolley car and the victim is Donald A. Parres, a colored man, who has for some time been in the employ of the C. P. R. as Wagner car porter on the run between Toronto and North Bay, and who boarded in Toronto with Capt. Jack at 1192 Queen-street west.

The fatality occurred a short distance east of Queen-street subway shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Parres left Capt. Jack's house to go to work and at Northcote-avenue he awaited an eastbound trolley car. The cars do not pull up at Northcote-avenue, there being a stopping place between Northcote and Dovercourt-avenues. Parres attempted to board the rear platform of the last trailer while the train was moving at a fair rate of speed. As far as can be learned he tried the railwayman's fashion of getting on to the car with his back to it. In some manner he missed his footing and dropped in the space between the trailer and the one behind it.

There was a shriek of agony from the unfortunate man as his body fell and was crushed beneath the wheels of the car, which bumped and left the track. Willing hands extricated the bleeding mass from the wheels and carried the poor fellow into a store. He retained consciousness and suffered terrible pain.

Dr. Orr, who was upon the scene, saw at once the fearful condition of the man and summoned the police ambulance. Policeman Phillips, the driver and Roadmaster Geeds of the railway company carried Parres into the ambulance and Capt. Jack sat by his side as he was driven with all haste to St. Michael's Hospital, where his injuries were examined by Drs. Dwyer, Sweetnam, Orr and Caven.

The hurts were of a horrible nature, including a comp und fracture of the right arm, compound fracture of the right thigh, fracture of the pelvis and many serious cuts and bruises, besides fatal injuries of an internal nature.

Parres lived in agony until about 6.30, when death put an end to his sufferings.

Maywood, the motorman, says that he thinks he saw the man standing on the roadway, but he didn't motion the car to stop.

Conductor Beale stated that the man went to board the car, and, missing his hold, swung around and fell under the wheels of the car behind.

Coroner Orr, who was a witness of the fatality, has ordered an inquest, which will be held at St. Michael's Hospital to night.

Parres was a finely built man, about 30 years of age. He came originally from the Barbadoes. For the past few months he has been boarding at Capt. Jack's house while in the city. He was a quiet, industrious fellow, and was very popular among his associates.

An Effectual Method.

The little boy whose parents had recently moved into the neighborhood was a human document; over his entire costume was written the fact that good clothes do not bring happiness. His sailor hat, his immaculate little trousers of duck and his neatly polished shoes were so obviously unsuited to the average juvenile temperament that two urchins paused to extend their sympathy.

"Hi, there, Jonny," said one of them; "tel yer mother we're goin' fishin' an' ask her will she lend you to us to lean over the boat an' charm the fish."

The boy with the sailor hat made no reply.

"Aw, let him alone," put in the other urchin. "Don't you see what's happened to him? His parents are tired of him an' have dressed him up purty an' stood him out on the pavement so's he'll get kidnaped."

The subject of their remarks hung his sailor hat on the fence, took off his collar and necktie and, turning to the boys who had been gleefully admonishing him not to spoil his beauty, offered the simple inquiry:

"Want to fight?"

The challenge was promptly accepted, with the stipulation that each of the old residents was to refrain from taking a hand while the other was engaged with the stranger. In a short time both the local boys had announced that they had "had enough."

"Say, you feller," said one of them, as he wiped the dust off his sleeve, "you're a scrapper all right. But what makes you wear that kind of clothes?"

"It saves time," was the answer. "Mother and father are movers. They're never contented to stay in one part of town. They rent a different house every three or four months. It used to take two or three weeks of givin' an' takin' back-talk to get acquainted with the boys, so I got mother to buy me these clothes. She doesn't know yet what I wanted 'em for; she thinks I'm gettin' neat. All I have to do now when we move into a new neighborhood is to put 'em on. Then makes me look so easy that it only takes a day or two to get all my fightin' tended to an' get acquainted with the fellers an' have a good time."—Detroit Free Press.

Why They Parted.

Lenore tapped gently at the door.

The poet arose from his seat where he had been writing his justly celebrated poem, "The Raven."

He opened the door and gazing at her for a moment with a puzzled expression upon his face, said:

"Sir," said I, 'or madam, truly your forgiveness I implore'—"

Lenore turned and descended the stairs.

"'Sir, or madam,' indeed!" she said, with a petulant toss of her head. "I'll wear these bicycle bloomers whenever I please—so there!"

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

THE BRIDE CAME NOT.

Her Father Heard of the Proposed Wedding and Took His Daughter Back to Her Canadian Home.

Holyoke, Mass., Sept 30.—Miss Delina Dugos and Frank Degraffe were to have been married today, but the ceremony was indefinitely postponed owing to the unexpected absence of the prospective bride. Miss Dugos was employed in the Lyman mills, and her parents reside in Canada. Her parents heard of the intended marriage and were opposed to it. Her father appeared at her boarding house last night, and, flourishing a revolver, demanded to see his daughter. When confronted by her father the girl was completely unnerved, but her father was determined and the two boarded the train for Montreal.

A Marvelous Cure for Erysipelas by Sloan's Indian Tonic, in Lambton County.

Mrs. J. J. Porter, of Corunna, writes:—

I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day and am now entirely cured.

Fred W. Leiskau, Baden, writes:—

Please send me another bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic. I bought one bottle from your agent early this spring, and I must say it is the best medicine in existence. I was troubled with a soreness in my right side and tried many doctors, but they could not cure me, and after using the one bottle I have had no trouble with the soreness. I am very glad I can state this.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporising measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

A sick person trying to keep up on mere stimulating tonics is like any one pretending to swim while supported by a belt. The instant the support is withdrawn down you go.

Nearly all diseases result from a deep-seated impairment of the nutritive powers which cannot be reached by any temporary exhilaration. The only good that any medicine can do is to increase your own natural powers of recovery and make you able to swim for yourself.

The debilitating weakness, nervousness and digestive disorder which indicates this state of mal nutrition can only be overcome by a scientific remedy like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which acts directly upon the digestive and blood-making organs, and effects the nutritive transformation of food into rich, healthy blood, which carries genuine permanent vitality to every corner of the system.

It is vastly more nutritious than malt-extracts. It does not paralyze the nerves, but feeds them with health. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions. It is assimilated by the weakest stomachs. It does not make flabby useless fat, but muscular strength and healthy nerve-force. It is the only perfect invigorant for corpulent people.

Mrs. Ella Howell, of Derby, Perry Co., Ind., writes: "In the year of 1894 I was taken with stomach trouble nervous dyspepsia. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain. I had a bearing down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bloated. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to see a change for the better. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. The physicians who attended me said I had 'dropsy' and that my disease was leading into pulmonary consumption. I had quite a cough and the home physicians gave me up to die. I thank God that my cure is permanent."

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

The Relations of the Fleecy Milkweed and the Busy Bee.

Two months hence an occasional silky messenger will float away from the glistening clouds about the open milkweed pods, but who ever thanks the bees of June for them? The flower is but a bright anticipation—an expression of hope in the being of the parent plant. It has but one mission. All its fragrance, all its nectar, all its beauty of form and hue, are but means toward the consummation of the eternal edict of creation—"Increase and multiply." To that end we owe all the infinite forms, designs, tints, decorations, perfumes, mechanisms and other seemingly inexplicable attributes. Its threshold must bear its own peculiar welcome to its insect, or perhaps to its humming-bird friend, or counterpart; its nectaries must both tempt and reward his coming, and its petals assist his comfortable tarrying.

Next to the floral orchids, the mechanism of our milkweed blossom is perhaps the most complex and remarkable, and illustrates as perfectly as any of the orchid examples given in Darwin's noble work the absolute divine intention of the dependence of a plant species upon the visits of an insect.

Our milkweed flower is a deeply planned contrivance to insure such an end. It fills the air with enticing fragrance. Its nectaries are stored with sweets, and I fancy each opening bud keenly alert with conscious solicitude for its affinity. Though many other flowers manage imperfectly to perpetuate their kind in the default of insect intervention, the milkweed, like most of the orchids, is helpless and incapable of such resource. Inclose this budded umbel in tarlatan gauze, and it will bloom days after its fellow-blooms have fallen, anticipating its consummation, but no pods will be seen upon this cluster.—William Hamilton Gibson.

YOU ARE A VICTIM!

Medical Statistics Prove that Eighty Out of Every Hundred are Tainted with Catarrh.

Are you one of the eighty? Foul breath, pains over the eyes, dropping in the throat and headaches denote it. Have you these symptoms? Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder never disappoints in a cure.

"For years I was a victim of chronic catarrh. I had tried all kinds of cures, and had been treated by numbers of physicians, but no cure was effected until I had procured and used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. The first application gave me almost instant relief, and in an incredibly short time I was absolutely cured of this distressing and disgusting malady." James Headley, Dundee, N. Y. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

POULTRY IN ORCHARD.

Fowls Do Good Service in Two Very Distinct Ways.

Mr. Tegetmeier, the famous English authority on poultry, in commenting on a report of the Rhode Island Experiment Station regarding the value of fowls to orchards, says: For many years I have advocated the introduction of poultry into apple orchards, maintaining that they do good service, in two very distinct modes first, by manuring the ground, and, secondly, by the distruction of insects and grubs that hibernate in the soil.

The apple maggot appears to be extending in America, attacking the favorite Baldwin, which is so well-known as being imported largely into this country, and rendering it entirely unfit for use, but the spraying the trees with Bordeaux mixture and paris green has appeared to prevent all serious attacks of this insect.

In the mature state this insect is a fly, which deposits its eggs in the pulp of the apple beneath the skin. The young maggots grow within the fruit, which they render worthless, and when mature emerge from the apple and go into the ground, lying in the pupa state beneath the surface soil among the grass roots. Samples of the earth, six inches square, were taken, and the numbers of maggots under the trees varied, according to the size, from 1600 to more than 12,000 under each tree, the pupae somewhat resembling kernels of wheat. Now comes the point which was particularly interesting to me. The experiment was tried as to whether poultry, if confined to a small range and encouraged to scratch, would destroy these pupae. A large movable wire fence was placed about a tree, whose fruit had been destroyed by insects. One side of the fence was raised and 50 hens were called into the inclosure. The fence let down and they were confined space around the tree. As soon as they had eaten the corn they naturally began to scratch for pupae, and in the course of three or four days it was found that the latter had disappeared. As these insects remain in the pupae state from the fall of the apple to the following spring, when they appear, it may be expected that next year the number of flies breeding from the apple maggot will be greatly diminished in the localities where this plan is followed.

From personal experience, extending over many years, I can speak positively of the advantages of allowing fowls and chickens a free range in apple orchards. They not only manure the soil and destroy all insects harboring in it, but they find, for some weeks, a considerable proportion of their own food—the windfalls, which they devour greedily, with any grubs they may contain.

Rural Telephones.

Twelve months ago there were comparatively few farm telephone lines in the country, but as the telephone itself has been cheapening, the farmers have become alive to its value, says an exchange.

The State of Illinois has been especially active in the establishment of these rural lines. The system is cheaply and substantially constructed, each farmer contributing poles and work in handling and setting poles, and an experienced man has charge of the placing of the instruments, which range in price from $10 to $16.

One system in the State embraces nearly 100 instruments, with two central stations. The farmers are delighted with the result of their own enterprise, as they say they can order anything from a spool of thread to a harvest had without moving outside their door.

Merchants of the different towns connected with the system hire delivery wagons to deliver such goods as have been ordered at regular periods, the mail being taken around at the same time. In one district the farmers find their 18-mile long telephone line of untold convenience. They are enabled to order boats for transportation and supplies with a few words spoken over the wire, whereas formerly they were compelled to send a messenger across country.

The proper way to build health is to make the blood rich and pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the one true blood purifier.

Points in Country Road Making.

In country road-making there is much plowing of roadsides and scraping away of the surface soil. This is almost always a mistake. But the farmer should see to it that at least the work of road improvement does not obstruct the entrances to his fields. Making it easy for the farmer to use any part of his farm is for him about the most necessary part of road improvements. Out of this field into the road he will each year draw many loads, besides the loads of manure he will likely drag into it. If a plowed ridge or ditch obstructs the entrance to the field many wagons will be needlessly broken. If a ditch is required in the roadside opposite a gate, the path master may be obliged to convert it at that point into a sluiceway, with stone or tile passage for the water. An underdrain beside the road, three feet deep, with good outlet, is the best way to improve most poor roads. But whatever the method adopted, the farmer should see to it that road improvement does not obstruct gateways that he has to use.

Money in Medicinal Plants.

Many medicinal plants can be grown with profit, as the demand for some kinds is increasing. Absinthe (wormwood) can be raised as far north as New England, and this country imports it from Europe. Saffron, which sells for eight dollars per pound, may be grown in nearly all sections. Peppermint and spearmint find ready sale, and sage, which is well-known to every farmer, is imported, frequently selling at $150 per ton. Then there are hoarhound, boneset, mandrake, bloodroot, pennyroyal, etc., which are regarded as weeds in some localities, all of which are largely used and have a value in market.

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh and force.

Undoubtedly the Best.

Gentlemen.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

Styles in visiting cards and note paper might almost be said to change with the seasons. The latest card has not changed in size, but it is neither the very thick board of long ago nor the recent very thin material; it is of moderate thickness, and pure white. Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET,
OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

MASON & RISCH PIANO COMPANY, LIMITED.

We handle Pianos of many makers, many grades and many prices. Some are good, some are better, some are superlatively excellent, but none are poor and all are durable and worth money asked for them.

Chickering Pianos.

For over 75 years the Chickering Piano has been recognized as the world's highest production in musical art manufacture. "Good wine needs no bush" but we may here say that although Chickering Pianos cost more than inferior goods their prices are not so high as to deter purchasers from debating the subject.

Mason & Risch Pianos.

These have been so long before the musical public as to require no special notice. We may mention, however, that almost every musical institution in Canada is supplied with Mason & Risch Pianos. Among Canadian Pianos they are the choice of artists everywhere.

Berlin Pianos.

We supply excellent Upright Pianos of this manufacture at prices ranging from $250.00. They are handsome in appearance, durable to the extreme and possess a fine quality of tone. There is no better value in the market.

Write us letters and we will be pleased to give you every information in our power. We consider it no trouble.

MANUFACTURING FURRIERS,

TORONTO PETERBOROUGH

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

Salesmen Lost by Holding Over From Last Board—A Slump of One-Quarter of a Cent. in the Price.

(Lindsay Post.)

At the board sale held on Friday of last week twenty factories boarded 1,830 boxes and refused an offer of 9½c. made by Mr. Wm. Flavelle, Cameron, Reaboro and Red Rock alone accepting. To-day the remaining 1,447 boxes were again boarded, but the best offer obtainable was 9¼c., made by three buyers—Messrs. Whitton, Fitzgerald and Flavelle. The difference in price means a considerable loss to the patrons.

When President Robertson called for offers Fitzgerald led off with a bid of 9¼c., which Whitton made a sixteenth better; Flavelle raised to 9⅜c., and Whitton called 9⅜. There being no further offers the latter called a number of factories and took 563 boxes in all.

Both Flavelle and Fitzgerald offered 9⅜c for further selections, and a slight difference of opinion arose as to which was entitled to the call. Mr. Whitton suggested that as there was a misunderstanding the parties bid for factories in turn; Mr. Flavelle expressed his willingness to do so, but the offer was not accepted by Mr. Fitzgerald as the proper solution of the difficulty; he maintained he had the prior claim according to the rules. Mr. Flavelle then said he would give 9⅜c for the balance of the board, but some of the factories refused to sell, and at last Fitzgerald consented to the first proposition. In the end Flavelle secured Valentia, Dunsford, Palestine and Derryville, 327 boxes, and Fitzgerald took Mariposa, Bobcaygeon and North Ops, 228 boxes.

The remaining factories were granted permission to sell off the board, and it was decided to hold the next meeting on Thursday, Oct. 14th.

YELLOW FEVER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Thinking you might be interested in a full account of the progress of the yellow fever scourge and the feelings of the people here about it, I send you by same mail some Charleston papers. You will see by them what a strict quarantine is held against all infected places, and also what sanitary measures are taken to guard against it.

Every person travelling has to be provided with a "bill of health," (I enclose you mine as a sample) otherwise the traveller will not be permitted to pass the cordon established by all cities and towns in the Southern States. I enclose in this a piece of mail letter received to-day from New Orleans. You will observe that it is perforated all over. That is done so as to allow the disinfecting gas to affect the contents of the letter. The piece I send you came by the railroad mail, but all public mail is treated exactly the same way. People here are confident they can keep the fever out. They have learned from experience that a strict quarantine and rigid disinfecting of mails will in nearly every case do so.

With best wishes, I remain,

Yours truly,

R. W. MUNCASTER.

A God-sent Blessing.

Mr. B. F. Wood, of Easton, Pa., was a great sufferer from organic heart disease. He never expected to be well again, but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart was his good angel, and he lives to-day to tell it to others, hear him: "I was for fifteen years a great sufferer from heart disease, had smothering spells, palpitation, pain in left side and swelled ankles. Twenty physicians treated me, but I got no relief. I used Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One dose relieved me inside of 30 minutes. Several bottles cured me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

SEPTEMBER WEATHER NOTES.

September is generally considered one of the most pleasant months of the year, and the month that has just passed proved to be no exception.

The warmest day was the 10th, with a temperature of 90 degrees. The lowest temperature was on the 21st, 29 degrees. The daily average for the whole month was 59.4. This is very close to the average of the corresponding month of former years.

In the matter of rainfall there was a decided shortage. Only an inch and a half fell during the whole month, as compared with 5 inches 15-100 during September, 1896. The following are the dates and amounts:—

Sept. 2	.01	of an inch
" 7	.77	"
" 11	.31	"
" 13	.11	"
" 22	.30	"
" 26	.01	"
	1.51	"

There were traces of rain on two days, but not to a measurable amount. There was thunder on two days; fog on five days; dew on nine mornings, and white frost on several occasions, notably on the morning of the 21st, when tender plants were badly nipped. The first ice of the season was also formed on that occasion.

The Monthly Weather Review for September, 1896, says of that month:—"Rain fell on twelve days, on seven of which the fall was general. There was some exceptionally cool weather during the month, and unprecedented frosts on the night of the 22nd. In many parts of the province temperatures varying from 22 degrees to 26 degrees were recorded.

A New Swindle.

A new swindle has been invented and is being worked quite extensively in some sections. A farmer who wants to sell his place is called on by a smooth talking gentleman, who wants to sell the farm on a commission. He will put advertisements of the farm with attractive pictures in the leading papers, and charge a commission of five per cent when he sells the farm. The farmer signs a contract and later on, when the farmer makes a sale of his farm through some other channel, the contract turns up and it is found to read that the commission is payable whenever the farm is sold, no matter who has made sale of it. It will in the end pay the farmer, and all others as well, to deal with their local neighbours whom they know will deal with them fairly and honourably. Glib strangers don't come around for the benefit of farmers, but their own, and in nine cases out of ten there's a swindle behind every stranger who comes into a community offering tremendous bargains or profits.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. BEHEADED BY AN ELEVATOR.

The Boy Who Run the Hoist Stuck His Head Out and It Was Taken Off.

Corning, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The most shocking accident ever recorded in the history of this city occurred yesterday. William Tuttle, an elevator boy in Greig's dry goods store, while descending in the car from an upper storey, put his head out at the second floor to look at a customer. His head caught between the upper frame work of the car and the landing. It was completely severed from his body, and tumbled out on the floor. The body fell in a heap in the car. Blood spurted in streams from the inanimate trunk. The horrible spectacle completely unnerved every eye-witness.

SCALY SKIN HUMOR

Body, Head, and Arms Covered With Spots Like Drops Of Mortar.

Skin Came Off in Layers. Doctors Useless. Suffered for a Year Without Relief.

Almost Given Up Hope. Cured in 8 Weeks by CUTICURA. Skin Nice and Clear as a Baby's.

I was afflicted with an obstinate skin disease, called by some doctors Eczema and others Psoriasis. My body, head, and arms were covered with spots like drops of mortar, and which came off in layers of dry scales. I suffered for over a year without relief, and consulted several doctors but without aid, and I had almost given up hope, as my case was a bad one. I happened to see an advertisement about CUTICURA REMEDIES and got them, took them according to directions, and in eight weeks I was as well as ever. I consider myself cured, for my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have done for me.

GEO. REABURN, Hanover, Ontario, Can.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are beyond all doubt the greatest skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies of modern times. They are no long-drawn-out expensive experiment. A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure, and a full dose of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humors with loss of hair, when all else fails.

THRESH IT OUT! "YES AND WE MEAN TO DO IT."
A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 323 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Pumkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I hear them talking about the 25 cent Tea that they got there yesterday. My friend asks, what about Fruit Jars? Well what about them? Why you are the only man in town who has got them. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. I saw a load of Grapes arrive yesterday, how do you buy them that you can sell them so cheap? We buy them by the ton. DEATH OF NEAL DOW

The Grim Monster Had No Terrors for Him

HAD LIVED NINETY-THREE YEARS.

And His Mental Faculties Remained Active to the Last—The Father of the Maine Prohibition Law and the Most Prominent Temperance Man of His Time.

Portland, Me., Oct. 2.—General Neal Dow died at his residence here at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon. The end of the venerable reformer was a peaceful one, and he remained conscious until an hour before he died, recognizing his children who were gathered at his bedside. General Dow's death was due to the infirmities of old age. His vigorous body was worn out and his strength had been gradually failing for over a year, but until recently he had been able to take his accustomed drives. A week ago Saturday he was obliged to take to his bed. His mind was still clear, however, and only a few days ago he called for a paper and read a portion of it. Great weakness made talking difficult, but the little that he could say and the gestures with which he made his meaning known plainer made it clear that he knew those about him and that he was aware that the end was approaching. Once he said that he was weary and was eager for the moment of his release. Last night he said to his nurse: "This is the end and it is all right."

At another time he referred to his funeral and mentioned the names of several of the Portland clergy whom he wished to be asked to participate in the services. He also indicated his desire that the arrangements should be simple.

General Dow's death had been expected at any time for a week or more, and this afternoon it became evident that he had sunk into a state of weakness from which he could not rally. Early in the afternoon he lost consciousness and an hour later he passed away as peacefully as a sleeping infant.

A large number of messages of condolence from various parts of the country have been received.

At the time of his death he lay in the room of his library, where for years he spent much of his time. He was in his 93rd year. Up to the time of his last illness he was in the habit of rising at 5 o'clock every morning and taking a long walk. He would often drive 20 miles of an afternoon and was remarkably active for a man of his age.

Gen. Dow achieved national fame as the father of the Maine prohibition law. Since 1840 he has been the leader of the prohibitionists in this state, and has oftentimes been their champion in other commonwealths. He was perhaps the most influential temperance advocate in the United States. Twice he was called upon to go to England in the interests of the temperance cause, and he spoke in all the large cities of Great Britain.

He has been Mayor of Portland several times, and served two terms in the State Legislature. His bravery in the Civil War won him the rank of brigadier-general.

GENERAL NEAL DOW.

Neal Dow was born in Portland March 20, 1804, just across the way from the present handsome residence on Congress-street. His father was a well-to-do tanner. After being educated in the Academy the son engaged in business with his father.

Young Dow had always been taught to abhor liquor. On every occasion he used his influence against the traffic, but it is said that only by accident he was led to take the field in an open fight for prohibition. A woman whom he knew asked that he use his influence to keep her husband from drinking, as he was about to lose his position on that account. He was in the habit of getting his liquor from a certain place, and she thought that if the saloon keeper could be persuaded not to sell to him he would reform. Dow made the request for her, but he was rebuffed by the saloonkeeper. This treatment led him to begin a war on the traffic which resulted in driving every liquor dealer from the state.

In 1841 he gave up his business and started on a campaigning tour through the state. He traveled in a carriage in summer and a sleigh in winter, visiting every section of the state, delivering speeches and leaving a wide trail of temperance tracts behind. When he had saturated the state with prohibition sentiment he prepared a bill for the Legislature, which prohibited the manufacture and sale of liquor in Maine. It was passed in 1851 and every saloon was driven out of the state. Mr. Dow was serving his second term as Mayor of Portland when the law was passed.

When the war broke out he raised a regiment and went into the field as Colonel of the 13th Maine Volunteers. He rose to the rank of brigadier general. During a whole winter he was confined in Libby Prison and in 1864 was exchanged for Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. He was twice wounded in battle.

In 1866 he spent some time in England working for the abolition of the liquor traffic. Of late years he has been much at home attending to his business affairs, reading much and writing some.

In 1880 he was candidate for President of the National Prohibition ticket, receiving 10,305 votes. During all his later years Neal Dow devoted the greater part of his time to addressing meetings in all parts of the country. He was a prolific and powerful writer, and, with the exception perhaps of Father Mathew, could well be called the greatest temperance exponent of the nineteenth century.

MR. TARTE WON.

Jurors Found Mr. Grenier Guilty in the Celebrated Libel Case at Montreal in Appeal Will Follow.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—After an eight days' sensational trial the libel case of Tarte v. Grenier came to an end last night with a verdict of guilty.

It will be remembered that in this case Mr. Israel Tarte, the Dominion Minister of Public Works, had W. A. Grenier, proprietor of The Libre Parole, a French weekly paper, arrested for criminal libel on account of a violent article published in the paper, in which Mr. Tarte was charged with being a boodler and with running the Liberal party. Mr. Grenier was arrested in September, 1896, but the trial was repeatedly delayed and only came off this month.

Mr. Cornetner, Q.C., made a magnificent for his client Grenier, and delivered a powerful speech to the jury on his behalf. Mr. Tarte was defended by Mr. St. Pierre, Q.C. Judge Wurtele delivered his charge to the jury last evening, and, in reviewing the evidence, charged against the accused. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, after being out only a few minutes. The verdict caused a sensation, as it was generally expected that there would be a disagreement, and Mr. Tarte was warmly congratulated by his friends. An arrest of judgment was at once applied for and granted, and an appeal will be taken against Judge Wurtele's rulings. In the meantime Grenier has been admitted to bail.

Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh of the Northwest Territories, who arrived here to-day from England, will likely resign his gubernatorial office some time next month, although the term does not expire for another year. His Honor said to-day that there had never been such an awakening in England over Canadian affairs as at the present time. He had addressed a meeting of financial men at the Savoy, presided over by Lord Dufferin, and talked to them for an hour of Canadian resources, the result being that a strong company will be formed to push development in British Columbia and the Yukon. Governor Mackintosh is convinced that great practical results are about to accrue to Canada.

Dr. Alloway of the General Hospital died to-day.

HE SHOT HIMSELF.

George Lawrence of Guelph Took His Own Life—Had Been Out of Work for Some Time.

Guelph, Oct. 3.—On Saturday afternoon about 1 o'clock George Lawrence, a well-known musician and a respected citizen, was found in the woodshed at his residence, unconscious, with his skull fractured, and it was thought he had fallen from a ladder. He was taken to the hospital, and it was then found that he had shot himself. He died this afternoon. No cause is known for the act, unless it was despondency, he having been out of work for some time.

STRANGE DEATH OF TWO MEN.

Both Were Suffocated by Illuminating Gas on Broadway, New York.

New York, Oct. 2.—Two men were found dead in a room over the Broadway Garden, a resort in Upper Broadway, to-night, evidently having been asphyxiated by illuminating gas, which flowed into the room from a gas jet, from which the tip had been removed. One of the men engaged the room a week ago and gave his name as Robert Mondoe. He said he was organizing a theatrical company. Last night he introduced a young man about 24 years old to the club and both men went to the room. To-night they were found dead in the room, lying on the bed. The police believe it to be suicide.

Another of the Same.

New York, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Julia Hirsch, 45 years old, was found dead in her room, 133 West 100th street, Saturday. She had been asphyxiated by gas and had evidently committed suicide. The woman had been dead for three or four days.

SEVEN LIVES LOST

By Bush Fires Some Miles East of Winnipeg.

TWO WOMEN AND FIVE CHILDREN

Who Could Not Get Away From the Rapidly Flying Flames. Prairie Fires Also Do a Good Deal of Damage—Cattle, Horses and Sheep Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—A hurricane on Saturday swept bush fires over miles of country north of Beausejour, thirty-six miles east of Winnipeg, with terrible destruction to life and property. Seven people are known to have lost their lives, two women and five children, named Moreski. Their husbands are at present threshing in Western Manitoba and they were alone. Nothing but a few charred fragments of their bodies was discovered by the neighbors.

Many narrow escapes are reported. Cattle, horses and sheep are being discovered dead in all directions. Everybody in the district is left destitute and immediate assistance will be required.

Prairie fires swept the country south of Winnipeg on Saturday, destroying much property, including the Canadian Pacific bridge at La Salle. At Bagot, 70 miles west of Winnipeg, the whole town was destroyed, with two elevators and about a thousand cords of wood. The Canadian Pacific track was burned, delaying the express three hours. Only one building remains in Bagot. The telegraph wires are down and communication with the West is cut off.

The fire struck the big reserve to the west of Winnipeg yesterday afternoon, the grass burning like tinder, and to-day the prairie is dotted with dead cattle. The fire came up to the outskirts of the city and burned one house and outbuildings in Fort Rouge, but fortunately died out before doing further damage.

At Bagot station, 70 miles west on the C. P. R., the depot and several cars were burned. The Dominion Grain Company elevator, containing 20,000 bushels wheat, three stores and a warehouse, several farm buildings and produce were totally consumed. In the district north of the city a farmer named Markham was burned badly while trying to save his property and has been brought to the hospital. At Whitewater the elevator was burned.

At Oakville a lot of wood piled up for shipment was burned and a tremendous quantity of hay. Particulars are meagre yet, as the wires are down.

Andrew Scoteman, for some years a resident of Winnipeg, died in his chair at the Cosmopolitan Hotel on Saturday. Deceased's family were among the aristocracy of Holland. He was a splendid linguist, speaking seven languages.

An illicit whiskey still was found by revenue officers in the Hungarian colony near Yorkton. The owner received a sentence of one month.

SALVATION ARMY TO RECONCILE.

General Booth and His Son Ballington Said to Have Buried the Hatchet Oct. 7 to be Reconciliation Day.

Detroit, Oct. 3.—There are indications that arrangements are being made for a re-union between General Booth of the Salvation Army and his son, Ballington, as was learned here to-day. The first move in this joining of the old Salvation Army and the present American Volunteers was made when General Booth sent Major Miles here from South Africa to join the Volunteers and learn their strength and standing. He came and made his report. Then Adjutant Trumbull went through a like course, and, it is said, had long conferences with Ballington Booth, as a result of which Major Blackhurst, who has long been anxious to see father and son reconciled, was sent to England. Then came the news that both armies would celebrate Oct. 7 as reconciliation day, and the further announcement that General Booth would visit this country in January. From a staff-captain of the old army here it was learned to-day that all the details have been arranged and that Ballington is to be taken back and is to have command of the forces in America.

DAVID M'LENNAN DEAD.

Stratford Loses a Good Citizen Who Was a Well-Known Grain Dealer

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 3.—Mr. David McLennan, grain dealer, of this city, died at the hospital here this evening. He had been ailing for some time and on Saturday underwent an operation, from the effects of which he was unable to recover. Deceased was born in Ellon, Aberdeenshire, in 1836, and came to this country in 1866, doing business for a number of years in Ingersoll, then in Blyth and Clinton. He came to Stratford in 1882 and has resided here since. Mr. McLennan was well known throughout the Dominion. He was a man of sterling character and the strictest integrity and of a most genial disposition. Mrs. McLennan, with a family of three sons and four daughters, remains to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place here on Tuesday at 3 p.m.

PROSPECTORS RETURNING.

Again It is Reported That There is a Scarcity of Supplies at Dawson Too Much Whiskey Taken In.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—The steamer Farrallon arrived here to-day from Skagway, Alaska. The Farrallon had on board 110 returning prospectors, among the number being Louis Long, direct from Dawson City, which place he left Aug. 26. Long said:

"When I left Dawson the stores had stopped selling supplies and restaurants had closed because they could get nothing to cook. I believe that provisions will be scarce, although many of the miners are leaving. In my opinion, 200 or 300 will come out over the Dalton trail within the next few weeks, while a great many others are going down by St. Michael.

"It was a great mistake in trading companies to bring so much whiskey up the river instead of supplies. I myself left Dawson nine cattle had been driven in and four of them butchered.

A Working Man

Able to Keep His Place in Spite of Difficulties.

He Writes About His Condition—Wife and Children Helped.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a

Very Severe Cough

and the doctors said it was caused by my stomach troubles. I lost flesh and became so weak I was hardly able to stand up to the chair to work. One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am than I have ever been in my life. My wife and children have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for a blood medicine and realized much benefit from it. As for myself I cannot say too much for it. I firmly believe that if it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla I would not have been able to work at my trade any longer." JOHN W. COUGHLIN. Get only HOOD'S.

Stronger and Healthier

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The ladies of the Lakefield branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union assembled in the Public School on the afternoon of Sept. 17th for the purpose of presenting prizes to those of our pupils who stood highest in the subject of physiology and temperance.

The principal's room was suitably decorated with flowers, and the teachers went to some trouble by way of preparation, showing the ladies that they appreciated the interest evinced in the welfare of the children. At the hour appointed Mrs. Sherin, President of the local Union, took the chair, and the meeting was opened with singing and prayer. After a very suitable address the President in a happy manner presented the prizes as follows:

Two first prizes—Miss Lily Jewell and Miss Ethel Cox.

Second prize—Master Ira Moore.

Third prize—Miss Ethel Mollmoyl.

The Rev. Mr. Reeves congratulated the prize winners and referred to the very high stand taken by the pupils of Lakefield school on the departmental examinations, stating that the success reflected creditably on the work of both teachers and pupils. The principal read the number of marks obtained by our candidates on the subject of Temperance in 1895 and contrasted them with the number of marks obtained by the entrance candidates of this year. The comparison showed that the marks of this year are very much in advance of those of any previous year, and the difference may be accounted for largely by the encouragement the pupils received from the ladies of the local Union.

Before closing the meeting Miss Gracie Madill, on behalf of the school, presented the President with a beautiful bouquet.

Mr. T. Blezard, M.P., spent a day in our village on his way to the fair.

One of Rochester's enthusiastic disciples of the rod and reel, Mr. M. Klondolf, while out dabbing on Clear Lake, just above the village, had his strength and ingenuity taxed to the utmost. Mr. Kondolf was in the habit of fishing with three lines, and while out fishing the other day one of his lines caught on a sunken log and one of the others, as he thought, was caught in the same way, but upon investigation he discovered that he had captured a monstrous fish, so pulling it in as gently as possible, it plunged and frested until he broke the line and carried off the bait. Mr. Kondolf feeling rather blue and excited, ordered his guide to take him to the hotel where he managed to get a stronger line and bait and he immediately set out to seek Mr. Fish. He went over the same grounds several times, tempting him with the glittering spoon till at last his patience was rewarded and he landed a 23½ lb. maskinonge. Mr. Kondolf says it was the same fish, as he also found his set of hooks and a yard of his line which it swallowed.

The steamer Sunbeam passed through on Friday with a large tow of boom timber cribs and supplies for winter, belonging to Mr. Alf McDonald, who has about thirty men employed to lumber about five miles up Nogey's creek on the head of Pigeon lake. Mr. J. Dwyer is again foreman.

The Trustee Board of S. S. No. 8, Smith, held a meeting in the school house on Sept. 30th, at 7 p.m. Present—Messrs. Millar, W. J. Young and R. White. The following are the minutes of the meeting:

Moved by Mr. Young and Mr. White that Mr. Millar engage a contractor to repair the blackboards in the school house.

Moved by Mr. White and Mr. Young that the school grounds be fenced at the earliest convenience.

Moved by Mr. Young and Mr. White that a well be dug at once.

Moved by Mr. Millar and Mr. Young that Mr. Andrews be re-engaged for the year 1898, at the same salary.

Moved by Mr. Millar and Mr. White that Mr. Young superintend the furnishing of glass, etc., for school house.

Moved by Mr. Millar and Mr. Young that Mr. White superintend the digging of the well, and after it is dug to furnish a pump.

Moved by Mr. Miller and Mr. White, that the meeting adjourn.

GAMES ON SUNDAY.

At Louisville—The season of 1897 closed, the Reds defeating the home team in an interesting game. YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Ont. 4.—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE
OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

THE INDIAN TROUBLE

Is by No Means Settled According to Reports.

THE AFRIDI AND ORAKZAI TRIBES

Have Decided to Further Oppose the British Advances—A British Artist Horribly Tortured in Thibet—Engineers' Strike in England Begins to Pinch Latest News by Cable.

Bombay, Oct. 2.—Advices received here from Gulistan say the Orakzais are again gathering in force in the Khanki Valley, prepared to resist the advance of the British troops, while bands of Mamozais have arrived five miles west of Khangarhoor.

In addition, the Afridis are moving on the Khyber Pass, and the telegraph wires from there to Hangu have once more been cut.

The Chamkanis are also raiding. They have attacked a cavalry patrol near Sadda, but they decamped as soon as reinforcements arrived.

A heavy fall of snow has made the Koh Range safe.

The Ameer of Afghanistan has issued a proclamation, forbidding his subjects leaving Afghanistan, to join the holy war, under a penalty of five thousand rupees.

Things are Bad Enough.

New York, Oct. 3.—A London despatch to The Times says:

"To-night's news from India, with its obvious implication that worse things are expected than have been reported as yet, sends the public mood away down again. Misleading bulletins earlier in the week had created the notion that the punitive expeditions had about finished their work. So this revelation that it still has all to be done makes matters seem worse than they really are. Ugly growls about General Jeffreys, who has now twice misjudged the strength of the enemy, and been whipped in consequence, are beginning to sound from the press. It is significant that in the forthcoming distribution of Victoria crosses it is announced that the native Indian heroes will be decorated for the first time, as well as the British."

Arranging a Plan.

Simla, Oct. 3.—The Afridi and Orakzai chiefs have held a council at Kool and have arranged a plan to oppose the British advance.

HORRIBLE CRUELTY.

Thibetans Captured a British Artist and Treated Him Unmercifully.

Bombay, Oct. 3.—Mr. Henry Savage Landor, the well-known artist, traveler and writer, and grandson of the celebrated Walter Savage Landor, has just returned to India after a most terrible experience. He had undertaken an exploring tour in Thibet, but he was abandoned by all the members of his company except two coolies. Finally the Thibetans arrested him by an act of treachery, sentenced him to death, and, after torturing him with hot irons nearly cutting [illegible] execution. Last moment the execution was stopped by the Grand Lama, who commuted the sentence to torture by the "stretching log," a species of rack, which greatly injured Mr. Landor's spine and limbs. After being detained for eight days he was released. Mr. Landor has no fewer than 22 wounds as the result of his tortures.

Henry Savage Landor has for some years occupied a leading position among Asiatic and African travelers, and he has traversed many of the less known parts of Australia and the South American continent. His principal publications are "Alone with the Hairy Ainu," or Three Thousand Eight Hundred Miles on a Pack Saddle."

Mr. Landor has written scores of minor narratives of his travels in Japan, China, South Mongolia and the Kurile Islands.

Mr. Landor had been commissioned by The Daily Mail to endeavor to reach L'Hassa, the capital city of Thibet, the residence of the Grand Llama, on an affluent of the River San Po.

The Grand Llama is said to be the most opulent individual in existence. The great Temple of Buddha, which is also the residence of the Llama, is a vast square edifice covering with its precincts many acres, its centre being surmounted by a gilded dome. The interior is said to be full of idols, treasure and works of art. The offerings are enormous. Contiguous to the temple, on its four sides, are four celebrated monasteries, greatly resorted to by the Chinese and Mongolian schools of the Buddhist religion and philosophy.

THESE BE TROUBLOUS TIMES.

West Africa Now Showing Signs of the Aggressiveness of the French.

London, Oct. 2. Unless the signs are deceiving, trouble is brewing in West Africa between the British and the French, who, since 1889, have trebled their protectorate in the Western Soudan, and the great bulk of the accession to French territory has been carved out of country generally regarded as being within the British sphere of influence. A high Colonial Office official said: "The native element amounts to nothing, but the fact is the French are hemming us in at old Lagos and pushing us into the sea, and unless we are rehabilitated by a commission to delimitate the Anglo-French frontier more successfully than formerly, there is bound to be trouble."

LORD SALISBURY "ROASTED."

Leading Liberals are After the British Premier With Sharp Sticks.

London, Oct. 2. The question ironically asked by the Conservative press relative to the whereabouts of the Liberal leaders has been answered in trip-hammer style during the past week by the speeches of John Morley, the former Chief Secretary for Ireland; Mr. H. H. Asquith, the former Home Secretary, and Mr. George W. E. Russell, former Under-Secretary of State for India. "Disgrace abroad" and "disaster at home" were the tenor of all the speeches, as was to be expected, but it must be admitted that the arraignment is approved by the consciences of many Conservatives, when they recall the record of the last two years or so. Mr. Russell, in dealing with the subject, recalled Prince Bismarck's verdict of Lord Salisbury as being "a lath painted to look like iron," and Lord Randolph Churchill's later estimate of the Premier as being "the greatest funk in Europe." Mr. Russell added his own opinion of Lord Salisbury, namely: "Frailty, thy name is Cecil."

Continuing, Mr. Russell said Lord Salisbury backed down before Secretary Olney and is now backing down before Sherman, and that during the course of the peace negotiations between Greece and Turkey the Czar and Emperor William handled Lord Salisbury so effectually that he was made to eat his own pronouncements. Mr. Russell concluded with remarking: "His Lordship has just conceded to the French full sovereignty over Tunis and signs are not wanting that they will soon begin to elbow us out of Egypt. Even the Mussulman savages of India have taken part, knowing they are dealing with a mere man of words. In short, there are no limits to the endurance of poltroonery in high places."

THEY STILL DISAGREE.

The German Emperor is Still Out With the Iron Ex-Chancellor.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The reports of a reconciliation between Emperor William and Prince Bismarck, founded upon messages which have passed with reference to the naming of the new cruiser, have received a wet blanket. The Kaiser, in a telegram sent to the Grand Duchess of Baden, upon the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of the Empress Augusta, speaks of the nation's admiration, gratitude and love for the ex-Empress, and adds: "History will accord her a memorial which none will avail to destroy."

This expression is interpreted as a rebuke to Prince Bismarck for his reminiscences regarding Empress Augusta, told in the course of a recent interview.

IT BEGINS TO PINCH.

Workmen are Now Feeling the Pressure in the Engineering Strike in England.

London, Oct. 3.—The engineering dispute is believed to be really nearing its end. The union has paid out over a year's subscriptions in strike pay. It also realized on a considerable amount of invested funds.

Several firms in London that have tried the eight-hour day have reverted to nine hours, finding that the eight-hour day did not result even in eight-ninths of the work done in the nine-hour day.

Stagnation in the allied trades is now beginning to affect 250,000 men. The union desires a conference with the employers, and is even disposed to promise not to interfere with the management of the workshops if they will consider the question of hours. The employers say they do not wish a conference, but a settlement is likely, as the men are anxious to return to work. Contracts are daily being diverted abroad.

The President of the Board of Trade has been consulted by the leaders of both sides, and there is now a fair prospect of a speedy conference of employers and federated trades, and a compromise on the basis of 51 working hours weekly.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that I written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. T. MULFORD, Assiniboia Supplies, P.O. Box 39, St. Henri, Que.

Our Representative Called on Mr. Geo. Vallillee, the Well-Known Retired House Builder, and the following Conversation Which Ensued Will Interest a Great Many Readers.

"Mr. Vallillee, it has come to our notice that you have been a sufferer with kidney disease for a long time. Will you tell us something about it for publication?"

"I will be glad to do so."

"When did you first notice symptoms of kidney complaint?"

"Something over three years ago."

"What were the prominent smyptoms?"

"Pains in my back so that I could hardly stoop, no end of headaches, dizziness, puffing under my eyes, swelling of the hands and feet, sleeplessness and urinary difficulties."

"I presume you suffered greatly?"

"Yes, I suffered intensely."

"Did you try any other remedies?"

"Yes, I tried a number of different medicines, but none of them helped me. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, however, I got a box.

"Did they have a good effect?"

"Yes, they are a perfect cure. From the first few doses I got relief, and the improvement continued, until, after using them for six weeks the pains are gone. My appetite has returned, I sleep well, the dizziness, puffing, swelling and headaches have entirely disappeared, and I am better in every way than I have been for years."

"What do you think cured you?"

"Nothing else but Doan's Kidney Pills caused this remarkable cure, and I heartily recommend them to all those who suffer as I did." 182

Is This Indian Summer?

Is it Indian Summer that we are having, or what is it. It is early; it ought not to come till the end of October, and after the first flurry of snow, but there is a decided haze, and a soft, soaky, fluffy, sepoy-wooly, cuddlesome sort of warmth that circulates around the inside of your vest, tickles you under the chin, brings the blush of the peach to your cheeks, and is extremely Indian summer like. It may be merely one of the numerously assorted freaks of weather that we have had for some time. If so, 'tis well. In any case, 'tis well, so let the band play on.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

An Urgent Matter.

An accident occurred at the Locks on Saturday night which tends to emphasize the complaints that have been made by steamer owners as to the lack of lights on the Otonabee river. Owing to the absence of the regulation lights, which it is understood have been ordered to be placed on the three bridges spanning the river, steamers coming up the river complain of having no lights to guide them, and it can be easily understood how expensive accidents are likely to happen. On Saturday night the steamer North Star, in making the locks, sustained an accident that resulted in the breaking of some part of her machinery.

Mr. Smiff on Onions.

An acre and a quarter of onions, and six hundred bushels of those get there bulbs. How does that touch you? That is what Mr. W. Ventress has produced at his market garden on Nogey's Creek. Imagine six hundred bushels of raw onions consumed, say, in the morning. It would stop every clock in the country. A fog would rise that would have to be shovelled from the streets, and the birds of the air would take one gasp and die. Happily for the community Mr. Ventress proposes to put them on the market in a gently flowing stream. This will tone down their obstruisveness, and relieve the neighbourhood from any fear of danger.—Independent.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affections of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson of the Standard Band now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

OSGOODE II WINS AT RUGBY FOOTBALL.

THE SCORE IS FIFTEEN POINTS TO FOUR.

A Record of the Game—The Quality of the Home Team—Good Material to be Developed.

Although the Peterborough Rugby team was beaten on Saturday by fifteen points to four by the Osgoode Hall fifteen, of Toronto, still the snappy game which the home boys put up was such to create a very favourable impression. The visitors have put in a month's practice, and are all players of several seasons' experience. The Peterboroughs on the contrary have a large number of green men on, who have had no experience and very little practice indeed. Taking these points into consideration the local fifteen are to be congratulated on the game which they played.

Peterborough's quarter, halves and back were veterans at the game, and their work was splendid. The scrimmage with a little more experience will soon get on to the trick of heeling the ball out to the quarter.

On Saturday a little too much vigour was put into the heeling out, and the ball was sent past Chris. Graham at quarter out into the hands of the halves. Before they could rid themselves of it, the wings generally had broken through and were on top of them. This was almost the only point in which Peterborough was lacking, although a lower and more effective tackle should be adopted. The Osgoode men were often able to make ten or fifteen feet after being tackled high, whereas if they had been caught their career would have been instantly ended. The Peterborough wings, though lighter than the visitors, held their men well.

The teams were composed as follows:—

Osgoode Hall.		Peterborough.
Victor McWilliams	back	A Scott
Parmenter	halves	A T Lefevre
Hond		A Letellier
Towers		L King
Jones	quarter	C Graham
Jellett	scrimage	H Rickey
Atkinson		C Collins
Synge		E Rutherford
R F McWilliams	wings	Hal Burnham
McLellan		B Hurdon
Story		A Hollingshead
McLean		C Bradburn
Ferguson		V Austin
Hilton		Garnet Bell
Wadsworth (Capt.)		R Davidson
Referee		W J Montgomery
Umpire		Sam Adams

At the start off Osgoode by scrimaging along the line made foot by foot and the ball was dangerously near the Peterborough touchline, when the local team was awarded a free kick as a penalty on Osgoode for "holding." Not much was gained by the kick, however, as the ball fell into the hands of an Osgoode half back who promptly returned it. Another free kick was given Peterborough a few minutes afterwards on Osgoode's off side. Peterborough gained a good deal of ground, but by scrimaging along the line Osgoode regained what they had lost foot by foot. By the time the play was working well down into Peterborough ground, the boys began to pick up and adopt a more aggressive style of work. King and Graham making some very effective plays.

A long kick from an Osgoode half sent the ball far down the field. Scott made his only miss of the day and King had to rouge to save a touch.

AFTER THE KICK OFF,

Letellier began to shine and his low tackles became quite a feature. He and Lefevre did some nice passing across the field and were well backed up by Scott. King and Davidson also did some neat passing and rushed the ball down the field together in fine style. Davidson dribbled the ball past McWilliams and with a rush the Peterborough wings were on Osgoode's full back, and a tackle in goal followed, giving Peterborough two points.

A most unfortunate incident occured during the tackle in goal. Roger Davidson's nose being forced down on McWilliam's knee in such a manner as to displace the cartilage and lead to the belief that it was broken. Dr. Moher, however, adjusted the disfigured member, but it was far too sore an injury to permit of Roger going on the field again. He was replaced by Forbes.

Peterborough now had an advantage of one point in the score and they held it until half time was called. Just before the whistle blew to change ends Osgoode was pressing hard and would doubtless have scored another point in a few seconds, having Graham cornered with the ball.

Peterborough started off the second half with the prettiest piece of play of the day. The ball was heeled out of the scrimmage to Graham, who passed back to King. Lionel made a great run down the field and just as he was being tackled, passed to Letellier, who rushed on with the ball and passed in turn to Lefevre when collared. Lefevre got within six feet of the touch line before he was downed. By strenuous work of the scrimmage Osgoode was enabled to slowly work the play away from so dangerous a quarter and the ball went down the field, only however to be returned again. When about the middle of the field an Osgoode man was caught off side and a free kick was awarded to Peterborough. Scott tried for a goal and a great cheer announced that he had placed the ball truly, making the best kick of the day. The score now stood 4 to 1 in favour of Peterborough.

In the kick off by Osgoode, Lefevre caught the ball, but it slipped from his foot sideways when he went to kick it and it dropped close in to the Peterborough touch line when the Osgoode's wings were on it like a flash and rushed it over the line, getting a touch a try. They failed to convert the try but tallied four points on the touch, making the score 8—4 in their own favour.

The fast game which they had been playing began to tell on the Peterboroughs and Osgoode Hall being in better shape from constant practice, was able to push the game hard. A rouge, a touch and another rouge and a second touch brought the score up to 15—4 before time was called.

NOTES.

Parmenter did some great work in "bucking the line."

Andy Scott makes a dandy full back.

Hollingshead was marking Wadsworth, the visitors' best man, on the wing. Neither of them saw the ball once, being generally engaged in a quiet little scrap of their own.

Lefevre, Letellier and King made a great half back line, and Chris Graham was very quick as a quarter.

The McWilliams brothers, who are playing with Osgoode this year, are putting up a strong game. Roly dislocated his shoulder four times in Saturday's game, but with his accustomed grit he never thought of giving up.

Hal Burnham should be played in closer to the scrimmage. With his weight he would steady the line better from the inside.

Jellett has played cricket here with the T. C. S. He wore a mask to protect his ears and nose in the game and did some grand work.

The next game will doubtless draw a large crowd.

HIGH COURT SITTINGS.

Justice Street is Presiding—Only One Criminal Case in the Docket.

The autumn sittings of the High Court of Justice opened this afternoon before Justice Street.

The Grand Jury is composed as follows: John I Davidson, John Gilchrist, Robert Innes, W G Morrow, Peterborough; Samuel Edmunds, Dummer; Geo Elliott, Wm Oakman, Asphodel; H C Garbutt, Smith; Richard Hope, Otonabee; W G Johnston, North Monaghan; Jas McNeil, Keene, Louis Parker, Harvey; Porter Preston, Belmont.

The only case in the criminal docket is that of the Queen vs. Lund on a charge of rape.

In addressing the Grand Jury His Lordship dwelt on the fact that this was one of the cases about which it was always necessary to be particularly careful. A number of circumstances had been commented upon by judges as being worthy of the consideration of juries in this connection, and as likely to lead them to a true estimate of the value of the charges before them.

No charge can be laid unless a woman swore to it and even then it was not necessary that the act had been committed. It must be done against the will of the woman. If she was a consenting party at any time before the act, no matter how repentant she was afterwards, then no crime had been committed. When it really is committed then indeed it is a terrible outrage. When this is the case it is customary for the woman to tell the first person she meets whom she can confide in—a father, mother, brother or sister, and the jury must ascertain if the woman did this at the earliest possible opportunity. Was an outory heard? If she could have been heard in such a case and was not then there was a doubt raised. If she was a strong woman she would naturally resist and would bear bruises and her clothes would be torn. Then again did the man fly from the country or go about his duties as usual. These are circumstances, concluded Justice Street, which you must enquire into when the case is brought before you.

The Grand Jury then retired, and in about half an hour returned with a true bill in Queen vs. Lund. Prisoner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

The first case taken up was that Patterson vs. The Central Canada Loan and Savings Company. The plaintiffs are Lillie Bernice Patterson, Katherine M. Jordan and Geo. H. Patterson, children of Alexander and Mary Patterson. Damage to the amount of two thousand dollars is claimed for the waste and depredation of the plaintiffs' estate in Asphodel, and an injunction restraining defendants from further acts and costs of the action.

The defendants have bought out the claim of the plaintiff, Kathleen M. Jordan.

Mr. N. F. Davidson, of Toronto, is acting for the plaintiffs, and Dumble & Johnston, of Peterborough, for the defendants.

The other members of the bar present are: Messrs. H. M. Deroche, Q.C., Napanee; Geo. H. Watson, Q.C., Toronto; N. H. Davidson, Toronto; R. E. Wood, W. H. Moore, G. M. Roger, D. W. Dumble, L. M. Hayes, Jno. Green, F. D. Kerr, R R. Hall, F. W. Gladman, D O'Connell, C. W. Sawers, W. F. Johnston, E. H. D. Hall, Geo. Edmison.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION; THE GRAND FINALE.

A HOT FINISH ON THE DRILL SHED TRACK.

Nassau Annexes the X—The Bridge Works Team Failed to Bridge the Town, but Nassau Yanked the Town Northward.

The finally final finish of the Central Exhibition, struggle for supremacy—the real tug of war, which could not be pulled off at the time of the exhibition, took place at the drill shed on Saturday night.

This supplementary event was run off in the presence of very few spectators, and in the presence of the president, Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, Superintendent Hunter and Mr. James Davidson, director. Mr. Gus Sawers was timekeeper. The Sons of England band was present and furnished excellent music during the evening.

The teams lined—or rather roped—up as follows:

The Peterboroughs—Messrs. Wm. McNairn, John Newhall, Robert Campbell, A. Brotherson, Wm. Porter, Thos. Armstrong.

The Bridge Works—Messrs. A. Armstrong, A. Killenbeck, W. Wilson, J. Dennaird, John O'Connor and M. Lowery.

Nassau—Messrs. Robert Hull, Robert Robinson, Warren Hall, James Hall, Geo. Hall and David Hamilton.

The first named in the respective teams are the captains and did not pull, the teams being composed of five men each.

The first heat was a close pull between Nassau and the Bridge Works' team, the result at the call of time being that the up-stream pullers had 14 inches of the rope on their side of the middle mark.

Singularly enough 14 inches represented the advantage of the Peterboroughs over the Bridge Works' team in the second heat. This put the Bridge Works' team out of the contest and the tug of war lay between the town team and the Nassau. There was no difficulty in deciding the result. Nassau seemed determined to annex Peterborough and seemed to be able to haul the town as far up the river as they chose, winning the pull in a canter.

The first money, $10, went to the Nassau team, which looked to be the lightest of all the teams that entered, and Peterborough pulled itself into second place.

There is a picture of the Queen's arrival at Windsor prior to the Jubilee, and Her Majesty's face and figure are plainly shown. It is noticeable that the vibrations which mar most kinetoscope pictures are almost entirely absent in these pictures, which are very steady and clear. MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

Officers Elected For the Year—Rev. H. Symonds Received as a Member.

The Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. Parlour this morning at 10 a.m. The Rev. H. Symonds, M. A., of St. Luke's, was received as a member of the Association. The Rev. S. Bates, of College street Baptist church, Toronto, was introduced to the Association and spoke words of greeting.

Arrangements were made for visitation of Hospital and Protestant Home.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of Rev. A. T. Dykeman as President and Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B., as Secretary.

A committee was appointed to prepare a programme for the monthly meetings.

A Microbe's Work.

A microbe is about the smallest thing one meets in a day's journey, but it can do more harm for its size than anything known. Boils, pimples, etc., are simply microbes in the skin which cause irritating blood disorders, if not stopped at once; and it is they that prevent wounds healing also. "Quickcure" kills the microbe immediately after application, and any sore heals rapidly where "Quickcure" is used.

Guy Bros.

Read what the Peterborough EXAMINER said of the show last year:—The Guy Bros. drew their usual big house in Peterborough last night, and gave so excellent an entertainment as to ensure them a royal welcome next time they come around. The jokes of the end men were all new, and from beginning to end the fun was fast and furious. The soloists were all in fine voice and the chorus work of the quartette has to be heard to be appreciated. The specialists were all above the average. The Guy Bros. appear at Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday evening next. Watch for the grand street parade at noon.

REV. S. S. BATES IN PARK ST. CHURCH.

HE DELIVERED TWO ANNIVERSARY SERMONS YESTERDAY.

A Stirring Address in the Morning on the Strength and Beauty of the Sanctuary—A Social to be Held This Evening.

Anniversary Sunday was observed in the Park street Baptist church yesterday, and the interior of the building was most tastefully decorated for the occasion. Garlands of evergreens and bright coloured autumn leaves surrounded the windows and doors, and the front of the platform was fairly banked with potted bloom and foliage plants.

In introducing Rev. S. S. Bates, of the College street Baptist church, Toronto, to the congregation, Rev. Mr. Mr. Elliott, the pastor, spoke of the many reminiscences which the name recalled to all Baptists, Miss Bates being the first missionary sent to the Telegu field, and the name of the late of the Woodstock College, being still borne in loving remembrance. He also mentioned the fact that whilst residing in Toronto the speaker who was about to address them had been a firm friend and invaluable adviser to him.

Before beginning his sermon Rev. Mr. Bates thanked the pastor for his kind reference to his relatives, and in speaking of his associations with Rev. Mr. Elliott in Toronto, stated that the friendship had been a most pleasant one to him, and he assured the congregation that their pastor's work in the Y.M.C.A. there reflected the greatest credit upon him.

His sermon was based upon the text—"Strength and beauty are in His sanctuary," being a portion of the 6th verse of Psalms, xcvi. This he explained was part of a poem written by King David at the time the ark was being brought up to Jerusalem from Obed-edom. The remainder of the beautiful poem could be found in 1st Chronicles, xcvi. On this occasion there was great joy in Israel. Many went with the ark to place it in the tabernacle built by King David in Jerusalem. As he thought of the bringing up of the ark many were generated within him and this particular pome was one of them.

If he had been speaking of Solomon's temple it would have been no surprise to hear David use the above expression, as the beauty and strength of that magnificent edifice are well known, out as it was he referred to the simple tent of hides erected about the ark. He must, therefore have been thinking more of the spiritual than of the material strength and beauty of the sanctuary.

There is strength to be found in the sanctuary because God is there. It will be remembered that when it was dedicated His presence there was indicated by a cloud. David recognized God's presence everywhere, but especially in His sanctuary, and therefore he sings of its strength and beauty.

God was the strength of the king and the strength of the nation, and where He is there is power.

Just as truly as the sanctuary was given strength and beauty because God was there, so will it be with this church.

Many persons do not attend church on Sundays, but seek their God in the parks. There is much to be seen of God in nature and David recognized this, but he did not spend all his time seeking Him in this manner and forsake the Home of the Lord, but went there to behold Him in all His beauty. He would rather be a humble doorkeeper in His sanctuary than dwell in the tents of wickedness.

THE PEOPLE OF ISRAEL

came three times a year in pilgrimages to worship at Jerusalem, and David recognized that the strength of his throne rested with the people who worshipped God in the beauty of His holiness. They are the people that give strength to a nation and elevate it. Righteousness exalts a nation—sin degrades it.

What is to be found under heaven stronger than a holy man or woman.

Is there anything that has power to lift up? Then it finds centre and its source in the house of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Young Men's Christian Association, the Y. W. C. A., the W. C. T. U. and a thousand other similar organizations all spring from the same source. Take out of them the men and women that are Christians and you take out of them their strength and beauty. Back of all of them is the living Church of Christ.

How long is the arm of the church which reaches out to distant countries bearing the missionary light to the darkened, ministering to the sick and afflicted and helping those cast down in body and soul. They were not unbelievers who went out, but men and women in His name who were planting a tree whose branches shall extend throughout all the world.

What beauty there is in a Christian life, wholly cut off from sin and devoted entirely to the Lord.

The speaker then made a strong appeal to the

to lead such lives as would in after years cause their children to look upon them as things of strength and beauty and lead them to think of them in times when if no good example had been before their eyes their downfall might be certain. When David went to God's house he did not go to see or be seen, but to worship God and in this manner his soul went out on the wings of praise that he might adore his Jehovah.

In all the services in God's house there should be both beauty and simplicity and then there will be strength. Let the people know what they are doing for Him. Let the choir sing for Him. Let the minister pray and preach, not to hear his own voice or to air his logic and eloquence, but that the people may see Jesus as He is.

BLENDED TRUTH AND SONG.

SONG SERMON AT THE CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

"Where is Heaven and how to Reach it?" the Subject of Rev. D. O. Crossley's Sermon—An Interesting Sermon. Punctuated with Heavenly Song.

Last night the pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, delivered the first of a series of song sermons, which he will give on the first Sunday evening of each month during his pastorate.

The church edifice was crowded to its full capacity and the congregation joined with great heartiness in the familiar hymns and sacred songs which the preacher made incidental to his sermon.

The service began with the singing of the Doxology, the preliminary services being conducted by Rev. W. B. Smith, who announced Hymn 337—"Come ye that love the Lord." After prayer came the anthem, the solo being taken by Miss Florence Hall and the duet by Messrs. Davis and Squire, the effect in both cases being excellent.

"Light of the World,"

After the lesson—the 84th Psalm, "How amiable are Thy tabernacles O Lord of Hosts,"—the 100th hymn was sung—"There is a land of pure delight."

The preacher, who did not take a text from Scripture, announced his subject as

"HEAVEN, AND HOW TO GET THERE."

We knew of earth and its conditions through the medium of the senses, but all our knowledge of heaven comes from divine revelation. We usually thought of heaven as the seat of the throne of God and the home of the blest. Many persons tried to believe that there was no hell, but all desired heaven, and had more or less hope of sometime and in some way attaining its bliss.

In answer to the query "where is Heaven?" the preacher related an incident in which a dying girl greeted a sister who had died the day before, though unknown to the former, and had entered into the bliss of heaven. Referring to the comfort of knowing that our loved ones were there, the preacher, in illustration, sang in good style two verses of that sacred song

"O, think of a Home over there," in which the congregation heartily joined. The Scriptural references to heaven were to it as a "home," a "city" and a "better country," indicating that heaven was not only a condition but a place, a world of beauty and bliss.

At this point a solo and chorus was sung:

"There's a beautiful world," the solo being taken very expressively by Mr. A. L. Davis. The refrain of the chorus was repeated at the close pianissimo. It was an important question, the preacher continued, to know how to get to this beautiful world, and he went on to point out the Living Way which God had cast up for those who had by their sins, forfeited all claims to heaven and its happiness. We lived in an age and in a land wherein all knew the way to heaven. The way was repentance towards God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. As expressive of the way to the "better land," the preacher announced the song and chorus,

REV. D. O. CROSSLEY.

Look Away to the Cross, and himself took the solo in excellent voice and spirit. The way to heaven was the way of the cross, and any that had given this look of faith was on the way to heaven, that place of bliss, and all that was needed was to "just keep on." As you are on the way to a joyous land, lead a joyous life, make your religious life a cheerful one, and let its brightness reflect on those about you. The bright faced Christian was the one that attracted most sinners to a better life. "Think," said the preacher, "of the day of your conversion as the brightest day of your life, and sing,

"Oh Happy Day that Fixed my Choice," and the preacher sang, with the congregation assisting him, a portion of this well known hymn.

But this was a world of care and sorrow, from which none were exempt, but we should think of the land where there was no sorrow and care, and the preacher and congregation sang in illustration:

"There'll be no sorrow there."

We could know that our friends were enjoying a sorrowless heaven, but the time would come when we had to look forward to the end of our own lives, but in that moment we should have the victory, and as our fleeting breath grew fainter could, in view of our eternal home, sing—

"I'm going home to die no more,"

and the preacher, assisted by the choir and congregation, sang the first verse of the hymn with the refrain:—

"Home! Home! Sweet, sweet home, Prepare us dear Saviour for Heaven, our home."

which was sung with pathetic softness and sweetness.

After the collection was taken the preacher announced that for the past seven years it had been his custom to give a song sermon the first Sunday in every month. These services would not be sensational but be an endeavour to blend truth and song.

Then followed the singing of two verses of the familiar song—and the interesting, if novel, song service came to a close with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Mr. Smith.

"The sweet bye and bye,"

Special to the Examiner.

Norwood, Oct. 4.—A fire, which originated from some unknown cause in the boiler room, destroyed the cheese factory here, owned by E. S. Squires, this morning. About $2,800 worth of cheese, which was insured for $1,500, was lost by the patrons. The building and machinery were insured for $1,200, which will almost cover the loss.

SATURDAY'S ROAD RACE.

The First Four Place Prizes Awarded—The Race to be Run Over Next Saturday.

The Electric Company employees road race was held on Saturday afternoon, but owing to certain circumstances which will be explained hereafter, the riders will again go over the course next Saturday to decide the time prizes and a number of the place prizes as well.

It was arranged that the course should be from the corner of Water and Smith streets up to Nassau and back to the Nicholls Park track by the River road on the east side. Arriving at the track the riders were to encircle it three times and this is where the muddle occurred, as with a score of riders scorching around the track it was found to be impossible to check them and ascertain which ones had gone the required distance.

The men were sent off as follows:

Scratch—Milne 26, Bryson 27, Ramsden 28, Davis 29.

½ minute—Jackson 23, Rubidge 24, Grant 25.

2 minutes—Jefferies 20, Morton 21, Miller 22.

3 minutes—Shepherd 17, Hopkins 18, Brundrett 19, W Sawyer 31.

3 1-2 minutes—Cuncannon 32, Spillsbury 33, Bullen 34.

4 minutes—Crowley 13, Robinson 15, Wilgar 16.

5 minutes—Holt 8, Wilson 9, Tovey, jr, 10.

6 minutes—Akey 2, Hubbs 3, Kane 4, Byers 6, McMillan 7.

Tovey was the first rider to reach the track on the return trip. He was followed by Wilgar and the two almost made a lap before the other riders commenced to string in. By the time the first two had gone twice around almost all the others were on the track, and as they passed the tape in rapid succession the judges soon lost all trace of their men, finding it totally impossible to keep "tab" of him after a rider had passed the tape and when he finished. This being the case, the timers could do nothing.

It was decided therefore to award the first four prizes to the riders whom the judges decided had finished at the front, and in order to settle who should have the others, as well as the time prizes, to run the race over again on Saturday next. The prizes were given to Tovey, Morton, Holt and Rubidge. Just how Wilgar was missed, no one knows, as he certainly followed Tovey from the time he came on the track, and no rider passed him until the finish. Just after he crossed the tape for the third time he collided with Rubidge, and had a bad fall, Ramsden running over him. He was, however, fully twenty feet past the mark and had slowed up, knowing that he had finished. He was badly bruised and scraped by the fall but nothing serious resulted.

Needless to say on Saturday the riders will only be asked to go around the track once, and the next race will cause far more excitement than the first one.

A matched mile race between Messrs. G. T. Coventry and Walter Stone resulted in an easy victory for the former.

THE ELECTRIC SMOKER.

It Turned Out to be a Great Success in the S. O. E. Hall on Saturday.

The smoking concert held by the employees of the Electric Works on Saturday night in the Sons of England Hall was a great success. It was well attended, and shortly after eight o'clock the smoke was thick enough to cut with a knife, testifying the huge enjoyment of those present.

The programme was a first class one, the contributors to it being Messrs. W. Edwards, W. B. Wilcox, Alf. Kingscote, J. Watson, J. Brownlee, R. H. Shepherd, J. W. Wilson, L. Forbes, J. Tranter, H. Westbrook, H. E. Cluxton, W. Taylor and W. J. Squires. Mr. Minchuel kindly played the accompaniments.

Of course Mr. Forbes was the lion of the evening, and his stirring songs evoked the most enthusiastic applause. Mr. W. H. Lech played his accompaniment.

During the evening prizes were presented to Messrs. Tovey, Morton, Hall and Rubidge, which they had won during the afternoon at the road race.

Great credit is due to Mr. R. E. Layfield for the manner in which he "worked up" the excellent programme.

A JOINT CONFERENCE HELD

Between the Children's Aid Society and the Ladies who Organized Recently for Rescue Work.

The Women's Association recently formed, expressed a wish to meet the Children's Aid Society at eleven o'clock this morning, at which hour the meeting was held.

The secretary of the Children's Aid Society addressed the meeting to the effect that his investigations from time to time, and the progress of the Children's Aid work revealed the fact that the chief executive officer or secretary must be a woman and not a man.

In the first place, a man could not pay visits to houses for the purpose of giving sympathetic counsel and advice, as well as to see what could be done for the family in case of need as, of course, could be readily seen, and also a man always laid himself open to charges which were more easy to make than to disprove.

He said that it was plain that the executive officer should be a woman, but that the duty of the men was to back the women up by financial aid.

In tendering his resignation of the secretary-treasurership, in furtherance of this plan, he called their attention to the machinery, which had been found fully suited to the work as far as it went, and when a shelter was added would be, under the women's management, a perfect contrivance for relief and protection and redress.

A resolution was then passed by the Children's Aid Society, stating their views as to the absolute necessity of a shelter and their earnest desire to co-operate with the ladies in aiding them in any way in their power.

The ladies are meeting this afternoon and will send a deputation to wait on the council this evening.

Mrs. Ecclestone says the pains have never returned since her recovery, and her happiness over her restoration to sound health is indescribable.

Combined Poultry and Dairying.

Prof. John A. Myers, director of the West Virginia Experiment Station, writes in Hoard's Dairyman:

"If we combine the dairy and poultry business, we make a most happy union, and I have often wondered that our dairymen do not place more emphasis upon poultry as a source of income.

"The poultry business requires no large amount of capital, and labor upon the farm that would otherwise be idle can very largely be utilized in caring for it. The same families that take the dairy products will be only too glad to get the poultry supplies, so that there is no additional expense in marketing the supplies. Every hen properly cared for can be expected to pay the owner at least one dollar net per year in eggs, and considerable additionally either in form of eggs or of chickens raised for sale. Considerable poultry can be kept largely upon what would otherwise be wastes of the dairy business. Buttermilk or skim milk fed to hens will pay better than used any other way with which I am acquainted. There are wastes about the dairy stable which cannot be utilized in any way as effectively as by poultry, which pick up the lost grain, whether in the manger or in the manure pile, and convert it into profit.

"Poultry properly handled gives the farmer a certain and ample income at the time of the year when dairymen are generally most anxious to have the deficiencies of the dairy made good, and there is never a time in the year when poultry products may not find a fair market.

"Much of the mixed food for dairy cattle is admirably adapted for feeding poultry; little additional building is necessary; no additional help is required.

"For myself I prefer the egg producing varieties to the all-purpose fowl, or fowl that is especially adapted for killing as meat. In the long run, I think the egg producers more profitable than the meat producers, and that is a question of taste, and the point is not to keep any fowls upon the farm that do not pay a profit to the owner. The man who expects to secure both qualities in a chicken is like the man who wants a good beef and a good dairy cow in the same animal. It is best to determine what a man wishes to do and work to that end."

Popular Hotel Man.

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and head which caused me much annoyance. After trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle helped me and I took four bottles. I am now completly cured." JAMES REILLEY, Proprietor Chapman House, Sarnia, Ont.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

Pain in the Back.

Mr. M. P. Halpin, Brockville, Ont., makes a statement as follows: "For two years I suffered from kidney trouble, causing severe pain across my back, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness, etc. I had often to lean on the counter when serving a customer, so intense was the pain in my back. On taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved from the very first, and now after using three boxes am all right; all my pains, aches and dizziness having disappeared, thanks to Doan's Pills."

BASEBALL RECORD.

A TREAT FOR THE COCKNEYS.

London, Oct. 1.—The exhibition baseball match between Toronto and Syracuse teams of the Eastern League played this afternoon was attended by 1000 people. There was plenty of heavy batting on both sides. Toronto's errors were responsible for two of the four runs secured by the Stars in the sixth innings. Syracuse won out by timely hitting in the latter stage of the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toronto ..... 3 0 0 1 2 1 0 0 0—	7	8	5
Syracuse ..... 1 0 0 3 0 4 2 2 *—	12	15	1

Batteries—Gaston and Snyder; Horton and Ryan. Umpire—White.

NEAR THE NATIONAL'S END.

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—The Orioles had no trouble in trouncing the Senators to-day, although the latter hit Hoffer more freely than the former hit McJames. Several very pronounced errors upon the part of the visitors did the trick. In spite of the fact that the home team had a patchwork nine in the field, and the visitors were anxious to win in order to make their hold upon the sixth place more secure. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore .. .. 1 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 2—	7	10	1
Washington .. .. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 2 0—	4	12	4

Batteries—Hoffer and Bowerman; McJames and Farrell.

At Louisville—Ritchie's error with two men on bases, in the third innings, gave the Colonels the game. Breitenstein was quite effective against the Colonels, Nance and Clarke being the only men to connect safely with his delivery. Clarke made the greatest catch ever seen here in the ninth innings, robbing McPhee of a triple. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville .. .. 0 0 3 0 2 0 0 0 *—	5	5	1
Cincinnati .. .. 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—	3	8	1

Batteries—Cunningham and Dexter; Breitenstein and Schriver.

At Pittsburg — By winning two games from Cleveland to-day, Pittsburg secures a good hold on the sixth place. The first game was full of costly errors by the home team, but was won in the ninth by Hoffmeister knocking a three-bagger when the bases were full. The second game was won by the Pirates' hitting at times when it meant runs. "Hoffy" had only one hit, but it was a long one to left field, on which he made the circuit of bases. Game called on account of darkness. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.

LOUGHEAD WON TWICE.

Detroit, Oct. 1. — "Spooner's Tourists" had splendid weather for the first day of the National Circuit bicycle races, which were run this afternoon on the quarter-mile board track under the auspices of the Detroit wheelmen.

The mile open, professional, was won by Fred Loughead of Sarnia, Ont., in the hottest final yet seen on this track. For three-quarters of a mile Bald, Taylor, Kiser, Kimble and Cooper followed the pacemaker in that order. At the five-eighths Taylor, the colored flyer, sprinted ahead, but Loughead went around the bunch of leaders, and at the stretch the Canadian jumped to the lead and kept it after an exciting struggle against Bald and Kiser. Loughead beat Kiser by less than a foot, and Kiser narrowly took second place from Bald. Summary:

One mile, open, professional—Fred J. Loughead, Sarnia, 1; Earl Kiser, Dayton, Ohio, 2; E. C. Bald, Buffalo, 3. Time 2.07.

Two-mile, handicap, professional—Charles Hadfield, Newark, N.J. (10 yards), 1; Chas. Price, Boston (230 yards), 2; A. C. Mertens, St. Paul (20 yards), 3. Time 4.21 3-5.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

TARTE-GRENIER CASE.

Hon. L. O. Taillon Was the Principal Witness Yesterday All the Evidence In.

Montreal, Oct. 1. (Special.)—At the Tarte-Grenier libel suit to-day, Judge Wurtele again refused to allow the jurors to leave the Court House, and His Honor announced that some poltroons and cowards had sent him threatening letters, regarding the manner in which he was conducting the case.

Hon. L. O. Taillon was the principal witness this morning and his evidence was to the effect that he did not know Mr. Tarte had got any money from either Pacaud or Whelan, and supposed that all election funds came from prominent Conservatives in Quebec or elsewhere.

The evidence was concluded this afternoon and the case will be given to the jury to-morrow. This afternoon Mr. Gobeil, Deputy Minister of Public Works, and Mr. Roy, Secretary of Public Works, testified that it was the custom of the department where tenders were the same to consult the member of the locality, if he was a friend of the Government, or otherwise, the defeated candidate. Such letters had been sent when the coal contracts for 1896 were given out to Mr. Petit and other Liberals. When Mr. Petit's letter was published, Mr. Tarte wrote to him saying he could no longer receive any suggestions from him. The custom had not been discontinued.

Mr. Tarte was again put on the stand and swore that he had never been told of Grenier's claim against Le Soer and that he had not promised him any money. He denied that he had told Grenier to go to the devil.

The evidence was then declared closed and the court adjourned. To-morrow the addresses will be delivered to the jury and a verdict is expected to be reached by to-morrow evening.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

A young woman about to be presented at court receives the fullest instructions as to her behavior. She is told how to dress; how to manage her train; how to courtesy correctly. Every incident is carefully rehearsed so that she may commit no blunder in the presence of royalty. If all this trouble is worth while for the satisfaction of one brief moment, how infinitely more important it is that a young girl about to enter into the sacred precincts of womanhood, should be properly instructed in all that concerns a life time of possible happiness, or possible misery.

Every mother ought to see to it that her daughters are healthy and strong in a womanly way. She ought to make them aware that any neglect or irregularity of the special functions of womanhood may result in life-long weakness and disease.

Any mother or daughter may write concerning these delicate ailments, with the utmost confidence to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Her letter will be answered free of charge with suggestions for self-treatment at home, by which these complaints may be overcome without need of mortifying examinations.

Dr. Pierce has had over thirty years' experience in the treatment of women's diseases, and is an eminent specialist in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" cures completely and permanently the most obstinate cases of feminine weakness and disease. It heals all inflamed conditions, strengthens and tones the nerve-centres and the entire womanly organism.

For prospective mothers and nursing mothers the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect strength sustainer.

CHLOROFORM AND BURGLARY.

Medical Discussion on the Possibility of Narcotizing Sleeping Persons.

A curious story is reported in the lay press which involves an important medico-legal question. Some burglars are said to have entered a dwelling-house at Clayton F. Moses, Accrington, and to chloroformed the inhabitants as a preliminary measure to successfully looting the house. The alleged victims of this outrage were a grown-up son of the householder, two adult daughters, and two young children. The burglars first entered the room in which the girls and children were sleeping, chloroformed them all without disturbing their slumbers, then went to the room of the youth, and dealt with him in the same way. In the morning the young man awakened and complained of "feeling very ill," while the sisters did not awaken until recalled to mundane existence through the efforts of a medical man. All professed they did not know anything about the burglars. It is not our business to discuss the inherent improbability of the story. Whether five persons could be reduced to anæsthetic sleep by burglars using chloroform in such a way as not to disturb their usual slumbers is the matter which interests the profession.

Dolbeau tested the possibility of chloroforming sleeping persons, and found that, even using the greatest care, he only succeeded in ten cases out of twenty-nine; so even under the most favorable conditions Dolbeau succeeded in chloroforming without awakening the patient in about 33 per cent of the cases. Clumess succeeded with two children, and generally it is admitted that young persons are more easily chloroformed during sleep than adults. In the well-known case of Richard Smith, who was found in bed murdered while his wife slept beside him, the woman's defense was that she had been drugged with chloroform, and was not a particeps criminis. Quimby's evidence in support of this plea was that he had succeeded in three experiments in producing chloroform narcosis during natural sleep—in one adult and two children. In the early days of the use of chloroform great fears were entertained lest the drug should become an important item in the armamentarium of every criminal who aspired to distinction in his calling; but as was pointed out by Snow and others, chloroform-giving involves too much skill and expertness if a satisfactory result is to be obtained for its use to be possible for the purposes of crime. In the case before us it seems incredible that several persons in one room could be severally chloroformed without disturbance of their own or their neighbor's slumbers, and, further, that the narcosis could be so profound that in the case of the girls it should persist for hours after the administration had been discontinued, and, finally, require medical aid before it could be overcome. Maury, in his evidence, given in 1871, before the court at New Bloomfield, Perry County, Pa., said he had tried to chloroform six persons during their sleep, and all had resisted. The bulk of experience goes to show that, except in the case of infants, it is most exceptional to succeed in chloroforming persons without awakening them from sleep.—British Medical Journal.

Singular Signs.

Of unwittingly ludicrous or humorous signs there are plenty. A tinsmith near Exeter, England, has a sign which reads: "Quart measures of all shapes and sizes sold here." At a market town in Rutlandshire the following placard was affixed to the shutters of a watchmaker who had decamped, leaving his creditors mourning: "Wound up and the mainspring broke." Equally apposite was one in Thomaston, Ga. On one of the principal streets the same room was occupied by a physician and a shoemaker—the disciple of Galen in front, while he of St. Crispin's trade worked in the rear. Over the door hung the sign: "We repair both sole and body." On the windows of a London coffee-room there appeared the notice: "This coffee-room removed up-stairs till repaired." The proprietor of the place was not an Irishman, though the framer of the notice over a French burying ground, "Only the dead who live in this parish are buried here," must have been.

One may see in the windows of a confectioner in Fourth avenue, New York, "Pies Open All Night." A Bowery placard reads: "Home-Made Dining-Rooms, Family Oysters," while a West Broadway restaurateur sells "Home-Made Pies, Pastry, and Oysters," and still another caterer, on East Broadway, retails "Fresh Salt Oysters and Lager Beer." "Boots Polished Inside," is a frequent sign in New York, and on Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, there is a "Stationary Library;" and the latter is really a circulating library, and the word "stationary" adorns one window and "library" the other. Philadelphia has a sign reading, "He Made Pies!" and a barber's shop in the same city bears this inscription on its window: "G. Washington Smith, tonsorial abattoir."—Demorest's Magazine.

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh and force.

Sun-Distilled Water.

M. Mouchon is said to have constructed a really practical solar machine for the purpose of distilling water in regions where a supply of drinking cannot easily be obtained. The apparatus is portable, being carried on the back of a man without trouble. It will distil two and a half quarts an hour, or two gallons a day—enough to supply six or eight men. In Egypt, India and certain other parts of the world, campaigning is rendered much more difficult by lack of drinking water, and a contrivance of this sort is likely to be of the utmost value, furnishing the essential fluid in a healthful state, and enabling the soldiers to cook their food rapidly. In some countries it is out of the question to get good drinking water.

We know the great cures of Hood's Sarsaparilla are genuine because the people themselves write about them.

AT THE PLAY.

Dora seated at the play
Weeps to see the hero perish—
Hero of a Dresden day,
Fit for china nymphs to cherish;
O that Dora's heart would be
Half so soft and warm for me!

When the flaring lights are out
His heroic deeds deeds are over,
Gone his raptures of a lover,
While my humdrum heart you'd find
True, though out of sight and mind.

Novelties in Sandwiches

All bread sandwiches should be made of bread at least twenty-four hours old. The slices should be very thin; the crust should be cut off, and the shape of the sandwich whatever the whim of the maker dictates.

Nothing can be more crisp than lettuce sandwiches. Spread buttered slices of bread with salad dressing, and place between them small lettuce leaves.

To make chestnut sandwiches boil chestnuts until tender, peel and rub through a wire sieve. Butter bread and spread the chestnut paste over it, sprinkling with a little salt.

To make cheese sandwiches spread thin slices of bread with butter and grated cheese, and then slightly toast; put together and serve hot.

Wafer crackers, when spread with grated cheese and slightly browned in the oven, make delicious sandwiches.

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES MARK STREET CHURCH.

SERMONS PREACHED BY REV. W. B. SMITH AND REV. W. D. HARRISON.

Large Congregations Attend Both Services to Hear the Addresses —Special Music Was Rendered by the Choir.

There was a large congregation present at Mark street Mithodist church on Sunday morning, October 3rd, to hear Rev. W. B. Smith, of Hamilton Conference, preach the first of the anniversary sermons.

There was a good representation of the members of the Sunday school present. Mr. Smith took as his text Luke 24—49: Tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high." Acts 1—8: "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." Acts 2—4. "They were all filled with the Holy Ghost."

He said there are three classes in the church—those anxious to save themselves, those anxious to save others and those who rely fully upon the help of the Holy Ghost for success. The disciples were of the last class and it was their implicit trust that made them so successful. This is the power that the church of God needs to-day. This world is not to be saved by argument or eloquence, but the testimony of men and women.

All through the Bible God had been typified by fire, than which there is nothing more powerful in the world. It is the fire of the Holy Ghost that the church needs to-day to produce all the fruits of the spirit.

Though the church has never seen a brighter day than now, yet it is useless for us to try to work without the power of the Holy Ghost. It is as needful now as it ever was.

At the day of Pentecost one sermon was the means of saving 3,000 souls. Now it seems to take almost 3,000 sermons to save one soul. The church machinery to-day is excellent, but the power of the Holy Ghost is, in many cases, lacking.

Wesley, Luther and other great leaders in the church succeeded because they had power from on high, and those who succeed to-day in God's work must have the same power.

Jesus said, "Without Me ye can do nothing," but He promised to send us the Holy Ghost.

Every child of God has the spirit of God, for if any man have not the spirit of God he is none of His. But there is a great difference between having the spirit of God, and being filled with the spirit. Some receive the fullness of the spirit at conversion, but though saved, live for some time without the baptism of the Holy Ghost. If we do not receive it at conversion, let us seek it as soon as we know our need. The command is: "Be filled with the Spirit." We should do this, because we can do nothing without it. Unfortunately, now, too much stress is put upon conversion, without saying anything about the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Many have no joy, because there is no victory from day to day in their Christian life. The only way to have victory over satan is through the Holy Ghost.

The fruits of the Spirit are love, joy, peace, etc., but these are not the fruits of a quenched or grieved spirit, but of the Holy Spirit when it is allowed to fill us, and we have victories every day. The way to be filled with the Holy Spirit is to let the Holy Spirit fill us. Christian religion is simply pleasing God, and His yoke is easy and His burden is light.

Obedience and asking are the two conditions of receiving the Holy Spirit. May we all seek and receive it!

Rev. Mr. Smith's sermon was very earnest and helpful, and was much appreciated by all who were privileged to hear it.

At both services special music was rendered by the choir.

The evening sermon was preached by Rev. W. D. Harrison, of Bridgedorth, who took as his text Hebrews 2, 3:

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation."

When we speak of angels in seriousness, a feeling of awe comes over us. In the text we have a comparison of angels and Christ. Christ made a little lower than the angels, has risen to be higher than any of them. Not even the blood of angels could have saved us—nothing short of the blood of Christ would answer. This salvation is great because of its author. It is also great because it saves from great sin. It is great because of the danger from which it saves us. It is great because it lifts us to holy living and makes us sons and daughters of God. It is great because of its cost; though salvation is free to us, it cost the life of Christ.

Neglect will bring destruction in any line of life, and if we neglect salvation we must also expect destruction, but if we come to Christ we may expect to find forgiveness and acceptance.

Mr. Harrison gave an earnest, forcible, gospel sermon, which could not fail to be productive of good. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity.

This (Monday) evening tea will be seaved in the new town hall, Ashburnham, from 6 to 8, after which an excellent programme of addesses, music, etc., will be given in the church. Besides music by the choir, Mrs. (Rev.) Liddy of Keene, will sing, and addresses will be given by Revs. Symonds, Potter, Harrison, Liddy and Cragg.

A very pleasant evening is assured to all who attend the tea and entertainment.

The new electric lights which have been placed in the church are a decided improvement on the gas lights which preceded them. Yesterday was the first Sunday they were in use.

A bulletin board has been placed on the front of the church, giving the name of the church, the name of the pastor, day and hour of the various services, etc. It is a decided improvement and fills a long felt want.

The regular consecration service of the E.L. of C.E. was held on Sunday evening after church on account of the tea this evening.

The regular meeting of the Mark street Auxiliary of the W. M. S. has been postponed until Wednesday, Oct. 13th, at 3 o'clock, on account of the W. M. S. convention to be held in Peterborough on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

All the blocks of the autograph quilt are to be returned at the meeting on Oct. 13.

The Wednesday evening prayer meeting is withdrawn this week on account of the W. M. S. convention.

The Friday evening cottage prayer meeting will be held at the parsonage this week.

The Executive of the E.L. of C.E. will meet at the parsonage on Friday evening to appoint convenors for the different committees.

The E.L. of C.E. has had to postpone its visit to Charlotte street E.L. of C.E. until after the revival services which are to begin soon.

The singing was especially good. At the morning service the choir sang the anthem, "O, Holy Jesus," Mrs. Dr. Scott taking the soprano solo very acceptably and Miss Hutchinson the contralto.

A number of persons are standing in front of The Peoples Grocery, 323 George street, looking with wonder and astonishment at the huge pile of Pumkins, Squash and Musk Melons lying on the sidewalk. I hear them talking about the 25 cent Tea that they got there yesterday. My friend asks, what about Fruit Jars? Well what about them? Why you are the only man in town who has got them. I see that this is the third consignment that you have had in a few days; you sell big lots of them. The loads of Peaches, Plums, Pears, Lemons and Bananas, that I see you get, I wonder how you sell them all. BLOODY ENCOUNTER.

Arabians and Syrians in a Religious War.

PRIES'T FROM TORONTO FOR PEACE

Arabians Are Devotees of Islam and the Syrians Pin Their Faith to the Greek Church The Toronto Priest Officiated and Urged Harmony, But Trouble Resulted.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—A fight, which for a time assumed large proportions, but which was quelled by the police before any person was killed, occurred yesterday morning in the Arabian settlement in Sherman-street, between Harrison and Polk-streets.

About 200 of the Arabians and Syrians who inhabit the street engaged in a religious war. There were as many women as men engaged in the strife, and faces were scratched and hair pulled.

When the trouble was over the injured were:

Joseph Mattron, No. 162 Sherman-street, cut in back of the head by a blow inflicted with a coupling pin.

The trouble originated in the Church of St. John the Baptist, which occupied rented quarters at No. 323 Franklin-street. To this church, which is under the jurisdiction of Archbishop Feenan, many of the Arabians in Chicago belong.

A few of the people in the settlement are Mohammedans, and of the Syrians in the settlement a majority are attached to the Greek Orthodox Church. For the last seven years Father B. Sowaya has been pastor of St. John's Church, and has looked after the spiritual interests of the Arabians.

There has been among his parishioners for more than a year a good deal of feeling against him, while a large party adhered to him faithfully. As a result the church was divided into two factions, between which there existed a considerable ill-feeling.

Yesterday a new Arabian priest officiated at the morning celebration of mass. He was Father N. Makiarios of Toronto. A rumor was circulated that the new priest had been appointed to take the place of Father Sowaya, and this was the immediate cause of the trouble which ensued.

Two days ago Father Makiarios arrived in the city, and spent Friday and Saturday in Sherman-street, visiting the parishioners of his friend and trying to induce them to make friends with their pastor.

The result of the efforts of the visiting clergyman was that there was a full attendance of the Arabians at the church yesterday morning. After mass had been celebrated Father Makarios delivered an address, in which he pleaded for harmony. He asked his hearers to give up their differences and attend church. The address was intended to bring about peace, but it was followed by trouble.

Joseph Mattron, one of the leaders of the opposition to the pastor, had arrived in front of his house, when he was struck in the back of the head with a coupling pin in the hands on an Arabian, whose identity is not known. The blow staggered Mattron, but he was able to make his way into his store, where he seized a large club.

Running out into the street with the blood streaming from the wound in his head, he cried out in Arabian to the members of his faction. What he uttered was a battle cry, and it had the effect of setting the whole street in an uproar in two minutes.

When Mattron cried out Arabians and Syrians came from every doorway into the street. Some came through the open windows, and men and women on the upper floors threw missiles.

Capt. Dollard, Sergt. Meany and half a dozen officers jumped into the patrol wagon and were soon in the midst of the riot. The combatants then numbered several hundred, and women were throwing anything they could find from the windows upon the heads of the combatants.

The two injured men could not point out their assailants, and the fight was

A QUARTER OF A MILLION

Made Up in the Klondike by a French-Canadian in Four Years.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Laden down with golden nuggets and carrying with him a certified draft upon a Boston bank for a quarter of a million dollars, Arthur Drepeau, a native of this province, is now in this city, seeking his sisters, with whom he desires to share his wealth. Four years ago Drepeau was a poor man, having to struggle hard for his livelihood. He made his way west and then north, and after many months of toil he returns rich. He arrived by the Pacific express on Saturday, and at once began to make enquiries for his sisters, whose whereabouts he did not know, and spent nearly all day yesterday upon a vain search for them. This morning he started out again, but without success. Drepeau could not conceal his wealth from anybody except the newspaper men, and these he avoids. He has a dread of reporters, and will probably be a very mad man when he learns that the "railway man" he was speaking to this morning was one of the dreaded reporters. Drepeau leaves this evening for Boston, there to spend the winter with his two brothers. He has sold half of his claim on the Klondike for $250,000, and will endeavor to persuade his brothers to return to the Klondike with him in the spring. His intention is to leave them there and return himself to Montreal and start in business. In a little wash leather bag he carried some half dozen virgin nuggets. He had more, but has given them away. One is valued at $40, the others from $10 upwards.

ON THE SEVENTH WEEK.

Luetgert Says He Can Stand It All Right But He Wishes It Were Over Three Weeks More Expected.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The seventh week of the trial of Luetgert, the alleged wife murderer, opened to-day, with an undiminished crush of people at the Criminal Court building. Only those who possessed tickets were admitted. Luetgert reached the court room half an hour before the opening. He was clean shaved, neatly attired and apparently in the best of spirits. "I can stand this sort of thing a lifetime, so far as physical endurance is concerned," said Luetgert, when complimented by Attorney Whalen upon his personal appearance, "but I wish it was over with. I wears on a man's nerves, you know, and especially if the weather is warm, as it has been most of the time during my trial."

"The trial will last about three weeks longer," said States-Attorney Deneen to-day. "When the defence closes we shall have at least a week of rebuttal evidence. Then the defence will come along with another week of the same kind of evidence. If we get through with the speeches in a week's time we shall be doing well."

Prof. Eckley of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago was recalled to-day. His testimony was simply a repetition of that of other witnesses.

Professor Plummer of the Northwestern Medical College, after a brief examination of the temporal bone introduced by the State and positively identified by Prof. Dorsey of the Field Columbian Museum as the right temporal of a woman with emphasis declared the bone was not the temporal of a human being.

Luetgert is not likely to go on the witness stand until next week. He is still impatient to tell his story. "In three hours' time I could convince that jury of my innocence," said Luetgert to-day. "I will give it to them straight, and make liars of many people when I get on the stand. They can't lie Luetgert to the gallows. My story will make everything plain."

KILLED IN MICHIGAN.

Nicholas Perins of Berlin Ont., the Victim of a Railway Accident.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 4.—Last Friday night Station Agent Dover got a telegram from Michigan, telling him that an old man ticketed from Langdon, N. D., for Berlin, was killed, and asking for information as to his identity.

Steps were immediately taken towards solving the mystery and the unfortunate has been positively identified as Nicholas Perins, from Langdon, N. D., the father of Rev. Mr. Perins of St. Jerome's College, Berlin. A trunk had arrived in Berlin on Sept. 30 from the same place and this was opened. Among other means of identification was a letter written by Father Perins, while at Rome, Italy, to his father. Father Perins was immediately informed and further investigation proved the sad intelligence to be only too true. Agent Dover this morning wired the following:

"Berlin, Ont., Oct 4.—To A. B. McIntyre, Battle Creek, Mich.: Body identified as that of Nicholas Perins. Please forward remains to Petersburg, Ont."

SCHOOL GIRL ROBBED.

A Highwayman Took Her Rings From Her Fingers Near Wardsville.

Wardsville, Ont., Oct. 4.—Miss Maud Blain, daughter of Mr. Henry Blain, living on the 2nd Concession of Mosa, was coming to Wardsville High school this morning, and when about a mile north of the village, on the gravel road, a tramp jumped from the fence corner and violently took two rings and a gold watch from her, nearly breaking her finger in removing the rings. Seeing a vehicle coming he escaped to Mr. A. Shepard's woods. The people of the surrounding country are out en masse, scouring the woods, but have not succeeded in catching him yet. He was about 5 feet 6, had a dark mustache, wore a light grey coat and dark pants.

BASEBALL RECORD.

Boston, Oct. 4.—The new champions took the first game for the Temple Cup to-day, defeating the Baltimores in a close contest more through a combination of lucky hits and daring base-running, assisted by darkness in the last two innings, than by any great superiority of play. Neither team showed championship form, while the work of the home team at times was very much below the mark.

HONOR SIR WILFRID.

Toronto Arrangements are Now Completed

FOR THE PREMIER'S RECEPTION

On His Arrival From the Capital This Evening Order of the Torchlight Procession. Which Will Form Up at the Union Station Sir Wilfrid's Program.

Toronto, Oct. 5.

Complete arrangements have now been made for the reception of the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his arrival in the city on the 7 o'clock train to-night. He will be met at the Union Station by the Mayor and City Council, who will give him an informal welcome. A procession will then leave the station for Massey Hall, marshalled in the following order, as decided yesterday by the Reception Committee:

Mounted police.
Torchbearers.
Band of Royal Grenadiers.
Carriage containing Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier, His Worship the Mayor and Ald. Scott, chairman of committee, escort from mounted police.
Members of City Council in carriages.
Citizens in their carriages.
Societies with bands.
Citizens on foot.

The route of procession will be up Simcoe to King, to Yonge, to Queen, to the Queen-street-avenue, to College, to Yonge, to Shuter, to Massey Hall.

The bands of the Queen's Own Rifles and of the 48th Highlanders will also be interspersed in the parade.

Carriages will form up on Front-street west of Simcoe, and those on foot on Wellington-street west of Simcoe. The torch-bearers will gather on Simcoe-street, between Wellington and Front-streets.

Arriving at the hall His Worship Mayor Shaw will assume the chair. The galleries will be reserved for ladies and escorts and the platform for the aldermen and representative citizens.

The civic address of welcome will be read by Chairman Scott of the Reception Committee, to which the Premier will reply.

Addresses will then be read from our German and French fellow citizens, in their own and in the English language, and the meeting will conclude with the National Anthem. The aldermen, with the city's guest, will then repair to the Queen's, where the civic luncheon will be tendered.

The citizens have been invited, by the following proclamation from Mayor Shaw, to participate:

Civic reception to the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada. To whom it may concern: Whereas, at a meeting of the City Council held on Sept. 20 last, it was resolved, "That, inasmuch as the Premier of the Dominion of Canada, the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has just returned from participating in the celebration of Her Majesty's diamond jubilee, is about to visit the city of Toronto, and because of the prominence accorded to Canada through him while guest of the Imperial Government, it is resolved that this Council receive him on his arrival in the city, that the citizens be asked to join in making the reception worthy of the occasion, and that the Reception Committee be requested to make the necessary arrangements." And, whereas the right honorable gentleman has been pleased to accept the invitation thus tendered to him, and whereas arrangements have been made to hold the reception on Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, these are, therefore, to request all classes of citizens to join in tendering to him a reception worthy of the city.

John Shaw, Mayor.

To-morrow Sir Wilfrid may devote as he pleases. It is probable that the time preliminary to the Board of Trade banquet in the evening will be devoted to his political friends.

On Thursday it is proposed that he and Lady Laurier should hold a reception at the Pavilion.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

Severe Pains in the Head

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are still having summer weather here—very hot for the time of year.

Mr. Neallie Wetmore and Miss Lilla Nesbitt were married at the residence of the groom's parents on Weneaday, the 29th ult. Both are of the township of Chandos. Miss Maud Dingman was bridesmaid, while Mr. Edward Wilson performed the duties of best man. Elder Gould performed the ceremony. We all join in wishing the young couple many years of happy wedded life.

Mr. Radcliff is doing good work with his new threshing machine. It is a grand machine, the best that has ever been in these parts.

The Coe Hill fair is over. A great many from here went to see the sights. After seeing throngs of people that came on the cars and from every direction the most of the people come back disappointed, thinking that they ought to have seen more.

The Apsley fair was held on the 30th—last Thursday. Nearly everybody went from these parts. Apsley fair showed up the best of any previous year. The Lakefield band was there and rendered some choice music. Gough Bros. firm was highly represented, as their advertisement stood about ten feet high to the band on his hat. He seemed to be a great favourite and all looked up to him. One of the features of the day was Grafton's advertisement in the person of Walter Golden. With his singing, playing, music and comic speeches he drew a large crowd. They were all sorry when he departed. But the greatest excitement of all was the bicycle race between Mr. Reynolds of Lakefield, and Mr. McLean, teacher at No. 13 school, Methuen. The prize was a $6 banjo, which was won by the latter. They both did well; they were two as fine looking gentlemen as Apsley could show that day, and did excellent riding on their wheels.

Mr. Wesley Carroll is here on a visit from New York state.

Mr. Blackburn of Coe Hill, has been in our midst buying cattle. He is shipping a drove this week.

STONY LAKE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The milk inspector and cheese instructor Mr. John Kerr, visited the Stony Lake factory last week on his regular rounds, and reported everything all right and satisfactory. Lowest test of milk, 3.2, and highest 4.2. Average all round, 3.9.

On Sept. 29th the home of Jas. Robb was the scene of a very pleasant event in the marriage of his fourth daughter, Catharine Edith, united in marriage to Mr. Jos. H. Grant. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Hyde. The bride was tastefully dressed in blue and fawn, trimmed with silk lace and ribbon. The bridesmaid, Miss Emma V Robb, sister of the bride, was dressed in a fawn coloured dress, trimmed with ribbon and lace.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. H. S. Grant.

The ceremony was performed at six o'clock in the evening, after which about forty guests, all friends of the contracting parties, sat down to a sumptuous tea. The presents were costly, and all useful articles. One deserves special mention—a gold watch by an uncle of the bride.

The young couple left the same evening for their home, about three miles east of Stony Lake post office.

The Central Prison Industrial Works Badly Damaged—Origin of the Fire.

Toronto, Oct. 5.

Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the industrial part of the Central Prison, and at first it looked as if it would be one of the largest fires ever seen in Toronto.

As soon as the alarm was sounded the guards and wardens went to work to get the prisoners back to the prison and lock them up, for as soon as they knew the factory was on fire they made for the doors, and some jumped through the windows. One, Thomas Carlisle, in jumping, sprained his back and legs and was taken to the prison, while the others were ordered into line and safely locked up. When the fire started there were some convicts working on a drain outside, and these were brought in and safely stored away in their cells.

The fire started in the drying room of the broom factory, where there were about 60 convicts at work and this building was completely destroyed.

The next place to break out was the binder twine factory on the east side of the broom factory. This was caused by a spark lodging on the wooden framework of the large skylight in the roof. This smouldered for over three-quarters of an hour before the firemen saw it, and when they discovered it several branches of the hose were taken from the broom factory and turned on it, but the pressure was not sufficient to carry the water to the top of the building.

In the lumber yard were three flat cars owned by the C.P.R., and they were totally destroyed, along with box car No. 15871, owned by the Grand Trunk. There were four other G.T.R. cars in the yard at the time, but one of the company's yardmen got there in time to have them taken out.

The sparks from the burning lumber started on one of the buildings of the Massey-Harris Company, setting fire to the roof, but doing little or no damage, as a spray was turned on it before it got any headway.

After the prisoners were locked up, they went wild with excitement, and some cried, while others yelled like a lot of demons let loose. The guards tried in vain to stop their yells, but this could not be done until the fire was nearly out.

Warden Gilmour said: "It broke out in the drying kiln, and I think it must have been caused by friction. There is a lot of dry dust in the drying kiln, and that would quickly ignite from a spark from the fan if the bearings of the latter got hot. The next time that drying kiln will be located where it will not be of any danger.

"The water pressure is miserable," continued the Warden. "They could not throw water up to the second-storey until they cut off a number of streams. That, of course, handicapped the firemen, who could not throw water on as many places. Fancy a building of this size depending upon a six-inch main for protection in case of a fire. The only main from which we get water is the Strachan-avenue main, a 6-inch affair. Up on King-street there is a 12-inch main, to which we should be connected. A year ago I reported upon the inadequate fire protection afforded the building, and suggested that a 12-inch pipe be laid connecting us with the King-street main. Nothing was done, and now you see the result."

Inspector Noxon stated, when asked, that he thought the total loss to the Government would not be over $35,000, $25,000 in the binder twine building, which is valued at $80,000, and insured for $40,000; $8000 on the broom factory, which was not insured, and $2000 on the lumber that was destroyed in the yard. The lumber was not insured. Inspector Noxon said that the most valuable property was in the cordage factory, as that was where all the fine machinery was, but that there was little or no machinery in the broom factory and what was there could easily be replaced. It was principally wooden and could be duplicated by the prisoners.

The firemen had a tremendous struggle with the burning lumber. The engines were away on the other side of the building. If they could have got around they had no water, and only two streams were available for a long time. A third was got around and it burst. Meanwhile, the flames took a thorough hold of the piles burning in underneath, eating their way upward and then bursting out in unexpected places with a roar which seemed to shout mockery at the handicapped firemen.

The most indignant man on the grounds was Gardener Houston, who has charge of the conservatory. As soon as the flames burst out he coupled a hose on to a hydrant and began to play on his beloved greenhouse, which, in his eyes, is the most valuable structure on the ground. At first all went well, but then the Fire Brigade arrived on the ground, and as soon as the engines coupled on Houston's hose was nowhere. His conservatory was destroyed and the glass melted.

The Insurances.

The insurance carried by the Government will more than cover the loss, as there is $6500 on the binder twine building and $26,000 on the contents, composed of machinery, which is divided among the following companies:

Gore Insurance Co.	$5,000
Hartford Insurance Co.	2,500
Liverpool, London & Globe	5,000
Northern Assurance Co.	2,500
Union Assurance Co.	5,000
Western Assurance Co.	2,500
Norwich Union Assur. Co.	7,500
Phoenix Assurance Co.	2,500

The stock owned by the Independent Cordage Company is insured in the Liverpool, London & Globe for $2500 and in the Lancashire for $2500.

There will be little or no damage to the stock in the twine factory, as it was very light on account of the factory having been shut down for the past two weeks or more.

Autumn Fashions and Diamond Dyes

Golden Brown Will Be in Favour This Season.

The Diamond Dyes have two great necessary foundation qualities. They are true agents of economy, and they are also fashion creators.

Colour, shade and tint count immensely in the world of fashion. The woman who wears an out-of-date colour is set down as an extremely careless and indifferent mortal, and as she is severely criticised for her lack of taste.

For ladies' autumn dresses and costumes a golden shade of brown is the correct thing and will be in great demand this season.

The Diamond Dye Fast Brown, Golden Shade, for Wool, will produce this shade in all its full richness and beauty. Any faded or soiled wool dress of any light colour can be quite renewed for another year's wear at a very trifling cost.

Ask your dealer for Diamond Dye Fast Brown, Golden Shade. Do not accept the common dyes sold by some dealers for the sake of extra profit.

Old Trapper Burned.

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Further reports of damage by the prairie and bush fires on Saturday are to hand. An old hunter and trapper, named Laudry, was found burned to death in a swamp near his cabin, north of Whitemouth. He had perished while attempting to escape from the flames. A man named Upjohn is missing near Reburn, and it is supposed he perished in the flames. Fourteen out of 17 settlers at Lake Francis have lost all.

A SENSATION IN COURT.

A Startling Statement in the John Eaton Case by Mr. Osler.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—The suit of the Bank of Toronto against the insurance companies which refuse to pay the insurance on the John Eaton stock destroyed by fire on May 20 developed a sensation in the Civil Assize Court yesterday. B. B. Osler, Q.C., appeared for the companies and Wallace Nesbitt for the Bank of Toronto, while a big array of legal talent crowded into the court room to watch developments.

Mr. Osler asked for an adjournment, on the ground that his experts had not had time to complete the examination of the John Eaton Company's books, and this was opposed by Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, who stated that they had had ample time.

Then Mr. Osler created a sensation by a statement which put into words the rumors which have been flying about since the occurrence of the fire. He said that his clients could show that in the stock sheets, prepared on Aug. 1, 1896, upon which the John Eaton Co. based their claim, that on the day of the fire their stock was valued at $267,000, there were repetitions and duplications amounting to over $60,000. He was convinced that if the time were given him this amount could be doubled. The appraisers had, during their examination of the books, overlooked this fact. Hence the slow progress they had made. It was only when an expert had had the books put into his hands that this fact had been discovered. Mr. Osler also stated that one of the John Eaton Co.'s experts, who was a material witness, was sick in the hospital.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt challenged Mr. Osler to make this statement upon his own responsibility, and said that the expert mentioned was merely drunk. He said that the company's books had been in the appraiser's hands for three months and a half and it was imperative that the case proceed immediately.

Mr. Osler replied that he would put in affidavits to support his statement, and did so after adjournment. There were two, and both significant. The first was that of D. C. Edwards, the insurance adjuster. That gentleman swore that Mr. Richard Baker, formerly a manager for the John Eaton Co. and who is a material witness in the suit, is in the General Hospital. He is the man who had charge of the preparation of the stock sheets of Aug. 1, 1896.

These are the sheets whose accuracy is attacked in the next affidavit, and Mr. Richard Baker is the man who was found last week by the police on Front-street in a shaky condition, the result of drink and morphine, some of which latter was found on him.

The second affidavit was a startling one, and was made by Mr. A. C. Neff, accountant, of Toronto. It was to the effect that he had examined the books and papers of the John Eaton Co., and in the course of his examinations he had discovered that a large number of items had been repeated in the stock sheets. This had been done to such an extent that, in the several departments examined, repetitions were discovered to the amount of about $69,000, and there are still some twenty departments to examine.

Justice MacMahon said he would traverse the suit to the next Assizes.

THE POPE IS ALL RIGHT.

His Holiness in Capital Health, Notwithstanding Reports Sent Out.

Rome, Oct. 4.—The Pope, all reports in Paris and London papers to the contrary, is in excellent health. The Osservatore Romano this evening says: "The bad weather of the past few days has prevented the Pope from continuing his walks in the garden of the Vatican. On Friday afternoon the Pope received the members of several distinguished families and on Saturday afternoon he received over a hundred Italian and foreign visitors. On Sunday he admitted fifty visitors to his celebration of mass."

Dr. Laffoni, the physician of His Holiness, in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, confirmed the statements of The Osservatore Romano as to the satisfactory state of the health of the Supreme Pontiff and emphatically denied the recent alarming reports circulated concerning the Pope's health.

YOUNG LAMONT'S CASE.

Neighbours Much Interested in the Story—Everyone Thought That the Youngster Would Die, but he's Very Much Alive Now.

DUNDALK, Oct. 4—Hugh Lamont, of McIntyre, has a young son who is an object of interest throughout this whole section of country. From infancy the boy had dropsy, and was bloated and swollen all over. It seemed to the parents that death could be the only release to one attacked so young by this disease. They heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began giving them to the child. With the first box the bloating and swelling began to disappear. Six boxes effected a perfect cure and the boy is now just as healthy a youngster as stirs up the dust on the high roads of Western Ontario.

Undoubtedly the Best.

Gentlemen.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

THE CUBAN CUSTOMS

Causes Senor Sagasta to Utter a Defiant Note.

PREMIER'S HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY

Loyal to His Own Country He Announces That He Will Not Consent on Her Behalf to a Customs Union Between the United States and Cuba.

London, Oct. 4.—A special despatch from Madrid gives the substance of an interview between a newspaper correspondent and an unnamed member of the new Spanish Cabinet. The Minister is quoted as saying that Senor Sagasta will carry out the Cuban reforms proposed by Marshal Martinez de Campos ten years ago. These include the granting of autonomy to Cuba on condition that the island takes over the Cuban debt, including the war debt, and accepts Spain's customs tariff. Premier Sagasta, it is asserted, will not consent to a customs union between the United States and Cuba, and is said to have announced that if the former is not satisfied Spain is prepared to fight. The Spanish navy is regarded as equal in strength to the navy of the United States. If necessary, Spain, according to the Cabinet Minister interviewed, will have recourse to privateering. The new Minister is alleged to have said in conclusion that it is improbable Spain will consent to recognize the insurgent debt, but that Premier Sagasta will not prevent the new Cuban Government from dealing with it.

Sagasta's Responsibility is Heavy.

Paris, Oct. 4.—Figaro to-day publishes a specially written article on the mission of General Woodford, United States Minister to Spain. The writer says the attitude of General Woodford has thus far been irreproachable, and, after reiterating the supposed plans of the United States, he concludes: "Senor Sagasta's responsibility is heavy and by no means enviable. It is dangerous to admit, in the negotiations with the Cubans, the interference of the United States, as the latter would thereby acquire a kind of right to control the affairs of the island. It is, moreover, impossible to mistake the aim of American diplomacy, which desires gradually to detach Cuba from Spain. The latter is entitled to the solicitude of Europe, who is herself threatened in regard to her colonial security."

Sagasta Dislikes Weyler.

London, Oct. 4.—A leading London diplomat, discussing the crisis in Spanish affairs, said to a representative of the Associated Press to-day:

"I believe the change in the Spanish Cabinet will result in the recall of Capt.-General Weyler from Cuba and the substitution of Marshal Blanco for him, because Sagasta (the new Premier) personally dislikes Weyler.

"Sagasta will probably discuss Cuba with General Woodford in a more conciliatory manner than his predecessor, but he is not likely to do more than that. Sagasta has been authoritatively informed that the Cubans will accept autonomy and the withdrawal of the Spanish troops, although they have protested that they will not do so, but I doubt if Spain will consent to these measures."

SPAIN'S NEW CABINET.

The New Ministers Proceeded to the Palace and Took the Oath.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—The new Ministry is constituted as follows: Senor Sagasta, President of the Council of Ministers; Senor Gullon, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Senor Greizard, Minister of Justice; General Correa, Minister of War; Admiral Bermejo, Minister of Marine; Senor Puigcerver, Minister of Finance; Senor Capdepon, Minister of the Interior; Count Xiguena, Minister of Public Works; Senor Moret, Minister for the Colonies.

The Ministers, after an informal meeting, proceeded to the palace and took the oaths of office.

A TERRORIZING FOE.

Thousands in Its Power.

Paine's Celery Compound Always A Victor Over the Dread Disease.

Nature has assigned to the kidneys the special work of filtering all impurities from the blood. When the kidneys do this work properly and with regularity, all is well and good health is maintained.

Too often, however, the kidneys become disordered and diseased. Then it is that we have to contend against insidious and hellish foes like Bright's disease and diabetes, that are unsparing and relentless while they have the mastery.

Before Paine's Celery Compound came to the rescue of victims of Bright's disease and diabetes these troubles were considered incurable by the doctors. To-day the great Compound is prescribed by the ablest medical men, and in every case proves a sure victor over the death-dealing diseases referred to.

Thousands of strong and convincing letters from cured people all over the Dominion tell of the wonders done by Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. Wm. Davidson, 2 Oliver street, Quebec, P.Q., after using the great medicine, writes as follows:

"It is with sincere pleasure and gratitude I refer to your Paine's Celery Compound and the wondrous blessings that I received from its use.

"To tell the truth, before using it I had little confidence in it, but concluded if it did me no good it could not make me any worse than I was.

"I had suffered for years from indigestion, liver complaint and kidney disease, and began with Paine's Celery Compound in order to give it a thorough testing. After a fair use of the Compound I am as well as ever I was, and all my troubles have disappeared, and I am enjoying good health.

"Your medicine is a wonderful one; it is far superior to all others, as it truly gives life, and puts the entire system in a healthy condition. As a purifier of the blood I find it has no equal, and I heartily recommend its use to all sufferers."

Toronto, Oct. 5.—The executive of the Grand Council of the C. M. B. A. of Canada met yesterday morning at the Rossin House and concluded their meeting. It was reported that the total amount of beneficiary moneys paid from the date of organization in 1880, to September, 1897, was $1,526,943.10. Out of this amount $1,267,171.40 had been paid to the beneficiaries of deceased members and $59,771.70 transferred to the reserve fund, which, with $7,197.94 accrued interest, makes the reserve fund $66,969.64. Since 1880 the membership had increased to 11,800 and the number of branches to 276.

The next meeting of the Board is to be held in Montreal, at the President's call.

SIX INSTANTLY KILLED.

Dead Man's Cut Was the Scene of a Fearful Crossing Accident

Willow Springs, Mo., Oct. 4.—A passenger train on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis Railroad ran into a wagon, containing seven persons, at Dead Man's Cut, three miles north of here, at 9 o'clock this forenoon, instantly killing six and fatally injuring the other one. Those killed were: Philip L. Wooten, Philip Wooten, jr., Amanda Wooten, Dora Wooten, Mrs. Frank Malbrey and infant child, 4 months old. Philip Wooten's wife will die.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering from some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relieved upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Guaranteed Income Policies.

This Form of Policy has lately been introduced by the

"SUN" LIFE
OF CANADA.

It is the most modern development of Life Assurance, and in the opinion of many comes nearer to perfection than any form of contract that has preceded it. The Guaranteed Income Policy provides for the payment of the sum assured in 10, 15 or 20 equal annual instalments, but it goes further and guarantees that if the beneficiary be still alive at the end of the 20 years, the instalment will continue to be paid to her during the whole of her subsequent life whether that be long or short.

Intending insurers should investigate this policy.

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. PRESENTMENT OF GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury of our Sovereign Lady the Queen for the County of Peterborough, beg leave to present to your Lordship as follows:

We beg to thank Your Lordship for your able and lucid address to the Grand Jury upon the duties that would come before them.

We have to congratulate Your Lordship on the freedom from crime of this County, there being only one case of a criminal nature that came before them to be dealt with. It speaks well for the inhabitants of the county as a law abiding people.

We have examined the gaol and premises, and have found everything clean and in good order showing the officials to be competent and capable. We find there are at present twenty persons in gaol—eighteen males and two females. We regret that there are two aged persons whose only crime is poverty and who have no other home, and one whose mind is deranged. We consider it a shame and a disgrace in a Christian land that there is no home for that class of people, only to be confined as criminals where they are debarred from fresh air and other comforts, which they require in their old age. We would re-peotfully urge on the councils of both the County and Town of Peterborough the necessity of providing a house for the aged and destitute.

We would urge the authorities to have the person of deranged mind removed to the asylum provided by the Government for those unfortunates.

We have also visited the Nicholls Hospital, and feel that the people of this county are under lasting obligations to the late Mrs. Nicholls for her liberality in erecting and endowing an institution which is a blessing to many persons at the present time. Everything in connection with the institution is clean and in good order, and a staff of officials who are courteous and capable.

We also examined the St. Joseph's Hospital, and find that a good work is being done by those in charge, everything in connection therewith being clean and in good order, reflecting credit on the management. We also notice that the inmates are contented and happy.

We are glad to learn that by an arrangement between the county and town employment has been found for the prisoners in breaking stone, which is much better than allowing them to remain in idleness and we would recommend that this arrangement be continued.

We, as loyal subjects of her Majesty, rejoice on this, the Jubilee year of her Majesty's reign, on the prosperity of the British Empire and pray that long may she be spared to reign over the British Empire, of which the Dominion of Canada is one of the brightest jewels.

We cannot close without an expression of thanks to the Crown, Prosecution and officials of the court for their assistance and courtesy.

All of which we hereby present to your Lordship.

J. IRVINE DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

Pdterborough, Oct. 5th, 1897.

HIS LORDSHIP'S REMARKS.

His Lordship thanked the Jury for their address, and joined in their congratulations on the county of Peterborough's freedom from crime. With reference to a county poor house, His Lordship stated that the Government had provided to give $4,000 for the erection of a home for the aged and the balance remained for the united action of the Town and County of Peterborough, or a union of counties to co-operate together. This year prices were good and the crops sufficient to enable this district to erect a memorial institution for the aged and destitute. The Government has been constantly adding to the many institutions for the insane, and quite a change has taken place during the last ten years, since he took a position on the Bench. He had no doubt ample provision would shortly be made, and he hoped the unfortunate persons would be removed by the authorities to a proper place for treatment. He would send the recommendations of the Jury to the proper authorities.

After thanking them for their attention to their duties the jury was allowed to retire.

CRIMINAL SIDE.

The next case was that of the Queen vs. Lund. It appears from the statement of facts made in the address of the Crown Prosecutor, that Mary Metcalf, a young girl of 18 years of age, was returning home from Norwood on April 28th last, to her home between that village and Hastings, when she claims she was overtaken by Richard Lund, and assaulted in the buggy, where he had invited her to take a seat, both going in the same direction. She was driven past her own gate some distance when she contends that the assault was again successfully repeated.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty to the charge of rape. H. M. Deroche, Q.C., Napanee, represented the Crown; Mr. J. G. Sherry, Norwood, the private prosecution, and Messrs. Stratton & Hall defended the prisoner.

In the suit of Wallis vs. McKee, the parties in the action agreed to refer the matters in dispute between them to arbitration. Hall & Hayes, for plaintiffs, W. H. Moore for defendant.

METHODIST WOMEN DISCUSS MISSIONS.

THE BAY OF QUINTE DISTRICT BRANCH IN SESSION.

The Reports of Eight out of the Twelve Organizers Were Received This Morning—An Open Meeting Will be Held This Evening in the George Street Church.

The annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the Women's Missionary Society is in session at the George street Methodist church with a large number delegates in attendance. The chair was taken by the President, Mrs. S. D. Platt, and the opening devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson and Mrs. (Rev.) D. O. Crossley. The roll call of delegates followed, after which a Memorial Committee was appointed by the President consisting of Mrs. Kendry, Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Mulligan, Mrs. Jewett and Mrs. Gillert.

Reports of organizers were then taken up as follows:

Mrs. Massey presented the annual report for the reporting progress in spite of the stringency of the times. A goodly number of the auxiliaries had sent boxes to the Supply Committee. They had saved in all about $1,000, and had 500 members in the district. This is the banner district of the Bay of Quinte Conference. This district also had the banner society at the Bridge street church at Belleville. The Belleville Tabernacle had taken a long step forward. Systematic giving was being adopted in all the branches. All were in a prosperous condition. Every circuit in Belleville District had an auxiliary, except in a small mission in Belleville north, and it was expected there would soon be one there. Pleasant visits had been exchanged between the Auxiliaries. One thing which the district boasted of was the absence of any entertainments of a questionable character for the purpose of raising money. The sole object of the Auxiliaries was to lead the thoughts towards consecration.

BELLEVILLE DISTRICT,

COBOURG DISTRICT.

Mrs. M. E. Wilson reported that Port Hope Auxiliary had an increase of funds during the year, and also in membership. Division street church, Cobourg, had recently adopted the systematic giving principle. King street church had sent away a large bale of clothes during the year. Both were now united. Bethseda reported progress, though only having ten members. Clothing valued at $10, and a box of books had been sent to the Supply Committee. Baltimore was favoured during the year by an address by the President. The collection was ten dollars. An Auxiliary was organized at Plainville this spring. The reports all showed a more general interest in the monthly meetings. The Thanksgiving offering this year amounted to $65 00, with only five auxiliaries. The members amounted in number to to 130. The total amount raised duuring the year was $306.

Mrs. Wilson reports for the

stating that the work done was largely missionary. One auxiliary found it necessary to discontinue, on account of the building of a new church. In the north part of the district there was an early and a late frost, which had damaged the crops and so effected the contributions. A most zealous auxiliary had been established at Hagard's Corners. It had sixteen members, which had raised $20 as a thankoffering. The older Auxiliaries had not done as well as they might have done. Mrs. Wilson had visited all the Northern Auxiliaries in the spring and great interest had been evidenced. Most of the Auxiliaries had contributed to the Supply Committee. A number of pillows and quilts had been given. Madoc has adopted the principle of systematic giving but the other Auxiliaries thought that they were giving all they could at present. A decrease in membership during the year was noted. A new Auxiliary had been organized on the Bridgewater circuit. During the year $285 had been contributed and there were now 191 members.

DROWNED HERSELF.

Ill Health the Cause of the Rash Act.

Special to the Examiner.

Napanee, Oct. 5th—Miss Sarah Marshall, 58 years of age, who lived with her brother-in-law, James Wilson, at Thompson's Paper Mills, five miles from here, drowned herself in the river there last night. Despondency over poor health was the cause. Miss Marshall formerly lived in Kingston.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Johnston Gove Gilchrist, of Keene, Yesterday.

The death of Johnston Gove Gilchrist, aged 77 years, occurred in Keene yesterday.

The deceased was born in Cobourg, and was the second son of the late Dr. John Gilchrist, M.P., the first representative to Ottawa from Durham County, before Peterborough was separated from it. He was unmarried, but three sisters and two brothers survive, viz: Mrs. Charles Perry and Miss Gilchrist, of town; Mrs. Duncan McLeod, of St. Helens, Montana; Fred. Gilchrist, of Keene, and John, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Gilchrist was well known throughout the whole district, his father having built the first saw and grist mill in Keene. He was in the habit of walking up to Peterborough every few months for the pleasure of the rather lengthy stroll, and would then return home by train.

SHANTYMAN HURT.

He was in the Irwin Lumber Camp Near Sudbury at the Time.

James Curran, of town, was badly injured in the Irwin shanties, near Sudbury, a few days ago whilst working on a circular saw.

It appears that he slipped in some way, causing his arm to come in contact with the saw and ripping it in such a manner as to make a very ugly wound.

He was taken into the Sudbury Hospital, where he is now undergoing treatment.

Curran is well know in town, always boarding at the C. P. R. Hotel, Simcoe street, when here. He is unmarried.

PETERBOROUGH DEPUTATION.

Waited Upon the Ontario Government in Toronto Yesterday.

A deputation consisting of Councillors J. B. McWilliams, Henry Best and Town Clerk S. R. Armstrong waited upon the Government in Toronto yesterday in respect to some special legislation regarding local improvements. They returned last evening on the 7.53 C.P.R. local in time to attend the meeting of the council.

Mr. James Eakins Retires and Messrs. Clarke and Munro Will Continue the Business.

The public will be much interested in a change of personnel in one of our most important industries, represented by the retirement of Mr. James Eakins from the Consolidated Milling Company and the acquirement of the entire ownership and management by Messrs. P. M. Clarke and Samuel Munro, who have by purchase secured Mr. Eakin's interest.

For the two years in which it has conducted operations the Consolidated Milling Company has, by the energy of its management, the fairness of its business methods and the uniform excellence of its products, developed a large and steadily increasing trade.

Messrs. Clark and Munro expect, with increased facilities and application to business, to increase the volume of business, to develop the local trade and do a large export business.

From past experience the public may rely with every confidence upon being supplied through the Consolidated Milling Company with the best of products which the best of modern milling appliances is able to supply.

Attention is called to the three principal brands of the Consolidated Milling Company—"Calla Lily," "Marvel" and "Victory," whose superior quality has won for them a flattering demand, and it will continue to be the aim of the company to maintain the high standard of excellence of these brands. PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. B. Bickell, of Toronto, is in town on a visit to her nephew, Mr. J. R. Bickell, 104 Aylmer street.

Hon. Wilfrid and Lady Laurier passed through town this afternoon at 4.10 on the C.P.R. express, en route for Toronto.

Miss Maggie Horner and Miss Balsdon started on Sunday night per C. P. R. for their homes in Rat Portage, after a pleasant visit in Peterborough and vicinity.

A splendid reception was given in Toronto on Monday to the C. M. B. A. officers including M. F. Hackett, Grand President of that Order, who will be at the Opera House Wednesday night.

Mr. A. H. Stratton left this morning for New York to inspect the first samples of Christmas novelties. He was accompanied as far as Belleville by Mrs. Stratton, who will remain there for several weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. M. Dwyer and sister, Mrs. James Moreland, of Rochester, were in Peterborough last week visiting their brother, Mr. John Dwyer, Water street. Mr. Dwyer carried on a carriage building business in Peterborough thirty-five years ago.

Pastor Zimmerman, of Bethany Mission, left last night to attend the 13th annual convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, which will be in progress till Oct. 17th in New York. About fifty of the most prominent pastors of Alliance in Great Britain, Canada and the United States will address the convention.

Mrs. Alfred Peacock, formerly of Douro, has returned home from England on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kempt, for the winter. It is eleven years since Mrs. Peacock left for England, and has returned to be present at the family reunion—the golden wedding of her parents, which anniversary will take place this winter. Mr. Peacock says the passage was very rough on the Labrador during the whole trip.

Mr. J. C. Turnbull left for New York yesterday, taking advantage of the cheap excursion to visit the wholesale markets of that city and pick up any new lines or ideas not shown in the European or Canadian markets and as Mr. Turnbull is one of the oldest and best experienced dry goods buyers and his extensive business allows him to handle almost any line, his numerous customers may expect to find in his departmental store this month many bargains and novelties not shown elsewhere.

Mr. James Jewison and wife, of Poplar Point, Manitoba, have returned to visit friends in the locality after an absence of seven years. Mr. Jewison says that the crop in his district this year was average, the price for wheat being 82 cents. Those who have removed from this vicinity to take up farms near Poplar Point are all progressing, and well satisfied with the change. The average run of wheat is about 20 bushels to the acre this year. Two years ago the average ran as high as 40 bushels to the acre, but the price this year makes up for the shortage in crop. The homestead lands in this vicinity are all taken up, but there is considerable land for sale by the railroad and private parties.

A Microbe's Work.

A microbe is about the smallest thing one meets in a day's journey, but it can do more harm for its size than anything known. Boils, pimples, etc., are simply microbes in the skin which cause irritating blood disorders, if not stopped at once; and it is they that prevent wounds healing also. "Quickcure" kills the microbe immediately after application, and any sore heals rapidly where "Quickcure" is used.

Special Values

Are now being offered in groceries and canned goods by Alex. Elliott, George street, Peterborough, to make room for fall importations. You can save 20 per cent. by making your purchases from him for the next two weeks. The stock is heavy, and must be reduced. The best of everything at the lowest prices. Wholesale and retail wines, liquors and groceries.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE TOWN COUNCIL.

SOME INTERESTING MATTERS COME UP FOR DISCUSSION.

A Deputation From the Woman's Benevolent Association Ask for the Matter of a Refuge to be Considered—The Auburn Electric Power Company Exemption By-law Does not Receive its Third Reading.

At a meeting of the town council, held last evening, the Mayor presided and the following members were in attendance:—Councillors Best, LePlante, Robinson, Denne, Neil, Davis, Cobb, McWilliams, Meldrum and White.

Before the regular business was taken up a deputation from the Woman's Rescue Association, consisting of Mrs. Birdsall, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Roger, was received and heard through their spokesmen, Mr. Hampden Burnham and Rev. J. C. Davidson.

Mr. Burnham stated that at a meeting held during the afternoon of ladies thoroughly versed concerning the matter of the destitute of the town, it had been decided to send the deputation to memorialize the council with regard to the establishment of a refuge.

IT WAS NOT CONDUCIVE,

he thought, to the health or morals of the community that the aged and infirm were driven to consort with criminals in the goal. The public was agreed that the town and county should enter into the purchase of a refuge. The county had signified its willingness to take the matter up and the onus now rested upon the town to take some step. In Rochester the refuges for the young and old were combined, entrance for the two classes being at the respective ends of the building. English children were well looked after by different societies and brought out to this country, being inspected under government supervision. It was high time that the community awoke to the necessity of doing something for Canadian children.

In Peterborough the available institutions were the Nicholls Hospital, the Peterborough Protestant Home, the House of Refuge in connection with St. Joseph's Hospital and a number of private houses. The accommodation was limited and the Children's Aid Society has been driven from pillar to post and expected daily to meet with a refusal when seeking admittance for a charge. Child care was certainly being done in a haphazard way in Peterborough and he hoped that now the ladies having taken it in hand would carry it through. Up to the present time the males only had been looked after by the men and the rest of the children had therefore been neglected.

A refuge was badly wanted. A nice comfortable home. It was no fad but a pressing need and its absence was

A CRYING SHAME.

If the members of the council were at all conversant with the Children's Aid work they would be moved to the opinion that there was something in the suggestion. The ladies wished to express the wish that a beginning be made towards the establishment of such a shelter, to be used for the old as well as the young.

Rev. J. C. Davidson then addressed the council urging in conjunction with Mr. Burnham and the ladies the establishment of a suitable House of Refuge, with an adjunct for children. Such action, he felt sure, would be warmly endorsed by the other clergy of the town. He felt that the reasons which appealed to him so strongly did so to each of the councillors. The pressure of social and mechanical associations made it almost impossible in the present day to make adequate provision for old age. In Europe the question had been taken up and the establishment of a national fund to meet the emergency, discussed. Being a new country Canada need not proceed to these extreme means, but it was certainly necessary to put a roof over the heads of the destitute anyway.

Many wondered why this important question had been shelved by the council without receiving the consideration which it deserved.

If the council would say that its resources were not sufficient to enable them to take the matter up, even this would be a certain but as it was the matter had been simply pushed aside.

The Peterborough Protestant Home and the Home of Refuge were the only places available now for the destitute, and the only other provision made for the poor was to send them to gaol. The average number of old people who were accommodated in the gaol in winter was six or seven. The number was not large, but it must be taken into consideration that there were only a few who would humiliate themselves sufficiently to go to the magistrate and ask to be committed with thieves and vagabonds.

Some of the old people gradually came to like the gaol, and this in itself was a sad state of affairs. By the kindness of the county they were given better fare than the other prisoners, but still the odium of the gaol stuck to them. These old people were liable to be taken away suddenly and it was very sorrowful to think of any going to their eternal home from the county gaol.

The county poor houses in Western Ontario were almost self sustaining, and he urged the council to seek information on the subject.

Mayor Yelland suggested that the matter be referred to the joint committee of the town and county.

Councillor Meldrum didn't see the use of this, as the county was ready to do its part. He thought a committee of the whole council should deal with it.

Councillor McWilliams and Cobb moved that the question of the erection of a House of Refuge be brought before the committee of the whole, and that the county members of the joint committee be asked to attend.—Carried.

Tht deputation thanked the council and retired.

An Armenian who was present asked permission for a countryman of his to sell goods in the town without having to take out a license.—The application was received.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From W. J. English, stating that three more boat houses had been erected on Water street between Sherbrooke and the C.P.R. track, since he complained to the council of the matter, and inquiring as to whether the land in question belonged to the town or the Government.—Referred to the Town Solicitor.

From John Montgomery, of the fire department, asking for a new pair of long rubber boots—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The treasurer submitted a statement of the receipts and expenditures to date, showing the receipts to have been $32,736 61, and the outlay $76,210.51. On the 30th of Sept. the town account was overdrawn $32,881.29.—Received.

From S.S. Delong, asking for remission of taxes on property, which he states he no longer owns.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From R. H. Green, calling the council's attention to the need of repairs to the planking on the market square.—Referred to the chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, with power to act.

ONTARIO'S LUMBER INTERESTS.

Apart entirely from any attitude of hostility on the part of the Government of the United States towards this country, it is clearly the feeling of the people of this province that our important timber and lumber interests should be amply protected, and it is plainly the duty of the Ontario Government to see that adequate protection should be extended to these interests.

Of course we cannot ignore the hostility of our neighbours, as expressed in the provision of the Dingley tariff, which imposes a duty of $2 per thousand upon Canadian lumber. But aside from the natural feeling of retaliation that arises in the minds of many persons, the question should be dealt with entirely from the point of view of how the interests of the people of this province would be affected. It is not the business of the authorities to retaliate for the sake of retaliation, but to consider the matter in relation to all the interests involved. There are those who clamour for an export duty on saw logs from a merely sentimental standpoint, for the mere sake of having a slap back at the United States, regardless of how such action would affect our own great interests concerned. From a provincial point of view this is impracticible. The Government of Ontario has no power to impose such a duty, and it is desirable that the body that is directly responsible for the preservation of our forest wealth and the protection of its interests should have the means of attaining this end in its own hands and under its own control. An export duty would mean national action on the part of Canada, such as would challenge the attention of the United States Government, and in in all probability provoke retaliation. Apart from the economic objections to an export duty it would be a mistake in policy. In such an event the United States Government in its present mood would probably double the duty upon Canadian lumber, an action that would at once nullify the export duty and place American lumbermen in virtually the same position as they were before an import or export duty was imposed. Then again the revenue which would be derived from an export duty would go into the coffers of the Dominion, and this Province would receive no benefit so far as direct value is concerned.

A strong feeling, arising from the discussion of this subject, exists in favour of the adoption of some measure to insure the cutting of all Canadian logs on Canadian soil and by Canadian machinery and labour. The Order-in-Council adopted by the Government, which is good as far as it goes, does not go far enough to meet the wishes of the people of Ontario, who are justifiably anxious that this province alone should have the profit arising from lumbering operations, and that our forest wealth should be for the people of this province alone, so far as it is practicable to deal with it from a business standpoint.

A large portion of the press of the province is advocating that the Government shall take measures looking to the manufacture of logs into lumber in this province, and though an Order-in-Council to this effect would be sufficient to bring about such a result, there is a variety of interests to be consulted that would suggest the inadvisability of taking a course that could be construed into a breach of faith with those who have purchased timber in this province, irrespective of their nationality or residence. The timber resources of this province are, and will be for some years to come, one of its most valuable assets, and to get the best possible returns from this source of wealth and revenue is the plain duty of the custodians of provincial interests.

It seems to us that in lieu of an export duty, or a hard and fast order-in-council compelling the cutting of logs in this province, the matter might be better dealt with by some rearrangement of the "stumpage dues," whereby the revenue to the province would be increased and the result be attained. If the dues were increased—to three times the present figure—$1, or $1.25—in the case of logs cut by any lumbermen for export, the desired end would, it seems, be reached, for any lumberman would find it more advantageous to cut his logs in this country, with stumpage dues at $1 or $1.25, than to pay $3.00 or $3.75 for the privilege of exporting them. And then whatever market the lumber reached it would enter it on a fair footing. If those Canadians whose limits were more convenient to waters leading to a foreign country desired to dispose of their out in that foreign country, then the Province would have the advantage of the increased revenue, whether the exporters were Canadian or American. Besides, this arrangement would be a matter of internal economy on the part of the province, of which no foreign country could take cognizance any more than of a decree of a town council requiring that all corporation workmen be Canadians.

The question is a very large one and cannot be dealt with in the off-hand manner which some seem to think possible. There are many points to be considered, and all to be carefully considered, with reference to the protection of the timber interests of the province as well as the interests of the people; and no one should be impatient of the employment of proper deliberation and investigation in order to arrive at the best possible solution of the question.

Beauty is the power which captivates the strongest natures.

A woman's personal attractiveness is the weapon with which she conquers her world. Almost every woman believes that she possesses at least some one attractive feature and strives to make the most of that. But mere regularity of feature is not the most attractive form of beauty.

Mankind is more influenced by the bright glowing vitality of perfect health. A classic cast of countenance will not make a woman attractive and captivating, if she is pale, thin, weak and nervous, or has a pimply complexion or unwholesome breath.

These complaints are due to imperfect nutrition. The digestive and blood-making organs fail to extract the needed nourishment from the food, and the liver is too sluggish to cleanse the blood of bilious impurities. The entire constitution becomes weak and poisoned.

The only perfect antidote for this state of things is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives power to the digestive and nutritive organs to make an abundance of pure, rich, highly vitalized blood, which permeates the whole system with the sweetness of purity; the beauty of womanly vigor and animation.

It creates solid, healthy flesh and natural color; clears the complexion; dispels wrinkles; rounds out the form and, imbues the whole physique with the irresistible natural magnetism of perfect health.

Miss Julia Ellis of Faith, McLean Co., Ky., writes: "After suffering for a long while with a lingering disease, I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took seven bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' and found relief. Life is now no longer a burden to me. I weigh 150 pounds. A year ago I weighed 92 pounds. I shall praise Dr. Pierce's medicines wherever I go. I feel better than ever before. My health was very much impaired, and I feel that I owe a great deal to your wonderful medicines. I truly believe they saved my life. I thank you for the advice which you so kindly gave me while taking your medicines."

SCHOONERS LOST.

Five Men and One Woman Drowned Off the Labrador Coast.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 2.—The schooners Garibaldi, Erebus and Poppy were lost off the Labrador coast in the severe storms which have prevailed during the past fortnight. Five men and one woman belonging to the vessel were drowned. The schooner Mantilus, while off the same coast, caught fire and was burned to the water's edge and sank. Her crew escaped.

The Dominion exploring steamer Diana will sail for Hudson Bay to-morrow for another scientific cruise in those waters.

Portland Failed of Her Object.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—The steamer North Fork from Alaskan ports brings the news that the steamer Portland, which sailed for St. Michael with a Maxim gun on her bows to ward off pirates, is on her way home again without having accomplished the objects of her voyage. She got as far as Dutch Harbor only. There a portion of her passengers and freight were disembarked and she is now homeward bound, having neither nuggets nor miners, nor company gold aboard her.

Thirty-five passengers, who have given up all hope of reaching the Klondike this season returned on the North Fork. All reports coming from the mining district confirm the rumor of a prospective famine.

AN AGED LADY.

Mrs. Ecclestone's Sufferings From Kidney Disease Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—A Medicine That Produces Good Results for Both Old and Young.

St. Catharines, Sept. 27.—Mrs. F. E. Ecclestone, aged 69, a well-known resident of this city, has for sometime been afflicted with Kidney disease, the symptoms of which were severe pains in the small of her back. She is now perfectly cured. This happy result is due to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the famous and infallible remedy for all kidney disorders. Mrs. Ecclestone says the pains have never returned since her recovery, and her happiness over her restoration to sound health is indescribable.

The New Millinery Models.

Millinery models point to a continuance of the one-sided effect, and Tam-like shapes turned up at the side are conspicuous. Gray, cerise, bluish violets and Russian green, which is a deep, rich tone, are undoubtedly the colors, and miroir velvet a favorite material. All feathers will be much worn, and there seems little doubt that ostrich, pelican, coque, merle and egret will all take equal rank.

To Be Quiet in Tone.

Materials for tailor costumes and all of similar make are to be comparatively quiet in tone, with touches only of bright color, and vigoreux twills, whipcords, covert cloth, serge and Bedford cords in a number of varieties can be relied upon as correct.

With Turkish Twists.

Several of the very latest hats show thick Turkish twists of plisse or silk muslin encircling the crowns or resting well out on the brims. At the front or left side these twists are knotted and finished with a bird with outstretched wings.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 359 George Street.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

One of the Jurors Ill—Luetgert's Evidence Will Be Put Into the Phonograph.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—It looked for a few moments today as if there would be another interruption in the Luetgert trial. Juror John E. Fowler was not feeling well. He, however, expressed a desire that the case proceed and court opened at the usual hour. The first witness on the stand this morning, Mr. V. A. Merylat of the McKillip Veterinary College, Chicago, was called upon to identify various bones placed in evidence by the prosecution, and declared by the defence to be the bones of a low order of animals. Dr. Merylat was less confident in his identifications than other experts who have been heard from during the trial. Benefiting by their amusing, and at times, humiliating blunders, the witness avoided the cleverly-laid technical pitfalls arranged by Prof. Dorsey of the Field Columbian Museum, and led up to the questioning of Assistant State Attorney McEwan. He refused to identify the gorilla femur which, yesterday proved a stumbling block to Dr. Allport, who said it was the femur of a strong man, who, in life, had probably been five feet four inches tall. In reality, the gorilla was six feet six inches tall when he roamed the jungles.

The witness also refused to commit himself as to a temporal bone handed him. He gave his reasons for these refusals. He said that he wanted something more than an isolated bone in order to state positively its probable nature and connection. While the witness felt sure in his own mind as to the identity of the bones, yet he did not propose, he said, in a case involving so much, and, while he was under oath, to state positively that these bones were absolutely what he thought they were.

A phonograph expert brought to the court room today a score of receiving cylinders and a vast bugle-shaped tube. This was trained upon the witness stand, and by request of counsel witnesses will speak loud and clear in the future, in a short time a phonographic reproduction of some of the evidence in the famous Luetgert trial will be heard all over the country. Luetgert's testimony will be the star evidence of the trial, and an effort will be made to get it all into the phonograph.

On cross-examination by Assistant States Attorney McEwan, Dr. Merylat was led into a flat contradiction of Dr. Allport as to the identification of a hog femur. Yesterday Dr. Allport positively identified the bone as the upper part of the femur of a hog. This morning Dr. Merylat just as positively stated that the bone was the lower part of the femur.

"Sure?" queried Assistant State Attorney McEwan. "Sure," re-echoed the witness.

"You could not be mistaken?" persisted the Crown examiner. "I think not," answered the surgeon. "That's all," remarked Mr. McEwan, smiling, as he toyed with the femur of the hog.

Mr. J. Hughes of the Chicago Veterinary College was next called, and was followed by Prof. Eckley of Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Luetgert was apparently in the best of spirits and good humor, and laughed frequently over the tilts between counsel.

Prof. Eley, instructor of anatomy and physiology in the Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons, the Northwestern University and the University of Illinois, proved to be the most entertaining witness produced to-day. Ex-Judge Vincent handed the witness a bone and asked: "Is that a human bone?"

"I am unable to say," replied the expert.

"What is this bone?" asked the lawyer, passing up another specimen.

"It is the articular surface of a bone. I am unable to say whether human or from a lower animal."

"Have you ever examined this bone?"

"I have."

"Is it human or not?"

"I could not possibly place that bone in any animal to save my soul. It would require the most absolutely extravagant speculation to do so."

The bone which had puzzled the expert was a portion of a rib which had been introduced by the prosecution.

The trial will last at least three weeks longer.

The Duty Mounts Up.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Collector of Customs at New York has reported to the Treasury Department that the duties collected by him on personal baggage during the month of September, under the new tariff law, which limits the free entry of personal effects purchased abroad to $100, amounted to $93,709, as compared with $19,050 collected during September, 1896.

Economy and strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month.

The City of the Little Monk.

The city of Munich is called Muenchen in German. Before it was Muenchen it was "Moenchen," the diminutive for "moench," the German word for "monk," so that the name of the city signifies "little monk." The name was received 700 years ago. In the middle of the twelfth century a number of monks flying from Hungary established a cloister and a colony on the site of the old town, and travelers used to speak of the place as "Bei den Moenchen," later simply Moenchen, now Muencher. Whether the Hungarian recluse was smaller than his Bavarian confreres or whether it was simply an expression of affection has not been ascertained.

A Circus Superstition.

Whistling is tabooed in the dressing room of a circus. That it is an ill omen is one of the superstitions of the circus people. Somebody is sure to be discharged if any one whistles, they say.

Starving Children.

Thousands of well-fed children are starving, simply because their food is not of the right kind. They are thin, pale, and delicate. Scott's Emulsion will change all this. It gives vim and vigor, flesh and force.

Away Down East

From east to west people have heart trouble. This causes violent headaches, neuralgia, nerve trouble and prostration. Says Mrs. Somers, of Moncton, N. B.: "I tried many remedies but never found anything to give me such prompt relief as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done. I suffered from the above symptoms, but now gladly testify to the cure these wonderful pills have made in my case, and I hope all sufferers will try them."

AN EXPEDITION MASSACRED.

Two Englishmen Were Among the Victims of African Natives.

Rome, Oct. 2.—News has been received here from Bemidir to the effect that the English-Cavendish sporting expedition, which left Barbora, East Africa, last year, arrived at Lagh, Somaliland, about the middle of November and thence proceeded for Lake Rudolph, has been attacked by a band of Amharas, who murdered all the members of the expedition. The party consisted of two Englishmen and 90 Ascaris.

NEW CABINET FOR SPAIN.

Senor Sagasta, the Liberal Leader, Entrusted With Its Formation.

Madrid, Oct. 2.—It is asserted on the highest authority that the resignation of Captain-General Weyler, which was cabled upon the fall of the Azcarraga Cabinet, will be accepted, and that his probable successor in Cuba will be Marshal Blanco. Rumor has it that his resignation already has been accepted, but this is to be doubted, as no change is likely to be made until the new Cabinet has been fully formed.

As already announced, Senor Sagasta has been instructed to form a Ministry, which will be sworn in to-morrow. Its probable construction will be:

Premier—Senor Sagasta.
Department of State—Senor Gamazo.
Finance—Aminos Salvador.
Colonies—Senor Monterio Rios.
Justice—Senor Maurao Puigcerver.
War—General Correa,

SHIRT WAISTS.

The Garment Still in Favor and to Be Worn in Varied Forms.

Seldom has a fashion for women been of such longevity as the shirt waist. For several seasons women have given a sighing farewell to that most comfortable garment, and then relenting have stolen it back again and served it as gypsies do stolen children—disguised them to make 'em pass' for new.

The so-called shirt waist is hardly recognizable in the new fall patterns. Only the haberdasher clings to the original style, with slight variations. The men who make shirts and shirtwaists, accustomed perhaps to the gradual evolution in men's apparel, show for fall and winter wear designs but slightly modified from those in use last year. The tailor-made shirt waist will bear not the slightest resemblance to the imported fancy shirt waist. For the tailor-made broadcloth bids fair to be the most popular fabric. Plaids will undoubtedly prevail, but not plaid velvet. The plaid velvet waists, charming as they were last autumn, are decidedly things of the past. In their place is a new silk heavier than surah, but on that order, in plaids of two colors, a solid ground and a wide check bar.

Roman silks, something similar to taffeta in quality, but woven in brilliant vari-colored stripes all running one way, and merging rainbow-like into one another, are prettiest made crossWise of the goods for slender figures, and with the stripe running up and down for stouter women. The plaids are almost invariably cut on the bias. Scotch wool plaids find favor, being worn with plain skirts in solid color matching the ground of the plaid. Corduroys seem to be entirely tabooed.

The slight modification in the cut of the tailor-made shirt waist is most noticeable in the sleeve, which is made direct from a man's shirt sleeve pattern. It is much smaller than the old sleeve, and is finished with cuff of the shirt waist material, heavily stiffened with an interlining, slit and buttonholed for cuff buttons. White cuffs will not be worn, although linen collars will be. The correct tie will be the puff in solid colors for plaid shirt waists, and in plaids, Roman stripes and figures for the plain waists. A tie of white silk tied "puff," and offset with a handsome pin, can be worn effectively with any kind of a tailor-made shirt waist. The puff ties require much practice before they become manageable to the average woman. But it is a knot that must be tied, and only the most easily discouraged will have recourse to the ready-made puffs displayed in the window, as the latter are beyond all question in execrable taste.

Another feature of the new tailor-made shirt waist is that the back is snug, all the fulness being brought around to the front and gathered in a narrow yoke that extends well down on the shoulders. No gathers are made at the waist. At the belt line in the back is a tape strap, such as men have on their shirts to slip their ties through at the back of the collar. Through this tape is run a narrow non-elastic belt, finished with a buckle. This is strapped as tight as possible over the waist, and holds the fulness in place.

The imported shirt waist is of a totally different character. Severe simplicity is entirely done away with. Much garniture is used; as many as three or four fabrics are combined on one garment. The foundation is much the same as before, but to it are added laces, buttons, ribbons, frills, tucks and plaits.

Much of this fancy wear comes direct from Paris. Colors are dazzling, only the most decided and brilliant shades being in vogue. As in the tailor-made, so in fancy shirtwaists, red—bright vermillion red—is the popular color, only the one is made of solid-color broadcloth, to be worn with linen collar and narrow black satin tie, while the other is made of silk, dashed with a satin stripe, aglitter with brass buttons and bedecked at the neck with gay ribbons, the belt being of the waist material in crushed silk, terminating in a double donkey-eared bow in front, a little to the left.

The Russian blouse is one of the newest shapes. It is made of almost equal fulness back and front, and puffs out all around about the belt. Small tucks running horizontally across the waist are conspicuously a feature of the blouse waist. Between these tucks, which are sometimes laid in clusters, the finest lace is inserted.

Another new style cut is made without a yoke, the back being in one piece, tight fitting and seamless. The front, which is very full, is made with small perpendicular tucks, close together, and running across the entire width about a finger deep from the shoulder seams. The model of this pattern is in salmon pink. It is decorated with cluster bands of narrow black velvet ribbon, laid crosswise. The crush belt of silk is also outlined in black velvet, as is the stock collar. Unless the wearer is slender an interlining is used in this kind of waist. This interlining, called a stay, extends from the underarm seams and fastens snug fitting in front. The back is lined only to the depth of the yoke.

French flannel waists made in the blouse effect are gathered before and laid in box plaits in the yokeless back. Other French flannels in dainty tan and light shade plaids have narrow yokes, full fronts, scant backs and sleeves, and are worn with black satin shepherd girdles, linen collars, scarlet four-in-hand ties, and are finished with a wide plait holding at each edge a row of tiny flat buttons, placed almost touching each other, and made of the shirt waist material.

Corsets, girdles and belts are smaller this year than ever before. A reaction seems to have set in from the expansiveness of the waist line, due to the freedom needful in exercise. Does it foreshadow the decline of wheeling? For who could ride encircled in an eighteen-inch band?

Nearly all of the collars made to these fancy waists are detachable, and the incongruity of linen collars on silk and lace-bedecked waists promises to be condoned by fashion.

A plaid rep wool waist is finished with innumerable full, narrow plaitings of red cashmere. The little frills peep out from between the tucks in flashes of color all over the upper part of the garment. The sleeves are pointed at the wrist and finished with the red blade plaiting. A standing linen collar is worn with this, and a red satin tie and red leather belt.

HOW BOOKS ARE BOUND.

A Simple Description of This Useful and Interesting Process.

Bookbinding has been practiced for centuries. Many years previous to the invention of printing the leaves of missals and other manuscripts were preserved by being fastened together and inclosed in covers of wood, sheepskin, etc. Often the covers were highly ornamented with gold, silver and jewels. Some of these volumes are still to be seen in the museums and monasteries of the old world.

There are two main divisions in modern bookbinding, "forwarding" and "finishing"—and in each of these departments there are various sub-divisions. Forwarding comprises what is really necessary for the preservation of books; finishing is simply embellishing them.

The first operation in bookbinding is to fold the sheets by means of a thin piece of ivory called a folder; machinery has been used with much success in folding. The object is to bring the pages together in regular order.

After being folded, the sheets are gathered and collated according to the numbers 1, 2, 3, etc., that are placed at the foot of the outside page of the folded sections. These numbers are called signatures. The book is then made solid by being placed in a hydraulic press, or under some other pressure, such as the nature and the size of the book may require.

The next process is to saw indentations in the back of the book, preparatory to sewing. This is accomplished by passing the back of the book or sheets over rapidly revolving circular saws. The book is then sewed on a frame called a sewing bench, each sheet being attached by a thread to cords across the back.

When removed from the sewing bench the book receives its "waste papers," or blank leaves. Then it is trimmed by being cut on the edges with a knife apparatus. The edges are either left white or are colored by being sprinkled with color thrown on with a brush. "Marbled" edges are made by dipping the edges of the leaves in colors that float on the surface of gum water.

The "comb edge" is made by drawing a comb through the colors on the surface of the gum water before the book is dipped. If the book is to have a gilt edge, it is placed in a press and a coating of red color applied; the edges are then sized with white of egg, gold leaf is laid over the sizing, and after it has dried thoroughly the gold leaf is burnished with agate or bloodstone.

A coating of glue is then applied to the back of the book, after which it is backed by means of a machine that gives roundness to the back and prepares it for the cover. The cover is made by boards, cut larger than the leaves of the book, over which the outside material, such as cloth, leather, etc., is fastened with glue, space enough being left between the two boards to fit the back of the book.

After the cover is made, the embellishment is done by stamping the desired letters or design in gold, black or colors. The cover being thus finished, the back of the book is fitted into it and glued, the blank pages are pasted to the inside of the cover and the book is placed in a press to remain until dry, from which it comes ready for the public.—Philadelphia Times.

PROSPECTING MACHINE.

It Will Make Boring in the Klondyke Country Easy.

William Schwarnweber, a St. Louis inventor, has obtained letters patent for a prospecting machine that will obviate all difficulties arising from the frozen grounds of the far northern placer fields. Thus far it has been necessary for the miners to build fires on the frozen gravel of the rivers in order to remove even a few inches of dirt. Six inches deep is considered a good thaw, and fire after fire has to be kindled to make any kind of an impression into the ground. Mr. Schwarnweber's invention will enable two miners to prospect to a depth of 30 feet or even more without the necessity of building a fire.

PROSPECTING MACHINE.

Designed to Make Mining in the Klondyke Easy.

The device consists of a steel screw which is worked into the ground like a post hole auger. A cylinder of the same diameter of the screw and two feet in depth follows the screw into the ground and within the cylinder is a well bucket which has an open bottom into which the detached dirt and gravel are forced. When full this bucket is elevated by a windlass attachment and can be washed out and panned while the bucket is returned into the well for another load.

Coffee and Its Uses.

When there are in a community epidemics of typhoid fever, cholera, erysipelas, scarlet fever and the various types of malarial fever, which are transmitted almost entirely through the medium of food and drink, coffee is a valuable agent, and may be used as a drink instead of water.

It is a valuable agent in assisting in the digestion of food, and aids the blood in taking up more nourishment that it would without it.

It quickens the circulation of the blood and respiration.

It is also stimulating and refreshing (due to the caffeine it contains.)

In tiding over nervousness in emergencies it is a sovereign remedy.

As a stimulant and caloric generator in cold weather it is 100 per cent. ahead of whisky or other liquors.

As a distinfectant it is one of no small usefulness in the sick chamber.

A Practical Test.

"There's no doubt about it," said Gobang; "I may have doubted it once, but these biscuits prove it."

"Prove what?" demanded his wife.

"That man cannot live by bread alone."

A Nevada Strike.

"Talking of rich strikes," said Professor Bob Fitzsimmons, after a casual glance at his bank account. "I still think that one right over the solar plexus is about as good as any."—Chicago Tribune.

Unprofitable Dunning.

"What makes Bumply so down on the long distance telephone?"

"He called up a man in Toledo that owes him $2.50. They wrangled till it cost Bumbly $13."—Detroit Free Press.

CRIPPLED WITH RHEUMATISM.

(From the Millbrook Reporter.)

Rheumatism has claimed many victims and has probably caused more pain than any other ill affecting mankind. Among those who have been its victims few have suffered more than Mr. G. W. Coon, now proprietor of a flourising bakery in Hampton, but for a number of years a resident of Pontypool, where his severe illness occurred. To a reporter who interviewed him Mr. Coon gave the following particulars of his great suffering and ultimate cure: "Some seven or eight years ago," said Mr. Coon, "I felt a touch of rheumatism. At first I did not pay much attention to it, but as it was steadily growing worse I began to doctor for it, but to no effect. The trouble went from bad to worse, until three years after the first symptoms had manifested themselves I became utterly helpless, and could do no more for myself than a young child. I could not lift my hands from my side, and my wife was obliged to cut my food and feed me when I felt like eating, which was not often, considering the torture I was undergoing. My hands were swollen out of shape and for weeks were tightly bandaged. My legs and feet were also swollen, and I could not lift my foot two inches from the floor. I could not change my clothes and my wife had to dress and wash me. I grew so thin that I looked more like a skeleton than anything else. The pain I suffered was almost past endurance and I got no rest either day or night. I doctored with many doctors, but they did me no good, and some of them told me it was not possible to get better. I believe I took besides almost every thing that was recomended for rheumatism, but instead of getting better I was constantly getting worse and I wished many a time that death would end my sufferings. One day Mr. Perrin, storekeeper at Pontypool gave me a box of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and urged me to try them. I did so somewhat reluctantly, as I did not think any medicine could help me. However, I used the pills, then I got another box and before they were gone I felt a trifling relief. Before a third box was finished there was no longer any doubt of the improvement they were making in my condition, and by the time I had used three boxes more I began to feel, in view of my former condition, that I was growing quite strong, and the pain was rapidly subsiding. From that out, there was a steady improvement, and for the first time in long, weary years I was free from pain, and once more able to take my place among the world's workers. I have not now the slightest pain, and I feel better than I felt for seven years previous to taking the pills. I thank God that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills came in my way, as I believe they saved my life, and there is no doubt whatever that they rescued me from years of torture.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION—CURED

Mr. James Weir, a well known blacksmith of Boissevain, Man., says; "When I came to Manitoba some years ago, I entered into partnership with a friend in a threshing outfit. Aside from the work being hard it was attended with constant exposure, and many a night we were compelled to take the warm side of a straw stack for our night's lodging. The result was I contracted a very heavy cold, and was obliged to quit work, and coughed all through the winter. In the spring I attempted to work again, but could not stand it, so I sold out my share of the outfit and settled down at my trade as a blacksmith. I did not improve, however, although I was steadily taking medicine. I thought I was in consumption. I fell off in flesh from 158 to 128 pounds, and looked like a walking skeleton, and suffered from nervousness and a constant hacking cough. My wife made a trip to Winnipeg, and while in a drug store there told the druggist of my condition, and he advised her to take home some of Dr. William's Pink Pills. She brought back a half dozen boxes and I began taking them. After I had taken four boxes there was a considerable improvement in my condition and I continued taking them until I had used ten boxes, when my health was fully restored. My case is one of those which substantiates the claim that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail."

PALE, TIRED AND LISTLESS.

Miss Eva Hodgson, daughter of Mr. Wm. Hodgson, a well known farmer living near Proton Station, Ont., is another of the many girls who owe health and strength to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:"—My illness came on very gradually, shortness of breath after the smallest exertion, being the first symptom I noticed. Then I became very pale, and was attacked with a pain in the side, and a hacking cough. At first only home remedies were used, but as they did me no good a doctor was consulted and I was taking his medicine for nearly a year. I did not derive any benefit from it, however, but seemed to be getting weaker all the time. The pain in my side grew more severe, and I wasted away almost to a skeleton. At this stage a friend strongly advised me try Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had used three boxes I could feel an improvement, and then I began to gain steadily in health and strength. I took the pills for a couple of months longer and at the end of that time was completly cured. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a blessing to suffering humanity and will always strongly recommend them."

THE RESULT OF A COLD.

Miss Lizzie Sewell, Newbury, Ont., says:—"I contracted a severe cold through getting my feet wet, and this in turn brought on ailments peculiar to my sex; my health failed so rapidly that I was subject to frequent fainting spells, my appetite failed, and my friends all thought that I was in a decline. Doctors were consulted, but their treatment did not help me, and for nearly two years I was in this low condition. Finally my mother decided that I had better give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and the result is that they have transformed me from a sick and despairing girl to one full of health and energy, and I shall ever speak of this great medicine in terms of the highest praise."

HEADACHE AND DYSPEPSIA.

Mrs. Charles Mills, Kingsville, Ont., says: "For some years I was in a condition bordering on invalidism. I suffered from severe headaches, nervousness, and pains in the stomach, and at times would scarcely eat enough to enable me to go about. My work about the house was irksome in the extreme, and at times I would hardly perform it. Now, fortunately, that condition has passed away, and I am glad to let the public know how the change came about. I had taken many medicines with little or no benefit, when one day I came across one of the pamphlets relating the cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I read of a case like mine and this decided me to try them. I sent for two boxes and when I had used them I felt much better. Then I got two more boxes and to my great joy I found myself cured when I had used these. I have not had an ache or a pain since I used the last two boxes, and I sincerely believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills rescued me from a life of suffering."

SCIATICA CAN BE CURED.

Mrs. A. Cambell, Corwhin, Ont., writes:—"After five years of intense suffering and doctoring with good doctors, with no benefit, I can testify that sciatica can be cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For five years I was almost a helpless cripple with sciatica. For weeks at a time I was unable to move about, unable to sleep or get any rest whatever. I could not lift my foot three inches from the ground. I was blistered by doctors until I was raw, but no good resulted. The effected limbs were rubbed with strong liniment, and I took medicines internally, but got no relief. The agony I endured during these five years cannot be conceived. I never thought I would get better, nor did my friends think so. Finally the pain extended to the optic nerve, adding to my misery, the pain being so great at times that I thought the eye would burst. One day my husband brought home several boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and persuaded me to take them. It was a happy day for me that he did, for nine boxes accomplished what years of medical treatment failed to do. They completly restored me and I am now as well as before the attack, and I cannot too strongly recommend Pink Pills to similar sufferers."

T. Jenkins, Aylmer, Ont., says:—"About fifteen months ago I was suffering from an attack of biliousness, sick headache and general debility. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the use of a few boxes fully restored my health, which has ever since been good."

A WORD OF CAUTION

Needs to be added. A few unscrupulous tradesmen—their cupidity excited by the great reputation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—make up or buy in the wholesale market ready made, some cheap pills, coloured pink, which will sell as "Pink Pills" and offer as a substitute for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Such pills are a fraud. They are frequently offered at a price which makes the fact self-evident. The receipt of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is known only to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. All substitutes are therefore useless. To be sure of having none but the the genuine pills, purchasers should not ask for Pink Pills, but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and see that they are put up in a package, the wrapper around which is printed with red ink on white paper and bears the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Inside the wrapper are Dr. Williams' directions for use. Pay no attention to any dealer who claims to have "the same thing under another name," or anything else "just as good." In case of doubt it is better to write (enclosing price, 50 cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes) to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. We have also agencies at Schenectady, N.Y.; London, Eng.; Paris, France; Sydney, N. S. THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT

Committee reported as follows through its chairman, Councillor White:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That a hydrant be ordered to be placed on the east side of the river at Auburn, provided the Water Company can arrange to have the pipe laid across the river this fall.

2. That the hydrant petitioned for on Homewood avenue be not granted this year.

3. That Councillors White, Davis and Best be appointed a deputation to visit a few cities and towns to inquire into the system of fire alarm and their cost, and that the treasurer be authorized to pay the expenses of the deputation. Your committee recommends this course, as the Underwriters' Association is urging the installation of a new fire alarm system.

4. That the amount paid T. McDonald, for services in the fire hall during E. Lawrence's absence, be charged to E. Lawrence and deducted from his salary.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. M. WHITE, Chairman.

Councillor Leplante did not see the need of appointing a deputation going away on such business.

Councillor Davis pointed out that it was very necessary that the matter should be dealt with as the report suggested. Several towns in class B could be visited and some valuable information obtained.

Councillor Robertson suggested that the companies who put in these fire alarm systems be invited to come to Peterborough and demonstrate the use of their apparatus. This would be an economical way of settling the matter.

Councillor Neill thought that the cheapest way was to visit these other towns and ascertain just how Peterborough stood in comparison with them.

Councillor Meldrum urged that correspondence be opened up with towns in class B and then if it was necessary to visit them it could be done.

Councillor Davis fell in with this idea as did Councillor White and the third clause was amended to read in accord with the suggestion, when the report was carried.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE reported as follows through its chairman, Councillor McWilliams:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the street inspectors be instructed to repair Hunter street from the creek east and cover it with broken stone.

2. That the committee be authorized to arrange with the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway Company that the Company shall maintain the entire roadway between the rails of its tracks in lieu of the ten inches inside and outside its rails as provided in the agreement with the Company, for such distance or distances will be equal to the amount of roadway they are required to maintain by the agreement. And when the company agrees to this, and has brought the rails to the required grade where they are out of grade, that the Street Inspectors repair the roadway on the outer side of the rails.

3. That the bridge across the creek on George street be repaired as suggested by the Street Inspectors.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS, Chairman.

The report was adopted, another clause being added authorizing the covering of the creek at the dangerous spot at the corner of Aylmer and Dublin streets, where a child was drowned several years ago.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE'S

report was read by Councillor McWilliams recommending as follows:

1. That the bylaw regulating the erection of poles and wires on the streets for the transmission of electricity be amended so as to make the charge for each district $1 per year, a total of $4 per year.

2. That the by-law adopting the assessement of this year as the basis of the assessment for 1898, be passed.

3. That James Bogue be paid the balance of the amount unpaid to him on account of his contract for sewer construction on Section 4.

4. That the payment of the verdict and costs in the case of Mooeriet vs. Peterborough, which has been made so far as the judgment in favour of the plaintiff, and the costs of the plaintiff and the Toronto Loan and Savings Company and A. E. Dixon are concerned, be approved.

5. That the resolution of July 3rd last instructing the Treasurer not to make payments to the Water Company, be rescinded.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS, Chairman.

Councillor McWilliams moved the reading of the report, clause by clause—Carried.

When the first clause came up for consideration he objected strongly to its passage as he had been out of town all day with a town deputation and had no time to enquire into the effect which the clause would have. He had not been present at the committee meeting when it was considered. Seconded by Councillor White, he moved that it be referred back to the committee. This was lost, but he urged that it be laid over until the next meeting, so that so important a matter, involving the loss of considerable revenue to the town, might be more fully considered.

Councillor Meldrum urged immediate action, stating that the company wishes to get their poles into the ground before the frost.

The clause was then carried, as were the others in the report.

Councillors Denne and Cobb moved that Samuel Belcher be paid one hundred and fifty dollars on account of commission on sewer work at present going on.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Denne and Davis that the resolution of this council passed on the 15th day of December last, instructing the treasurer to transfer to the debit of sewer contract "No. 3" the sum of $2 000, which had been previously charged to "streets and bridges," but which expenditure was stated to be necessary to protect the sewer from frost, be now rescinded, and that the amount be charged back to "streets and bridges," as the engineer says the expenditure was not necessary in the interests of the sewer.—Carried.

Councillor Best stated that the motion was necessary in order that the treasurer could be invested with the authority to make the change. The $2,000 had been wrongfully charged to the sewer account, against his protest, by Councillor Moore, who wished to show a surplus, as chairman of the Finance Committee and by Councillor Langford, who as chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, wished to screen the large expenditure last year.
